Personal service shall be made upon an infant by serving such papers in the manner prescribed by the law of the State in which service is made for the service of summons or other like process upon any such person in an action brought in the courts of general jurisdiction of that State. Personal service shall be made upon a domestic or foreign corporation or upon a partnership or other unincorporated association which is subject to suit under a common name by delivering a copy of such papers to an officer, a managing or general agent, or to any other agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process and, if the agent is one authorized by statute to receive service and the statute so requires, by also mailing a copy to such person.

§ 1599.20 Registered mail. Documents shall be served by registered mail by causing to be registered and mailed a copy addressed to the individual, partnership, corporation, organization, or association, who is the respondent, at his, or its, last-known residence, principal office, or place of business.

§ 1599.21 Proof of service. When service has been effected, the person making such service shall prepare the proof of service as follows: (a) In case of personal service, he shall execute a certificate showing the date, time, and place where service was effected, and the person upon whom service was effected, and the nature of the document served; and (b) in the case of service by registered mail, he shall execute a certificate showing the date and time of mailing, the place to which the document was mailed, the person to whom it was addressed, and the nature of the document mailed, and shall attach thereto the registered mail receipt. The certificate in both cases shall disclose that the person making such service was not a party to the proceeding and was over 18 years of age.

§ 1599.22 When answer or request for hearing shall be deemed filed. An answer or a request for hearing shall be deemed to have been filed on the date of mailing, as evidenced by the post mark at the place of mailing, or, if otherwise delivered to the office of the regional attorney, on the date of such delivery, as evidenced by the time it is marked "filed" in such office.

§ 1599.23 Record. (a) As soon as practicable after the close of the hearing, the presiding officer shall certify to the Administrator an original and one copy of the record of the proceeding which shall contain the following:

(2) A transcript of the evidence received at the hearing, or other documents which have been received by the presiding officer;

(3) Briefs, if any, received by the presiding officer; and

(4) The presiding officer's recommendation.

§ 1599.24 Issuance and service of orders by the Administrator. The Administrator, upon receipt of a docket containing all of the papers in the proceeding, may prepare and issue such order as may be required to effectuate the disposition of the proceeding in the manner determined by him. The final order of the Administrator shall be served upon the respondent. The order shall not take effect until five days after the service thereof, or if an application for a stay is made within such five-day period, until the expiration of five days after the service of an order denying the stay.

§ 1599.25 Reconsideration. The respondent may, within five days after the final order of the Administrator is served on him, apply in writing to the Administrator for reconsideration. The filing of such an application shall not stay the effect of the order unless it is otherwise directed. Facts or arguments bearing on the merits of the policy embodied in the priority or allocation order or regulation violated will not be considered.

§ 1599.26 Modification or revocation of orders. The Administrator may, for good cause shown, modify or revoked any order issued pursuant to these regulations. This action may be taken upon his own initiative or upon application made by persons affected by the operation of these regulations.

§ 1599.27 Conduct of pending proceedings. Unless the Administrator shall otherwise order, all proceedings initiated under War Food Order 78–1 prior to this amendment and pending on the effective date hereof, shall be conducted and concluded in accordance with the provisions applicable at the time the proceedings were instituted.

§ 271.1 Introduction. In an effort to maintain and increase the production of flaxseed to alleviate domestic shortages of linseed oil and meal, the United States Department of Agriculture, through the Commodity Credit Corporation (herein called "Commodity"), a corporate agency of the United States, pursuant to this announcement, hereby offers to make flaxseed production payments to eligible producers of eligible flaxseed within the continental United States (except Alaska) in the manner and subject to the terms and conditions specified in this offer.

§ 271.2 Definitions. As used in this part:

(a) The term "eligible producer" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not (including the States and any subdivisions thereof), producing, as landowner, landlord, or tenant, and selling in normal trade channels, eligible flaxseed.

(b) The term "eligible flaxseed" means flaxseed harvested in the continental United States (except Alaska) in 1946, and sold into normal trade channels prior to March 1, 1947, in Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona, or California, or prior to June 1, 1947, in any other state; the beneficial interest in such flaxseed at all times prior to such sale having either been in the person making such sale or in a former producer whom such person succeeded before the flaxseed was harvested: Provided, That flaxseed harvested on or after July 1, 1946, shall not be eligible flaxseed unless legislation is enacted by Congress authorizing the making of payments with respect to such flaxseed.

§ 271.3 Payments. Payments under this part will be made upon compliance with the terms and conditions specified herein to any eligible producer with respect to any eligible flaxseed heretofore or hereafter produced and sold into normal trade channels by him.

§ 271.4 Duplicate payments. Commodity will not make more than one payment with respect to any eligible flaxseed.

§ 271.5 Rates of payment. The rate of payment hereunder for any eligible flaxseed produced and sold by an eligible producer shall be the amount by which the support price of such flaxseed at the place of sale exceeds the maximum price of such flaxseed at the time and place of sale as established by regulations of the Office of Price Administration.

The support price for U. S. No. 1 flaxseed (excluding dockage) per bushel, bulk, delivered other than by truck at the following terminal basing points is as follows:

	Per bushel
Minneapolis, Duluth and Red Wing, Minn.	$3.60
Milwaukee, Wis.	3.60
Chicago, Ill.	3.60
Portland, Oreg.	3.60
Emporia and Fredonia, Kans.	3.45
Corpus Christi, Harlingen and Houston, Tex.	3.40

The support price for U. S. No. 1 flaxseed (excluding dockage) per bushel, bulk, delivered by truck or otherwise at the following terminal basing points is as follows:

San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Wilmington, Buena Park and Fresno, Calif.	$3.85

The support price for any other delivery of flaxseed may be determined by applying to the above support prices the same differentials as are provided by MPR 397 as in effect on May 1, 1946, between the maximum price for deliveries as above described and the maximum price for such other delivery of flaxseed.

§ 271.6 Prerequisites for payment. Payment hereunder shall be made to any eligible producer who:

(a) Files an application in such form as shall be approved or prescribed by Commodity and the county agricultural conservation committee for the county in which the eligible flaxseed is grown.

(b) Supplies with such application for payment evidence with respect to his eligibility to receive payments as provided in this offer which the County Agricultural Conservation Committee determines to be satisfactory pursuant to instructions by Commodity.

Commodity may limit the time within which applications may be filed or evidence supplied by public notice filed with the Division of the Federal Register not less than ten days prior to the effective time of such limitation.

§ 271.7 Method of payment. Payment hereunder, on the basis of each such application for payment which has been approved by the appropriate county agricultural conservation committee, shall (unless Commodity otherwise directs) be made by a non-interest-bearing draft drawn by such county agricultural conservation committee or other drawer designated by Commodity on Commodity and payable at a Federal Reserve Bank. Such draft shall be made payable to the person shown in the corresponding application for payment to be the eligible producer, except as provided in § 271.10. Each draft shall be given a serial number and shall be delivered to the eligible producer. The making of any payment on the basis of an approved application for payment filed hereunder shall not constitute a final determination of the validity or amount of the claim represented thereby. Any applicant who is determined by Commodity acting through the applicable county agricultural conservation committee (or such other agent as may be designated) to have filed a wilfully falsified application pursuant to this part, shall be deemed ineligible for the payment for which such claim is filed. Payments made on an application later determined to be wilfully falsified shall be repaid by the applicant. If it is determined that an improper application resulted from factors beyond the knowledge and control of the applicant, Commodity acting through the appropriate county agricultural conservation committee (or such other agent as may be designated) may accept a revised application and pay the amount which it deems proper. The provisions of this section shall not preclude legal action under the Criminal Code of the United States against any producer who submitted an application for payment under this part for an amount in excess of the amount which would be proper in accordance with the terms of the part.

§ 271.8 Right to declare claims invalid. Commodity shall have the right to declare invalid in whole or in part, any claim which is not in compliance with the terms and conditions of this offer and any claim filed by an applicant who, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, had wilfully violated any flax-seed regulation or order issued by the Price Administrator. Commodity shall also have the right to declare invalid, in whole or in part, any claim filed by an applicant concerning whom the Office of Price Administration has certified that in any civil action or proceeding (including a proceeding before a hearing commissioner) against such applicant it has been determined that the applicant has violated any substantive provision of any flax-seed regulation or order issued by the Price Administrator. If such determination is finally reversed, payment withheld under this section will be made by Commodity.

§ 271.9 Assignment and set-off. Payments due or to become due hereunder shall not be subject to assignment, attachment, garnishment, or levy. Payments hereunder shall be subject to set-offs for indebtedness of the applicant to the United States of America or any agency or corporation thereof and this part is expressly made subject to this provision for set-offs.

§ 271.10 Death, incompetency, or other disability or eligible producer. In case of death, incompetency, or disappearance of an eligible producer, application for any payment hereunder may be made by any person who, under the regulations contained in ACP–122, as amended, issued by the Field Service Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, would be entitled to payment. In case of infancy, bankruptcy, dissolution, or other disability of the eligible producer, payments will be made to a representative only in accordance with specific instructions issued by Commodity.

§ 271.11 Lost, stolen or destroyed drafts. In the event any executed draft shall be lost, stolen, or destroyed, the fact of such loss, theft, or destruction shall be reported immediately to the office of the applicable county agricultural conservation committee and, in such event, the issuance of a duplicate draft shall be subject to such conditions as Commodity shall, from time to time prescribe.

§ 271.12 Instructions and interpretations. Commodity shall have the right to supplement or clarify any provision of this part or alter any procedure contained herein at any time by the issuance of instructions or interpretations in connection therewith.

§ 271.13 Revocation or modification. This part, or any extension hereof, may be partially or wholly revoked, modified, or amended by Commodity with respect to any producer at any time upon notice to such producer, or with respect to all producers, by Commodity giving public notice of such modification, revocation, or amendment. Such public notice may be given by filing of the notice with the Division of the Federal Register. Notwithstanding any such revocation, modification, or amendment, payment will be made with respect to eligible flaxseed sold into normal trade channels prior to the effective time of any such revocation, modification, or amendment.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[Conservation Order M-328B, Direction 12]

USE OF CC RATINGS IN SECOND QUARTER OF 1946 UNDER SCHEDULES C, J AND K

The following direction is issued pursuant to Conservation Order M-328B:

(a) Purpose. This direction makes certain adjustments in the authorizations issued under Conservation Order M-328B on form CPA-3732 for the second quarter of 1946. These changes are being made because some applicants, in showing their base period production of certain items, appear to have included items produced during the base period for sale at prices above the prices specified in schedules C, J and K of that order, contrary to the rules in the order and its schedules. Authorizations are therefore being reduced in these cases; and the authorizations to those persons whose applications were properly made in this respect are increased for many items. To the extent that the rules in this direction differ from those in Order M-328B or its schedules, this direction is controlling.

(b) Quantities of fabric which may be obtained with ratings—(1) By manufacturers reporting base production above cut-off prices. Any manufacturer who filed an application for priorities assistance under Order M-328B for the second quarter of 1946, and included, in the statement of his base period production of any item (in column (d) on page 2 of form CPA-3732 under "Production and Requirements"), any quantity of the item which was produced for sale at a price above the price listed for that item in the applicable schedule of Order M-328B, shall not use the CC rating authorized on form CPA-3732 for the second quarter of 1946 to get more than the following quantities of material (and the quantities authorized in columns (l), (m), (n) and (o) are reduced accordingly):[1] Yardages of body fabric and components equal to 70% of the yardages required to produce the quantity of the item actually produced by him in the base period used in his application, for sale at or below the price listed in the schedule. In computing these yardages, the yards required per garment or per dozen garments shall not be greater than that reported in column (f) of his application.

Since price is defined in paragraph (b) (6) of M-328B as the manufacturer's list price, any item produced in the base period for sale at a list price higher than that specified in the applicable schedule should not have been reported as part of base period production, and may not be treated as such under this direction, even though sold, by discounting the list price, at a sales price at or below the price listed in the schedule.

(2) By manufacturers reporting base period production within cut-off prices. Any manufacturer who received an authorization under Order M-328B on form CPA-3732 for the second quarter of 1946 for material to make any items (except items No. 38 and 39 in schedule C), and included in the statement of his base period production of any item (column (d) of form CPA-3732) only that quantity of the item which was produced for sale at a price at or below the price listed for that item in the applicable schedule of Order M-328B, may use a CC rating for the second quarter of 1946 to get either of the following quantities of material (whichever is greater):

(i) The yardage authorized on form CPA-3732; or

(ii) Yardages of body fabrics and components equal to 70% of the yardage required to produce the quantity of the item actually produced by him in the base period used in his application for sale at or below the price listed in the schedule. In computing these yardages, the yards required per garment or per dozen garments shall not be greater than that reported in column (f) of his application.

(3) By other manufacturers. Any manufacturer who received an authorization under Order M-328B on form CPA-3732 for the second quarter of 1946, and did not report any base period production of an item, and any manufacturer receiving an authorization for material to make men's and ladies' handkerchiefs (Items No. 38 and 39 of schedule C), may use a CC rating only in accordance with his authorization.

(c) Adjustments in rated orders. (1) Any person who has placed CC rated orders for more yardage than he is authorized to receive under this direction must immediately unrate or cancel orders for the excessive yardage.

(2) Any person who has unrated or cancelled orders after receipt of his second quarter authorization, in accordance with paragraph (e) (3) of Order M-328B, but is now authorized under paragraph (b) (2) of this direction to use the CC rating for greater yardages than permitted under the authorization issued to him for the second quarter, may use the rating immediately to the extent authorized by this direction, but must first apply the rating to existing unrated and unfilled orders, in accordance with paragraph (f) (6) of Order M-328B.

(d) Reports of base period production. Each manufacturer who filed an application under Order M-328B on form CPA-3732 for the second quarter of 1946, and reported in column (d) of that form a base period production of any item, shall, on or before June 17, 1946 file a report on form CPA-4460 in accordance with the instructions in that form. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(e) Past violations not affected by this direction. This direction does not affect any liabilities incurred for violation of Order M-328B or its schedules or of actions taken by the Civilian Production Administration under that order or its schedules.

Issued this 5th day of June 1946.

Peoria, Ill.	$49.25	$52.25	$92.75

(2) Any processor, wishing to add this differential, must file the following information with the National office of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 60 days of the date of issuance of this supplement:

(i) Name and address of the processor.

(ii) Location of the plant or plants processing the specialty or brand name product.

(iv) Description of the composition of the product.

(v) Price lists, quotations or similar evidence showing that the processor had this price differential prior to the effective date of this supplement.

If such information is furnished to the Office of Price Administration, the differential covered thereby shall be deemed to be approved twenty days after the receipt of the information unless, within that time, the Office of Price Administration notifies the processor that the differential has been disapproved. Any processor, acting in good faith, may use such differential prior to approval, express or by non-action.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for sales by processors. Section 3.1 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for processors, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Base prices. The base price referred to in section 3.1 is the appropriate base price found in section 6 of this supplement.

If you are the importer as well as the processor of the lot, your base price is the applicable base price for a plant located at the port of entry.

(b) Maximum markup. As a processor you are not permitted to add a maximum markup in figuring the maximum price for the sale of any lot unless you have unloaded such lot into a warehouse or store operated by you at a separate place of business not located at the production plant, and you sell from such warehouse or store. If, as to any lot, you comply with this requirement, you may add the appropriate one of the following markups per ton:

	Distillers' dried grains	Distillers' dried grains with solubles	Distillers' solubles
If you sell to a feeder from a store	$4.50	$4.50	$4.00
In all other cases	1.50	1.50	4.00

(c) Transportation cost. Section 3.1 refers to "transportation cost". It is defined in section 1.20 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

SEC. 8. Maximum prices for sales by trucker-merchants. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for trucker-merchants, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.2 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you". It is defined in Section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Hauling allowance. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3 also refers to "hauling allowance". That term is defined in section 1.21 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

SEC. 9. Maximum prices for sales by jobbers and car door sellers. Section 3.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for jobbers and car door sellers, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.3 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you". It is defined in section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markup—(1) Jobbers. If you are a jobber and no other jobber has already handled the same lot, you may add one of the following maximum markups:

For deliveries in pool car lots	$1.00	$1.00	$2.25
For all other deliveries	.75	.75	2.00

(2) Car door sellers. If you are a car door seller, you may add a maximum markup of $3.50 per ton for sales or deliveries of distillers' dried grain and distillers' dried grains with solubles and a maximum markup of $8.00 per ton for dried solubles.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers. Section 3.4 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for wholesalers and retailers, and section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides base prices for wholesalers and retailers, are applicable to this supplement.

(a) Base prices. Base prices referred to in section 3.4 are the base prices set out in section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markups. This regulation aims to prevent the inclusion in any maximum price of more than one markup for any class of seller. As a retailer you can always add a retailer's maximum markup since a seller can qualify as a retailer only when he is selling a particular lot to a person who will use the lot and will not resell it. It is therefore impossible for two retailers to handle the same lot. As a wholesaler, however, you are permitted to add the maximum markup set out below in figuring the maximum price for the sale of any lot, only if no other wholesaler has already handled the lot. On this condition, the following maximum markups may be added:

Wholesalers	$2.50	$2.50	$5.00
Retailers	5.50	5.50	10.00

SEC. 11. Increase for sacks. If you furnish the sacks in connection with the sale and delivery of any sacked quantity of a commodity, you shall use one of the following methods of computing your markup for such sacks:

(a) A flat markup of $4.25 per ton for textile sacks for dried grains or dried grains with solubles or $4.75 per ton for dried solubles, or

(b) (1) You may use as a markup for shipments in textile sacks during any calendar month the weighted average per sack cost (not in excess of the legal maximum price on the sale to you) of all the textile sacks received into your plant during the preceding calendar month.

(2) You may use as a markup for shipments in any other kind of sacks during any calendar month the weighted average per sack cost (not in excess of the legal maximum price on the sale to you) of all other kinds of sacks received into your plant during the preceding calendar month on the basis of their maximum price to you.

If you have not received any sacks of the kind for which you desire to establish a markup under subparagraphs (1) and (2) during the preceding month, you shall continue to use your last previous markup for such kind of sack until such time as you are able to determine a new markup under the applicable subparagraph.

(3) If you are unable to determine a markup for your sacks under the foregoing provisions of this section, you may add to your maximum price the reasonable market value (not to exceed the lawful maximum price) of the sacks at the time of shipment of the commodity.

This supplement shall become effective on June 7, 1946.

NOTE: The record-keeping provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 7th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

PART 1389—APPAREL

[2d Rev. MPR 578, Amdt. 6]

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CERTAIN ESSENTIAL LOW PRICED GARMENTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 578 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 (c) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Sales by house-to-house sellers. This regulation does not apply to sales by a "house-to-house seller." A "house-to-house seller" means a retailer or manufacturing-retailer who in the year 1944 secured at least 75% of his dollar volume of business through the personal solicitation of orders by salesmen calling at the homes or places of business of ultimate consumers, who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. A retailer or manufacturing-retailer is a "house-to-house seller" only with respect to articles delivered pursuant to orders which had been solicited in the manner stated above.

2. The first undesignated paragraph of section 4 (b) is amended by inserting a comma after the words "whose total 1944 dollar sales volume" and adding thereafter the phrase, "(or, in the case of a seller who was not in business in 1944, 80% or more of whose 1945 dollar sale volume, prior to October 19, 1945)," in the first sentence of that paragraph.

3. Section 4 (b) (1) (i) (a) is amended by changing the period at the end to a comma and adding the phrase, "(or, in the case of a seller who was not in business in 1944, then for that portion of 1945, prior to October 19, 1945, during which he was in business)."

4. Section 4 (b) (1) (i) (b) is amended by inserting the phrase, "(or, in the case of a seller who was not in business in 1944, then for that portion of 1945, prior to October 19, 1945, during which he was in business," after the phrase "for the year 1944."

This amendment shall become effective June 12, 1946.

RADIO ENTERPRISES, INC.[1]

PUBLIC NOTICE CONCERNING PROPOSED TRANSFER OF CONTROL

The Commission hereby gives notice that on May 27, 1946 there was filed with it an application (B3-TC-495) for its consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act (47 USCA 310) to the proposed transfer of control of Radio Enterprises, Inc., licensee of standard broadcast station KVIC, Victoria, Texas, from Morris Roberts to J. G. Long, Bay City, Texas.

The proposed transfer is based on contract dated April 26, 1946, under which all of the outstanding stock would be sold in consideration of $192,500. Payment is to be $42,500 cash, and $150,000 by promissory note dated May 1, 1946, bearing interest of 6% a year, secured by a lien on the stock payable in five yearly installments of $30,000 each. The cash, notes, and certificates of stock are to be put in escrow on execution of the contract.

In the Commission's decision of September 6, 1945, granting the application for transfer of control of the Crosley Corporation (Docket No. 6767), it was announced that public hearings would be held to consider proposed new rules and regulations for the handling of assignment and transfer applications including provision for public notice by the applicant and the Commission of the filing of such applications and pertinent details in cases where a controlling interest is involved. Thereafter, on October 3, 1945, the Commission also gave public notice (10 F.R. 12926) that pending the issuance of such proposed new rules, hearing thereon, and final adoption, consideration of such applications would be deferred unless applicants desired to follow the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision, and supplement their applications so as to come within the framework of the announced procedure including the provision for public notice. Subsequently, on December 13, 1945, the Commission adopted tentatively a proposed rule of procedure to govern the handling of assignment and transfer applications including the character of notice required of applicants in such cases. Pursuant thereto the Commission was advised on May 27, 1946, that notice would be inserted in a newspaper of general circulation at Victoria, Texas, concerning the proposed transfer of control of the licensee. According to information supplied May 27, 1946, such notice was to appear in the local Victoria paper on June 3, 1946.

In accordance with the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision and that announced in the Commission's release and the proposed rule no action will be had upon the application for a period of 60 days from June 3, 1946.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 4, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on May 13, 1946, a second supplement to the application in Docket No. G-650 was filed with the Federal Power Commission by El Paso Natural Gas Company, hereinafter referred to as "Applicant," a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the state of Delaware with its principal place of business in El Paso, Texas, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize Applicant to construct and operate approximately 9,800 feet of 2⅞-inch natural gas pipe line extending northwestward from a point on its existing 6-inch line near Superior, Arizona for the sole purpose of supplying the Magma Copper Company with additional volumes of natural gas, and a meter and regulator at the point of delivery. The proposed point of connection with the 6-inch line, which also supplies the town of Superior, is about 13 miles southwestward from the present point of connection of an existing 2⅞-inch line supplying natural gas to the Magma Copper Company plant.

Applicant states that the cost of the proposed facilities will be $8,000 and will increase the deliveries of natural gas to the Magma Copper Company by 12,960 Mcf per year. The additional gas to be transported will be residue gas now being flared in the air in the Permian Basin in Lea County, New Mexico where the Applicant's transmission system begins and will be transported through the states of New Mexico, Texas and Arizona by means of Applicant's existing transmission system.

Applicant claims that the proposed facilities are urgently needed for the purpose of supplying the 12,960 Mcf of natural gas per year to the Magma Copper Company for use by said company in pumping new water wells which said company has been required to drill on account of acute water shortage in that part of Arizona.

Any interested state commission is required to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a Board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application of El Paso Natural Gas Company should file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days from the date of this publication, a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to Order No. 4418 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. Jax Manufacturing Company of 1371 Selby Avenue, St. Paul 4, Minn., may sell and deliver to jobbers and retailers the automobile seat covers listed below, which it manufactures, at prices no higher than its maximum price for such sales in effect immediately prior to the issuance of this order, increased by the appropriate one of the following adjustment charges.

(b) Reseller's maximum prices. (1) Each reseller shall calculate his maximum resale prices for articles covered by this order by adding to his invoice cost, the same percentage mark-up which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established maximum price. For the purposes of this order, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a maximum price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his maximum price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Maximum prices established under that selection will reflect the suppliers prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(2) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to sales of articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials, in effect during March 1942, or which have been properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale, showing a price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

HOUSTON BROOM FACTORY

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Second Revised Order No. A–3 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. The Houston Broom Factory, 3028 Washington Avenue, Houston, Tex., may increase the ceiling prices in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this order to each class of purchaser for Number 40 warehouse brooms of its manufacture by $2.90 per dozen. This adjustment may be made and collected only if it is separately stated on the invoice.

(b) Ceiling prices of purchasers for resale. A purchaser for resale of an article subject to this order may collect from his customers, in addition to his properly established ceiling price in effect immediately prior to the issuance of this order, an adjustment charge in the same dollar and cents amount as the adjustment charge authorized for and which he pays his supplier. If such a purchaser did not have an established ceiling price for sales of the articles prior to the issuance of this order, he may add the same adjustment charge to the ceiling price which he hereafter establishes for his sales under the applicable regulation. If the applicable regulation requires ceiling resale prices to be computed on the basis of cost, the reseller must find his ceiling prices (without the permitted adjustment charge) by using as cost his invoice cost, not including any adjustment charge stated on the invoice. On all sales except to ultimate consumers, these additional adjustment charges may be made and collected only if they are separately stated on each invoice.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's customary terms, discounts, allowances and other price differentials on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or established under any applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to, the first invoice to a purchaser for resale showing a maximum price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify such purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) for determining maximum prices for resales of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall have no application to any sale or delivery by any seller of any article whose manufacturer's ceiling price was adjusted by this order.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) All requests contained in the Houston Broom Factory's application for price adjustment, assigned OPA Docket No. 6069–A3 (12)–7C, not specifically granted by this order are hereby denied.

This order shall become effective on the 7th day of June 1946.

(a) Maximum rates for transportation by water and tug boat services in New York Harbor and connecting waterways. The maximum rates for any transportation by water or towing services performed within New York Harbor, and for any transportation by water or towing services performed outside of New York Harbor on connecting waterways by carriers who employ members of Local 333 of United Marine Divison of International Longshoremen's Association shall be the rates lawfully in effect on March 24, 1944, or as subsequently increased pursuant to a proper thirty-day notice filed under Procedural Regulation No. 11, or to an order of the OPA adjusting these rates.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other order or regulation, no increases in the maximum rates prescribed by paragraph (a) may be made by the giving of a thirty-day notice during the period this Revised Order is in effect. However any person or group of persons performing services subject to this Revised Order may petition the Administrator for an increase in the maximum rates applicable to all or any such services. Such petition shall be in writing and shall furnish the same information as is required by §1499.75 (a) (3) of Supplementary Regulation 15 in cases in which a contract carrier seeks an adjustment of its maximum rates, together with any other facts upon which petitioners may rely to justify the increase. After investigation, the Administrator shall by order either deny the petition or authorize the proposed increase or such lesser increase as he may find to be consistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, and of the national stabilization policy, including Executive Orders 9599 and 9697.

(c) The maximum rates for services performed by any person not acting as a common carrier shall remain subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation or Revised Maximum Price Regulation 165, depending on the type of service, and adjustment of those rates shall be made pursuant to § 1499.75 (a) (3) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15, or section 16 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 165. Orders issued pursuant to paragraph (b) may, however, adjust or modify the maximum rates of carriers referred to in this paragraph.

(d) A seller of transportation services which are subject to this Revised Order may perform transportation services at prices not more than the maximum price currently established under the General Maximum Price Regulation or Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 11 at the time the transportation service is performed. Such a seller of towing services may, however, after May 1, 1946, the effective date of Order 1 under Order 1, and a seller of other such transportation services may, after May 7, 1946, the effective date of Order 2 under Order 1, with the consent of the buyer, furnish such towing or transportation services subject to an upward adjustment in price if an upward adjustment is later authorized by the Office of Price Administration. This adjustable pricing authorization shall be automatically revoked upon the establishment by the Office of Price Administration of increased maximum prices based on the current wage proceeding or it may be revoked by order of the Administrator.

(e) If necessary to promote distribution or production, and if not inimical to the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, an adjustable pricing order, covering services not included in paragraph (d), may be issued pursuant to this order, granting authority to deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with maximum prices established by OPA after the delivery.

(f) This revised order shall not apply to services subject to the direct jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission and for which maximum rates have been established or otherwise regulated by that Commission.

This revised order shall become effective as of March 19, 1946.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this Revised Order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 7th day of June 1946.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region VII of the Office of Price Administration by sections 9 and 20 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, it is ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order does. (a) This order fixes maximum prices for plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment and certain other permitted charges by any person, hereinafter called the seller, to any person, hereinafter called the purchaser, in connection with a residential building, at a fixed site in the State of Wyoming.

(b) Definitions. As used in this order, the term:

(1) "Plumbing" means water, steam, gas, and oil distribution and waste removal systems in a residential building at a fixed site.

(2) "Plumbing services" means the services required to install, alter, repair, maintain or remove plumbing materials or equipment in or from a residential building at a fixed site but not including the cleaning of cesspools, grease traps, and septic tanks which services are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165.

(5) "Maximum labor charge" means the amount charged for labor of a specified type or class for plumbing services, made either at a flat rate per hour so as to include a margin for administrative and overhead costs and profit, or as a percentage of the seller's labor cost, which resulting maximum labor charge is also deemed to include a margin for administrative and overhead costs and profit.

(6) "Labor cost" means the seller's actual labor cost based on the wage rates in effect on October 3, 1942, for the same class of laborers, or the seller's actual labor cost based on the wage rates which have been subsequently approved by a Federal wage or stabilization agency. Additional payments for Federal old-age benefits, unemployment compensation taxes, workmen's compensation and public liability insurance shall be regarded as being part of such labor cost.

(2) Measurement of hours. The number of hours which may be charged against any plumbing job consuming one day or less shall be counted from the time the workman leaves the seller's shop or the previous plumbing job (whichever time is later) until he completes the job or proceeds to another job or until he returns to the seller's shop if he proceeds there directly. Whenever any job extends into more than one day, the time in transit to or from the job may be charged only once. The hours for which charges are made shall not exceed those shown in the records which the seller is required to keep under section 9 of this order.

(3) Overtime. (a) When work is performed at the purchaser's request after 12:01 p. m. on Saturday and between the hours of 5 p. m. and 8 a. m. of any other day except Sundays, legal holidays, and on emergency night calls, the maximum labor charge per hour for work during such hours may not be in excess of 150% of the straight time rate authorized in this order.

(b) Where work is performed at the purchaser's request on Sundays, legal holidays designated by the laws of the State, and emergency night calls, the maximum labor charge may not be in excess of 200% of the straight time rate authorized by this order.

(4) Minimum charges. If a plumbing job requires less than one man hour the maximum labor charge may be for one man hour. If any plumbing job takes only three hours or less of any class of labor for completion of a job, a separate charge of not more than 25¢ may be made for the use of an employer's motor vehicle in going to and from the job.

(5) Self-employed plumber. A self-employed plumber who performs plumbing services himself, either alone or with his employees, may charge for his services not more than the hourly rate charged by him as of the effective date of this revised order but not in excess of the maximum labor charge which would be permissible to be charged for the services of a journeyman plumber in the local area where the services are being performed.

(6) Maximum labor charges for combination work. The maximum labor charge for any combination of master plumber, journeyman plumber, apprentice plumber, helper, common laborer, or other employee may not exceed the total of the maximum hourly rates of each of the types or classes of labor for which maximum charges are provided in this order.

(b) Maximum prices of plumbing materials and equipment and other permitted charges. (1) The maximum prices which may be charged by any seller of plumbing materials and equipment, which for the purposes of this order also include all items known as plumbing fixtures and specialties, shall not be in excess of the seller's cost plus the percentage herein specified. (The seller's cost of materials and equipment shall be deemed to be the wholesale net price lawfully charged the plumbing trade for limited quantities of such materials and equipment by established wholesale plumbing supply firms nearest his place of business, based on their published price lists, together with the actual transportation charges paid therefor by the seller but not in excess of the common carrier rate from the nearest point of supply. If the materials and equipment being sold are marked by a manufacturer's label containing the approved OPA retail ceiling price for sales of the commodity by a seller, a seller of such materials and equipment under this order may charge the price marked on the label in lieu of the stated percentage markup herein specified but in no event may the seller charge more than the price marked on the label.

(b) Water heating equipment, including hot water tanks, electric, gas, and oil burning automatic, semiautomatic or manually operated water heaters	40	40
(c) Plumbing materials and specialties including all items used in repairing or installing plumbing equipment or fixtures or water heating equipment such as pipe, pipe fittings, valves, hangers, lead and similar materials and specialties	60	45

[1] NOTE: On plumbing jobs of $350 or less, whenever the unit cost of any plumbing materials or specialties (including pipe nipples in lengths of 12 inches or less) is not more than $1.00, a markup of not to exceed 100 percent may be made but this permitted markup shall not apply to pipe made of copper, steel, brass, lead, wrought iron or cast iron, clay or asbestos cement, or to cast iron soil pipe or soil pipe fittings.

(2) Sub-contract work. Where work such as drain laying, excavating, pipe covering, sheet metal ducts, and similar work is sub-contracted by a seller under this order, the seller may charge the purchaser the cost of such sub-contracted work plus a markup of not more than 10% but the charge to the purchaser may not exceed the price which the seller may lawfully charge if he had done the work himself.

(3) Power driven and other special plumbing equipment. If, during March, 1942, the seller made an extra charge for the use of power driven and other special plumbing equipment, but not including the motor vehicle in which the equipment is transported, the maximum prices per hour for such use upon and after the effective date of this order shall not be in excess of the highest price per hour he charged therefor or other maximum charges during March, 1942. If the seller acquired such power driven and other special plumbing equipment after March 1942 but prior to the effective date of this order and thereafter established maximum prices per hour or other maximum charges for such uses under the applicable maximum price regulation, he may continue to charge such established prices. In either case, the seller must have records available to substantiate the charging of such prices and such prices must be filed with the District Office of Price Administration pursuant to Section 9 of this order. If a seller commences the use of power driven and other special plumbing equipment after the effective date of this order he shall establish his maximum hourly prices therefor or other maximum charges under the applicable maximum price regulation and file such prices with the District Office within 10 days.

(4) Out of town travel expenses. A seller who furnishes men on an out of town plumbing job covered by this order shall be reimbursed to the extent of the amount he shall have to pay for travel expense at not to exceed 5¢ per mile for travel beyond the city limits and subsistence where the job necessitates the men being away from their homes. This item shall be explained to the purchaser prior to commencing the job and shall be invoiced separately. Travel expenses and subsistence may not be collected unless the seller actually pays the employee therefor.

(5) Transportation. If a seller uses his truck to transport materials, equipment, and men to and from a job beyond the city limits he may charge not more than 8¢ per mile to and from the job for such travel and similarly if other means of transportation are used.

(6) Charges for permits. Whenever a seller subject to this order is required to pay a permit fee to a municipal or other authority with respect to services or installations under this order he may make an additional charge to the purchaser in an amount not more than the actual fee paid to the municipal or other authority.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices of plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment in excess of $750.00. The maximum prices of plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment for plumbing jobs in excess of $750.00 shall be calculated under Section 7 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.

SEC. 6. Guaranteed price. A seller may offer to sell a plumbing job covered by this order on the basis of a guaranteed price but such guaranteed price shall not be higher than the maximum price figured in accordance with the pricing methods and requirements of this order: Provided, however, That if the guaranteed price is offered with respect to a plumbing job of $350.00 or less then the guaranteed price shall not be more than 10% higher than the maximum price figured in accordance with the pricing methods and requirements of this order.

The maximum prices for such related and incidental work shall be determined under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251 or as fixed by any applicable area pricing order issued by the Regional Administrator of Region VII.

SEC. 8. Notification—(a) Furnishing of statements. Each seller making a sale covered by this order shall, upon completion of the work, furnish to the purchaser a statement and keep a copy thereof at his principal place of business showing the following:

(3) The date the job was completed.

(4) A description of the work performed and the total charged for the job, including plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment and other permitted charges, and a separate statement of the related and incidental construction work performed as provided in section 7 of this order.

(b) Furnishing of further statements upon request. If requested by the purchaser, the seller shall furnish the purchaser an itemized statement showing the information contained in sub-paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (a) of this section, together with an itemized statement showing the maximum labor charges for plumbing services for each type or class of labor performed and the hourly rates charged therefor, together with an itemized statement of the installed plumbing materials and equipment, and other permitted charges, and the quantities and prices of each, and a separate itemized statement of any related and incidental construction work performed, as provided in Section 7 of this order. A copy of any such statements so furnished shall be kept by the seller at his principal place of business.

(c) Order available for inspection. Each seller making a sale covered by this order, if requested by the purchaser shall make available to the purchaser a copy of this order and a copy of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251. Copies for this purpose may be obtained from the office of the Regional Administrator or from the District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 10. Filing and reporting of maximum prices. (a) Each seller subject to this order shall within 30 days after the effective date of this order, or within 10 days after any increase in labor cost is put into effect, or in the case of new sellers within 10 days after first entering business, file with the Cheyenne District Office of the Office of Price Administration the following information.

(1) The "maximum labor charge" as that term is defined in section 1 (b) (5) of this order in terms of the straight time hourly rate to be charged the purchaser for plumbing services covered by this order for each class of workmen employed by him.

(2) The "labor cost" as that term is defined in section 1 (b) (6) of this order in terms of the straight time hourly rate applicable to each class of workmen by the seller.

(3) A statement that the prices charged by the seller for the sale of installed plumbing materials and equipment and the other permitted charges covered by this order will not exceed the maximum percentage mark-ups and other charges permitted by section 4 of this order, and a statement that the maximum charge to the purchaser for plumbing services sub-contracted by the seller will not exceed the maximum price which the seller may lawfully charge under this order if he had rendered the services directly.

(b) Whenever a new seller files the information required by this section, the District Director may by order approve, disapprove or revise any maximum prices proposed so as to make it in line with the level of maximum prices established by this order. Each seller shall, however, comply with the provisions of this section with respect to its other filing and reporting provisions and also if there have been any changes in his maximum labor charges and labor costs not heretofore filed and reported to the Cheyenne Office.

SEC. 11. Prohibitions against sales at higher than maximum prices. On and after the effective date of this order, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or offer to sell plumbing services or plumbing materials and equipment on an installed basis, or both, covered by this order at higher prices than the maximum prices established by this order: Provided, That plumbing services performed or installations made not more than 30 days after the effective date of this order on bona fide contracts executed prior to the effective date of this order shall not be considered to be violations of this order.

SEC. 12. Evasions. (a) Any practice, scheme or device which results in a higher price to the purchaser of plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment than is permitted by this order shall be deemed a violation of this order and subjects the seller to all the civil liabilities and the criminal penalties provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended and extended.

(b) No seller shall as a part of the consideration or as a condition of a sale of any of the plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment covered by this order, secretly or otherwise receive, either directly or indirectly any side payment, commission, fee, consideration or other thing of value whatsoever nor shall the seller, either directly or indirectly acquire or receive in addition to the maximum prices established by this order the benefit of any services, transportation agreements or other valuable thing, materials or property.

(c) No seller shall eliminate or reduce in any form or manner any maintenance or repair service customarily offered or performed as a part of plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment nor shall the seller lower the quality of the materials and equipment below that called for by the specifications or agreement.

(d) No seller shall by any of the foregoing plans, schemes or devices, or by any other plan, scheme or device, receive or acquire or attempt to receive or acquire anything of value, service, valuable right, property or property right, money or other consideration whatsoever in addition to the maximum prices established in this order for the sale of any plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment.

SEC. 13. Less than maximum prices. Prices lower than the maximum prices for sales covered by this order may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 14. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. (b) If the buyer requests delivery outside the free delivery zone which the seller recognized during March 1942 or if no free delivery zone was recognized by the seller in March 1942, the seller may make delivery charges not in excess of those made by him in March 1942 but if delivery is made by a common or contract carrier the seller shall not charge in excess of the actual freight paid.

(c) If the seller was not in business during March 1942, he may elect to establish a free delivery zone or to make delivery charges, or both, and any such delivery charges shall not be in excess of such charges made by his principal competitors in his community for delivery during March 1942, and subject to the limitations of this section.

(d) All additional charges for delivery shall be itemized separately on any sales slips furnished the buyer and record thereof shall be kept as required by section 8 of this order.

(b) No seller shall as a part of the consideration or as a condition of a sale of the specified commodities covered by this order, secretly or otherwise receive, either directly or indirectly, any side payment, commission, fee, consideration or other thing of value whatsoever nor shall the seller, either directly or indirectly acquire or receive in addition to the maximum prices established by this order the benefit of any services, transportation agreements or other valuable thing, material or property.

(c) No seller shall eliminate or reduce in any form or manner any discount or allowance customarily offered in connection with the sale of the specified commodities covered by this order nor shall the seller lower the quality thereof below that called for by the specifications or agreement with respect to the sale of the specified commodities covered by this order nor shall the seller in any manner make a delivery charge in excess of the amount provided in section 5 of the order.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 70–1305]

WISCONSIN ELECTRIC POWER CO.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 4th day of June 1946.

Notice is hereby given that Wisconsin Electric Power Company, a subsidiary of The North American Company, a registered holding company, has filed an application and declaration pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

All interested persons are referred to the aplication and declaration which are on file in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Wisconsin Electric Power Company proposes:

(1) To exchange or redeem all of its outstanding 262,098 shares of Serial Preferred Stock, 4¾% Series (Old Serial Preferred Stock), of the par value of $100 per share. For this purpose, the Company will issue 260,000 shares of new Serial Preferred Stock, —% Series (New Serial Preferred Stock), of the par value of $100 per share, and will offer to the holders of its presently outstanding Old Serial Preferred Stock, the privilege to exchange their shares of such Preferred Stock for shares of the New Serial Preferred Stock, on a share for share basis, plus certain cash adjustments, subject to an offer to the holders of shares of the outstanding common stock of the Company of the right to subscribe at the initial public offering price, for shares of the New Serial Preferred Stock on the basis of 1/10th of a share of New Serial Preferred Stock for each share of common stock (the ratio of their holdings to the total of the outstanding common stock). If a holder of common stock, by reason of the total number of shares held by him, would be entitled to subscribe to a number of shares which is not a whole number then the number of shares to which such holder is entitled to subscribe will be increased to the next higher number of full shares. Each of the Old Serial Preferred Stockholders accepting the offer of exchange will receive a cash dividend adjustment and a further cash payment representing the difference between the public offering price per share for the shares of New Serial Preferred Stock not issued pursuant to the exchange offer or the subscription offer and the redemption price ($105 per share) of the Old Serial Preferred Stock. The unexchanged Old Serial Preferred Stock is to be called for redemption at the redemption price of $105 per share, plus accrued dividends. All unexchanged shares of the Old Serial Preferred Stock so redeemed will be retired and cancelled.

In connection with the exchange and redemption of the Old Serial Preferred Stock, the Company proposes, pursuant to Rule U-50, to invite sealed written proposals for services in obtaining exchanges of shares of Old Serial Preferred Stock and for the purchase of such shares of New Serial Preferred Stock as are not required to be issued pursuant to the exchange offer or the subscription offer. Such proposals shall specify (a) the annual dividend rate for the New Serial Preferred Stock, which rate shall be a multiple of 1/10 of 1% of the par value; (b) the price per share (exclusive of accrued dividends) to be paid the Company for shares of the New Serial Preferred Stock not issued pursuant to the exchange and subscription offers, which price shall not be less than $100 nor more than $102.75 per share; and (c) the aggregate amount of compensation to be paid to the bidder or bidders for such services. Each proposal shall state that if the bidder or bidders shall make a public offering of the New Serial Preferred Stock purchased, it is their intention that the public offering price will be the price per share referred to in (b) above, the bidders reserving the right to make such a public offering at a lower price, if, at that time, a public offering at the price so specified is not advisable in the judgment of their representative.

(2) To redeem all of its presently outstanding First Mortgage Bonds, 3½% Series due 1968, in the aggregate principal amount of $55,000,000 at the redemption price of 105¼% of the principal amount thereof. For this purpose the Company will: (a) issue and sell, pursuant to the provisions of Rule U-50, new First Mortgage Bonds, —% Series due 1976 in the principal amount of $50,000,000; and (b) issue and sell to commercial banks and not for resale to the public its unsecured Promissory Notes in the aggregate principal amount of $5,000,000, maturing in the aggregate principal amount of $700,000 in each of the years 1947 to 1952, inclusive, and an aggregate principal amount of $800,000 in 1953 and to apply the net proceeds from the sale of the new bonds and the proceeds from the sale of the Promissory Notes, together with other treasury funds, to the redemption of its 3½% Series Bonds due 1968.

The new Bonds will be issued under the Company's Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated October 28, 1938, and a new Indenture supplemental thereto dated June 1, 1946, between the Company and First Wisconsin Trust Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The Promissory Notes will be issued pursuant to a bank loan agreement dated May 9, 1946, between the Company and The First National Bank of Chicago, Marshall & Ilsley Bank of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Marine National Exchange Bank. The installments on said Notes maturing one to five years after closing date will bear interest at the rate of 1½% per annum, and the remaining two installments maturing six and seven years after closing date, will bear interest at the rate of 1⅝% per annum. All of said Notes will be subject to prepayment under certain specified terms and conditions.

In connection with the issue and sale of the new Bonds the Company proposes, pursuant to Rule U-50, to invite sealed written proposals for the purchase of the new First Mortgage Bonds —% Series due 1976 in the aggregate principal amount of $50,000,000. Each proposal shall specify (a) the coupon rate per annum for the new bonds, which shall be a multiple of ⅛ of 1%; and (b) the price (exclusive of accrued interest) to be paid the Company for the new bonds, which price shall be not less than 100% nor more than 102¾% of the principal amount of such bonds.

(3) The Company proposes to make appropriate amendments to its Charter to effectuate the proposed transactions.

The proposals for services in obtaining exchanges of the New Serial Preferred Stock and the purchase of the unexchanged shares of such stock and for the purchase of the new Bonds are proposed to be received on or about June 24, 1946. Each bid must be (a) for the purchase of all the new Bonds, or (b) for the services for obtaining the exchanges of New Preferred Stock and the purchase of the unexchanged shares; or (c) for both the purchase of all the new bonds and for the services in obtaining the exchanges and the purchase of the unexchanged shares of New Serial Preferred Stock, provided that any bidder submitting a bid for the new Bonds and for such services shall submit separate bids for the purchase of the new Bonds and for such services and purchase of unexchanged shares.

The Company has designated sections 6, 7 and 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rules U-42 and U-50 as applicable to the proposed transactions, and has requested an exemption from the provisions of section 7 of the act pursuant to section 6 (b) of the act regarding the issuance of the new securities.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to the matters set forth in the application and declaration and that said application-declaration should not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of this Commission:

It is ordered, That a hearing on said application and declaration under the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder be held at 10 a. m., e. s. t., on the 11th day of June, 1946, at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such date, the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. Any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in these proceedings shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 9th, 1946 his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by such filing, particular attention will be directed at such hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the Wisconsin Electric Power Company is entitled to the exemption from the provisions of section 7 of act which it has asserted under section 6 (b) thereof.

2. Whether the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin has expressly authorized the proposed issuance and sale of the new securities by Wisconsin Electric Power Company.

3. Whether in the event such exemption is granted, it is necessary or appropriate to impose terms or conditions in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers in connection with the proposed transactions.

4. Whether in the event such exemption is not applicable, the securities proposed to be issued and sold by Wisconsin Electric Power Company are reasonably adapted to the security structure and earning power of the company and are necessary and appropriate to the economical and efficient operation of the business or businesses in which the company is engaged.

5. Whether the terms and conditions of the issue and sale of the securities of Wisconsin Electric Power Company are detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

6. Whether the terms and conditions of the proposed exchange offer and the subscription offer affecting the Preferred Stock and Common Stock of Wisconsin Electric Power Company are fair and reasonable and in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers.

7. Whether the fees, commissions or other remuneration to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions are for necessary services and are reasonable in amount.

8. Whether the accounting entries to be recorded in connection with the proposed transactions are proper and conform to sound accounting principles and meet the standards of the act.

9. Whether, generally, in any respect, the proposed transactions are detrimental to the public interest or to the interest of investors or consumers or will tend to circumvent any provisions of the act or the rules, regulations or orders promulgated thereunder.

(2) The conversion weight of pork of any type used in the preparation of sausage, or in the preparation of canned meat, or any other meat product not specified above, shall be computed by determining, on the basis of the manufacturing formula, the net weight of the pork used in such processing, and multiplying such net weight by the applicable conversion factor set forth above for such type of pork. The net weight of pork which is cooked and used in the preparation of canned meat not specified above shall be the weight thereof before cooking.

(e) Credits allowed on deliveries. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section, any set aside pork delivered to a governmental agency or authorized purchaser may be credited against the set aside requirements of this order for pork or pork products of the type and grade so delivered.

(f) Certificates. No set aside pork shall be delivered to any authorized purchaser, and no credit shall be allowed for any such delivery unless, prior to delivery, the slaughterer obtains a certificate signed by the authorized purchaser, containing the following: The name and address of both parties, the contract number of the contract between the authorized purchaser and the governmental agency; and a statement by the authorized purchaser that the set aside pork to be delivered, or an equivalent amount of set aside pork of the same type and grade, will be or has been used in the fulfillment of such contract. The slaughterer shall endorse on such certificate the date of delivery and the conversion weight of such pork, together with a description permitting conversion in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section. The slaughterer and the authorized purchaser shall each retain an original of such certificate for at least two years, and shall submit the same to the Administrator upon request. All statements contained in or accompanying such certificates shall be deemed representations to an agency of the United States. In the event of such direction for delivery, the Administrator or the governmental agency entitled to delivery may make provision for completing the processing, wrapping or packaging of such pork to meet the specifications of such governmental agency and may charge the expense thereof to the person required to make such delivery. Any direction for delivery in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph shall not affect the right of the Government to take any other action or proceeding under paragraph (o) of this order.

(j) Allocations. The Administrator may, by general order or written notice to individual slaughterers, order the allocation of pork set aside under this order to or among specific governmental agencies or authorized purchasers. In the absence of such allocation, slaughterers may, subject to paragraph (f) of this section, sell pork so set aside to any such person or agency.

(n) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship on him may file a petition for relief with the Order Administrator. Petitions shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Order Administrator may take any action with reference to such petition which is consistent with the authority delegated to him by the Administrator. 1. In § 803.305–4, subparagraphs (8), (9), (11), (15), and (18) of paragraph (a), and subparagraph (12) of paragraph (b), are amended to read as follows:

§ 803.305–4 Information to be furnished in requesting approval of awards. • • •

(a) Requests for approval of awards under § 803.305–2 (a) (1). • • •

(8) Whether negotiations were conducted with more than one contractor. In cases where the award is made as a result of formal advertising, one copy of the abstract of bids will be submitted with the request for approval, together with all other information required, when applicable.

(9) Brief reference to the consideration and application of contract placement policies (see Subpart C of Part 802 of this chapter).

(11) Price information showing that a careful and thorough price analysis was made in the course of the negotiation and giving a brief narrative history of the negotiations with the contractor. This information should be given in sufficient detail to permit an appraisal of the consideration given to (i) comparative prices, (ii) components of price, and (iii) cost and price trends. (See ASF Manual M 601, "Pricing in War Contracts"; Subpart E of Part 802 of this chapter.)

Comparative prices: The value of this information depends in large part on whether the conditions and circumstances of the procurements offered for comparison are in fact fairly comparable with those involved in the procurement approval of which is sought. The request should therefore indicate the consideration given to the various factors in the particular case which affect comparability. The following list of such possible factors is merely suggestive, not exhaustive: (i) volume of production; (ii) contractors' experience in producing the same or similar items; (iii) Government-owned facilities and Government-furnished material; (iv) financing provisions; (v) royalty payments; (vi) risk factors, including those arising out of the length of delivery schedules; (vii) Government's assumption of risks by means of contract provisions; (viii) comparative price movements.

Components of price: The request should reflect the types of approach used in analyzing components of price, of which the following are suggestive: (i) analysis of the contractor's cost breakdowns; (ii) comparisons of the contractor's cost estimates with his experienced costs and with the estimated and experienced costs of other suppliers of the same or similar items; (iii) comparison of the contractor's cost estimates with the over-all operating statement for his latest fiscal year or with budgeted forecasts for the period of production; (iv) analysis of engineering cost estimates.

The consideration given to trends in prices, in cost of materials, and in wage rates and utilization of labor should be indicated in the request.

The reasons for substantial differences in costs and prices, as well as the effect of subcontracting on costs and prices, should be summarized.

Presentation of the foregoing information should indicate that the price analysis was made with a view to effectuating, wherever possible, the War Department policy of reducing costs and prices.

(15) Where the agreement is on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis, in addition to an analysis similar to that required elsewhere in this paragraph (to the extent feasible), a full statement of the reasons for the use of such type of agreement should be given (see § 802.217–3 (a) through (c), together with an explanation of the basis of calculation of the fixed fee (see § 802.217–3 (c)).

• • • • • •

(18) Recommendation of the chief of the technical service, or his representative, as to the action desired to be taken by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch.

(b) Requests for approval of awards under § 803.305–2 (a) (2). • • •

(12) Recommendation of the chief of the technical service, or his representative, as to the action desired to be taken by the Chief, Current Procurement Branch.

2. Secton 803.306–1 (c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 803.306–1 Authority of technical services to make contracts. • • •

(c) In the case of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, the contract complies with paragraph (a) or (b) and in addition is one which may properly be placed on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis under § 802.217–3 (b) and (c) of this chapter.

SUBPART D—DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACTS AND ORDERS THEREUNDER

(b) Accordingly, all numbered contracts; and supplemental agreements, modifications, change orders, leases, assignments, etc., affecting contracts whether entered into heretofore or hereafter which would have been sent to any one of the four former audit branches, will be sent to the General Accounting Office, Army Audit Branch, Building 203, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis 20, Missouri.

2. Section 803.318–1 (b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 803.318–1 Purchases under contracts of Procurement Division, Treasury Department; Navy Department; Post Office Department; etc. • • •

(b) The chief of the technical service concerned will secure compliance with all special instructions of the respective agencies which make the contracts. PART 812—RENEGOTIATION AND PRICE ADJUSTMENT

APPENDIX

1. In § 812.1291–1 new paragraphs (2) and (3) under RR 351.2 are added, and former paragraphs (2) and (3) are redesignated (4) and (5), as follows:

§ 812.1291–1 Discretionary exemption relating to contracts and subcontracts to be performed outside of the United States. • • •

351.2 Exemption. • • •

(2) Pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (1), the War Contracts Board has determined with respect to all subcontracts to be performed in Canada but any substantial part of the work incident to which subcontracts is performed within the territorial limits of the United Sates or in Alaska,

(a) that administrative difficulties do not make impracticable the renegotiation of such subcontracts,

(b) that the procurement program of the United States in foreign countries will not be adversely affected by such renegotiation, and

(c) that such renegotiation will not otherwise be contrary to the interests of the United States. Such subcontracts are, therefore, not exempt from renegotiation under subsection (1) (4) (A) of the Renegotiation Act or under subparagraph (1) above.

(3) Except as to subcontracts referred to in subparagraph (2) above and except as provided in the last sentence of this subparagraph, if a contractor assigned for renegotiation has receipts or accruals from a contract or subcontract described in subparagraph (1) above, the renegotiating agency shall, before completing the renegotiation, furnish to the Department which entered into such contract or into the contract under which such subcontract was made, the following information:

(a) A statement as to whether administrative difficulties do or do not make impracticable the renegotiation of such contract or subcontract,

(b) A statement of opinion based upon all the facts available to the renegotiating agency as to whether the procurement program of the United States will be adversely affected by the renegotiation of such contract or subcontract,

(c) A statement of opinion based upon all the facts available to the renegotiating agency as to whether such renegotiation will be contrary to the interests of the United States and

(d) A request that a determination be made that such contract or subcontract is or is not exempt from the provisions of the Renegotiation Act.

The Secretary of the Department to which the foregoing is submitted, or any authority to whom the power to exempt individual contracts under subsection (1) (4) (A) of the 1943 act has been, or may be delegated or redelegated, shall make the findings with respect to the matters set forth in subparagraph (1) above and promptly notify the renegotiating agency of such findings. The finding called for in clause (a) of subparagraph (1) may be based entirely upon the statement called for in clause (a) of this subparagraph (2). If such findings cannot be made, that fact will be promptly communicated to the renegotiating agency. The renegotiating agency need not follow the foregoing procedure if it appears that a clearance or cancellation of the assignment would be appropriate even though the receipts or accruals from the contract or subcontract in question were considered as subject to renegotiation.

(4) In determining whether the procurement program of the United States in foreign countries or the interests of the United States generally will be adversely affected by such renegotiation, it is considered desirable that representatives of the Department of State of the United States be consulted, if practicable; such consultation shall not, however, be essential to the valid renegotiation of any contractor or subcontractor.

(5) Such determination may be made at any time whether before or after the execution of the contract or subcontract and whether or not it contains a renegotiation clause.

2. In § 812.1291–3 paragraphs (1) (d) and (i) under RR 645.3 are amended to read as follows:

§ 812.1291–3 Discretionary exemption relating to contracts and subcontracts for standard commercial articles. • • •

645.3 Fiscal years ending after June 30, 1945. (1) • • •

(d) Leather transmission belting, mechanical and textile leathers and mechanical leather packings.

(Comment: This exemption applies only to sales by the person milling the flour. Wheat flour includes granular flour and farina: whole wheat flour; products of the milling of durum wheat including whole durum flour and semolina; and blends of the foregoing. Bleached, bromated, enriched, phosphated and self-rising flour are considered flour for purposes of this exemption.)

• • • • •

3. In § 812.1291–4, RR 355.3 (1) (c), and RR 355.4 are amended to read as follows:

§ 812.1291–4 Discretionary exemption relating to contracts and subcontracts when effective competition is likely to exist; construction contracts. • • •

355.3 Application of exemption to construction contracts and subcontracts entered into subsequent to June 30, 1943, and before January 1, 1944. (1) • • •

(c) the work covered by the contract or subcontract was substantially the same as the work for which the bids were requested;

• • • • •

355.4 Application of exemption to construction contracts and subcontracts entered into after December 31, 1943. The War Contracts Board has found that (subject to the exception hereinafter provided) competitive conditions affecting the making of construction contracts and subcontracts entered into subsequent to December 31, 1943, were such as to result in effective competition with respect to the contract or subcontract price; and, accordingly, the Board, in accordance with subsection (l) (4) of the 1943 act, has exempted such contracts and subcontracts from all of the provisions of the 1943 act. There are excepted from the provisions of this paragraph construction contracts and subcontracts entered into after December 31, 1943, which constitute substitutes for or revisions of extension of construction contracts or subcontracts entered into on or before December 31, 1943. The term "construction contracts and subcontracts" as used herein shall be construed in accordance with the principles set forth in subparagraphs (1) (a) and (2) of [RR] paragraph 355.3.

4. In § 812.1291–5 the undesignated paragraph following RR 356.2 (3) is deleted and RR 356.3 is added as follows:

§ 812.1291–5 Discretionary exemption relating to subcontracts where not administratively feasible to determine and segregate profits. • • •

356.3 Cross reference. For an exemption of subcontracts under certain public utility contracts, see [RR] paragraph 842.6 (reprinted in § 812.1291–2 (b)).

PART 813—FORMS OF CONTRACTS

Section 813.1313 is revoked as follows:

§ 813.1313 W. D. Contract Form No. 13. [Revoked]

Subchapter B—Disposition of Property

[Procurement Reg. 7]

PART 821—GENERAL DISPOSITION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

In § 821.102 the paragraph defining "Line item" is deleted, the paragraphs defining "Readjustment Division," "Reconstruction Finance Corporation," and "small lots" are amended, and the paragraph defining "Salvage" is added, as follows:

§ 821.102 Definitions. • • •

"Readjustment Division" means the Chief, Readjustment Branch, Procurement Group, Office of the Director of Service, Supply and Procurement.

"Reconstruction Finance Corporation". When in this regulation reference is made to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation such reference shall be deemed to be a reference to War Assets Administration.

• • • • •

"Salvage" means property that is in such a worn, damaged, deteriorated or incomplete condition, or is of such a specialized nature that it has no reasonable prospect of sale as a unit, or is not usable as a unit without major repairs or alteration. Salvage has some value in excess of its basic material content because it may contain serviceable components or may have value to a purchaser who may make major repairs or alterations. Salvage includes used containers and cable reels. It should be noted that property is not "salvage" merely because it is worn, damaged, deteriorated, incomplete, or of a specialized nature.

• • • • •

"Small lots" means a single item or group of identical items of excess or surplus property, normally constituting a single entry on Form SPB–1, the cost (estimated if not known) of which at any one place at any one time does not exceed $100.

• • • • •

PART 823 — DISPOSITION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY FOR PURPOSES DIRECTLY RELATED TO THE PROSECUTION OF THE WAR

1. Section 823.307–2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 823.307–2 Transfer without reimbursement under certain statutes. (a) Under the provisions of Pub. Law 375, 79th Congress, approved May 3, 1946 "no government agency may transfer any property to any other government agency without reimbursement or transfer of funds under authority of any law approved prior to June 22, 1944." (Transfers of property to War Department civil functions, pursuant to second indorsement of the Under Secretary of War to the Chief of Engineers, subject, "Use of Surplus Military Property on War Department Civil Functions," October 22, 1945, are not affected by this law.) Therefore, transfers without reimbursement to other Government agencies will only be made in the following manner:

When transfers are made to the Veterans' Administration upon written request stating that the property is needed for authorized care for veterans (Title I, Pub. Law 346, 78th Cong.), or when aircraft, surplus to the needs of the War Department, are transferred to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics for replacement purposes only (Title III, Pub. Law 61, 79th Cong.) and aircraft engines, parts, and accessories, surplus to the needs of the War Department, are transferred to the Civil Aeronautics Administration (Title I, Pub. Law 269, 79th Cong.), or when property is transferred to the United States Soldiers' Home (Title I, Pub. Law 269, 79th Cong.) in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section, or when transfers are authorized under other statutes approved subsequent to June 21, 1944, which do not require reimbursement, they will be effected without reimbursement of, or transfer or allotment of funds to, the transferor by the transferee for the cost of the property or of packaging, handling, and shipment thereof, unless the property is procured by the transferor for the transferee:

(1) By assignment of sole purchase responsibility, or

(2) Under procurement pooling arrangements, or

(3) Under any arrangement for procurement by the transferor expressly upon the prior requisition of the transferee.

(b) Under paragraph (a) of this section, any civilian type items which may be excess to the needs and responsibilities of the War Department may be transferred to the Veterans' Administration, provided the representative of the Veterans' Administration making the request certifies that the property requested is needed for the authorized care for veterans.

(c) Transfers without reimbursement to the United States Soldiers' Home may be made only of personal property which has been determined to be surplus. If property requested by the United States Soldiers' Home has been declared surplus to a disposal agency, the request will be returned with appropriate information as to the disposal agency having jurisdiction over the property.

2. Section 823.316 is amended to read as follows:

§ 823.316 Donations to schools engaged in preinduction or aeronautical industrial training. Under the authority conferred upon the Secretary of War by the act of May 26, 1928 (45 Stat. 753, 20 U.S.C. 94), and the act of February 28, 1936 (49 Stat. 1147, 10 U.S.C. 1258), the chiefs of the technical services and the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, are authorized to donate property, in the classes specified, to educational institutions. In accordance with a letter from the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, February 12, 1946, donations will be made only after screening by the Federal Security Agency. To accomplish this the Federal Security Agency will maintain a representative at or near each service command headquarters and at or near the Air Material Command Headquarters for the purpose of reviewing applications from educational institutions.

(a) Requests for donations will be screened by the Federal Security Agency and approved and certified by them as complying with the following requirements:

(1) The institution is not operated for profit (including institutions operated by states or political subdivisions thereof), has a standard curriculum in the fields for which it offers training, and the request is reasonable and proper in view of the training to be given;

(2) The institution provides a regular course of instruction which will require the use of the property;

(3) The institution will use the property in an aeronautical industrial training program recommended by the Assistant Chief, Air Staff-3, Headquarters AAF, or will use the property in a preinduction training program as defined prior to November 1, 1945 by the Director of Military Training, ASF;

(4) The institution provides adequate facilities to maintain the property;

(5) The request is reasonable and proper in view of the training to be given and the amount of property requested is also reasonable in proportion to the number to be trained;

(6) In the case of requests for numerous items, the quantity requested has been carefully reviewed with respect to the institution's ability to utilize the property in its training program;

(7) If the institution making the request for donation has previously received donations under the authority of this paragraph, the institution has:

(i) Listed the property which the institution has previously received or which it knows to be en route as a result of a prior donation; and—

(ii) Stated whether the property previously received by donation is still in use in the training program for which it was requested; and—

(iii) Has stated the specific purpose for which the property covered by this request will be used.

(8) The donee has agreed that if prior to placing the property in use it determines it does not need all or any part of the property received, this fact will be communicated to the source from which the donation was made. Further, the donee has agreed at the time application is made, that it will, if requested, return at its own expense, to the source from which the donation was made, all property which it does not place in use.

(b) Requests for donations which have been approved and certified by the Federal Security Agency in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, will be forwarded by the FSA representative, in the case of property to be used in preinduction training, to the commanding general of the service command in which the institution is located. In the case of property to be used in aeronautical industrial training, the approved and certified application will be sent to the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. The commanding general of the service command receiving applications will review them and if they appear to be proper and have been certified by the Federal Security Agency, he shall forward the request to the chief of the technical service having control of the property to be donated, Attention: Redistribution and Salvage Officer. Requests for donations of Army Air Forces matériel will be forwarded to the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command.

(c) The chief of the technical service or the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, upon receipt of the properly approved and certified request, will direct the appropriate installation to ship the property to the educational institution and will include in such direction a citation of this paragraph. The chief of the technical service or the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, may delegate this shipping authority to any agency within his command. Requests will be processed in the order in which they are received unless specific authority to deviate from this requirement is obtained from the Readjustment Branch, Headquarters Army Service Forces.

(d) The following property may be donated under the authority of this section:

(1) Obsolete or excess machinery, mechanical equipment, and tools.

(2) Aircraft, aircraft parts, instruments, or engines which are obsolete or impaired to the extent that repair would not be economical. In determining the property which may be donated, responsible officers should bear in mind that the intent of the Congress was to make available the above categories of property as vocational training aids. Under no circumstances will donations be made which will result in current procurement to replace the property, nor will property be considered available for donation after it has been declared as surplus to a disposal agency, nor will property be considered available if a disposal agency has advised that any particular item is in short civilian supply or has requested that items of a particular type or certain specific items be reported to it. Property located in an industrial installation, as defined in § 830.102–6 of this subchapter, will not be considered available while a decision by a disposal agency is pending as to the sale of the plant in its entirety, and after decision, may not be donated without advance approval by the disposal agency. Maintenance or overhead property will not be donated, even though it may fall within the meaning of "machinery, mechanical equipment, and tools." Requests for donations of office furniture and equipment, laboratory equipment not considered within the category of "machinery, mechanical equipment, and tools," and motor vehicles will be denied.

(e) No property will be shipped until receipt of payment by the donee of all expenses necessary for packing, handling, and delivery to the carrier. Property shipped by carrier will be on a commercial bill of lading with transportation charges collect. Copies of shipping documents listing the property supported by shipping directions described in paragraph (c) of this section, will constitute valid credit vouchers to the property accounts. No further accounting for the property will be required. Two lists of the property donated will be forwarded to the commanding general of the service command which recommended the donation or to the Air Material Command.

(f) In the event the chief of the technical service or the Commanding General, Air Material Command, determines property of the type requested will not be available to fill the request within 120 days, he will notify the institution making the request through the appropriate service command or in the case of the Air Material Command direct, of this fact and will indicate that a new application should be made after the expiration of the 120 day period.

3. Section 823.391–1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 8313.2 Purpose and scope. The purpose of this part is to provide a fixed price policy for commercially salable used standard general purpose machine tools and machines. It also provides for the scraping and salvaging of all other general purpose machinery and of any special machinery determined hereunder to be commercially unsalable. Prices at decreasing percentages of original cost are specified for the various classes of machinery up to stated limits of active use and maximum prices are provided for sales of machinery in active use beyond such limits. This part applies to all sales in the continental United States, not including its territories or possessions, made after the effective date hereof by the disposal agency and to all sales by owning agencies of standard general purpose machinery pursuant to Part 8306 [SPA Reg. 6 (10 F.R. 14521; 11 F.R. 1893)] or otherwise, but is not applicable to any sale of machinery which has been delivered to the purchaser or to any carrier for the account of the purchaser prior to the effective date of this part.

§ 8313.3 Determination of base price and period of active use. (a) Base prices for machinery to be sold hereunder shall be determined as follows:

(1) Class I. The base price of machinery falling within Class I shall be the original price at which the manufacturer sold the machine. The selling agency shall determine the original price (f. o. b., the plant of the machine manufacturer) of the machine including electrical equipment, standard or special attachments sold with the machine, and attached special tooling which has value to the purchaser other than as scrap or salvage. In the case of machine tools and metal forging and shaping machines manufactured prior to March 1, 1941, the March 1, 1941, price of the nearest equivalent machine may be taken as the original price. In the case of standard general purpose machines, other than machine tools and metal forming and shaping machines, manufactured prior to October 1, 1941, the October 1, 1941 price of the nearest equivalent machine may be taken as the original price.

(2) Classes II and III. The base price for machinery falling within Classes II and III shall be the original price as provided for in sub-paragraph (1) above or the original manufacturer's current retail price for the same or the nearest equivalent unit.

(b) The selling agency shall determine the period of active use of the machine on the basis of the best information reasonably available. The period of active use shall be considered to run from the estimated date the machine was originally put into use to the date of sale, if the machine is then still in use. If the machine is not in use at the time of sale, the period shall run to the estimated date when the machine last became idle.

§ 8313.4 Determination of sale price. (a) Exhibits A, B, and C contain tables of percentages applicable to various periods of active use of machinery to be sold hereunder. The price at which a machine shall be sold shall be computed by applying to the base price determined in accordance with § 8313.3 (a) the percentage appearing in the appropriate exhibit opposite the period of active use of the machine calculated in accordance with § 8313.3 (b). The appropriate exhibit shall be determined as follows:

	Exhibit
Any machine in Class I	A
Any machine in Class II	A
Any machine in Class III operating under 750 revolutions per minute	B
Any machine in Class III operating over 750 revolutions per minute	C

(b) In determining which of the two columns of percentages shall apply in Exhibits A, B, and C, those appearing in Column b shall be applied where the buyer is the person who is using the machine at the time of sale, or, if the machine is then idle, the person who last used it, and the percentage appearing in Column a shall be applied where the sale is to any other buyer. The price computed in accordance herewith shall be the sales price f. o. b. the location of the machine at the time of sale, except that in the case of sales made to a purchaser in possession, it shall be the sales price of the machine at its location.

(c) A sale of a standard general purpose machine in Class III with a period of active use in excess of the highest period of active use specified in the appropriate exhibit may be made at the best price obtainable but not in excess of the price applicable to such a machine with the highest period of active use specified in such exhibit.

§ 8313.5 Scrapping and salvage of machinery. (a) The Administrator has determined that, due to the cost of care, handling, and disposition, surplus machinery of any type the period of active use of which is more than 25 years is commercially unsalable and all such machinery shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (d), upon a determination in writing by the agency in possession that the period of active use is more than 25 years, forthwith be disposed of as scrap after removal of all salvageable components.

PART 824—DISPOSITION OF NON-REPAIRABLE PERSONAL PROPERTY

Section 824.407 (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 824.407 Donations to veterans' organizations, museums, and municipal corporations. (a) The chiefs of the technical services are authorized to donate to soldiers' monument associations, posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, posts of the American Legion and other recognized war veterans' associations, state museums, and incorporated museums operated and maintained for educational purposes only, whose charters deny them the right to operate for profit municipal corporations, and posts of The Sons of Veterans Reserve, including those organizations or institutions which contributed material in the early scrap drives, condemned or obsolete ordnance, guns, projectiles, books, manuscripts, works of art, drawings, plans, models, and other condemned or obsolete material which may not be needed in the service of the War Department. This authority includes items of surplus combat matériel, but items of captured enemy matériel will not be donated under this authority. Donations made pursuant to this authority will be with such demilitarization as is consistent with the use of the property. For the purpose of determining what war veterans' associations, other than those named in the statute, may be recognized under this section, it has been established by the War Department that those organizations composed of honorably discharged soldiers, sailers, and marines which are organized as veterans' associations and are named in Parts 1 or 2, Veterans' Administration Bulletin 23, 7 March 1946, are eligible to receive donations under this paragraph. Those veterans' associations included in this bulletin are:

Disabled American Veterans.
Catholic War Veterans, Inc.
Jewish War Veterans of the United States.
National Society—Army of the Philippines.
The Disabled Emergency Officers of the World Wars.
The Military Order of the Purple Heart, Inc.
United Indian War Veterans, U. S. A.
Army and Navy Union.
United Spanish War Veterans.
Fleet Reserve Reservation.
Military Order of the World Wars.
Regular Veterans Association.
Marine Corps League.

Additional organizations may qualify from time to time as they are approved and recognized by the Veterans' Administration. The names of these additional organizations will be included in this regulation as they occur. Until such time as the chiefs of the technical services have been notified that a particular organization has been approved it may be considered as not eligible to receive donations of War Department property.

PART 827—DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS PERSONAL PROPERTY

SUBPART A—DIRECT DISPOSAL BY WAR DEPARTMENT

1. Section 827.710–2 (a) (3) is added as follows:

§ 827.710–2 Exceptions * * *
(a) * * *
(3) When mutual agreements are made between the regional office of the disposal agency and a War Department agency to declare small lots. Such agreements may be desirable when:
(i) An entire installation becomes surplus and is declared as an operating unit, including all items which would otherwise be small lots.
(ii) Declaration of tools, spare parts, and accessories are made together with the machine tool or other mechanical equipment to which they belong, rather than selling separately as small lots.
(iii) Agreement is made by the disposal agency to include small lots in a site sale rather than having the War Department sell small lots and the disposal agency sell large lots or perhaps identical merchandise, at the same site.
(iv) Any other situation arises where it is to the manifest advantage of the War Department or the Government as a whole to declare small lots rather than having them sold by the salvage officer.

2. In § 827.710–3 paragraph (a) is amended, paragraph (b) is deleted, and paragraphs (c) and (d) are redesignated (b) and (c), respectively, as follows:

§ 827.710–3 Standard for determination of small lots. (a) Determination of what are "small lots" is not the responsibility of the salvage officer but of the War Department agency directing transfer to salvage. The standards to be applied in making such determinations are as follows:

(1) Property will not be subdivided or subjected to refined classifications for the purpose of avoiding reporting to disposal agencies.

(2) "Identical items" are items which have identical characteristics, including color, size, condition, etc., and would normally constitute a single entry on Form SPB–1. Items such as typewriters which are identical in all other respects and differ only in having a different serial number shall be considered as identical.

(b) The phrase "at any one time" appearing in the definition of small lots (§ 821.102 of this subchapter) means the time at which the responsible officer has determined the items to be turned over to a salvage officer or declared to a disposal agency. Developments subsequent to the time of the decision need not influence a determination of small lots.

(c) The phrase "at any one place" appearing in the definition of small lots (§ 821.102 of this subchapter) means one installation, plant, factory, or location.

3. Section 827.725–11 (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 827.725–11 Shipment upon receipt of disposition instructions. (a) When property has been disposed of by a disposal agency, or when the disposal agency takes custody of the property prior to disposal, the disposal agency will issue appropriate shipping instructions or other disposal documents, sending one copy to the custodian and one copy to the declaring agency (except as otherwise agreed between the declaring agency and the disposal agency in the case of contractor inventory; see § 827.724–3 (c) (5) (i)). As directed by the disposal agency, the field installation concerned will, upon receipt of the shipping instructions, prepare and load the property and arrange for its shipment. When shipping instructions notify the custodian that vendee will pick up the property at a later date or instruct the custodian that property is to be held subject to definite shipping instructions at a later date, the custodian will register the date of receipt of such data as a matter of record. If further instructions pertaining to shipment are not received within 10 days from receipt of initial information the custodian will immediately refer the document to the disposal agency for action as provided in conditions of sale prescribed by the disposal agency. The expense of preparation and loading for shipment will be borne by the field installation concerned, without reimbursement by the disposal agency.

830.105 Inspection of standby, excess or surplus installations.

§ 830.100 Scope of Parts 830 to 839. (a) Parts 830 to 839 establish policies and procedures for the classification and disposition of standby, excess, and surplus industrial installations located within the continental United States, which are on land owned by or leased to the War Department. Such installations include arsenals; installations acquired under supply contracts, emergency plant facilities contracts, and special facilities contracts; and industrial material testing and proving grounds.

(b) Parts 830 to 839 do not cover machine tools, production equipment, or other equipment located in private facilities; command installations; facilities acquired for civil functions of the War Department, or industrial installations owned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Office of Defense Plants (formerly Defense Plant Corporation).

(c) Facilities acquired under Emergency Plant Facilities contracts wherein the Government has no right to acquire any interest in real property are covered in Subpart F of Part 848 of this chapter; facilities acquired under Emergency Plant Facilities contracts wherein the Government has the right to acquire title to the land are covered by this Regulation and are treated as Government-owned installations; facilities acquired under Emergency Plant Facilities contracts wherein the Government has the right to acquire a leasehold interest in land are treated as leased installations under Part 835 of this subchapter.

§ 830.101 War Department policy. The policy of the War Department is to prevent retention of excess industrial installations, to effect the prompt return to productive use of idle industrial installations, to aid the disposal agencies in disposing of surplus industrial installations to the fullest extent provided by the regulations of the War Assets Administration, and to limit sales of surplus installations by the War Department to cases in which the War Department is clearly responsible for direct disposals.

§ 830.102 Definitions. As used in Parts 830 to 839, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

§ 830.102–1 "Active" is a term used to describe the status of an installation currently in production, or being constructed or modified for immediate production needs. The term "active" is also used to describe an installation used for industrial storage.

§ 830.102–2 Disposal agency. "Disposal agency" means any Government agency designated by the War Assets Administration to dispose of industrial installations.

§ 830.102–3 Excess. "Excess" is a term used to describe the status of an installation that has been determined by the using service to be no longer needed for its production requirements, or, if an approved industrial storage installation, no longer needed for storage.

§ 830.102–4 Improvements. The term "improvements" includes Government-owned buildings, fixtures, facilities, and equipment located on any industrial installation.

§ 830.102–5 Industrial installation. "Industrial installation" or "installation" means any unit of real property (or reasonably separable portion thereof), including its related production equipment, primarily used or useful for the production of material, munitions, or supplies and facilities, or for closely related functions. It includes all lands and interests therein, leaseholds, buildings, structures, improvements and appurtenances, all production machinery and equipment, transportation equipment, road and ground maintenance equipment, and other personal property considered necessary by the owning and disposal agency for the protection and maintenance of the entire facility, which are not a part of command installations. It includes housing which is an integral part of an installation.

§ 830.102–6 Readily severable. "Readily severable" means capable of being removed and sold without substantial damage to either the property being removed or the premises.

§ 830.102–7 Standby. "Standby" is a term used to describe the status of an installation not currently in use, but which the War Department desires to keep in readiness to resume production, if necessary.

§ 830.102–8 Surplus. "Surplus" is a term used to describe the status of an installation that has been determined by the War Department to be no longer needed for its immediate or foreseeable requirements and responsibilities.

§ 830.102–9 Termination inventory. "Termination inventory" is defined as raw materials, purchased parts, work-in-process, and end items resulting from production.

§ 830.102–10 Using service. "Using service" means that component of the War Department (a technical service of the Army Service Forces or the Army Air Forces) directly accountable for and charged with command jurisdiction over a specific installation.

§ 830.103 Dismantling and removal of equipment. Installations will not, in general, be dismantled, except: (a) to remove production equipment or materials needed for other war purposes, including war reserve and modernization; (b) to provide space for other manufacturing operations; (c) to meet storage requirements for military property; or (d) to make the property safe by decontamination or other means. If it is necessary to raze buildings or structures, the approval of the Chief of Engineers will first be obtained, as provided in § 833.304 and Part 836 of this subchapter.

§ 830.104 Disposals in advance of excess or surplus. (a) Sales of installations while still active are to be encouraged, provided that the continuation of war production is assured for as long as the War Department requires. When a purchase inquiry is received, the using service will refer the prospective buyer to the Office of Real Property Disposal (hereinafter called ORPD), War Assets Administration, Washington, D. C. and will advise the War Assets Administration of the conditions upon which such action may proceed. The using service will, in turn, inform the Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, of its action. Upon receipt of this information, the Readjustment Branch will notify the Chief of Engineers that the property is under consideration for disposal.

(b) The Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, on request of the ORPD, War Assets Administration, Washington, D. C., to which a purchase inquiry has been referred, will ascertain, by coordination with the Procurement Planning Branch, Army Service Forces (in the case of the Army Air Forces, the Assistant Chief of Air Staff–4, Readjustment and Procurement Division) and the using service, the need for continuing war production at the installation, the availability of the property for inspection, the terms of any options, and the probable date the installation will become surplus. If requested by the above War Assets Administration office, the Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, will arrange, with consent of the using service, for field inspection of the installation by prospective buyers, as provided in § 830.105.

(c) When advised by the ORPD, War Assets Administration, Washington, D. C. that an advance disposal is ready to be made, the Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, will request the using service to consent to disposal of the installation, subject to conditions determined by the using service to be necessary to protect the War Department's interest in continued production or any other War Department use. When the using service consents to disposal of the installation, the using service will forward a statement to the Under Secretary of War stating the conditions on which the consent is given and will send copies of this statement to the Procurement Planning Branch and the Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces. If the Under Secretary consents to the disposal, he will direct the Chief of Engineers to declare the installation surplus, subject to such conditions as the Under Secretary of War may determine.

§ 830.105 Inspection of standby, excess, or surplus installations. Access to War Department-owned or leased industrial installations, for purposes of inspection, by representatives of the War Assets Administration or other disposal agency designated by the War Assets Administration, or individuals or organizations confirmed by a disposal agency as having a legitimate and reasonable purpose for such inspection, will be governed by instructions detailed below.

(a) Inspection will include visual examination of the physical property and making available plans, records, specifications, and drawings deemed necessary by the visitor, to the extent permitted under contractual provisions or War Department security regulations.

(b) Approval for inspection of facilities other than those declared surplus to the needs of the War Department and certified to the War Assets Administration for disposal, and facilities classified as restricted, confidential, or secret by the using service will be arranged individually, as prescribed for in § 830.104.

(c) Those desiring to inspect surplus War Department-owned or leased industrial installations will communicate with the interested regional office of the War Assets Administration for approval of such inspection. That office will then consult with the commanding officer of the installation to be inspected, or, in case there is no commanding officer, the nearest district office of the using service. This consultation will be in writing, or telegram, when time and circumstances permit. If not, it may be informal, to be confirmed later in writing.

(d) In instances where, due to contractual provisions, it is incumbent upon the War Department to protect the contractor's "know-how" patents, or license agreements, the commanding officer or district office will, when request is made for inspection of a surplus industrial installation, require the War Assets Administration to obtain a commitment from the contractor that he will interpose no objection to such inspection.

(e) These instructions do not pertain to clearance for aliens or foreign nationals which must be obtained in accordance with AR 380–5 or revisions thereto.

Part 832 is amended to read as follows:

Sec.

832.200 Classification and reporting of installations as standby or excess.
832.201 Disposition of standby and excess installations.
832.202 Use of excess installations for storage or essential military operations.
832.203 Withdrawal of excess installations.
832.204 Withdrawal of standby installations.
832.205 Custody of and accountability for standby and excess installations.

§ 832.200 Classification and reporting of installations as standby or excess.

§ 832.200–1 Duty to classify and report. Each using service will maintain constant surveillance over the utilization of all installations under its control. Within 20 days from the time an installation, or reasonably separable portion thereof, ceases to be active, the using service will classify and report such property to the Chief of Engineers.

§ 832.200–2 Reporting of installations classified as standby. (a) When an installation is classified as standby, the using service will submit a report to the Chief of Engineers through the Procurement Planning Branch, Army Service Forces, or in the case of Army Air Forces, through the Assistant Chief of Air Staff-4, Readjustment and Procurement Division. The report will contain the following information:

(1) Name and location of the installation.

(2) Date the installation was classified as standby.

(3) Justification for retension, including:

(i) The program for which the installation is being retained;

(ii) Estimated period of retension;

(iii) End items produced by the installation on or about August 15, 1945.

(iv) Number of square feet of production space.

(4) Whether any portion of the installation is available for use by agencies other than the using service or for lease to private manufacturers for civilian production.

(5) Estimated time required by using service to put installation in production.

(b) Upon receipt of a report of standby the Procurement Planning Branch, Army Service Forces, or, in the case of the Army Air Forces, the Assistant Chief of Air Staff-4, Readjustment and Procurement Division, will recommend within 10 days whether the classification as standby should be approved or modified. If the classification is approved the respective staff divisions will forward a report to the Under Secretary of War; if the Under Secretary of War approves the classification he will forward a report to the Chief of Engineers with copies to the using service, Procurement Planning Branch, and the Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces. If the classification is disapproved the report will be returned to the using service with appropriate instructions.

§ 832.200–3 Reporting of excess installations. (a) When a using service, other than the Army Air Forces, classifies an industrial installation as excess to its production requirements and desires to utilize the installation for industrial storage purposes, or as a command installation, it will so indicate in a report of excess submitted to the Chief of Engineers, with copies to the Procurement Planning Branch and the Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces. If the Army Air Forces desires to use an industrial installation under its jurisdiction as a command installation, the procedure set out in § 832.201–2 (c) will be followed. The report will contain the following information:

(1) Location and identification of the excess installation, with statement as to whether it includes production equipment or whether land, or buildings and land, alone are involved;

(2) Purpose for which the installation is used.

(3) Proposed use of the installation.

(4) Length of time for which the installation will be used as proposed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(5) Any additional information, such as commitments to other War Department agencies or other governmental elements, which aids in redistribution or disposition.

(6) The responsible field office which will, when requested, coordinate with representatives of the Chief of Engineers and other interested elements.

(7) Copy of contract provided the installation is or was contractor operated.

(b) When a using service classifies an industrial installation as excess to its production or industrial storage requirements it will so indicate in a report to the Chief of Engineers, with copies as indicated in paragraph (a) of this section. The report will contain the information shown under paragraph (a) of this section, substituting the following for the information required under paragraph (a) (3) and (4) of this section:

(3) Date on which the installation will cease to be used, and additional time required, if any, before plant will become available for other use.

(4) Contractual obligations affecting disposition, with copies of pertinent documents.

§ 832.201–1 Disposition of standby installations. Upon receipt of a report that an installation has been classified as standby, the Chief of Engineers will determine the feasibility of making the installation available for temporary use by an agency other than the using service. If the Chief of Engineers determines that such use is feasible, and if the using service approves the proposed use, the Chief of Engineers may take appropriate action, in accordance with § 834.401 of this subchapter.

§ 832.201–2 Disposition of excess installations. (a) Wherever possible, excess industrial installations, including machinery and equipment, should be transferred as a complete facility to avoid the necessity for dismantling and reinstalling equipment. If the report that an installation is excess states that production equipment is included in the installation, the Chief of Engineers will immediately consult with the designated field office of the using service to coordinate the preparation of SPB or SPA Forms 1 and 5, so as to avoid duplications and omissions. Further coordination will be consistent with provisions of § 833.307 of this subchapter.

(b) Upon receipt of a report from a using service that an installation has been classified as excess, the Chief of Engineers will informally consult the Storage Branch, Army Service Forces, and will also consult the Army Air Forces in cases involving other than Army Air Forces controlled installations, to ascertain if there is a need for the installation within the War Department. This consultation should be completed within 2 days.

(c) All requests for transfer of excess installations, from a using service to another service, or requests by a using service other than the Army Air Forces for utilization of an installation for other than its designed use, will be made to the Chief of Engineers and will include the following information:

(1) Name and location of the installation.

(2) Name of using service.

(3) Agency requesting installation.

(4) Purpose for which the installation is to be used.

(5) Particular portions of the installation or amount of space required.

The Chief of Engineers will forward a report to the Under Secretary of War through the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, prior to taking further action relative to reassigning the property, outlining the details of the requests for such use. The Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, will coordinate the requests with the appropriate staff branches, i. e., Storage, Maintenance, Installations, and Procurement Planning Branch, Army Service Forces, and will submit a recommendation to the Under Secretary of War for final determination. In the event a command use is proposed, the Army Service Forces' recommendation will be forwarded through the Assistant Chief of Staff, G–4, to the Under Secretary of War for recommendation or other appropriate action. The Under Secretary of War will advise the Chief of Engineers as to disposition of the installation. When transfer of an excess industrial installation for use as a command installation is approved, the Chief of Engineers will notify Installations Branch, Army Service Forces, to have the designation and assignment of the property made by The Adjutant General, as provided in AR 170–10. Requests by the Army Air Forces for utilization of an installation for other than its designed use will be submitted directly by the Army Air Forces to the Under Secretary of War for approval.

(d) In the event a need is found for the installation under paragraphs (b) or (c) of this section, the Chief of Engineers, after approval by the Under Secretary of War, will arrange with the using service and the requesting agency for transfer of the installation, and will notify the Procurement Planning Branch and the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, of the new use. Wherever necessary, the requesting service will process promptly a site letter, as provided in Part 810 of this chapter. In such cases, transfers will not be made until the approvals required by Part 810 of this chapter are obtained.

§ 832.202 Use of excess installations for storage or essential military operations. Excess installations will be diverted to storage of War Department property (other than surplus), or to essential military operations, only after production needs are satisfied, and then, except for temporary use, only to the extent required for essential military operations.

§ 832.203 Withdrawal of excess installations. An excess installation which has been reported to the Chief of Engineers may be withdrawn by the using service for the use for which the installation was designed or for which it was primarily used. Withdrawals for other than the designed or primary use will be made in accordance with § 832.201–2.

§ 832.204 Withdrawal of standby installations. An installation which has been classified as standby with the approval of the Under Secretary of War will not be withdrawn in whole or in part from standby and reported as excess without the approval of the Under Secretary of War. Request for such approval will be submitted to the Under Secretary of War through the Procurement Planning Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, or in the case of the Army Air Forces, through the Assistant Chief of Air Staff–4, with copies to the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces.

§ 832.205 Custody of and accountability for standby and excess installations.—(a) Standby installations. The using service will retain custody of and accountability for installations reported as standby. Service commands will perform at standby installations functions consistent with AR 170–10.

(b) Excess installations. The using service will retain custody of and accountability for installations reported as excess. On request of the using service, however, the Chief of Engineers may assume such custody and accountability on mutually satisfactory terms.

- 833.314 Acceptance of accountability by War Assets Administration.

§ 833.300 Declaration of surplus installations. (a) The following §§ 833.300–1, 833.300–2, and 833.300–3 do not apply to installations held under permit (see § 834.402 of this subchapter) nor to leased installations except as provided in § 835.502 (d) and (e) of this subchapter.

(b) In accordance with the procedures defined hereunder the interested War Assets Administration regional offices and the responsible representatives of the War Department will consult and coordinate with the respective offices to the fullest possible extent so that transfer of Surplus Government-owned complete industrial installations from the War Department to the War Assets Administration may be effected in the most expeditious manner.

§ 833.300–1 Notification of surplus and formal declaration. (a) If, within 7 days of receipt of a report that an installation is excess, no need has been found for the property, as provided in § 832.201–2 (b) of this subchapter, the Chief of Engineers will determine the installation to be surplus. The Chief of Engineers will promptly notify the War Assets Administration, Washington, D. C., by letter of intent with copy to the appropriate War Assets Administration regional office that the installation is surplus. At the same time the Chief of Engineers will forward a copy to the using service and to the Procurement Planning Branch and Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces. The letter of intent will:

(1) Indicate that the installation is surplus.

(2) Describe the plant and its related machinery and equipment, if any, in general terms.

(3) Request the War Assets Administration to advise its appropriate regional office to consult with the using service and the Corps of Engineers as soon thereafter as possible as to the date on which, and the method by which, custody, maintenance, and accountability for the installation will be transferred, and the method by which the property will be prepared for protection as provided in § 833.307.

(4) Designate the responsible field offices of the using service and the Corps of Engineers with which the War Assets Administration should consult, in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(5) Transmit copy of contract if the installation is or was contractor operated. Copy of contract will not be sent to War Assets Administration regional office.

(b) Within 40 days of the receipt of report of excess, the Chief of Engineers will submit 3 copies (2 of the copies will have complete schedules and inclosures attached) of the appropriate SPB or SPA Forms 5 to the War Assets Administration, Washington, D. C., with one copy, complete with schedules and inclosures, to the appropriate War Assets Administration regional office. To insure that declarations of surplus are made as soon as possible, the Chief of Engineers will initiate a title search and take all other necessary action promptly on receipt of the report of excess, and, where practicable, even in advance of such report.

§ 833.300–2 Declaration of surplus personal property. The using service will submit formal declaration covering personal property to the appropriate War Assets Administration regional office. It will not be necessary to split such declarations as to capital, producers, and consumers goods between two War Assets Administration regional offices, but such declaration will be made to the regional office in the geographical area in which the plant is located. For further instructions see § 833.310.

§ 833.300–3 Assignment to disposal agency. Upon receipt of the "letter of intent" or of an official certification, the War Assets Administration will coordinate with the designated representatives of the using service and the Corps of Engineers any and all activities relative to transferring custody of, maintenance of, and accountability for a surplus industrial installation. Even though agencies other than the War Assets Administration are designated as the disposal agency the War Department will transfer the entire surplus installation to the War Assets Administration, as the sole agency for receiving the property. The War Assets Administration, in turn, will reassign the respective areas to any other designated disposal agency or agencies.

§ 833.301 Withdrawal of surplus installations. A surplus installation which has been declared to the War Assets Administration may be withdrawn by the Chief of Engineers on the request of the Army Air Forces, or of a technical service, made through the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, which will coordinate with other staff divisions and procure the approval of the Under Secretary of War. SPB or SPA Forms 5 and 1.1 will be used in effecting withdrawals. Upon approval of the request for withdrawal, the Chief of Engineers will assign the property to the service requesting withdrawal and notify the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, of the action taken.

§ 833.302 Custody of and accountability for surplus installations. (a) As provided in § 833.300–1 (a), representatives of the War Assets Administration, the Corps of Engineers, and the using service will determine the date on which custody of, maintenance of, and accountability for a surplus installation will be transferred from the War Department to the War Assets Administration. Under Part 8310 of Title 32, Chapter XXIII (War Assets Administration SPA Regulation 10), this date will be within 90 days after the War Assets Administration receives the declaration unless additional time is to be allowed and the War Department is so advised.

(b) The using service will retain accountability for all surplus installations until such accountability is assumed by the War Assets Administration. On request of the using service, however, the Chief of Engineers may assume accountability on mutually satisfactory terms.

(c) The using service will retain custody of all surplus installations until such custody is assumed by the War Assets Administration unless such custody is assumed by the Corps of Engineers. At the request of the using service the Corps of Engineers will assume custody of surplus installations. The custodial functions which the Corps of Engineers will assume, on request of the using service, include maintenance of real and personal property, including all production equipment (at other than Chemical Warfare Service installations), operation of utilities, guarding, fire fighting, and all other housekeeping functions. The Chemical Warfare Service will maintain all production equipment at its surplus installations.

(d) Preparation and movement of equipment may be handled by the Corps of Engineers at the request of the using service. To the extent that preparation and handling of equipment cannot be accomplished with regular maintenance forces, the using service will reimburse the Corps of Engineers.

(e) All activities in connection with production equipment, including maintenance, preparation for handling, and movement, will be as directed by the using service and in coordination with War Assets Administration. The using service may transmit its directions to the Corps of Engineers through the commanding officer of the installation, if any, through the field office of the using service, or through the chief of the using service. Close local coordination is desirable in every instance.

(f) Except where assistance is requested by the using service or the Corps of Engineers, service commands will have no responsibility in connection with surplus installations, or in connection with installations expected to become surplus.

§ 833.303 Removal of certain types of property from plants (a) The using service will remove from the plant, and make appropriate disposition of, powder, explosives, chemicals, and loaded components. It will also remove and dispose of small lots or scrap of termination inventory, as defined under § 830.102–9 of this subchapter, and perishables of the type for which agencies, other than the War Assets Administration are the designated disposal agencies. It may also remove from the plant items in U. S. Army critical short supply except in circumstances outlined under paragraph (d) of this section. Except for the foregoing, the entire plant and property will be transferred intact, subject to the provisions of § 830.103 of this subchapter.

(b) Where perishables (assigned for disposal to the War Assets Administration), which might deteriorate if not handled with reasonable dispatch, are in the plant, the using service will advise the War Assets Administration regional office, by letter, of the character and quantity of such perishables not disposed of by the using service. This notice will be given as quickly as possible after the plant has been declared surplus, by letter, to the War Assets Administration.

(c) Scrap panels will be established by the Inspection Division, War Assets Administration, which will assist in determining which items in the termination inventory, as defined under § 830.102–9 of this subchapter are scrap. The using service will remove and dispose of the termination inventory determined to be scrap in accordance with existing regulations. Scrap determinations are not applicable to individual items of property, other than the above termination inventory.

(d) Special items of property located at surplus industrial installations, if desired by the disposal agency or ultimate Government transferee, may be declared surplus without reference to U. S. Army critical short supply lists of military property provided a determination can be reached that the property is essential (1) for the protection or (2) for the care and custody of the installation, during the period in which the property is under the jurisdiction of the War Department or of the disposal agency. This determination will be made by the commanding officer of the installation after the disposal agency certifies, in writing, that (i) the property so requested is essential and (ii) that the disposal agency cannot acquire the desired items from inventories of surplus Government properties within the War Assets Administration region in which the plant is located. Such a determination of essentiality will be made by the commanding officer only when the result to be attained (i. e. protection and maintenance of the installation) cannot be reached by substitution from Army active or excess stocks of items not on the U. S. Army critical supply list. No new construction or procurement is authorized in order to provide suitable substitution. U. S. Army critical short supply lists will be furnished the commanding officers by the service command in which the plant is located. Determination of substitution will be accomplished by the commanding officer through communication with the service command in which the plant is located. If the service command advises that there are no available substitutes the commanding officer of the installation, after making the above determinations, will initiate appropriate action in keeping therewith. In the event that the commanding officer decides that the property so requested is not essential, and the War Assets Administration concurs, under (1) or (2) above, normal disposition action for items in U. S. Army critical short supply will be taken.

(e) Property which has been declared by letter of intent or by appropriate SPB or SPA forms will not be donated except in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d), Part 823 of this subchapter. In the event such property has been declared on official SPB or SPA forms, it may not be donated unless the War Assets Administration directs that it be withdrawn from surplus and appropriate action in keeping with § 833.301 is taken.

§ 833.304 Decontamination and demolition of surplus industrial installations. (a) The using service will establish a board of consultants to inspect each contaminated plant and whose principal function will be to advise and make recommendations to the using service relative to the necessity of building destruction in plants where explosives and toxic materials have been manufactured or stored. This board will consist of one or more consultants of the using service. The using service should invite the Corps of Engineers (in view of its responsibilities under War Department Technical Bulletin TB Eng 57), representatives of the War Assets Administration, and any representatives from other Government agencies or industry deemed advisable by the chief of the using service as advisors. This board will recommend to the using service the buildings and improvements contaminated with explosives or toxic materials in manufacturing facilities which cannot be economically decontaminated and should be destroyed.

(b) The using service will have the responsibility for reviewing the decontamination work (including demolition) which has been accomplished and of placing the entire facility (including real and personal property) in an idle standby condition for use in its original purpose. At the time the War Assets Administration accepts custody of, maintenance of, and accountability for the properties, the using service will furnish the Office of Real Property Disposal, War Assets Administration, Washington, D. C., a certificate, in duplicate, that the decontamination has been completed in accordance with the above procedure.

(c) Whenever it is determined by the War Assets Administration, after accountability has been assumed by that agency, that a use other than that for which the plant was designed is to be made, the using service will furnish technical advice and make recommendations as to what further decontamination and destruction must be performed to make the plant safe, as far as possible, for its new use, either in whole or in part.

(d) Upon the request from the War Assets Administration, after that agency has accepted accountability, the Corps of Engineers, in conjunction with the using service, will perform for the account of the War Assets Administration, on a reimbursable basis, such other decontamination and demolition as may be required under this provision.

(e) The Corps of Engineers will prepare the plans, specifications, and contract documents required to effect the further work, as may be directed by the War Assets Administration, in connection with decontamination and demolition. The Corps of Engineers will obtain offers from contractors, award the contract and supervise its execution in accordance with War Department procedures.

(f) The using service will be responsible for furnishing technical advice to the War Assets Administration and the Corps of Engineers on all matters of decontamination contained in this paragraph and for insuring that the decontamination is carried out in accordance with this and established procedures.

§ 833.305 Preparation of property. Section 833.301–1 contemplates that representatives of the War Assets Administration, the Corps of Engineers, and the using service will consult on the method under which the property will be prepared. The War Assets Administration and the War Department will agree upon the extent of preparation of the property. Such work will be carried out in accordance with established War Department procedures.

§ 833.306 Start of sales. The War Assets Administration may begin sales while the War Department is still at the plant preparing equipment or decontaminating. The using service and the appropriate regional office of the War Assets Administration will work out a mutually satisfactory plan for such sales operations. With respect to all such sales, the accountable property officer of the using service will comply with the provisions of § 844.495–2 of this chapter.

§ 833.307 Joint review of surplus industrial installations. The using service and the Corps of Engineers, together with representatives of the appropriate War Assets Administration regional office, will review the installation to determine the following:

(a) Those items of personal property which the War Assets Administration requires to be retained for protection, care, maintenance, and custody (see § 833.303 (d)).

(b) The adequacy of stock record cards, blueprints, or other property records, currently maintained at the facility with respect to item description, quantity, condition, and information as to the locatiton of the items within the facility, and their acceptability for property record purposes. (Spot checks should generally be sufficient to make this determination.)

(c) The work remaining to be done by the operating contractor and, in turn, the owning agency before the responsibilities for the specific installation involved can be turned over to War Assets Administration.

(d) The work necessary to be performed by War Assets Administration prior to and subsequent to the transfer of all responsibilities for the specific installation involved.

§ 833.308 Checking of inventories. Complete physical inventories, normally required at termination of contracts as a basis for the action of contracting officers with respect to the operating contractor's responsibility for Government property, may be waived provided the following conditions are met:

(a) The written approval of the contracting officer authorizing the waiver is filed in the accountable property officer's files, and

(b) An inventory of a representative cross section of the items involved is made and the quantities shown thereby are compared with the quantities reflected on the stock record cards, to determine the general accuracy of the property records. Provision will be made for broadening the check when the results thereof in connection with items initially selected are not satisfactory. The results of the inventory and the comparison with the balances on the stock record cards will be made a matter of record in the files of the contracting officer. The extent and results of the check will be subject to the written approval of the contracting officer. If the SPB–SPA Form 1 balances are changed, corresponding corrections will be made on the stock record cards. Adjustments of stock records balances will be made under the provisions of Army Regulations if the installation is in a surplus status, otherwise by written advice of the contracting officer. The War Assets Administration will initiate a check of the inventories immediately. The check by the War Assets Administration and by the War Department should, when at all practicable, be carried out as a joint operation: Therefore mutually satisfactory arrangements should be made with the appropriate regional office of the War Assets Administration.

(c) The War Assets Administration will arrange for the selection of the type of maintenance operation, either by contractor, lessee, its own personnel, or by other means to assume custody, maintenance, and accountability for and in behalf of the disposal agency.

§ 833.309 Property accountability and property records. Accountability for each installation will continue to be vested in a designated accountable property officer of the using service until the property has been officially accepted by the War Assets Administration or other disposition has been effected as outlined herein and such other disposition is supported by valid credit vouchers reflected on the property records. The established property records at the installations involved will in all cases be used to record all property transactions up to date of release of the operating contractor and, except under conditions as outlined in paragraph (b) of this section where the records will not be available to the using service, these records will also be used to reflect all transactions involving property dispositions or authorized adjustments which may be effected by the using service subsequent to date of release of the operating contractors and prior to surrender of custody of the installation to the War Assets Administration. After submission of SPB or SPA 1 reports to the War Assets Administration, in the manner outlined herein, and acceptance of the installation by that agency, the property records, or copies thereof, where the conditions outlined in (c) of this section exist, will be retained by the using service in accordance with the provisions of AR 35–6700 and other pertinent instructions relating to contract property accounting records. In those instances where the contractor's records are used for accountability purposes as contemplated by paragraph 56 and 61, TM 14–910, and release of the operating contractor occurs prior to surrender of custody of the installation to the War Assets Administration, the following instructions will be observed:

(a) If the operating contractor has surrendered his property records to the using service, a line will be drawn under the balance shown on each stock record card or its equivalent as of the date of the last transaction prior to release of the contractor, to clearly distinguish the cut-off date. All transactions recorded by the accountable property officer subsequent to that date will be vouchered in a new voucher series.

(b) If the operating contractor is unwilling to surrender his property records to the using service for retention, the operating contractor will be requested to permit the using service to utilize his records until such time as all transactions occurring prior to surrender of custody of the facility to the War Assets Administration have been recorded and copies of the records prepared as outlined in § 833.310. Under such circumstances, the instructions set forth in paragraph (a) of this section with respect to distinguishing between transactions and establishing a new voucher series will be observed. In those instances where the operating contractor refuses to accede to the request for utilization of his property records as outlined herein, such fact will be immediately reported to the Chief of Finance, Washington, D. C., who will provide the necessary instructions in regard to property records to be established.

(c) In those instances where the operating contractor is unwilling to surrender his property records to the using service for retention, one extra copy of the class B and class C records, reproduced in the manner set forth in § 833.310, will be prepared and retained in the files of the accountable property officer. In addition, where this copy of an individual stock record card or its equivalent does not reflect all property transactions with respect to the item involved which have occurred subsequent to the time of cessation of manufacturing operations at the facility concerned, one copy of the previous stock record card or cards reflecting all such transactions will be prepared and retained in the files of the accountable property officer. Photostated or other copies of records prepared for the files of the accountable property officer as discussed herein will be subjected to the same requirements with respect to retention as are applicable to original copies of contract property records.

§ 833.310 Preparation of Forms SPB or SPA–1 and SPB or SPA–5. Form SPB or SPA–5 will be prepared by the Chief of Engineers and submitted to the War Assets Administration with a covering memorandum to advise that declarations of surplus personal property are being made to the appropriate War Assets Administration regional office. Coincident with completion of the work required of the War Department as set forth in §§ 833.303, 833.304 and 833.305, and after all transactions relating to the disposition of property by the using service and any authorized adjustments necessary as a result of discrepancies disclosed have been posted to the class B and class C property records, then subject to the requirements set forth in § 833.309, copies of such records reflecting current balances will be photostated or otherwise reproduced in triplicate for submission with three copies of Form SPB or SPA–1 directly to the interested War Assets Administration regional office. Form SPB or SPA–1 will not be used to show details of the property but will be used only as a cover sheet for transmitting copies of the property records (the original records will be disposed of as set forth in § 833.309). The condition of equipment will be noted on the property record cards, in accordance with the governing War Assets Administration regulations. If the property was used prior to its receipt at the plant, this fact will be noted on the record card. Each Form SPB or SPA–1 will state that the period of use of the equipment described on the supporting cards is the time from the date of the receipt of the particular equipment, as shown on the card pertaining to that equipment, to the closing date of the plant (or, where feasible, of the production line in which the particular equipment is installed), which letter date will be indicated on the Form SPB or SPA–1. No card will be duplicated in larger size than 8 by 10½ inches. The cards will be divided into the major classifications (first two digits of the Standard Commodity Classification), and no more than 99 individual copies of card records will be attached to one SPB or SPA–1. The SPB or SPA–1 cover sheets for each group of cards may be photostat copies of the original.

§ 833.311 Termination of accountability. (a) The commanding officer of the installation, or the appropriate district office of the using service, after coordination with the interested division engineer, will make a written request to the appropriate regional office of War Assets Administration for transfer of custody, maintenance, and accountability. The War Assets Administration will, with the approval of the interested accountable property officer, proceed to make such inventory checks as that agency deems necessary as a condition precedent to official acceptance of the installation. Any discrepancies disclosed as the result of such checks will be reported by the War Assets Administration to the interested accountable property officer for necessary adjustment of the property records, and in the case of shortages, for action of the nature hereinafter described to obtain valid credit vouchers in support of such adjustments. Reports concerning discrepancies discovered prior to date of release of the operating contractor will be referred by the accountable property officer to the contracting officer for action as set forth in paragraph 103, TM 14–910. Reports concerning discrepancies discovered subsequent to release of the operating contractor and prior to submission of the Forms SPB or SPA–1 will require Report of Survey action as prescribed in AR 35–6640 and TM 14–904. Where the survey proceedings indicate that a shortage with respect to a given item occurred prior to the date that the contractor surrendered physicial possession and control of the property involved to Army representatives and when the shortage is of such amount as to warrant further investigation, these facts will be reported to the interested contracting officer who upon receipt thereof will consider the advisability of requesting an investigation of the conduct of the contractor or initiate such other action as he may deem advisable. In every case, the contracting officer will advise the accountable property officer in writing of the action taken or reason for nonaction and this written advice will be appended as an exhibit to the report of survey.

(b) (1) War Department accountability for property listed on Surplus Declaration Forms SPB and SPA–1 and 5 will be terminated on receipt of written acceptance of the property by War Assets Administration. On receipt of acceptance of the property by War Assets Administration, the owning agency accountable property officer will request final audit from the fiscal director of the service command in which the property is located.

(2) Upon completion of final audit (including verification of the acceptance of balances by War Assets Administration), the service command auditor will issue a certificate of audit, WD AGO Form 14–53, bearing notation that War Assets Administration has accepted the property involved. The service command auditor will furnish signed copies of this certificate to the appropriate owning agency accountable property officer at the installation and the technical service representative of the service command.

(3) The appropriate technical service maintaining accountability will notify the Readjustment Branch, Office of the Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, immediately upon receipt of written acceptance of accountability for both the real and personal property transferred to War Assets Administration. The Readjustment Branch, Army Service Forces, will advise the Realty Requirements Division, Office, Chief of Engineers, of this information.

§ 833.312 Final audit clearance. Final audit clearance and issuance of related certificate of audit will not be effected until all discrepancy reports have been cleared as outlined in § 833.311 and the accountable property officer has obtained and vouchered to his account an authenticated copy of the advice of the War Assets Administration that custody of and accountability for the facility has been accepted. Chiefs of technical services and the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, will notify interested service commands of any changes in accountable property officers or location of records which may occur prior to final audit clearance.

§ 833.313 Retention of military personnel. Normally, military personnel will continue to be assigned to a plant only for the period necessary to complete the work required of the War Department as set forth in §§ 833.304 and 833.305 and the preparation of the Forms SPB or SPA–1 as outlined in § 833.300–2. Where requested as essential by the War Assets Administration, the using service will arrange for military liaison personnel at each plant to be held for a period of not more than 3 months from the date of submission of the Forms SPB or SPA–1, to assist that agency in any technical matters relating to the property.

§ 833.314 Acceptance of accountability by War Assets Administration. The acceptance of accountability by the War Assets Administration of both real and personal property should be made concurrently in each instance. The real and personal property should be made confied by owning agency declaration serial numbers and the War Assets Administration regional office will execute a receipt, in writing, to the using service for all property declared to that office.

PART 834—LEASES AND OTHER DISPOSALS BY WAR DEPARTMENT

Part 834 is amended to read as follows:

Sec.
834.400 Direct disposition of installations by the War Department.
834.401 Temporary use of standby, excess, or surplus installations.
834.402 Disposition of installations held under permit or other arrangement with another Government agency.

§ 834.400 Direct disposition of installations by War Department. (a) War Assets Administration SPA Regulation 10 provides that disposals of surplus industrial real property (other than transfers to Government agencies for war production) shall not be made under laws other than the Surplus Property Act of 1944, but shall be made only by the disposal agency, in accordance with Regulation 10, unless the War Assets Administration upon written application by the owning agency shall consent in writing to a different procedure.

(b) Recommendation for the sale or other disposition of surplus industrial installation under any authority not impaired by the Surplus Property Act of 1944 and not contained in Regulation 10 of the War Assets Administration will be made by the Chief of Engineers to the Under Secretary of War through the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces.

(c) This section shall not be construed to prevent the Chief of Engineers from disposing of buildings and improvements on land which is neither surplus nor expected to be declared surplus, in accordance with Part 836 and § 833.304 of this subchapter.

(d) The War Department is not authorized to sell or lease installations pursuant to rights of refusal or options, except in the case of installations on leased land (see § 835.502 of this subchapter). In accordance with Part 8310 of Title 32, Chapter XXIII (Regulation 10 of the War Assets Administration), all dispositions pursuant to such rights or options shall be made by the disposal agency, which shall request the assistance of the owning agency when necessary.

§ 834.401 Temporary use of standby, excess, or surplus installations. (a) The Chief of Engineers is authorized to lease or to arrange for the temporary use of standby installations, in accordance with this Regulation, provided that the using service first determines that the proposed lease or use will not interfere with the current status of the installation. Property consisting of land alone will not be placed in standby for the sole purpose of providing temporary use.

(b) Pending the disposition of excess or surplus installations, and prior to the time accountability is assumed by the disposal agency, the Chief of Engineers may grant a revocable permit to any person to use such property in any case in which the Chief of Engineers finds that the interest of the Government will be served by such action. Any such use shall be conditioned upon payment of such consideration as may be agreed upon as fair and reasonable under all the circumstances.

(c) The Chief of Engineers will negotiate leases and make arrangements for temporary use of installations, and will prepare and execute such leases, permits, and other documents as are required to effectuate the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Leases, permits, or other agreements for use of an installation will not be executed without the prior approval of the Under Secretary of War in any of the following cases:

(1) Where the annual consideration in any lease or other contract exceeds $50,000;

(2) Where the lease or contract price is less than the approved rental value, established rate, or other prevailing standard of value;

(3) Where the lease or contract term exceeds 5 years; or

(4) Where the lease or contract is not revocable at any time.

Requests for approval under this subparagraph will be transmitted to the Under Secretary of War through the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces. Such requests must contain sufficient detailed information upon which to base a decision.

(d) The Chief of Engineers may serve as the leasing agent of the disposal agency for installations declared surplus.

§ 834.402 Disposition of installations held under permit or other arrangement with another Government agency. When an installation, determined to be surplus pursuant to § 833.300–1 of this subchapter was acquired under a permit or other arrangement with another Government agency having primary jurisdiction over the property, such installation shall be returned to the agency having primary jurisdiction in accordance with the arrangement with such agency, except where the property has been substantially improved while being utilized by the War Department. In this latter event the using service shall report the facts to the Chief of Engineers. The Chief of Engineers will submit the matter to the War Assets Administration for determination as to how the interests of the Government will be best served.

PART 835—DISPOSITION OF LEASEHOLDS AND IMPROVEMENTS ON LEASED LAND

Part 835 is amended to read as follows:

Sec.
835.500 Scope of part.
835.501 Determination of surplus.
835.502 Methods of disposal of improvements.
835.503 Disposal of leasehold interests.
835.504 Interim use pending disposal.
835.505 Easements having no commercial value.
835.506 Submission to the Attorney General.

§ 835.500 Scope of part. This part covers the disposition of industrial installations, determined to be surplus pursuant to § 833.300 of this subchapter; on land leased to the War Department; included in this section are the cancellation of leases, the transfer of leaseholds to other Government agencies, the declaration of leaseholds as surplus, and the disposal of Government-owned improvements on surplus land leased to the War Department.

§ 835.501 Determination of surplus. If, within 7 days of receipt of a report that a leased installation is excess, no need has been found for the property, as provided in § 832.201–2 (b) of this subchapter, the Chief of Engineers will determine the installation to be surplus.

§ 835.502 Methods of disposal of improvements. (a) Subject to the provisions of this part, the Chief of Engineers may make disposals of improvements hereunder by any one or more of the following methods:

(1) By transfer to the lessor or owner of the premises in full or partial satisfaction of any obligation to restore the premises, provided the lessor or owner shall pay for any excess value.

(2) By disposition in accordance with contractual commitments.

(3) By sale intact.

(4) By transfer to another Government agency intact.

(5) By disposal of all readily severable property in accordance with Parts 821–829, inclusive, of this subchapter and AR 35–6665.

(6) By demolition of property not readily severable and disposal of surplus used building and construction materials by competitive bidding and of other resulting materials in accordance with AR 35–6665 and Part 846 of this subchapter.

(7) By demolition contract let only on competitive bids whereby title to materials not readily severable passes to the demolition contractor.

(8) By abandonment, if the War Department has no obligation to remove such improvements and it finds in writing that such property is without commercial value or that the estimated cost of its care and handling, removal and disposition would exceed the estimated proceeds of sale.

(b) Disposals by the Chief of Engineers under this paragraph shall be made at prices that are fair and reasonable under all the circumstances, taking into account the limited sale value of the property in place and its special value, if any, to the purchaser. In all cases, prior to disposal a written estimate shall be made of both the value of the improvements for use in place and their salvage value. The War Assets Administration may be requested to furnish advice and assistance to the owning agencies in the establishment of fair and reasonable prices.

(c) No improvements costing more than $100,000 shall be disposed of or demolished hereunder by the Chief of Engineers without prior submission to and the consent of the War Assets Administration unless such improvements are located on Government-owned land which is not surplus and is not expected to become surplus.

(d) With the exception of transfers to other Government agencies, no improvements on land which the War Department by lease, option to lease, or otherwise, has a right to occupy for an additional definite period of 5 years or more, shall be disposed of by the Chief of Engineers under this part if the leasehold or other interests are no longer needed by the War Department, but the Chief of Engineers shall declare the improvements as surplus in place, in accordance with § 833.300–1 of this subchapter, together with the leasehold or other interests. At the request of the War Assets Administration any improvements, regardless of cost and the terms under which the land is occupied, shall be declared surplus in place, in accordance with § 833.300–1 of this subchapter, together with any related leasehold or other interests no longer needed by the War Department.

(e) Whenever the Chief of Engineers is unable to obtain a fair and reasonable price for the sale in place of improvements hereunder and finds in writing that it is not in the best interests of the Government to remove or demolish such improvements, the Chief of Engineers shall declare such property as surplus in place, in accordance with § 833.300–1 of this subchapter, together with any related leasehold or other interests no longer needed by the War Department.

§ 835.503 Disposal of leasehold interests. The Chief of Engineers will transfer any surplus leasehold or other right of occupancy in land, together with any improvements thereon, directly to any other Government agency desiring it without declaring it as surplus. Any such transfer may be conditioned upon the transferee agency's assuming all or any obligations incurred by the War Department in connection with the interest transferred. The Chief of Engineers shall take reasonable steps to ascertain the needs of other Government agencies for such interests. If such leasehold or other interest is not claimed by any Government agency within a reasonable time and the owning agency has the legal right to cancel, such lease shall be cancelled by the Chief of Engineers without declaring it as surplus, except as provided in § 835.501 (d) and (e).

§ 835.504 Interim use pending disposal. Pending the disposition of improvements or leasehold interests, and prior to the time accountability is assumed by the disposal agency, the Chief of Engineers may grant a revocable permit to any person to use such property in any case in which it is found that the interests of the Government will be best served by such action. Any such use shall be conditioned upon the payment of such consideration as may be fair and reasonable under all the circumstances.

§ 835.505 Easements having no commercial value. The Chief of Engineers may, with or without consideration, dispose of an easement to the owner of the land subject to the easement when the Chief of Engineers shall determine that the easement has no commercial value and is no longer needed: Provided, That, when any such easement shall have been required for a substantial consideration, such disposal shall be made for a reasonable value, taking into consideration any portion of the purchase price paid for severance damages.

§ 835.506 Submission to The Attorney General. Whenever the Chief of Engineers shall begin negotiation or, in other than cases of negotiated sales, shall have decided on the terms of a transaction for the disposition under this part of property which cost the Government $1,000,000 or more, the Chief of Engineers shall promptly notify the War Assets Administration of the proposed disposition and the probable terms and conditions thereof. The War Assets Administration will then transmit such information to The Attorney General in order that The Attorney General may furnish the advice contemplated in section 20 of the Surplus Property Act.

PART 836—SALVAGE, RELOCATION, AND DISMANTLEMENT OF ACTIVE, STANDBY, EXCESS AND SURPLUS INDUSTRIAL INSTALLATIONS

Part 836 is amended to read as follows:

Sec.
836.600 General.
836.601 Conditions under which buildings and improvements at active or standby industrial installations may be salvaged, relocated or dismantled.
836.602 Request for approval for salvaging, relocating, or dismantling buildings and improvements at active or standby industrial installations.
836.603 Approval for salvaging, relocating, or dismantling buildings and improvements at active or standby industrial installations.
836.604 Procedure for salvaging, relocating or dismantling.
836.605 Conditions under which buildings and improvements at excess or surplus industrial installations may be salvaged, relocated, or dismantled.
836.606 Property accounting.

§ 836.600 General. This part sets forth the procedure for salvaging, relocating, or dismantling buildings or improvements at active, standby, excess, or surplus industrial installations. In all cases the prior approval of the Under Secretary of War, through the Procurement Planning Branch Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, must be obtained where salvaging, relocating, or dismantling of buildings or improvements may interfere with the capacity of active or standby installations.

§ 836.601 Conditions under which buildings and improvements at active or standby industrial installations may be salvaged, relocated, or dismantled. Buildings or improvements at active or standby industrial installations may be salvaged, relocated, or dismantled by the Chief of Engineers or his duly authorized representative provided the structures come within one of the following classifications:

(a) Buildings or improvements which are damaged or unsuitable for the public service,

(b) Temporary buildings or improvements which cannot be kept in repair at a reasonable cost.

(c) Buildings or improvements which are dangerous to life or likely to damage adjoining structures or have become hazards or nuisances.

(d) Buildings or improvements which occupy or interfere with sites needed for new construction or for other military purposes.

(e) Buildings or improvements which interfere with the efficient operation of the project.

(f) Buildings or improvements which are needed for use at other sites or for salvage of materials for use by the War Department.

§ 836.602 Request for approval for salvaging, relocating, or dismantling buildings and improvements at active or standby industrial installations. (a) Where such buildings or improvements are to be salvaged, relocated, or dismantled, they will be entered on a Request for Approval of Disposal of Buildings and Improvements (WD AGO Form 337) by the responsible officer (AR 35–6520) who will indicate in the space provided therefor the pertinent condition or conditions set forth above which warrant disposal action. The request for approval of disposal of buildings and improvements will be supported by a complete list of all installed property, as defined in paragraph 11b, AR 35–6520, which is fixed in place in or attached to the buildings or improvements in question. The commanding officer of the installation will indorse his recommendations thereon and forward the requests as indicated below. WD AGO Form 337 will be available in adjutant general depots on or about April 26, 1946, and will be requisitioned through normal supply channels.

(b) The request will be sent to the chief of the using service, or to an officer authorized to make a recommendation thereon in the name of the chief of service, who, after indorsing his recommendation, will forward the request to the division engineer.

§ 836.603 Approval for salvaging, relocating, or dismantling buildings and improvements at active or standby industrial installations. (a) The Chief of Engineers or his duly authorized representative will approve requests for approval of disposal of buildings and improvements and take all final action to salvage, relocate, or dismantle the property in accordance with authorized procedure. The approval will include disposition instructions for the installed property shown on the list attached to the request for approval of disposal of buildings and improvements. Disposition of installed property under the control of another technical service will be coordinated with the chief of the service involved. In those cases in which the buildings or improvements are of a manufacturing type and estimated to cost $50,000 or more, and all other types of buildings or improvements estimated to cost $10,000 or more, the Chief of Engineers will submit a request for approval through the Procurement Planning Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, to the Under Secretary of War.

(b) After final action thereon, one copy of the request for approval of disposal of buildings and improvements with all supporting papers will be returned for the property records of the accountable officer and one copy will be retained in the files of the division engineer.

§ 836.604 Procedure for salvaging, relocating, or dismantling. The procedure for salvaging, relocating, or dismantling buildings and improvements will be prescribed by the Chief of Engineers.

§ 836.605 Conditions under which buildings and improvements at excess or surplus industrial installations may be salvaged, relocated, or dismantled. (a) If necessary, buildings or improvements at excess industrial installations which are to be declared surplus to War Assets Administration or surplus industrial installations which have been declared surplus to War Assets Administration and for which that agency has not accepted accountability may be salvaged, relocated, or dismantled by the Chief of Engineers or his duly authorized representative provided:

(1) Approval of the War Assets Administration, Washington, D. C., is obtained through the Readjustment Branch, Office, Director of Procurement, Army Service Forces, and,

(2) The structures come within one of the following classifications:

(i) Buildings or improvements which are dangerous to life or likely to damage adjoining structures or have become hazards or nuisances.

(ii) Buildings or improvements which are needed for use at other sites or for salvage of materials for use by the War Department.

PART 839—DISPOSAL OF SPECIAL TOOLING IN GOVERNMENT-OWNED AIRCRAFT PLANTS

Sec.
839.900 Scope of Part.
839.901 Definitions.
839.902 Authorization for disposition.
839.903 Sales procedures.

§ 839.900 Scope of part. This part is promulgated under the authority of section 14 (a) of the Surplus Property Act and War Assets Administration SPA Special Order 17, August 17, 1946. This Part states the policies and procedures to be followed in effecting the disposition of Government-owned special tooling located in Government-owned aircraft plants which are being operated by private contractors pursuant to facilities contracts.

§ 839.901 Definitions. As used in this part the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Aircraft plant" means an installation owned by the Government (including an installation owned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Office of Defense Plants (formerly Defense Plants Corporation)) and used in the production of aircraft or portions of aircraft.

(b) "Contract" includes subcontracts and subleases and "Contractor" includes subcontractors and sublessees.

(c) "Facilities contract" means a lease, rental agreement, or other contract or contract provision, specifically governing the acquisition, use, or disposition of Government-owned machinery, tools, special tooling, equipment, building installations, or other Government-owned property furnished to or acquired by a war contractor for any war production purpose except incorporation in end products.

(d) "Scrap" means property that has no reasonable prospect of sale except for its basic material content.

(e) "Special tooling" means equipment of such special design that it has apparent value only as scrap except in the manufacture of the particular product which such equipment was specifically designed to produce. It includes only jigs, dies, fixtures, gauges, molds, and similar equipment.

§ 839.902 Authorization for disposition. The chief of the using service is hereby empowered to authorize any contractor under a facilities contract with such service or any subcontractor thereunder who is in possession of any special tooling located in an aircraft plant or the prime contractor under a war contract in performance of which such special tooling is or has been used to retain or sell such special tooling in accordance with § 839.903. Such retention or such sales may be made at any time before the using service takes possession of the special tooling or declares it to a disposal agency as surplus in accordance with § 832.201–3 of this subchapter or otherwise.

§ 839.903 Sales procedures. All disposals made under this part shall be made on the basis of competitive bidding through sealed bids or at auction at the discretion of the chief of the using service and subject to rules and regulations prescribed by the chief of the using service. Such rules and regulations shall contain, among other provisions, the following requirements:

(a) The determination of lots shall be subject to approval by the chief of the service or his representatives.

(b) The chief of the service or his representative shall set an upset price on each lot at which figure the bidding on such lot shall be started.

(c) The right shall be reserved to the chief of the service or his representative to reject any or all bids.

(d) Notice shall be given by publication to all interested possible purchasers indicating the special tooling that will be available for sale, naming a date not less than 14 days from the time of first publication when the bidding will be closed or when the auction will be held, and giving the upset price on each lot.

(e) If no acceptable bid is received by the chief of the service or his representative, the contractor in possession may be permitted to acquire and retain the property under a negotiated sale or under a lease for a period of not more than 1 year. Sales prices and rentals shall be determined on a basis that is fair and reasonable, taking into consideration the limited sale value of the property, its special value to the purchaser or lessee, upset prices, and any bids received.

The chief of the service may request the advice and assistance of the War Assets Administration in setting upset prices and in determining acceptable sales prices and rentals. Such requests shall be addressed to the regional office of the War Assets Administration for the region in which the major portion of the special tooling to be sold is located. At the discretion of the chief of the service, auctions, sales, or leases authorized under this § 839.903 may be combined with auctions, sales, or leases authorized under § 848.861–2 (i) of this chapter.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

STEEL DRUMS FOR MANUFACTURERS OF CORN SYRUP FOR FAMINE RELIEF

The following direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Regulation 1:

(a) The procurement of corn syrup for relief purposes in Europe has created a shortage of steel drums required to ship the syrup. To meet U. S. commitments for corn syrup, it is necessary that an adequate number of steel drums be immediately supplied.

(b) Pursuant to § 944.4 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, the Civilian Production Administration will issue directives to manufacturers of steel drums requiring them to manufacture and ship during the months of June and July, 1946, 110,000 steel drums of 16 and 18-gauge steel. The directives will distribute requirements in proportion to their respective capacities among those manufacturers which the Civilian Production Administration determines to be in the best position to supply the drums in the light of the availability of material and the geographical location of the corn syrup processors. The directives will name the customers to whom the manufacturer must ship upon receipt of purchase orders and shipping instructions.

(c) Directives issued will provide total requirements of steel drums of processors of corn syrup holding contracts with the Department of Agriculture for manufacture of corn syrup for export to Europe. No processor may use any steel drum obtained pursuant to such directive other than for shipment of corn syrup under these contracts, except as provided in § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

(d) Manufacturers of steel drums must give preference to orders covered by directives over all other orders either for steel drums or for other products requiring the same materials or facilities, except AAA rated orders.

(e) Communications concerning this direction should be addressed to the Containers Branch, Forest Products Division, Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(f) This direction expires July 31, 1946.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

CARRIERS (TRUCKERS) SERVICES ON THE ISLAND OF OAHU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Supplementary Service Regulation No. 61 has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register. For the reasons set forth in that statement and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, Supplementary Service Regulation No. 61 is hereby issued.

§ 1499.710 Maximum prices for hauling, trucking, express and delivery services on the Island of Oahu. The provisions of RMPR 165 are modified to the extent set forth below as far as hauling, trucking, express and delivery services on the Island of Oahu are concerned.

(a) Over ceiling prices prohibited. Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligations or any price regulation or order heretofore issued by the Office of Price Administration, no person subject to this regulation shall sell, offer, solicit or attempt to render any service, nor shall any person accept or receive any service, in connection with the hauling, or trucking of, or express, or delivery services on the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, connected with any of the commodities herein enumerated or of a similar nature, at higher prices than those set forth in this maximum price schedule.

(1) Lower prices than those set forth herein may be charged, paid, or offered.

(2) Notwithstanding the use of the term "general merchandise" herein, this regulation does not include the transportation of liquids by tank trucks or of milk or icehouse merchandise, but does include liquids in drums, barrels and carboys crated or uncrated, or metal tanks.

(b) Maximum prices set forth herein include the following. (1) The service of picking up from and delivery to sidewalk, platform or store door or within consignee's premises at street level if approachable by carrier's vehicle, and stacking the commodity as limited in paragraph (d) (ii) below. For the purpose of this section, any portion of consignee's premises, access to which is furnished by vehicular elevator or ramp, is considered street level.

(2) This regulation applies only to persons who transport goods for compensation. It does not apply to a person who transports a commodity as an incident to the sale thereof nor does it authorize such person to depart in any way from his accustomed practice or charges for such service.

(c) Exemptions. The following are exempted from the provisions of this regulation:

(1) Any agency of the United States and territorial governments.

(2) Frozen perishable food commodities destined for "cold storage".

(d) Tonnage rate basis. (1) Maximum prices for the hauling of commodities specified in Tables A, B, and C marked "w/m" may be computed on gross weight or measurement, whichever yields the greater amount. Forty (40) cubic feet on a measurement basis being equal to one (1) short ton of 2,000 pounds. The maximum prices established in Table C vary according to the zones specified therein. Table A covers the price of hauling from any one place to another within the city limits of the City of Honolulu; the prices established as to the other zones are from any point in the City of Honolulu to any point within the zones defined in Table C.

(i) When the pick-up point of origin is in a zone specified in Table C or at a place specified in Table D and the point of destination is any place within the limits of the City of Honolulu, the maximum rates shall be the same as provided in Tables C and D for haulage from Honolulu to said specified zones and places.

(ii) Maximum prices set forth in the tables below do not provide for piling or stacking above eight (8) feet in height, and do not include picking up from or making delivery to basements or other than ground floors beyond a distance of 20 feet unless carrier's vehicle may safely enter same by vehicular elevator or ramp.

(e) Household moving. (1) The rates established for computing the maximum prices for household and office goods moving are set forth in Table E. These rates include truck and driver only.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, used household and office goods moving includes the removal of the goods from the interior of the shipper's premises and delivery to the interior of the consignee's premises without charge other than the charge established in Table E.

(3) Rates established in paragraph (e) (1) of this Supplementary Service Regulation will not apply to the following:

(i) Property transported from, to, or between the place or places of business of a dealer in or auctioneer of property bought or sold in connection with such business.

(f) Hourly rental rates. An hourly rental rate is hereby established for trucks of the sizes and styles as set forth in Table E. This rental service includes the truck and driver only. Where an additional helper or helpers are employed the maximum hourly rate shall be as set forth in Table E.

(g) Rural Oahu. The maximum prices for haulage of commodities specified in Tables C or D from any point within the city limits of the City of Honolulu to any of the places enumerated in Tables C or D are hereby established as set forth in said Tables C or D.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions. (1) Carriers who combine a transportation service with a packing and/or crating and/or storage and/or shipping service must segregate the transportation service from either or all of the other services rendered and charge separately for the same.

(2) Uncovered trucks shall have tarpaulins or equivalent equipment for protection against rain, without extra cost to the shipper.

(3) No carrier need commence the unloading of freight until his transportation charge is either paid or payment guaranteed to his satisfaction.

(4) Goods which the carrier, after diligent effort, may be unable to deliver to its owner or consignee may be placed in a public warehouse at the owner's or consignee's risk and account; or, if transportation charges for the same are unpaid he may store the same in his own warehouse or in a public warehouse for his own account until such charges are paid, or otherwise preserve his lien in accordance with the local laws. When the transportation charges are paid under such circumstances, the carrier's transportation liability shall be considered accomplished upon his delivery to the owner or consignee the corresponding warehouse receipt or delivery order. No further charge shall be made for the service or services performed in accordance with this paragraph, except as may be provided for by local law, but in the event of the shipper requiring delivery to the original destination, the carriage shall be considered as a new and separate agreement and may be charged for not to exceed the rates herein established.

(i) Delays to equipment. Delays to equipment at destination for commodities hauled in accordance with Table A and the column designated "From pier to wholesale warehouse or any point in city to pier W/M" of Table B, for which the carrier is not responsible, may be charged for over and above the contract rate, at the rate of 75% of the hourly rental rate as listed in Table E.

(j) Haulage in outside zones. When the haulage originates and terminates in areas outside of the City of Honolulu, the maximum prices that may be charged for the same shall be as provided for the hourly rental of trucks and equipment in Table E.

(k) Maximum price; haulage zone and commodity indefinite. Maximum prices for haulage on the Island of Oahu which cannot be computed under any other paragraph of this Supplementary Service Regulation are established on the hourly basis as set forth in Table E for the rental of flat bed trucks.

(l) Within the City of Honolulu, the maximum price for carrying hand baggage, such as suitcases, valises, duffle bags, baskets and similar articles, not retained by the owner in his personal custody shall not exceed 25¢ per piece. Hauls outside of city limits are covered by Table D.

Within the City of Honolulu, trunks and heavy baggage shall be charged for on a time basis. The price may not exceed $2.25 per hour or fraction of the first hour; after the first hour, any fraction of an hour over one-half hour may be charged for as a full hour; any fraction of an hour less than one-half hour may be charged for proportionately only.

(m) Definitions. (1) The symbol "w/m" used herein means w-weight; m-cubic measurement.

PART 1336—RADIOS, X-RAY AND COMMUNICATION APPARATUS

[MPR 599, Amdt. 2]

RADIO RECEIVERS AND PHONOGRAPHS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 599 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 is amended by deleting the word, "and", where it appears immediately after the number, "9328", and adding after the number, "9599", the phrase "and 9697".

2. Paragraph (a) of section 5 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Price increase factors. (1) A manufacturer's ceiling prices for sales of a radio for which he has an established price to distributors, are determined as follows:

(i) The ceiling price for sales to distributors is the manufacturer's established price for sales to the particular class of distributor increased by:

(a) 24% on radios for which his established price to the class of distributor which purchases in the largest dollar volume is less than $11.01.

(b) 21% or $2.64 whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of distributor which purchases in the largest dollar volume is more than $11.00 but less than $31.01.

(c) 19% or $6.51 whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of distributor which purchases in the largest dollar volume is more than $31.00.

(ii) The ceiling prices for sales of the radio to a dealer shall be determined by applying the manufacturer's differential (as established in accordance with Section 8) to his ceiling prices for sales to a distributor, determined as above. However, regardless of any higher price computed in this way, the manufacturer's ceiling price for a sale to a dealer may not exceed a distributor's ceiling price, as fixed by section 10 (b), for a sale of the same radio to a dealer.

(2) A manufacturer's ceiling prices for sales of a radio for which he does not have an established price for sales to distributors are determined as follows:

(i) The ceiling price for sales to dealers is the manufacturer's established price for sales to the particular class of dealer increased by:

(a) 24% on radios for which his established price to the class of dealer which purchases in the largest dollar volume is less than $13.01.

(b) 21% or $3.12, whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of dealer which purchases in the largest dollar volume is more than $13.00 but less than $35.41.

(c) 19% or $7.43, whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of dealer which purchases in the largest dollar volume is more than $35.40.

(ii) The ceiling price for sales of the radio to a distributor shall be determined by applying the manufacturer's differential, (as established in accordance with Section 8), to the ceiling price for sales to a dealer, determined as above.

(3) No increase in a manufacturer's established price for the sale of a radio to a consumer is authorized by this section.

(4) A manufacturer's ceiling price for radios for which he does not have established prices shall be determined in accordance with the following sections of this regulation.

3. A new section 5a is added after section 5 to read as follows:

SEC. 5a. Manufacturers ceiling prices for certain radios whose ceiling prices were finally determined prior to May 16, 1946. A manufacturer of any radio whose ceiling price had been "finally determined" under section 6, 7, 8 or 18 of this regulation prior to May 16, 1946, may increase that ceiling price by 8 percent.

A ceiling price shall be deemed to have been "finally determined" prior to May 16, 1946, if that price had been established by an order under section 6, 7, 8 or 18 of the regulation effective prior to May 16, 1946, or if under section 6 of this regulation that price had been reported to the Office of Price Administration prior to May 1, 1946, and has not been disapproved, and there is no other reason specified in section 6 (c) of this regulation for treating the reported price as invalid for the purpose of establishing a manufacturer's ceiling price.

4. Paragraph (a) of section 6 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Calculation of prices. A manufacturer shall calculate his ceiling price for a new model radio, which is "comparable" to a radio for which he has a ceiling price under section 5, 5a, 6, 7, 8 or 18 of this regulation as follows:

Step 1. He finds his current "unit direct costs" of the comparable radio for which he has a ceiling price under section 5, 5a, 6, 7, 8 or 18 of this regulation and for the new model radio which is being priced.

Step 2. He finds his mark-up factor by dividing the unit direct cost of the comparable radio into its f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) to the class of purchaser which normally accounts for the largest dollar volume of his sales.

Step 3. He multiplies the unit direct cost of the radio being priced by that mark-up factor. The result is the f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) to the same class of purchaser.

5. Subparagraph (b) (1) of section 6 is amended to read as follows:

(1) "Comparable" radio means the one which is of the same type as the radio being priced (for example, plastic cabinet table model, wood cabinet table model, table model combination radio phonograph, personal portable other portable, console combination, auto radio, etc.), which is closest to it in basic features (for example, short wave band, push button tuning, etc.), which is closest to it in unit direct cost and which has been produced since October 30, 1945. If the manufacturer has no radio which he has produced since October 30, 1945 which meets the foregoing provisions of this definition he may consider a radio whose ceiling price was determined under section 5 as a comparable model even though it was not produced since October 30, 1945.

6. Subparagraph (b) (2) (i) of section 6 is amended to read as follows:

(i) Wage rates. The wage rates applicable to any radio shall be the straight time wage rates for each class of labor involved in the production of the radio prevailing in the manufacturer's plant at the time the report required by this section is filed. However, no wage or salary adjustment instituted under the authority of Section 1 of Title IV of Executive Order 9599 or Executive Order 9697 may be included in labor costs if such adjustments have not been the same for all types of labor and the proportion between the various types of labor used in the new model radio varies substantially from that in the comparable radio.

7. A new paragraph (e) is added to section 6 to follow paragraph (d) and to read as follows:

(e) Economies effected in the production of any radio whose ceiling price was determined under this section. If after obtaining a ceiling price for a radio under this section, a manufacturer thereafter realizes savings in direct or indirect costs and expenses incurred in the production of that radio, the Office of Price Administration may require by order that such economies be reflected in the ceiling price for such radio.

8. Section 9 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 9. Dealers' ceiling prices for radios other than "special brand" radios. Every manufacturer is required to calculate the retail ceiling prices of all radios, except "special brand" radios, which he sells to distributors or dealers, in accordance with the provisions of this section. The retail ceiling price properly calculated when the manufacturer delivers the radio to a purchaser for resale, shall be the retail ceiling price for a sale of that radio to a consumer irrespective of subsequent changes in the provisions of this section.

(a) The retail ceiling price in "Zone I" for a radio for which the manufacturer has a ceiling price to distributors is the total of the following, adjusted upward to the nearest five cents:

(1) His "ceiling price" to that class of distributor to which he sells radios in the largest dollar volume.

(2) The applicable amount of the following:

74% of that price if it is less than $11.89.
81% of that price if it is more than $11.88 but less than $33.49.
95% of that price if it is more than $33.48.

(3) The amount of the Federal excise tax paid on the sale to that class of distributor.

(b) The retail ceiling price in Zone I for a radio which the manufacturer does not have a ceiling price to distributors is the total of the following, adjusted upward to the nearest five cents:

(1) His ceiling price to that class of dealer to which he sells radios in the largest dollar volume.

(2) The applicable amount of the following:

49% of that ceiling price if it is less than $14.05.
58% of that ceiling price if it is more than $14.04 but less than $38.24.
65% of that ceiling price if it is more than $38.23 but less than $162.01.
82% of that ceiling price if it is more than $162.00.

(3) The amount of the Federal excise tax paid on sales to that class of dealer.

(c) The retail ceiling price for sales of a radio in "Zone II" is the retail ceiling price in Zone I increased by 5% and adjusted to the nearest five cents.

(d) For the purpose of this section:

(1) A manufacturer's "ceiling price" is his f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) as established under sections 5, 5a, 6, 7, 8, or 18 of this regulation, or his adjusted f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) as authorized under Supplementary Orders Nos. 118 or 119 or 148, unless the Office of Price Administration specifically prohibits the use of such an adjusted price as a basis for determining retail ceiling prices under this section, or any price not more than 1% below such ceiling price provided that any price adjusted by such 1% or fraction thereof may not be less than the manufacturer's selling price.

(2) "Zone I" is that area of the following two in which the radio is manufactured. The other area is "Zone II".

(i) One area consists of the states of Arizona, New Mexico, California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, and the following counties in Texas: El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Terrell, Pecos and Reeves.

(ii) The other area consists of the remaining counties of Texas, all the other states in the United States and the District of Columbia.

9. Section 10 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 10. Distributors' ceiling prices for radios other than special brand radios. Every manufacturer is required to calculate distributors' ceiling prices to dealers of all radios of his manufacture (except special brand radios), in accordance with the provisions of this section, and to notify distributors of their ceiling prices. A distributor's price properly calculated when the manufacturer delivers the radio to a distributor shall be the distributor's ceiling price for a sale of that radio irrespective of subsequent changes in the provisions of this section.

(a) A distributor's ceiling price, to that class of dealer to whom he sells radios in the largest dollar volume, for a radio for which the manufacturer has calculated the retail ceiling prices in accordance with section 9 above, is calculated as follows:

(1) Find the retail ceiling price for sales in the same zone as that in which the distributor's point of shipment is located.

(2) Deduct from that price the amount of the Federal excise tax included in it.

(3) Deduct from the remainder the applicable discount of the following:

(i) 31% when the retail ceiling price in Zone I is less than $22.51.

(ii) 33% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $22.50 but less than $68.51.

(iii) 36% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $68.50.

(4) To the figure resulting from the above computations, add the amount of Federal excise tax originally deducted.

(5) The result is the distributor's ceiling price for sales to that class of dealer to whom he sells in the largest dollar volume.

28.5% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is less than $22.51.

31% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $22.50 but less than $68.51.

33.5% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $68.50.

10. After section 10, a new section 10a is added to read as follows:

SEC. 10a. Adjustment of ceiling prices for certain "special brand" radios. Every "special brand purchaser" other than a mail order house or an automobile manufacturer who has a ceiling price for his sales of a "special brand" radio to a distributor established under section 11 of this regulation by an order issued prior to May 16, 1946, may increase the ceiling price established in such order by 8 percent and compute retail ceiling prices and distributors' ceiling prices in accordance with the provisions of sections 9 and 10 of this regulation.

11. A new paragraph (c) is added to section 13 to follow paragraph (b) and to read as follows:

(c) Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this section, a manufacturer is not required to tag any radio which is shipped to a purchaser who operates both as a mail order house and as any other type of retail seller. The purchaser however is required to comply with the foregoing tagging provisions, except in regard to a radio which is sold at retail by mail order.

12. A new paragraph (c) is added to section 14 to follow paragraph (b) and to read as follows:

(c) However, a dealer or mail order house, who does not customarily give sales invoices to purchasers and also is not required to do so with respect to any other product which he sells, is not required to do so because of paragraph (a) of this section (except when he is specifically requested by the purchaser to furnish a sales invoice) or to keep a copy of such a sales invoice as required by paragraph (b) (3) of this section.

13. Section 15 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 15. Discounts, allowances, terms, conditions of sale. The ceiling prices established under this regulation are subject to each seller's customary delivery terms, installation charges, conditions of sale, terms, discounts, and other price differentials in effect between July 15, and October 15, 1941, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulations; however, nothing contained in this regulation shall be construed to require any seller to accept a radio or any other article as part payment of any ceiling price established by this regulation, or if a seller does accept a trade-in, he need not make an allowance which exceeds the reasonable value of the article accepted as a trade-in.

In the case of a distributor or dealer who did not sell radios between July 15, and October 15, 1941, or whose discounts, allowances, terms, and other conditions of sale have not been established under OPA regulations the ceiling prices fixed under this regulation for his sales are subject to the same delivery terms, installation charges, conditions of sale, terms, discounts and other price differentials which his closest competitor who did sell radios between July 15 and October 15, 1941, is required to allow under the provisions of this regulation. If the distributor or dealer cannot ascertain the delivery terms, installation charges, etc., which his nearest competitor is required to allow he shall apply to the nearest district Office of Price Administration for an order under this section establishing the conditions to which his ceiling prices are subject. Such application may be by letter and shall state the type of business he is operating (distrioutor, dealer) when he started to sell radios, the radios which he desires to sell and the classes of purchasers to whom he sells. An order will be issued under this section establishing terms, allowances and other conditions of sale in line with the conditions of sale generally fixed by the regulation.

If a distributor or dealer who did not sell radios between July 15 and October 15, 1941, does not allow the same discounts, delivery terms, installation charges, and other price differentials allowed by his nearest competitor who did sell radios between July 15 and October 15, 1941, or does not file an application in accordance with the provisions of this section, or if he fails to provide the information required by this section, the Price Administration may on his own motion, issue orders under this section fixing discounts, allowances and other price differentials in line with such conditions of sale fixed by this regulation. Conditions of sale so established will apply to all sales and deliveries made on and after June 7, 1946.

14. Section 18 is amended by substituting the number "11" for the number "10" wherever the latter number appears in section 18.

15. At the end of section 22, a new section 23 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 23. Delegation of authority. Any Regional Administrator or District Administrator authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator may issue orders under section 15 of this regulation.

This amendment shall become effective on the 7th day of June 1946.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 7th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

[Sec. 5 amended by Am. 1, 10 F.R. 6802, effective 6-11-45]

SEC. 5a. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 5b. Taxes. (a) You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, the amount of the sales tax imposed by the Alaska World War II Veterans Act if the tax is actually paid by you or collected from you by your vendor. Provided, That you state and collect the tax separately from the purchase price.

(b) If the amount of such tax ends in a fraction of a cent, then the amount of such tax may be increased to the nearest higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more, and shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent. Such adjustments to the nearest cent, or to the nearest nickel as provided in section 6 (a) (3), may be made only on the sum of the combined purchase price of one or more commodities sold in a single sale or transaction or in a series of sales billed at the end of a period, plus the actual amount of the tax on such purchase price.

[Sec. 5b added by Am. 12, effective 6-13-46]

SEC. 6. Definitions. (a) When used in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288, the term:

(1) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale of a commodity by a person who resells it to any person other than an ultimate consumer and includes any sale to the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions, any religious, educational, or charitable institution for the sick, deaf, blind, disabled, aged or insane, or any school, hospital, library, commercial or industrial user, or any agency of the foregoing.

(2) "Sale at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer.

(3) "Maximum price", except where the context otherwise requires, means the maximum price established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 288: Provided, however, That where pennies are not generally used or available in the course of ordinary retail transactions, adjustments to the nearest nickel may be made by the seller on the total of the combined purchase prices of one or more commodities sold at a single sale, or the total of the combined purchase prices of one or more commodities sold in a series of sales but billed at the end of a period; that the prices of all commodities shall be posted according to the "maximum price" as herein defined.

SEC. 7. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288 may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

SEC. 8. Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any device to obtain a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollar and cents price is as much a violation of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288 as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

SEC. 9. Records and reports—(a) Records to be kept. (1) Every person making sales at wholesale of the commodities subject to this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288, shall, on and after the date any such commodity becomes subject to this regulation, keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each purchase and each sale made by such person, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the direct cost thereof, the price paid or received, the mark-up charged, and the quantity purchased or sold.

(2) Every person making sales at retail of the commodities subject to this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288 shall, on and after the date any such commodity becomes subject to this regulation, keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect complete and accurate records of each purchase made by the seller, the date thereof, the name and address of the person selling to the seller, the direct cost thereof, the price paid, the quantity purchased, and the mark-up charged by the seller to the buyer.

(b) Prices to be marked and posted. On and after the date any commodity becomes subject to this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288, every person offering to sell at retail any such commodity shall mark the maximum price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by, the purchasing public. The maximum prices may be marked on the commodities themselves or may be posted at the place in the establishment where the commodities are offered for sale, and may be posted by price lines if the selling price of each commodity is marked thereon. The maximum prices shall be indicated in the form "Ceiling Price $----------" or "Our Ceiling $----------."

(c) Sales slips and receipts. Any seller who has customarily given a customer a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any seller, regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the name of each commodity sold (including the grade, weight, quantity, size and any other specification which affects the maximum price), and the price received for it.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 9, 11 F.R. 2643, effective 3-18-46]

SEC. 10. Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest office of the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 [5] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 11. Relation to other regulations. (a) Nothwithstanding the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 194, maximum prices for the commodities enumerated in the sections set forth below of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288 shall be established by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288. Maximum prices for commodities not enumerated, and for commodities sold in localities not specified in the sections set forth below of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 288 shall continue to be governed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation 194,[6] the General Maximum Price Regulation,[7] or such other price regulations as may be applicable in the Territory of Alaska.

SEC. 12. Applicability. The provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 288 shall be applicable to the Territory of Alaska.

[1] One cent per package may be added to the bulk price if the retailer packages and sells the item in a cellophane bag.

[2] "Other west coast towns" means all places along the coast of Alaska and the Alaska Peninsula extending from Kotzebue Sound to Bristol Bay which are accessible by sea-going vessels or lighters, including Kotzebue and Bethel.

[*Prices amended by Am. 12, effective 6-13-46]

SEC. 32. Maximum prices for packaged distilled spirits and wine—(a) What this section does. This section fixes the maximum prices at which retailers may sell any item of domestic or imported packaged distilled spirits and wine specified in Table 1 below.

(b) How maximum prices are fixed. Turn to Table 1 at the end of this section. The first column in this table shows a range of net cost prices per case. For each net cost price there is a corresponding dollar-and-cent retail price per container in columns 2, 3 and 4, according to the type and class and container size of the item. When the retailer has found the corresponding retail price, he turns to Table 2 following Table 1. Table 2 shows the transportation allowance for purchases from United States suppliers which may be added to the Table 1 price, according to container size and the zone in which the retailer's establishment is situated. The sum of the appropriate price in Table 1 and the appropriate transportation allowance in Table 2 shall be the retailer's ceiling price.

(c) Determination of net cost per case. The net cost to be used by a retailer to determine a maximum price is the total of the following elements of cost actually paid by him:

(1) Purchase price. The supplier's selling price per case (not in excess of his maximum price under applicable regulations or orders of the OPA) less all discounts.

(i) Excepting any discount for prompt payment (cash discount) or interest on an advance payment; but

(ii) Including any amount subtracted from the supplier's maximum price to compensate for discontinuance of a discount for prompt payment.

(2) Taxes. United States customs duties and excise taxes if not included in the supplier's selling price and territorial excise taxes. (License, income, franchise, receipts, gross receipts, sales, use or other similar Federal, State, territorial or local taxes cannot be included in the net cost.)

Example: X, a retailer in Juneau, buys a case of Scotch whiskey in fifths from a wholesaler for which he pays $45.50, which is the wholesaler's ceiling price. X pays a Federal excise tax of $7.20 and a territorial excise tax of $2.40. His net cost per case is therefore $55.10. This amount falls in the $55–$55.99 price range. Since Scotch whiskey is an imported product, the corresponding retail price per container will be found in column 4–A. This price is $6.34. To this price X adds the transportation allowance, which is 9 cents for fifths for retailers in the First Judicial Division (Zone 1). X's ceiling price is $6.43.

(d) Determination of maximum prices for certain transactions.—(1) For purchases from another retailer in the United States. If the supplier is another retailer in the United States, his selling price may not be figured as the retailer's purchase price under paragraph (c) (1) above unless the supplier certifies on his invoice that the price charged does not exceed his net cost determined under MPR 445.[8]

(2) For sales to another retailer of packaged liquors. A retailer's maximum price per case to another retailer shall be his net cost per case (figured according to paragraph (c) (1)). A retailer's maximum price to another retailer for individual containers of an item shall be an amount determined by dividing his net cost per case (figured according to paragraph (c) (1)) by the number of individual containers customarily packaged in the case by his supplier. No markups may be added for such sales.

(3) For purchases from a supplier in Alaska. A retailer's maximum price for packaged distilled spirits and wine acquired by him from a supplier in Alaska shall be the appropriate Table 1 price plus the freight expense actually incurred in acquiring the goods. As used herein, the term "freight expense" means expense incurred for railroad or vessel freight. Except as provided in paragraph (h) below, any retailer who receives deliveries by air transportation must absorb the difference between the air freight charges and the freight expense he would have incurred if the goods had been shipped by rail or vessel at lowest current common carrier rates.

(4) Purchases of less than a case. Where a retailer purchases less than a case of an item, his maximum price to consumers and other retailers shall be the price he would be permitted to charge under this section if he purchased a case of that item from the same supplier. In such case, the retailer will, of course, have to ascertain his supplier's ceiling price for a case and determine his net cost in accordance with paragraph (c) above.

(e) Treatment of fractional parts of a nickel. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 6 (a) (3) of this regulation, when the charging of the exact maximum price established under this section requires the use of a fractional part of a nickel, that maximum price may be increased to the next higher full nickel if the fraction is 2½ cents or more, and shall be reduced to the next lower full nickel if the fraction is less than 2½ cents. A price adjusted under this paragraph shall be posted as the retailer's ceiling price.

(f) Sales slips and receipts. The sales slip or receipt given to the purchaser in accordance with section 9 (c) of this regulation shall show, in addition, the brand name, container size, type and proof of each item sold.

(g) Definitions. As used in this section, the term:

(1) "Domestic" means produced within the continental United States, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands.

(2) "Imported" means produced outside of the continental United States and its Territories.

(3) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions of the commodities and terms descriptive thereof used in this section shall be those set forth in Regulation No. 4 Relating to the Labeling and Advertising of Wine, and to Regulation No. 5 Relating to the Labeling and Advertising of Distilled Spirits, issued under the provisions of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, as amended.

(h) Transportation allowance for retailers in Bethel, Alaska. (1) Licensed retailers of packaged distilled spirits and wine in Bethel may add as a further transportation allowance to the appropriate table allowance established for retailers in Zone 4, the applicable amount set forth below:

Container size:	Additional allowance
Tenth	$0.60
Pint	.70
Fifth	1.05
Quart	1.25

(2) This paragraph (h) shall apply only to those items of packaged distilled spirits and wine for which air transportation costs from Anchorage to Bethel are actually incurred during the period in which the ban on vessel shipments of liquor cargo to Bethel is in effect.

(3) This paragraph (h) supersedes Region IX Order AG–12 under MPR 288.

[Sec. 37 amended by Am. 5, 10 F.R. 9467, effective 8-2-45; revoked by Am. 10, 11 F.R. 2643, effective 1-12-46]

SEC. 38. Maximum prices for women's rayon hosiery sold at retail—(a) Definitions. When used in this section the term:

(1) "Manufacturer" means a person who knits, sews or assembles rayon hosiery or for whom hosiery is sewn, knit or assembled from yarn or other materials which he supplied, purchased or furnished.

(2) "Wholesaler" means a person who buys rayon hosiery in a finished state and resells it to any one other than an ultimate consumer, or who is otherwise qualified to make sales at wholesale under the provisions of Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 339 (Women's Rayon Hosiery).

(b) Marking ceiling price. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 9 (b) of this regulation, every person who sells or delivers women's rayon hosiery at retail must mark it with a transfer, label, ticket or other device firmly affixed to at least one stocking of each pair of hosiery. The marker must contain the words "ceiling price" accompanied by the maximum price under this table, as follows: "Ceiling price $____". Where the hosiery comes into the possession of the seller with a marker showing the domestic retail ceiling price, such marker should be removed and replaced with the seller's own marker.

(c) Maximum prices. Your maximum price for sales of any type and brand of women's rayon hosiery shall be the maximum price set forth in the table below. Your maximum price will depend upon the price you paid to your supplier and whether your supplier is a manufacturer or a wholesaler. "The price you paid to your supplier" means the amount you paid for the hosiery, which in no event may be more than your supplier's ceiling price. It does not include shipping costs.

If the price you paid is less than your supplier's ceiling price or if you obtained discounts or other allowances, you may use your supplier's ceiling price as "the price you paid to your supplier" in determining your corresponding maximum retail price: Provided, That your supplier's ceiling price is disclosed on his invoice.

SEC. 39. Maximum retail prices for beef—fresh, cured and frozen—(a) What this section does. This section fixes dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on all retail sales of beef cuts made on and after November 7, 1944. The only retail beef cuts which may be sold are those described in paragraph (e) of this section. Your ceiling prices depend on the locality where your store is, and the grade of beef you are selling.

(b) Grades. All carcasses and wholesale cuts of beef imported from the mainland must be graded in accordance with the rules for grading which are in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 169 (Beef and veal carcasses and wholesale cuts) and in Office of Economic Stabilization Regulation No. 1 (Grading and Grade Labeling of Meats). The grades applicable to this section are these:

Choice or AA	Good or A
Commercial or B	Utility or C

Under the requirements of OES Regulation 1, grade marks placed on mainland beef carcasses and wholesale cuts in conformance with that regulation may not be removed before selling.

You must not put different grades of meat together in your showcase.

(c) How you make retail cuts. Paragraph (d) of this section describes the different cuts of beef which you may sell, and how they are to be cut. If you buy a carcass, or side or quarter or combination cut of meat, you must first cut it into the standard OPA wholesale cuts described in paragraph (f) before you make the retail cuts.

(d) Description of retail beef cuts. All retail beef cuts covered in the following specifications shall be trimmed as described by this section before the cuts may be weighed or sold to the customer. No fat shall be added to any of the cuts before they are weighed or sold to the customer.

(1) Stews. (i) Short ribs are the ends of the ribs which are removed when making a 7" rib.

(ii) Plate (bone-in) is made from the standard primal plate without removing the bones. The diaphragm or skirt muscles may or may not be removed, but the membrane on each side of the skirt and on the inside of the plate, and all loose fat shall be removed.

(iii) Plate (boneless). Boneless plate is the boneless meat of the primal plate after all bones, gristle, cartilage, membrane and excess fat have been removed.

(iv) Brisket (bone-in) is made from the standard primal brisket without removing the bones. No more than one inch of fat may be left on this cut.

(v) Brisket (boneless). Boneless brisket is the boneless meat of the primal brisket after all bone, gristle, cartilage, and excess fat have been removed. The fat must be trimmed so that no more than one inch of fat is left on any lean muscle.

(vi) Flank meat is the meat remaining after the flank steak, bone, gristle, membrane, and cod fat have been removed from the rough flank.

(vii) Neck (bone-in). The arm knuckle bone and the Atlas joint shall be removed from the neck. The throat side of the neck shall be trimmed and all fat in excess of one inch shall be removed. The neck may then be sold in pieces with the bone in.

(viii) Neck (boneless). The boneless neck is the meat remaining after all the bone, cartilage, fat, tendon, gristle, and throat trimmings have been removed from the neck. (See paragraph (d) (1) (vii).)

(ix) Heel of round (boneless). The heel of round may be separated from the hind shank according to the usual practice in each locality; however, it shall not include the front muscle of the shin bone and it must be entirely boneless.

(x) Hind shank (bone-in) is the section of the round remaining after the rump, round steaks (or tip, inside and outside), heel of round and hock have been removed.

(xi) Hind shank (boneless). Boneless hind shank is the boneless meat from the hind shank.

(xii) Foreshank (bone-in). Remove the knee bone. Cut the shank into pieces with the bone in.

(xiii) Foreshank (boneless). The boneless shank meat is the boneless meat from the foreshank after all bone, gristle, cartilage and sinews have been removed.

(2) Roasts.—(i) Rib roasts are made in 10" or 7" cuts from the standard primal rib. The rib bone shall measure no longer than 10" or 7", respectively, in a straight line from the protruding edge of the chine bone. The blade bone or cartilage shall be removed from these roasts.

(ii) Round tip. The tip shall be removed from the flank side of the round in accordance with the customary procedure in each locality. All bone, including the knee cap, and all fat exceeding one inch in thickness must be removed.

(iii) Rump (bone-in) shall contain part of the rump (sitch) bone, but no rump knuckle bone or tail vertebrae. Not more than one inch of fat shall be left on the outside, or within the pelvic cavity, of this cut.

(iv) Rump (boneless). Boneless rump is the meat remaining after all the bones, cartilage, gristle and excess fat have been removed from the standing rump. (See paragraph (d) (2) (iii).)

(v) Chuck blade pot roast is made from the blade bone portion of the standard primal chuck. No portion of the arm knuckle shall be included in any blade pot roast. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from this cut.

(vi) Chuck arm pot roast is made from the shoulder arm bone portion of the standard primal chuck. The arm knuckle shall not be left in any arm pot roast. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from this cut.

(vii) English cut. This cut may be made from the standard primal chuck following the usual procedure in each locality.

(3) Steaks. (i) Porterhouse, T-bone and club steaks are made from the standard primal short loin. Porterhouse steaks contain a large portion of the tenderloin. T-bone steaks contain a small portion of the tenderloin. Club steaks contain no tenderloin. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be trimmed from these steaks.

(ii) Sirloin steak (bone-in) and pin bone steak (bone-in) are made from the standard primal sirloin (loin end). All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be trimmed from these steaks.

(iii) Sirloin steaks (boneless). Boneless sirloin steaks are made from the standard primal sirloin (loin end). They shall contain no bone and no fat in excess of one inch in thickness.

(iv) Rib steaks are 10" or 7" cuts made from the standard primal rib after the blade bone or cartilage has been removed. The rib bone or bones in these cuts shall measure no longer than 10" or 7", respectively, in a straight line from the protruding edge of the chine bone.

(v) Round steak (bone in—full cut) includes a part of the top (inside) round, the bottom (outside) round, the eye of round, the tip, and the round bone. It shall contain the round bone but no part of the knee cap or double bone. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be trimmed from each steak. This steak may be cut into two or more pieces in line with the customary procedure in the past.

The bottom (outside) round, like the top round, may be made according to the usual procedure in each locality. It may contain part of the rump but the shank end of this cut shall contain no part of the heel of round. The bottom round shall contain no bone. It may be sold as pot roasts or steaks.

(vii) Round top steaks are cut from the tip roast (paragraph (d) (2) (ii)).

(viii) Chuck blade steaks (bone-in) are made from the blade bone portion of the standard primal chuck. No portion of the arm knuckle shall be included in any blade steak. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from this cut.

(ix) Chuck arm steaks (bone-in) are made from the shoulder arm bone portion of the standard primal chuck. The arm knuckle shall not be left in any arm steak. All fat exceeding one inch in thickness shall be removed from this cut.

(x) Flank steak is made from a standard wholesale beef flank. All membrane and fat must be trimmed from the flank steak. The steak shall not be cut into more than two pieces before selling.

(4) Miscellaneous items. (i) Ground beef or hamburger means ground, chopped or comminuted fresh lean muscle beef, including skirt, flank, shank, neck, plate, brisket, heel of round or lean beef trimmings, and must not contain more than 28% beef fat by chemical analysis. Head meat, glandular meats, blood, cartilage, gristle, bone, cereal of any kind, or any other ingredient shall not be put into ground beef.

NOTE 1. For Grade AA or choice cuts, add two cents per pound to the applicable Grade A price.

NOTE 2. For Grade C or utility cuts, deduct three cents per pound from the applicable Grade B price.

NOTE 3. You must not grind, bone, roll or cube any cut or grade of beef not authorized to be pre-ground, pre-boned, pre-rolled or pre-cubed in paragraph (e) of this section, unless such preparation is performed in the presence of the customer ordering it, and in such a manner that the customer can observe it. However, you may fill telephone orders for ground, boned, rolled or cubed cuts of beef even though the purchaser is not present in the store to observe the preparation provided you comply with the following rules:

RULE 1. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must not be placed on display to the public.

RULE 2. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must be wrapped immediately following its preparation.

RULE 3. The wrapper containing the ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must be marked with the customer's name; the cut, grade and weight of the beef before preparation; the price per pound; and the total charge.

RULE 4. The ground, boned, rolled or cubed beef must not be sold, offered, delivered, or diverted in any manner to any customer other than the one making the telephone order.

RULE 5. You must not pre-grind, pre-bone, pre-roll or pre-cube any cut or grade of beef in anticipation of telephone orders if such preparation is not generally authorized in paragraph (e) of this section.

NOTE 4. No addition may be charged the customer for the grinding, boning, rolling, cubing, or any other special preparation, and no addition may be charged the customer for delivery service.

(f) OPA standard beef wholesale cuts. You must cut the beef carcasses, quarter, or other wholesale cuts into the following cuts before you make the standard retail cuts (see the skeletal chart for bone names contained in the trade bulletin issued by OPA):

(1) "Hindquarter" means the posterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 12-rib forequarter from the side, and comprising the round, full loin including the 13th rib, flank, kidney, and hanging tender all in one piece, which posterior portion shall be obtained by cutting the beef side between the 12th and 13th ribs keeping the knife firmly against the 12th rib while cutting down the length of the rib to the point at the end of the rib where the rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, from which point passing through the cartilage and meat of the flank and short plate in the same straight line, completing the cut.

(2) "Forequarter" means the anterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 1-rib hindquarter from the side, and comprising the rib, regular chuck, brisket, short plate and foreshank all in one piece, which anterior portion contains the 1st to the 12th rib, inclusive. All heart (mediastinal) fat, but no other fat, shall be removed from the forequarter. The skirt (diaphragm) shall not be removed from any cut or part of the forequarter to which it is attached.

(3) "Round" means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the untrimmed full loin, and flank from the hindquarter, which portion shall be obtained as follows: the untrimmed full loin and flank shall be severed from the hindquarter by cutting in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the hindquarter. The cut shall be made on a straight line formed by and starting from that point on the backbone which is the juncture of the last (5th) sacral vertebra and the first (1st) tail (caudal) vertebra, and passing through the point which just misses the end of the protuberance of the femur bone, and exposes the ball of the femur bone, continuing in the same straight line beyond the second point to complete the cut. Two tail vertebrae shall be left on the round. Attached to the tail bone of the round shall be the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebra. All cod, udder and pelvic fat remaining on the round after its severance from the full loin and flank shall remain on the round.

(4) "Trimmed full loin" means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round, flank, hanging tender (from the open side), kidney knob and excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat from the inside of the loin, from the hindquarter, and comprising the short loin and sirloin (loin end) in one piece, the back bone of which portion shall include one and one-half (1½) thoracic vertebrae, six (6) lumbar vertebrae, and five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebra shall have been sawed off in severing the round from the full loin and flank), and which portion shall be obtained as follows: Part of the kidney knob, all of the kidney and the fat lying closely around the kidney in open (left) and closed (right) sides shall be removed first by a cut starting at the rear end of the kidney and slanting directly to the front edge of the half of the 12th thoracic vertebra at the point of severance of the hindquarter and forequarter.

point opposite the juncture of the 1st and 2d lumbar vertebrae.

Third, after the severance of the round from the hindquarter, the flank shall be severed from the full loin by a cut starting at the heavy end of the full loin at the ventral point of severance of the round from the hindquarter and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra, but in making the cut no more than one (1) inch of cod or udder fat shall be left on the flank side of the face of the loin.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 13th rib joins the 13th thoracic vertebra.)

Fourth, the excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat shall be trimmed from the inside of the full loin by placing the full loin upon a flat surface, with no other support to change its position, meat side down, and removing all fat which extends above a flat plane parallel with the flat surface supporting the full loin and on a level with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone. Then all fat shall be removed which extends above a flat plane using the following two lines as guides for each edge of the plane: an imaginary line parallel with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone which line extends one inch directly above such protruding edge; a line on the inside of the loin two inches from the flank edge and running parallel with such edge for the full length of the loin. All fat obstructing the measurement of the second line shall first be removed. In addition to the foregoing all rough fat in the pelvic cavity of the heavy end of the loin (sirloin) shall be trimmed smooth and trimming by a knife shall be apparent. No fat remaining in the pelvic cavity shall exceed one inch in depth.

(5) "Flank" means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round and untrimmed full loin from the hindquarter, which shall be obtained after the removal of the round by separation from the untrimmed full loin, starting the cut at the point at the lower end of the loin end (sirloin) which was the ventral point of separation of the full loin and round, leaving no more than one inch of cod or udder fat attached to the flank side of the face of the full loin, and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line along the 13th rib from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 13th rib joins the 13th thoracic vertebra.

(6) "Flank steak" means the flat, oval-shaped lean muscle of meat imbedded in the cod or udder end of the flank which shall be obtained by loosening the narrow end of the steak piece at the cod or udder end of the flank, cutting through the membrane along both sides of the steak, then pulling and cutting the steak loose and severing it from the thick membrane which lies directly under and to which it is attached. None of the thick membrane shall be left on the steak. All fat shall be trimmed from the steak, but the thin membrane on the top surface of the steak shall not be removed.

(7) "Short loin" means that portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the sirloin (loin end) from the trimmed full loin, which portion shall be obtained by a cut perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin begun at a point which is the juncture on the chine bone of the 5th and 6th lumbar vertebrae and continuing in straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin to and through a point flush against the end of the hip (pin) bone, but leaving no part of the hip (pin) bone in the short loin. The backbone of the short loin shall include five (5) lumbar vertebrae, one and one-half (1½) thoracic vertebrae and part of the 13th rib.

(8) "Sirloin" (loin end) means the thick portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the short loin from the trimmed full loin. The backbone of the sirloin shall include one (1) lumbar vertebra, five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth (5th) sacral vertebra shall have been sawed off in separating the round from the trimmed full loin and flank), and the entire hip bone (ilium).

(9) "Regular chuck" means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the foreshank and brisket from the cross cut chuck, and containing most of the blade bone (scapula), part of the arm bone (humerus), parts of the five ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive), that section of the back bone attached to the ribs, and the neck bone (cervical vertebrae from 1 to 7, inclusive), which portion shall be obtained by a cut through the cross cut chuck made in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the cross cut chuck (thereby separating the brisket and foreshank from the cross cut chuck) starting at a fixed point on the inside of the 5th rib determined by measuring off ten (10) inches along the 5th rib in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra, continuing in the same straight line to the tip of the forward end of the breast bone (forward end of the 1st segment of sternum), and passing through the (humerus) arm bone in the same straight line to complete the cut.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 5th rib joins the 5th thoracic vertebra.

(10) "Foreshank" means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and brisket from the cross cut chuck, which portion shall be obtained (after separation of the regular chuck) by separation from the brisket by a cut following the natural seam and leaving the entire lip, or web muscle, on the brisket.

(11) "Brisket" means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and foreshank from the cross cut chuck, which portion contains parts of four ribs (2nd to 5th, inclusive), part of the breast bone and the rib (costal) cartilages which connect the ends of the rib bones with the breast bone. All heart (mediastinal) fat, but no other fat shall be removed from the brisket.

(12) "Rib" means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and short plate from the forequarter, and containing parts of seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), that section of the backbone attached to the ribs, posterior tip and cartilage of the blade bone (scapula), part of the blade bone (scapula) which portion shall be obtained (by separation from the short plate) by a straight cut across the ribs starting at a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 12th rib along the 12th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 12th thoracic vertebra and continuing to and through a fixed point determined by measuring off 10 inches on the inside of the 6th rib along the 6th rib from the center of the inside protruding edge of the 6th thoracic vertebra.

NOTE: The 10-inch measurements shall be made from the centers of the protruding edges of the 6th and 12th thoracic vertebrae, and not from the hollow of the chine.

(13) "Short plate" means the portion of the forequarter remaining after the severance of the cross cut chuck and the rib from the forequarter, and containing parts of seven ribs (6th to 12th, inclusive), the rib (costal) cartilages attached to them, and part of the breastbone.

SEC. 40. Maximum prices for drinks of distilled spirits, wine and beer sold by drinking establishments—(a) What this section does. This section fixes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for drinks of certain distilled spirits, wine and beer when sold by drinking establishments for consumption on the premises.

(b) How your ceiling prices are fixed. (1) This section divides drinking establishments into two classes—Class A and Class B. Your establishment is in Class A if

(i) It is a cabaret subject to the Federal Excise tax on cabarets contained in Chapter 10 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended; or

(ii) It is operated on the premises of a hotel containing more than 50 rooms for transient guests; or

(iii) It provides table service only for all patrons.

Your establishment is in Class B if it is not in Class A. If you operate on the same premises two drinking establishments, one of which is devoted exclusively to serving drinks at tables and the other is devoted to serving drinks at a bar, and each such establishment is in a separate room with separate means of access from the street, the Class A prices may be charged for drinks served in the establishment devoted exclusively to table service.

(2) The ceiling prices for drinks of distilled spirits and wine are uniform for the entire Territory and depend only on the class to which your establishment belongs. Your ceiling prices for beer depend not only on the Class to which your establishment belongs, but also on the locality where your establishment is. For the purpose of pricing beer the Territory is divided into three zones—Zone I, Zone II and Zone III. These zones are defined in Schedule D.

(c) Private clubs or non-profit associations. A private club or non-profit association shall be subject to this section.

(d) Posting ceiling prices. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 9 (b) of this regulation, you must conspicuously post and keep posted a copy of this section and the ceiling prices of the drinks covered by it, either by:

(1) Supplying your customers with menus or bills of fare showing the Class of your establishment, and showing the ceiling price of each class and type and portion of drink, or

(2) Posting a sign giving the same information as required on menus or bills of fare by subparagraph (1) above. Such a sign must be not less than 11" x 17" in size, printed in bold letters and figures, and must be posted in your establishment at a place where it can easily be seen and read by your customers.

(e) Evasive practices. You must not do anything which will result in an evasion of this section, including the following:

(1) You may not serve or sell any straight drink in a glass or other container unless it has a capacity of at least one fluid ounce.

(2) You may not serve or sell any highball, mixed drink or cocktail unless it contains at least one fluid ounce of distilled spirits.

(3) Except for table service, you may not pour or mix any drink unless it is done in full view of the customer ordering the drink, and in such a manner that he can observe it.

(4) You may not make any cover, minimum, service, entertainment, checking, parking, or other special charge. However, if any such charge was in effect on December 6, 1941, you may file an application with the Territorial Office of the OPA in Juneau for permission to continue to make such charge at the price in effect on December 6, 1941.

(5) You may not require, as a condition of selling any drink covered by this section, the purchase of other drinks, beverage, meals or food items, unless required to do so by Territorial or local laws.

(f) Definitions. When used in this section the term:

(1) "Beer" means any malt beverage and includes lager, ale and porter.

(2) "Chaser" means any soft drink served with a straight drink of distilled spirits.

(3) "Distilled spirits" means a distilled or compounded alcoholic beverage of not less than 80° proof, except that sloe gin of not less than 70° proof shall be considered "distilled spirits".

(4) "Domestic" means manufactured or produced in the continental United States or in Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands.

(5) "Drink" means a single portion of distilled spirits, wine or beer served in a glass or other container.

The term drinking establishment includes, but is not limited to, establishments such as bars, cocktail bars, barrooms, taverns, cafes, restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, soda fountains, etc.

(7) "Highball" means a drink containing not less than one ounce of distilled spirits diluted with carbonated water, or any soft beverage.

(8) "Imported" means manufactured or produced outside of the continental United States and its Territories.

(10) "Mixed drink" or "cocktail" means a drink containing not less than one fluid ounce of distilled spirits mixed with such ingredients as bitters, sugar and flavorings in various proportions.

(11) "Straight drink" means a drink of not less than one fluid ounce of distilled spirits, served with or without a chaser as the customer may request.

(12) "Wine" means any vinous beverage, produced by fermentation, containing not less than 7 per cent, and not more than 24 per cent. alcohol by volume.

SEC. 42. Maximum prices for retail sales of new rubber tires and tubes for passenger cars, trucks and busses—(a) Definitions. When used in this section, the term:

(1) "New" tire or tube means a tire or tube which has been used less than 1,000 miles.

(2) "Retail sale" means a sale to a buyer for his use and not for resale.

(3) "Synthetic rubber" tire or tube means a tire or tube which contains any synthetic rubber and which is marked with the symbol designated by the War Production Board, Office of Rubber Director, to identify it as containing synthetic rubber. This symbol is an "S3" in the case of tires, and a colored circumferential band in the case of tubes.

(4) "Truck" or "bus" tire or tube means a new tire or tube of a type, size and ply listed in Schedule II, whether constructed from natural, synthetic or reclaimed rubber.

(5) "Truck and bus type of tire" means a tire of a type generally recognized as designed primarily for ordinary "on the road" use on truck and busses.

(6) "Mud and snow type of tire" means a tire having a tread of a deep-cut, cleated type generally recognized as designed primarily for "on the road" use on trucks for traction through mud, snow, sand, or soft earth.

[Former subparagraph (6) revoked; subparagraph (7) redesignated (6) by Am. 5, 10 F.R. 9467, effective 8–2–45]

(b) Trade-in allowance. The seller must deduct from the maximum price of the tire or tube being sold a fair allowance for any tire or tube traded in to the seller by the buyer in connection with the sale. The "fair allowance" shall be the market price of the traded tire or tube in the seller's locality. If the traded tire or tube has no market value in the seller's locality, no allowance is required.

(c) Service charges. No charge may be made for any service supplied in connection with a tire or tube sale unless the seller customarily made an extra charge for such service during March 1942. A seller who supplies a service for which he had an extra charge in effect during March 1942, may add an amount not exceeding his highest price then in effect for that service to the maximum price for tires or tubes. He must bill such extra charge separately. No seller may require as a condition of sale that the buyer must receive any service for which the seller makes an extra charge.

(d) Excise taxes. The Federal excise tax on new tires and tubes, if stated separately by the seller, may be added to the maximum prices set forth in Schedules I and II.

(e) Sales slips and receipts. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 9 (c) of this regulation, the seller must give every buyer a sales slip showing: (1) the date, (2) the name and address of the seller, (3) the type, size, ply and brand name of the new tire or tube, (4) the price exclusive of the Federal excise tax, and (5) the amount of Federal excise tax, if any, added to the price.

(f) Maximum prices. For all sales at retail in the Territory of Alaska the maximum prices for new rubber tires and tubes for passenger cars, trucks and busses shall be as follows:

SEC. 43. Maximum prices for bituminous coal produced in Alaska—(a) What this section does. This section fixes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by producers and dealers of bituminous coal produced in Alaska. It also fixes maximum prices for specified services rendered by dealers in connection with the sale or handling of bituminous coal.

(b) Records, invoices and reports. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 9 (a) and (c) of this regulation, persons selling bituminous coal produced in Alaska shall keep, and make available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, the following records for as long as this regulation is in effect or for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall permit, whichever period is the longer:

(1) Loading records. Each producer shall keep for each day and for each mine (including any plant preparing his coal or any loading facility) a record of the actual sizes in inches or fractions thereof, loaded at each such mine, preparation plant or loading facility into each railroad car with car number; loaded at the tipple or mine storage facilities into locomotive tenders; conveyed directly from the mine to consumers; and loaded into trucks, wagons or sleds.

(2) (i) Invoices. Each producer shall within 45 days after date of shipment give to his purchaser an invoice, and shall keep an exact copy thereof, showing all of the following information and data:

The invoice shall state the date of shipments; the name and address of the seller, of the buyer and of the consignee, if known; the destination; the name of the mine, or the trade name of the coals; the tonnage (or other unit of weight or measurement used by the seller) shipped from each mine of each size (state in inches or fractions of inches); if loaded into a railroad car, the number of the car; if loaded into a truck for delivery to the consumer, the owner of the truck; the per net ton charged f. o. b. the mine; preparation plant or rail siding (state the applicable point).

(ii) Each dealer shall, either at the time of, or within thirty days after the date of a sale or delivery of bituminous coal governed by this regulation, give to his purchaser an invoice, sales slip or receipt, and shall keep an exact copy thereof, showing the following information:

The name and address of the seller and the purchaser; the kind, size, and quantity of bituminous coals sold, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged. In addition, he shall separately state on each invoice, sales slip or receipt, the amount, if any, of the authorized service and delivery charges which may be added to the established maximum prices.

(c) Adjustment of maximum producers' prices. The Alaska Director of the Office of Price Administration may by order grant an adjustment of maximum prices to any producer who shows to the satisfaction of the Director that the sale of its mine's entire production at the maximum prices would return a realization less than the mine's representative costs of production. In applications filed pursuant to this section, or section 4 of this regulation, the applicant should submit and the Office of Price Administration will consider all relevant cost and realization data. The Office of Price Administration may require full data on costs, sales, profits, analyses of coal, and other relevant factors.

After thirty days from the filing of the application if no prior action has been taken by the Alaska Director, the prices as requested in the application shall be the maximum prices for such coals.

[RMPR 330,[1] Amdt. 7]

RETAILERS' AND WHOLESALERS' PRICES FOR WOMEN'S, GIRLS', CHILDREN'S AND TODDLERS' OUTERWEAR GARMENTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

1. Section 11 (a) (4) is revoked.

2. Section 14 is amended by deleting the word "and" preceding paragraph (c), by changing the period following the phrase "section 5 (d)" to a semi-colon and by adding thereafter the following: "and (d) all applications for adjustment filed pursuant to section 16 (b)."

3. Section 16 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 16. Special provision governing pricing of certain price-maintained merchandise. Where a manufacturer for a period immediately prior to February 18, 1943 had a policy of maintaining uniform prices for one or more cost lines of his branded merchandise, and uniform prices for that branded merchandise were actually maintained, the Office of Price Administration may by order permit a retailer, who, although he handled a particular cost line prior to February 18, 1943, is precluded under the pricing rules of Section 4, from handling the cost line at the required maintained price, to carry the particular cost line at such maintained price.

(a) What manufacturers must do. If you are a manufacturer who for a period immediately prior to February 18, 1943, had a policy of maintaining uniform prices for your branded merchandise you may register with the Office of Price Administration, and upon receipt of an acceptance of your registration you may supply a copy of the acceptance to any retailer who handled the registered lines prior to February 18, 1943.

(1) What information the registration must contain. Two copies of each application must be filed with the Distribution Price Branch, Consumer Goods Division, Washington 25, D. C., containing the following information:

(i) Your business name and address.

(ii) A complete list of the price lines which you price-maintained or fair-traded for a period immediately prior to February 18, 1943, including:

(a) Brand name identifying article.

(c) Your ceiling prices for each line.

(d) Maintained retail prices for each price line set forth in (b), (and if more than one price was used based on zones, particularly describe the geographic area as to which each price applied).

(e) Identification of the regulation and the section in that regulation or the identification of the order issued by the Office of Price Administration under which your ceiling prices set forth pursuant to (c) were established.

(f) Your invoice price and terms to various classes of retailers.

(iii) Evidence to show that you required retail price maintenance, such as national advertising, catalogs sent to retailers, advertising mats furnished retailers, copies of letters enforcing retail price maintenance, etc. Some evidence must be produced as to each cost line for which registration is sought.

(2) Acceptance of registration. The Office of Price Administration may by letter accept the registration in whole or in part, or deny registration. The letter of acceptance will specify the price lines, category, the reselling prices, and the zones, if any.

(b) What retailers are affected and what they may do. If you are a retailer who handled a particular cost line of a manufacturer who required price-maintenance for a period immediately prior to February 18, 1943, and you are now precluded under the pricing rules from handling the particular line at the required maintained price, you may apply to your District Office for permission to adjust your ceiling price as to that particular cost line of that manufacturer if he has registered pursuant to paragraph (a), and the Office of Price Administration may by order permit you to do so:

(i) Application. (i) You apply to your District Office in writing setting forth the name of the manufacturer whose price maintained lines you are now unable to carry, and the category number and the manufacturer's price lines in each for which you require an adjustment; and

(ii) You must submit a copy of the "acceptance of registration" issued to the manufacturer by the national office pursuant to paragraph (a); and

(iii) Your application must be accompanied by evidence that prior to February 18, 1943, you handled the specified manufacturer's price lines for which you now seek adjustment. Such evidence may consist of advertisements, invoices, or any other records which you may have. However, no adjustment will be permitted unless such proof is available as to each price line for which adjustment is requested.

(2) Order and effect thereof. If you meet the qualifications of this paragraph, the District Office will issue to you an order specifying the category, cost line, manufacturer's name and resale price for each cost line on which you are entitled to an adjustment. You may thereafter sell a garment in that category and cost line supplied by that manufacturer at the specified price even though it exceeds the price to which you otherwise would be entitled under this regulation. You must attach your copy of the order issued under this paragraph to your Revised Maximum Price Regulation 330 chart.

This amendment shall become effective June 15, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

AGRICULTURAL LIMING MATERIALS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 386 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (b) of section 8 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Applications for adjustment. The Price Administrator may adjust the maximum price established by this regulation for any producer of agricultural liming material who shows in an application for adjustment (1) that there exists a shortage of supply; (2) that his maximum price will not permit him to continue his production of agricultural liming material without subjecting him to substantial hardship; and (3) that the loss of the producer's production would force purchasers to resort to higher priced sources of supply; Provided, That in no instance may the average base period [see section 9 (f)] f. o. b. plant price per ton be increased by an amount in excess of the difference between the production cost per ton during the base period computed in accordance with the provisions of Rule 3 (i), below, and the similarly computed production cost per ton for the most recent calendar 3-month period which may be adjusted to include approved wage and fuel cost increases not reflected in the production cost figures for this 3-month period. Such an application for adjustment must show the detailed figures upon which the computation is based.

A new producer who has adopted the maximum price of his most closely competitive seller and reported it in accordance with the provisions of section 13 of this regulation, and who has not been in production for a full 12-month period, may apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and the Price Administrator may adjust his maximum price to reflect any price increase which has been granted in the interim to that competitive seller whose maximum price was adopted as his own: Provided, That his fuel and approved wage costs are comparable to those of his most closely competitive seller.

2. Rule 5 of section 10 is amended to read as follows:

RULE 5. Maximum prices for sales at stockpiles or railroad sidings. Where the producer establishes a stockpile at a place other than in the vicinity of his plant, or ships from a railroad siding not in the vicinity of his plant, he may add to the maximum price as otherwise determined hereunder, an amount equal to the actual cost to him of handling and transporting the material from his plant to the stockpile or railroad siding.

This amendment shall become effective June 15, 1946.

NOTE: All record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 10th day of June 1946.

1. Section 12 is redesignated as section 13.

2. A new section 12 is added to read as follows:

(b) Sales by resellers. Any reseller purchasing any lead pigment product for resale in the same form from any manufacturer who has modified his maximum prices in accordance with (a) above, may increase his maximum prices by a dollars-and-cents amount not exceeding his actual dollars-and-cents increase in cost resulting from the increase permitted the manufacturer in (a) above.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

[No. 1]

CERTIFICATE OF SECRETARY OF NAVY UNDER ACT OF DECEMBER 3, 1945

Whereas, the act of December 3, 1945 (Public Law 239, 79th Congress) provides that any requirement as to the number, position, range of visibility or arc of visibility of navigation lights, required to be displayed by naval vessels under acts of Congress, as enumerated in said act of December 3, 1945, shall not apply to any vessel of the Navy where the Secretary of the Navy shall find or certify that, by reason of special construction, it is not possible with respect to such vessel or class of vessels to comply with statutory requirements as to the number, position, range of visibility or arc of visibility of navigation lights; and

Whereas, a study of the arrangement and position of the navigation lights of that class of naval vessels, known as submarines, has been made in the Navy Department and, as a result of such study, it has been determined that because of their special construction it is not possible for submarines to comply with the requirements of the statutes enumerated in said act of December 3, 1945;

Now, therefore, I, James Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy as a result of the aforesaid study do hereby find and certify that the class of naval vessels, known as submarines, are naval vessels of special construction and that, on submarines with respect to the position of the masthead light, the forward anchor light, and the after anchor light, it is not possible to comply with the requirements of the statutes enumerated in the act of December 3, 1945. Further, I do find and certify, with respect to the position of the aforesaid lights on submarines, as follows:

1. The masthead light: It is feasible to locate the masthead light at a height of not less than fifteen (15) feet nor more than twenty-three (23) feet above the hull (measured vertically from the main deck to a point abreast the light).

2. The forward anchor light: It is feasible to locate the forward anchor light at a height of not less than six (6) feet nor more than nine (9) feet above the hull (measured vertically from the main deck to a point abreast the light).

3. The after anchor light: It is feasible to locate the after anchor light at a height of not less than five (5) feet lower than the forward anchor light.

And I further direct that the aforesaid lights shall be located in the manner above described and such location constitutes compliance as closely with the applicable statutes as I hereby find to be feasible.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 17th day of May, A. D. 1946.

Secretary of the Navy.

All decisions and recommendations of the Industry Committee shall be valid if approved by at least five (5) concurring votes if not more than seven (7) members are present, or by at least six (6) concurring votes if more than seven (7) members are present. The vote of each member cast for or against any decision or recommendation made pursuant hereto shall be duly recorded; and unless otherwise authorized pursuant hereto, each member must vote in person.

(2) The Shippers Advisory Committee may, upon selection and qualification of at least six (6) of its initial members, organize and commence to function. At each meeting a quorum shall consist of six (6) members. All decisions and recommendations of the Shippers Advisory Committee shall be valid if approved by at least six (6) concurring votes of the members present. The vote of each member made pursuant hereto shall be duly recorded; and, unless otherwise authorized pursuant hereto, each member shall vote in person.

(3) Either committee may provide for simultaneous meetings of various groups of its members at designated places; and, after such groups have established telephone communication with loud speaker receivers for each group for the entire meeting, shall proceed with such meeting as if the respective committee were assembled in one place. Action taken by the respective committee in this manner shall have the same force and effect as though an assembled meeting had been held. When any proposition is submitted to either committee for voting by such method, not less than six (6) concurring votes shall be necessary for its adoption.

(4) Each committee may adopt such rules, not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, relative to the method of conducting its business as it may deem advisable. Each committee shall give to the Secretary, or to his designated representative, the same notice of its meetings as is given to its members. Each member and each alternate shall be given adequate notice in writing or by telegraph of each meeting and each simultaneous meeting as provided in this section 2 (n).

(o) Funds. All funds received by the Industry Committee pursuant hereto shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified and shall be accounted for in the following manner: (1) The Secretary may, at any time, require the Industry Committee and its members, including alternate members and all employees of such committee, to account for all receipts and disbursements; and (2) upon the removal, or expiration of the term of office, of any member or alternate member or employee of the Industry Committee, such person shall account for all receipts and disbursements, and deliver all property and funds, together with all books and records in his possession, to his successor in office or to such other person as the Secretary may designate, and such person shall also execute such assignments and other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in the successor or in such designated person full title to all the property, funds, and claims vested in such person pursuant hereto.

SEC. 3. Expenses and assessments—(a) Expenses. The Industry Committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out the functions of the Industry Committee and the Shippers Advisory Committee hereunder, during each fiscal period. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by levying assessments as hereinafter provided.

(b) Assessments. (1) Each handler who first ships celery shall, with respect to the celery shipped by him, pay to the Industry Committee, upon demand, such handler's pro rata share of the expenses which the Secretary finds will be necessarily incurred by the Industry Committee for the maintenance and functioning, during each fiscal period, of the committees established hereunder. Such handler's share of such expenses shall be that proportion thereof which the total quantity, in terms of crates, of celery shipped by such handler as the first handler thereof during the applicable fiscal period is of the total quantity, in terms of crates, of celery shipped by all handlers as the first handlers thereof during the same fiscal period. The Secretary shall fix the rate of assessment to be paid by such handlers. The rate of assessment for the fiscal period ending July 31, 1947, shall be one cent per crate of celery shipped by such handler as the first handler thereof; the exact sum to be determined by the Industry Committee subject to review by the Secretary.

(2) At any time during or after any fiscal period, the Secretary may increase the rate of assessment, so that the sum of money collected pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be adequate to cover said expenses. Such increase shall be applicable to all celery shipped during the given fiscal period. In order to provide funds to enable the Industry Committee to perform its functions hereunder, handlers may make advance payments of assessments.

(c) Accounting. (1) If, at the end of any fiscal period, it shall appear that the assessments collected are in excess of expenses incurred, each handler entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessments shall be credited with such refund against the operations of the following fiscal period, unless such handler demands payment thereof, in which case such sum shall be paid to him.

(2) The Industry Committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain in its own name or in the name of its member a suit against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of said expense.

SEC. 4. Marketing policy—(a) Must be submitted prior to recommendation. Before making any recommendations pursuant to section 5 hereof for any variety of celery, the Industry Committee and the Shippers Advisory Committee shall, with respect to the regulations permitted by such section, submit to the Secretary a detailed report setting forth an advisable marketing policy for each such variety for the then current shipping season. Such report shall set forth (1) the proportion of the estimated total crop of such variety (determined by the Industry Committee to be available for shipment during such season) deemed advisable by the Industry Committee and the Shippers Advisory Committee to be shipped during such season; (2) the proposed regulations which may be recommended by the committee during such season, and the justification therefor; and (3) the estimates and other factors enumerated in section 4 (b) hereof. In the event the committees deem it advisable to alter such marketing policy or advisable proportion as the shipping season progresses, in view of changed demand and supply conditions with respect to celery, the said committees shall submit to the Secretary a report thereon. The Industry Committee shall notify producers and handlers of the contents of each such report by publishing a summary thereof in daily newspapers of general circulation in each district, as the Industry Committee may select.

(b) Factors to be considered. In determining each such marketing policy, or revised marketing policy, and advisable proportion, the Industry Committee and the Shippers Advisory Committee shall give due consideration to the following factors and conditions relating to celery produced in Florida and in other States: (1) The available crop of each variety of celery in Florida (by district) and in other States, including the grades and sizes thereof in Florida; and such grades and sizes shall be determined by the Industry Committee pursuant to (1) (12) of section 2; (2) the probable shipments of celery from each district during each week of such season; (3) the probable shipments of celery during each week from other States; (4) the prospective supply of competitive commodities; (5) the probable market prices and marketing conditions which are expected to prevail for celery grown in Florida; (6) the probable harvesting and marketing costs and charges applicable to celery grown in Florida; (7) the level and trend in consumer income; and (8) other pertinent factors bearing on the marketing of celery.

SEC. 5. Shipment regulations—(a) Recommendation for regulations. (1) Whenever the Shippers Advisory Committee deems it advisable to regulate any variety pursuant to this section, the said committee shall recommend the particular method or methods of regulation, set forth in section 5 (c) hereof, deemed advisable by it to be made effective during a specified period or periods. In making such determination, the said committee shall give due consideration to the following factors relating to celery produced in Florida and in other States; (i) market prices, including prices by grades and sizes of each variety for which regulation is recommended; (ii) amount of celery on hand at the principal markets, as evidenced by supplies on track (iii) maturity, conditions, and available supply of celery in Florida, including the grades and sizes thereof, and in other States; (iv) the level and trend in consumer income; and (v) other pertinent market information. The Shippers Advisory Committee shall promptly report the recommendations so made, with supporting information, to the Industry Committee; and the Industry Committee shall, in turn, submit the same to the Secretary, together with its own recommendations and supporting information respecting the factors hereinbefore enumerated.

(2) The failure of the Shippers Advisory Committee to make a recommendation, after having received notice of the intention of the Industry Committee to meet for the purpose of receiving such recommendation, with respect to regulation pursuant to this section, shall not preclude the Industry Committee from submitting its recommendations and supporting information to the Secretary.

(3) The Industry Committee shall promptly give notice to all handlers and growers of such meeting to consider the recommendation of regulations pursuant to this section. Such notice shall contain a direction to handlers and growers to make the applications required by (d) (3) of this section. The Industry Committee shall promptly give notice of any such recommendation before the recommended effective time of the proposed regulation, and shall also mail a copy of such regulation to each handler who has filed his address with the Industry Committee for this purpose.

(b) Regulation by the Secretary. Whenever the Secretary shall find from the recommendations and reports of the Shippers Advisory Committee or the Industry Committee, or from other available information, that to limit the shipment of any variety by one or more or all of the methods set forth in section 5 (c) hereof, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall so limit the shipment of such variety during a specified period or periods. Prior to the beginning of each such regulation, the Secretary shall notify the Industry Committee of the regulation issued by him, and such committee shall notify all handlers thereof, as aforesaid. When the regulation as issued by the Secretary is different from the recommendation of the Industry Committee, notice of such regulation shall be also by mailing a copy thereof to each handler who has filed his address with the Industry Committee for this purpose.

(c) Methods of regulating shipments—(1) Method I; grades. Regulation by this method shall be by specification of the grade or grades of celery of any variety which may be handled during a specified period or periods of regulation.

(2) Method II; sizes. Regulation by this method shall be by specification of the size or sizes of stalks of celery of any variety which may be handled during a specified period or periods of regulation.

(3) Method III; available supply. Regulation by this method shall be by specification, for each handled, of such portion of the handler's reported available supply of celery which may be harvested for shipment during a specified period or periods of regulation. For purposes of this method of regulation, the following terms have the following meanings:

(i) "Block" means a row or an uninterrupted series of rows of celery of the same variety which were planted in a particular field during the same calendar week.

(ii) "Field" means a well-delineated plot of cultivated land upon which celery is grown.

(iii) "Available supply of celery" means the linear feet of rows of unharvested celery ready for harvest for shipment during a particular period.

(d) Information and reports to be furnished by handlers; applications for allotment. (1) Prior to October 10 of each fiscal period, each handler shall provide the Industry Committee with three copies of a map or diagram of each field of celery owned by such handler, and of each field with respect to which such handler furnishes the Industry Committee evidence satisfactory to such committee that such handler has contracted to buy some or all of the celery produced thereon or has entered into an agreement with the grower authorizing the handler exclusively to harvest for shipment any portion of the celery produced thereon. Each such copy shall be certified by the handler as to the ownership of, or authority to handle, the celery; shall be identified as to the grower; and shall show the various blocks thereof properly designated by number. Together with the aforesaid copies of maps or diagrams, each handler shall submit to the Industry Committee the following information relative to each field of celery, as aforesaid, planted during August and September of the then current fiscal period:

(i) The variety of celery planted in each block;

(ii) The calendar week during which such celery was planted;

(iii) The number of rows of such celery; and

(iv) The number of linear feet constituting each such row.

(2) Not later than the 10th day of each calendar month during the period November through May of each fiscal period, each handler shall submit to the Industry Committee a report concerning all fields of celery, as aforesaid, planted during the immediately preceding calendar month. Each such report shall also contain so much of the information, including copies of maps or diagrams, referred to in section (d) (1) hereof as may be necessary to reflect a complete report on all fields of celery, as aforesaid, planted since August 1 of such fiscal period.

(3) During the calendar months of December through June of each fiscal period, each handler shall submit not later than 12:01 p. m., e. s. t., of Tuesday of each calendar week thereof, a written report to the Industry Committee, on a form approved by the committee, setting forth his available supply of celery for the following calendar week; and each such report shall identify such available supply of celery by reference to the particular block from which such handler expects the celery will be harvested for shipment during such calendar week. Each such report shall contain a request for an allotment of linear feet of rows of celery to be harvested for shipment during the following calendar week in the event regulation pursuant to the aforesaid Method III is made effective during such calendar week. Such request for allotment shall be based upon the respective handler's reported available supply of celery set forth in his written report. Together with the aforesaid report, each handler shall submit an additional written report setting forth: (i) the total number of linear feet of rows of celery harvested by such handler from each block during the preceding calendar week; (ii) the number of linear feet of rows of celery not harvested during such preceding calendar week; and (iii) the reference to each row of celery, whether or not harvested, by block designation. Whenever, during any calendar week, any variety is regulated pursuant to Method III, as set forth in section 5 (c) hereof, each handler shall submit, in connection with the information required to be submitted by (ii) of this paragraph relative to such calendar week, a statement of the total number of linear feet of rows of celery harvested for shipment during such calendar week by such handler pursuant to an allotment from the Secretary in accordance with section 5 (c) hereof, and a statement of the number of linear feet of rows of celery required, by the aforesaid regulation, not to be harvested for shipment.

(e) Recommending allotments. In recommending allotments for handlers pursuant to the aforesaid Method III, the Industry Committee shall consider only the linear feet of rows of celery included in the respective handler's report of the available supply of celery upon which such handler based his application for an allotment, as aforesaid, and for which such handler had provided such committee with the information, copies of maps or diagrams, and reports required by the provision of (d) hereof. Such allotment recommendation shall be in terms of a specific percentage of such handler's reported available supply of celery for the period. Such percentages shall be calculated by dividing the total number of linear feet of rows of celery determined to be advisable to be harvested for shipment during such regulation period by all handlers by the total number of linear feet of rows of celery in all handlers' reports of available supply of celery upon which such handlers based their applications for allotment for such regulation period. Such calculations shall be made to the nearest one-hundredth. In determining the total number of linear feet of rows of celery advisable to be harvested for shipment, the Industry Committee shall:

(1) Estimate the quantity of celery, in terms of crates, advisable to be shipped during the following week because of the factors enumerated in (a) (1) of this section 5,

(2) Estimate for the following week the area average yield, in terms of crates, from reports by field representatives of the committee, and such representatives' reports of maturity and other conditions for such week,

(3) Calculate by dividing (1) by (2) the acres deemed advisable to be harvested during the following week, and

(4) Multiply the linear feet of celery per acre by the result obtained in (3).

(f) Fixing allotment. (1) In fixing allotments for each handler pursuant to the aforesaid Method III, the Secretary shall consider only the linear feet of rows of celery reported by such handler and included in the Industry Committee's recommendations for allotments; and the Secretary shall allot to each such handler the total number of linear feet of rows of celery that he may harvest for shipment during a specified calendar week. Each such allotment shall be in terms of a specific percentage, calculated as aforesaid, of such handler's reported available supply of celery for such calendar week and shall be applicable to each row of celery reported as a part of such available supply. Celery allotted for harvest for shipment, pursuant to regulations issued by this Method III, shall be harvested only from the rows of celery included in the available supply of celery reported for such regulation period and shall be harvested from the same relative location in each row within each field.

(2) Celery represented by the complement of the allotment percentage for a particular week shall remain unharvested until a certificate of compliance has been issued by any designated agent of the Industry Committee with respect to such unharvested celery. None of such unharvested celery may thereafter be harvested for shipment until all handler's unharvested celery originally included in reports of available supply of celery for a particular calendar week are authorized to be harvested for shipment by the Industry Committee with the approval of the Secretary.

(g) Modification of allotments. (1) The Industry Committee may permit any handler to withdraw his application for an allotment or portion thereof, upon written or telegraphic application therefor by such handler, with respect to such rows of celery which the Industry Committee finds are not, in fact, available for shipment because (i) such celery is not sufficiently matured to warrant shipment; (ii) mechanical conditions prevent shipment; (iii) labor conditions prevent harvest; (iv) weather conditions prevent harvest; or (v) other conditions justify such withdrawal. Such rows of celery may thereafter be included in such handler's report of the available supply of celery only for the next succeeding calendar week and an application for an allotment made for such week based thereon. The allotment percentage for such withdrawn celery which is included in the available supply of celery for such succeeding calendar week shall be five (5) percentage points less than the allotment percentage fixed for such calendar week. All such celery harvested for shipment shall be harvested in accordance with the provisions otherwise applicable to celery harvested for shipment pursuant to regulations under Method III and the provisions of (f) (2) of this section 5 shall apply for the celery represented by the complement of the allotment percentage determined by the provisions of this paragraph.

(2) Each handler who gives written or telegraphic notice to the Industry Committee that such handler desires, during a particular calendar week of regulation pursuant to Method III, to harvest for shipment celery from a new available supply of celery for such calendar week and which available supply was not previously reported for such calendar week nor included in an application for an allotment for such calendar week, may harvest a portion of such new available supply of celery subject to the following conditions; (i) the total number of linear feet of rows of celery of such new available supply of celery shall be included in the aforesaid notice and identified by rows and blocks; (ii) the allotment percentage for such new available supply of celery shall be the allotment percentage for such calendar week less ten (10) percentage points; (iii) all such celery harvested for shipment shall be harvested in accordance with the provisions otherwise applicable to celery harvested for shipment pursuant to regulations under Method III; (iv) the provisions of (f) (2) of this section 5 shall apply for the celery represented by the complement of the allotment percentage determined by the provisions of (ii) of this paragraph.

SEC. 6. Inspection and certificates. Each handler shall, prior to making each shipment of celery, cause each such shipment to be inspected by a Federal or Federal-State Inspector. Each handler shall submit to the Industry Committee by not later than 12:01 p. m. on Tuesday of each week, a copy of the certificate or memorandum issued by the Federal or Federal-State inspection service with regard to celery shipping during the immediately preceding week and such certificate or memorandum shall state in the event of grade regulation, the grade or grades of celery in such shipment, and in the event of size regulation such certificate or memorandum shall state the size or sizes of celery in such shipment. The aforesaid certificate or memorandum shall also state in the event of regulation by Methods I or II of section 5 hereof, whether the celery in the respective shipment meets the requirements of grade, and size regulation, respectively, effective pursuant hereto. Failure to include such statement shall not relieve the handler of his responsibilities as provided herein. There shall accompany each certificate or memorandum issued by the Federal or Federal-State Inspector a shipper's manifest of varieties, grades, or sizes.

SEC. 7. Compliance. Except as provided herein, no handler shall ship celery, the shipment of which has been prohibited pursuant hereto; and each handler shall ship celery only in conformity to the provisions hereof and of the regulations, if any, issued by the Secretary pursuant hereto.

SEC. 8. Reports. For the purpose of enabling the Industry Committee to perform its functions and duties pursuant to the provisions hereof, each handler shall furnish to the Industry Committee such information, in such form and at such times and substantiated in such manner as shall be prescribed by the Industry Committee and approved by the Secretary, as may thus be requested by the Industry Committee with regard to each shipment of celery.

SEC. 9. Right of the Secretary. The members of the Industry Committee, including successors and alternates thereof, and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the Committee, shall be subject to removal or suspension at any time by the Secretary. Each and every order, regulation, determination, decision, or other act of each committee provided for herein shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove such order, regulation, decision, determination, or other act, and upon such disapproval, at any time, such action by a committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

SEC. 10. Effective time and termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached hereto, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways hereinafter specified.

(b) Termination. (1) The Secretary may, at any time, terminate the provisions hereof by giving at least one (1) day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(2) The Secretary may terminate or suspend the operation of any of the provisions hereof whenever he finds that any such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(3) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions hereof at the end of any fiscal period whenever he finds, by referendum or otherwise, that such termination is favored by the majority of the growers who, during such representative period as may be determined by the Secretary, have been engaged in the production of celery for market: Provided, That such majority have, during such representative period, produced for market more than fifty (50) percent of the volume of such celery produced for market within the area; but such termination shall be effective only if announced on or before the last day of July of the then current fiscal period.

(4) The provisions hereof shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the Act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

(c) Proceedings after termination. (1) Upon the termination of the provisions hereof, the then functioning members of the Industry Committee shall continue as joint trustees, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of said Committee, of all funds and property then in the possession of or under control of such Committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. The procedure rules governing the activities of said trustees, including but not being limited to the determination as to whether action shall be taken by a majority vote of the trustees, shall be prescribed by the Secretary.

(2) The said trustees shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; and shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the Industry Committee and of the trustees, to such person as the Secretary may direct; and shall, upon request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person the right to all of the funds, property and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant hereto.

(3) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered by the Industry Committee or its members, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the members of said Committee and upon the said trustees.

(4) Any funds collected for expenses pursuant to the provisions hereof and held by such trustees or such other person, over and above amounts necessary to meet obligations and the expenses incurred necessarily by the trustees or such other person in the performance of their duties hereunder, shall, as soon as practicable after the termination hereof, be returned to the handlers pro rata in proportion to their contributions made pursuant hereto.

SEC. 11. Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue hereof shall cease upon the termination hereof, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence hereof.

SEC. 12. Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the Government, or name any bureau or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

SEC. 13. Derogation. Nothing contained herein is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or, in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

SEC. 14. Personal liability. No member or alternate of said Industry Committee nor any employee thereof, shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any handler or to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, or employee, except for acts of dishonesty.

SEC. 15. Separability. If any provision hereof is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder hereof, or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing, shall not be affected thereby.

SEC. 16. Amendments—(a) Proposals. Amendments hereto may be proposed, from time to time, by the Industry Committee or by the Secretary.

(b) *Hearing and approval. After due notice and hearing, and upon the execution of the proposed amendment by handlers who, during the preceding fiscal period, shipped not less than fifty (50) percent of the celery shipped during such period, the Secretary may approve such amendment and it shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may designate: Provided, however, That in the event any amendment alters the manner in which the handling of celery is regulated by this agreement, the Secretary shall not approve such amendment unless he determines that such amendment is favored or approved by at least two-thirds (⅔) of the growers of celery, who, during a representative period determined by the Secretary, have been engaged in the State of Florida in the production of celery for market, or by growers, of celery, who, during such representative period, have produced, in the State of Florida, for market at least two-thirds (⅔) of the volume of celery produced for market during such representative period.

SEC. 17. *Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts and, when one counterpart is signed by the Secretary, all such counterparts shall constitute, when taken together, one and the same instrument as if all signatures were contained in one original.

SEC. 18. *Additional parties. After the effective date hereof, any handler who has not previously executed this agreement may become a party hereto if a counterpart hereof is executed by him and delivered to the Secretary. This agreement shall take effect as to such new contracting party at the time such counterpart is delivered to the Secretary, and the benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by this agreement shall then be effective as to such new contracting party.

SEC. 19. Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination hereof or of any regulation issued pursuant hereto, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen prior thereto, or (b) release or extinguish any violation hereof or of any regulation issued hereunder, or (c) affect or impair any right or remedy of the United States, or of the Secretary, or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

SEC. 20. *Order with marketing agreement. Each signatory handler favors and approves the issuance of an order, by the Secretary, regulating the handling of celery in the same manner as is provided for in this agreement; and each signatory handler hereby requests the Secretary to issue, pursuant to the act, such an order.

HANDLING OF MILK IN CLEVELAND, OHIO MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF REPORT AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO PROPOSED ORDER

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders, as amended (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq.; 10 F.R. 11791), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the report of the Assistant Administrator for Regulatory and Marketing Service matters, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area, to be made effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C., 601 et seq.).

Interested parties may file exceptions to this report with the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, Room 1331 South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 20th day after the publication of this report in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

The public hearing, on the record of which the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order were formulated, was called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following receipt of a petition filed by the Milk Producers Federation of Cleveland, Inc., and was held at Cleveland, Ohio, from November 29 to December 5, 1945, inclusive, and from January 28 to February 1, 1946, inclusive, following an original notice of hearing dated November 10, 1945.

The major issues developed at the hearing were concerned with the following: (1) Whether milk produced for the Cleveland fluid milk market is in the current of interstate commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products; (2) whether the issuance of a marketing agreement or of an order is justified; (3) the proper size of the marketing area; (4) what milk should be covered for pricing purposes; (5) the classification of milk and the manner of allocating the classified utilization of milk to producers; (6) the level of class prices to be paid and the method for determining such prices, including an even production incentive plan and location adjustments; and (7) the type of pool to be employed in distributing returns to producers.

The conclusions reached with respect to these issues, together with some of the considerations leading to such conclusions, are set forth below:

(a) Milk to be regulated under the proposed marketing agreement and order is in the current of interstate commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products.[1]

The nature of the commerce in milk and milk products in the Cleveland marketing area may be outlined briefly as follows:

Milk is shipped currently to Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area milk plants, as part of the fluid milk supply of such plants, directly from approximately 40 producers' farms located in Pennsylvania.

A number of cream plants located in several States ship cream to the Cleveland marketing area regularly, which cream is used there for fluid cream, ice cream, and other milk products and in the standardization of fluid milk. Cream so received is commingled with producers' milk after being received in Cleveland in the preparation of fluid milk and other products and is also sold throughout the marketing area as fluid cream in competition with cream derived from producers' milk. When emergency milk is needed for fluid use in Cleveland, these plants often ship milk to meet the emergency need. Sizable quantities of cream and emergency milk have been shipped to the Cleveland marketing area from such plants over a period of several years. In addition, several milk plants located in Michigan, New York, and Pennsylvania have shipped emergency milk to the marketing area over a period of several years.

Manufacturing plants located in several States ship substantial amounts of milk products to the Cleveland marketing area. Products so received from this group of plants are sold throughout the marketing area in competition with similar products made from producers' milk. When additional cream is needed for fluid use in the marketing area, many of these plants ship cream for such use.

The milk of Cleveland producers is purchased in competition with (1) milk produced for other fluid milk markets, such as Toledo and Pittsburgh, that receive regular milk supplies from States other than those in which such respective markets are located and (2) milk produced for manufacturing plants from which various products of milk are sold across State lines. Also, milk of Cleveland producers is disposed of in substantial quantities as fluid milk, fluid cream, ice cream mix, and other milk products to outlets in States other than Ohio.

(b) The issuance of a marketing agreement and order is justified.[2]

The principal problem facing producers in the Cleveland marketing area is a familiar one which in the past has resulted in instability in this and in other fluid milk markets. It is the lack of a well-defined and uniform price plan guaranteeing producers equal shares of the market at a reasonable price level, and the assurance that their returns will have a sound basis in the fundamental economic conditions affecting the market rather than primarily on the relative bargaining strength of producers and handlers. From the record it appears that the history of milk marketing in the Cleveland marketing area has been characterized by reoccurring periods of instability and unrest that have led producers to be dissatisfied with the conditions under which their milk is sold. None of the methods of pricing milk which have been tried in the past has led to stable marketing by assuring producers of uniform and dependable prices consistent with changing economic conditions.

Although handlers representing a portion of the milk in the market have shown a willingness, at the request of some of the organized producers, to work toward a uniform price plan based on the classified utilization of milk, the failure of other handlers to participate in such a plan has rendered ineffective the efforts of those handlers willing to price milk on such basis. In view of the complex nature of the Cleveland market and of the large number of handlers distributing milk in the area, it appears extremely doubtful if a uniform buying plan will evolve as a matter of voluntary negotiation between producers and handlers. There appears to be nothing to indicate that the market will of itself develop a pattern under which all producers will be treated uniformly and that will give producers the information on which they can be assured that their returns will be arrived at in recognition of the basic elements affecting market prices.

(c) The Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area should include the territory geographically within Cuyahoga County and within Willoughby Township in Lake County, Ohio.[3]

The proposed marketing area includes towns and communities which, taken with the city of Cleveland, form an integral and compact market, in which fluid milk and its byproducts are freely marketed under highly similar conditions. Throughout most of the proposed marketing area, Cleveland inspected milk or its quality equivalent is required under local health standards. Those communities not having formal health standards equivalent to those of Cleveland are included only in instances where it appears that the competition with milk distributed from other communities in the marketing area is sufficient to necessitate regulation to prevent local handlers from having a buying advantage over handlers operating out of such other communities in the marketing area. Cleveland inspected milk is distributed throughout the entire proposed marketing area, and it is sold in substantial competition with all other milk which would be regulated.

The marketing area originally proposed by producers, and concurred in by handlers, included several additional townships in Lorain, Lake, Geauga, Summit, and Portage Counties, Ohio. Such townships lie just outside the boundary lines of Cuyahoga County. However, the latter area is believed to be unnecessarily extensive and probably would result in the coverage of distributors primarily engaged in other fluid milk markets, creating competitive disadvantages for such distributors in relation to other distributors in such outside markets who constitute their major competition.

(d) The term "producer" should include all dairy farmers producing milk regularly for the Cleveland marketing area.[4] It should not include dairy farmers producing milk primarily for other outlets or for plants shipping irregularly to the Cleveland marketing area.

It appears that this can best be accomplished by defining a producer as a person producing milk approved by the health authority of a community in the marketing area for consumption as fluid milk in such community which is delivered to a pool plant (a pool plant being a plant considered to be a regular supplier of milk for consumption as fluid milk in the marketing area). Farmers normally shipping to pool plants but whose milk is diverted to a nonpool plant during the flush production season should retain status as producers during such period. A producer-handler should not be considered as a producer with respect to milk transferred from his bottling plant to a pool plant. Such milk should be considered as "other source milk."

The term "handler" should include any person who disposes of milk in the marketing area for consumption in fluid form, except that it should not include a person disposing of "other source milk" as a supplementary supply to pool plants.[4] The term should be broad enough to include a person operating a pool plant, a person operating a nonpool plant from which a route is operated which extends into the marketing area, and a person operating a nonpool plant disposing of other source milk as the sole source of supply of a pool plant.

A "pool plant"[5] should include any bottling plant out of which milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drink is distributed in the Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area and any other milk plant supplying such a bottling plant at least half of the time or with at least 50 percent of its supply of milk.[7] Under existing health regulations, the Cleveland market has a number of "stand-by" plants for milk and cream as well as for various milk products. However, only certain plants appear to furnish milk regularly or in substantial quantities as part of the qualified milk supply of the marketing area. In the attached order those plants (other than bottling plants) which are an integral part of the Cleveland market have been identified. Other plants not named in the attached order but mentioned in the hearing record appear to be emergency sources of milk for Cleveland and, in some cases, are more closely associated with other fluid milk markets than with the Cleveland market. In addition to the naming of certain plants as pool plants because they are the primary suppliers of Cleveland area bottling plants, certain rules are included to provide the way by which additional plants may become designated as pool plants because it is recognized that the pool should not be restricted to those plants that happen to be currently the regular sources of market milk. However, it is recognized further that the protection of producers who have met the health requirements to ship milk to the marketing area and have in view to do so over a considerable period of time demands that new plant sources should meet certain minimum requirements on entry into the pool. The plants named in the order as pool plants have met the minimum requirements applicable to the entry of new pool plants. Similarly, rules are provided for the removal of plants as pool plants if certain minimum standards of delivery of milk are not maintained.

(e) There should be three classes of milk as defined in the proposed marketing agreement and order which is a part of this report.[8]

The classification plan proposed by producers provided for three classes of milk, but with a somewhat different grouping of the items to be included in the various classes than appear in the proposed marketing agreement and order. The classification plan proposed by handlers provided for four classes of milk.

The principal discussions concerning classification were directed toward the proper classification of (1) skim milk and butterfat used in cream, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk drink, and (2) shrinkage. Producers proposed that these items be classified as Class I milk. Handlers proposed to classify skim milk and butterfat disposed of as fluid cream in a class by itself and to classify skim milk, buttermilk, and flavored milk drink in the same class as ice cream and related products. Although handlers contended that skim milk and butterfat disposed of as fluid cream should be classified in a separate class, testimony concerning prices paid for cream from sources other than producers, and prices currently being paid producers for all milk, indicates that if cream were included in a separate class, it would not be appropriate to fix prices on the skim milk and butterfat in producers' milk so classified lower than those proposed in connection with its classification as Class I milk.

Skim milk and butterfat used in the production of skim milk, buttermilk, and flavored milk drink should be Class I milk. These products are disposed of in a form and for a use more nearly similar to the form and use of fluid milk than of any milk product. Likewise, the quality of milk required for such products is similar to that required for fluid milk.

(f) The class prices should be established at such levels as to reflect the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for milk to insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and to be in the public interest.[9]

The Class I milk price on a 3.5 percent butterfat basis would be computed by adding to the basic formula price (manufacturing milk price level) the following amounts for the delivery periods indicated: May and June, $0.65; October, November, and December, $1.15; and all others, $1.00. The Class II milk price on a 3.5 percent butterfat basis would be similarly computed by adding to the basic formula price, $0.45, $0.75, and $0.60, respectively, for the corresponding delivery periods. The prices for skim milk and for butterfat in Class I milk and Class II milk, respectively, would be derived from the above-mentioned formula prices for Class I milk and Class II milk.

Taking the basic formula price (manufacturing milk price level) of $2.76 per hundredweight for April 1946, the price plan proposed would provide class prices per hundredweight for 3.5 percent milk, f. o. b., the marketing area, as follows:

Class	May and June	Oct., Nov., and Dec.	All other months
Class I milk	$3.61	$3.91	$3.76
Class II milk	3.21	3.51	3.36
Class III milk	[1] 2.62	[1] 2.62	[1] 2.62

[1] Approximate.

It is estimated that a uniform price of $3.57 per hundredweight for all milk (3.5 percent butterfat content) would have resulted had the formulas and prices proposed been in effect during the calendar year of 1945. During such year the reported average price paid by the handlers in the market for all milk was $3.39.

Location differentials to producers and to handlers for milk received at country plants are similar to those proposed by the handlers except that (1) no location differential is established with respect to milk received at country plants located within 30 miles of the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, and (2) the location differentials will be applicable only with respect to the actual weight of milk, skim milk, cream, or milk products moved to the marketing area from these country plants to which the location differentials are applicable. The location differentials proposed by producers appeared to approximate those currently in effect in the market. However, it was concluded that the latter would not be sufficient.

The announcement of prices to producers with reference to a 3.5 percent butterfat test follows the custom of the market. For the purpose of computing the value of milk for each handler, class prices for skim milk and butterfat separately are computed in the proposed order.

Seasonality of prices has been adopted in order to encourage a shift of milk production toward the winter months to alleviate the shortage of milk which has characterized the market at that time of the year. In this respect handlers proposed that an "even production incentive" plan similar to that in effect in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area be provided in addition to seasonal class prices. It was felt, however, that seasonal class prices would be sufficient at the present time and that it would needlessly complicate the provisions of the proposed marketing agreement and order to introduce two plans having a similar purpose. Moreover, before the type of even production incentive plan proposed by handlers is adopted for Cleveland, it should be studied carefully in relation to possible effects on other nearby fluid milk markets not having such a plan.

Although the "bracket" system of changing Class I milk and Class II milk prices in relation to the basic formula price was proposed by producers and concurred in by handlers at the hearing, it is concluded also that this system should not be adopted in Cleveland at the present time.

(g) The market-wide type of pool should be employed for the purpose of computing the uniform price to producers, but participation in the pool should be limited to the milk of producers shipping to plants that are engaged primarily in supplying milk regularly for the Cleveland marketing area.[10]

Under the market-wide pool a uniform price would be computed on the basis of the combined classification values of milk for all pool plants, which would be adjusted for variations in the butterfat content of the individual producer's milk and the distance from Cleveland of the plant where such milk is received.

Certain handlers proposed an "individual-handler" type of pool, under which the uniform prices paid producers by handlers would differ according to variations among them in the proportions of milk in each of the various classes. But because of the wide variations among handlers in the quantities of milk utilized in the various classes and in consideration of the concentration of surplus handling facilities in a relatively small number of the plants affected, the market-wide pool appears to be more workable for the present.

The record indicates that there may be some handlers, primarily engaged in the distribution of milk in other fluid milk markets, who will send more or less regularly to the Cleveland marketing area less than 10 percent of their total disposition of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drink. There is also a real possibility that some handlers who purchase no milk from producers may obtain supplies from plants not eligible for designation as pool plants. In order to prevent competitive disadvantage to other handlers operating pool plants, it is provided, in connection with the computation of the total pool value, that handlers not operating pool plants shall pay to producers, through the pool, that amount representing the difference between the Class I milk and Class III milk prices applied to such skim milk or butterfat as they dispose of as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drink (1) on routes extending into the marketing area, or (2) to pool plants receiving no milk from producers or from other pool plants.

The following proposed marketing order is recommended as the detailed means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not set out in detail in this report because its substantive provisions would be identical to those contained in the following proposed order.

Proposed Order

Findings. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced in the public hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The issuance of this order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and all the terms and conditions of this order, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determine pursuant to sections 2 and 8e of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) Milk to be regulated by this order is in the current of interstate commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products; and

(4) The issuance of this order is the only practical means pursuant to the act to advance the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area.

It is hereby ordered, That such handling of milk for the Cleveland, Ohio, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce, or as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products, shall from the effective date hereof be in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

(2) The pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by all milk, skim milk, cream, and each milk product on hand at the beginning and at the end of each delivery period;

(3) The weights and tests for butterfat and for other contents of all milk and milk products handled; and

(4) Payments to producers and to cooperative associations.

SEC. 5. Classification.—(a) Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. Skim milk and butterfat contained in milk, skim milk, and cream, or used to produce milk products, received from all sources by each handler at his pool plant(s) shall be classified separately (as skim milk or butterfat) pursuant to the following provisions of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (d) and (e) of this section, skim milk and butterfat described in (a) of this section shall be classified by the market administrator on the basis of the following classes of utilization:

(1) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat:

(i) Disposed of in fluid form as milk; skim milk or buttermilk, except for livestock feed; flavored milk or flavored milk drink; sweet or sour cream; any mixture of cream and milk (or skim milk); or eggnog;

(ii) Transferred as any item included in (i) of this subparagraph from a pool plant to (a) the plant of a producer-handler, or (b) a nonpool plant located more than 100 miles from such pool plant by shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator;

(iii) Accounted for as any item not listed under (i) of this subparagraph or as Class II milk or Class III milk; or

(iv) Such shrinkage on milk received from producers computed pursuant to (c) (4) of this section which is in excess of 2 percent of such receipts.

(2) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat used to produce bulk condensed skim milk or whole milk (sweetened or unsweetened); ice cream, imitation ice cream, and other frozen desserts and mixes for similar products (liquid or powdered); or storage cream (cream placed in a licensed cold storage warehouse for a period of not less than 30 days, and which is subject at all times, while in such warehouse, to inspection by the market administrator to determine the physical presence of such cream).

(3) Class III milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat:

(i) Used to produce butter (including starter); butter oil; cheese (including cottage cheese); evaporated or condensed milk (or skim milk) in hermetically sealed cans; casein; nonfat dry milk solids; dry whole milk; condensed or dry buttermilk; whey; powdered malted milk; lactose; and skim milk or buttermilk disposed of for livestock feed;

(ii) In actual shrinkage of milk received from producers computed pursuant to (c) (4) of this section, but not in excess of 2 percent of such receipts; and

(iii) In actual shrinkage of other source milk computed pursuant to (c) (4) of this section.

(c) Shrinkage. The market administrator shall determine the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in milk received from producers and in other source milk received in the following manner:

(1) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, by (i) combining the shrinkage thereof for all pool plants operated by the handler, and (ii) combining in a separate sum the shrinkage thereof for all nonpool plants operated by him to which any skim milk or butterfat has been transferred from any of his pool plants;

(2) Prorate the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to (1) (ii) of this paragraph, in such nonpool plants between (i) skim milk or butterfat, respectively, transferred from any of his pool plants, and (ii) skim milk or butterfat, respectively, received from all other sources;

(3) Add to the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to (1) (i) of this paragraph, the shrinkage on skim milk or butterfat, respectively, transferred from the handler's pool plants to his nonpool plants computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph; and

(4) Prorate the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to (3) of this paragraph between that in milk received from producers and in other source milk at his pool plants, after deducting from the total receipts therein the receipts from pool plants other than his own.

(d) Interhandler and nonhandler transfers. Skim milk or butterfat transferred as any item listed in (b) (1) (i) of this section from a pool plant to any other plant (except to a plant described in (b) (1) (ii) of this section) shall be classified as follows:

(1) As Class I milk, if so transferred to another pool plant unless utilization in another class is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 8th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transfer was made: Provided, That the classification of such skim milk or butterfat shall be subject to the allocation of skim milk and butterfat in the sequence set forth in (g) and (h) of this section; or

(2) As Class I milk, if so transferred to a nonpool plant unless (i) other utilization is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both the buyer and seller on or before the 8th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transfer was made, (ii) the buyer maintains books and records showing utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at his plant which are made available to the market administrator for audit, and (iii) such buyer's plant had actually used not less than an equivalent amount of skim milk or butterfat in the use indicated in such statement: Provided, That if such nonpool plant had not actually used an equivalent amount of skim milk or butterfat in such indicated use, the remaining pounds shall be classified in the next lowest-priced available class of utilization as if the classes of utilization set forth in (b) of this section were applicable to such nonpool plant.

(e) Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (1) All skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(2) Any skim milk or butterfat classified (except that classified pursuant to (b) (1) (ii) of this section) in one class shall be reclassified if used or reused by such handler or by another handler in another class.

(f) Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each delivery period the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the delivery period report submitted by each handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk for such handler.

(g) Allocation of butterfat classified. The pounds of butterfat remaining after making the following computations shall be the pounds in each class allocated to milk received from producers:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of butterfat in Class III milk (other than butterfat in butter), the pounds of butterfat shrinkage allowed pursuant to (b) (3) (ii) of this section;

(2) Subtract from the remaining pounds of butterfat in Class I milk, the smaller of the following:

(i) The pounds by which the butterfat in milk received from producers is less than 105 percent of the pounds of butterfat in such handler's milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drink classified as Class I milk pursuant to (b) (1) (i) of this section, not including such Class I milk transferred to pool plants or to nonpool plants; or

(ii) The pounds of butterfat in other source milk received;

(3) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat in other source milk, the pounds deducted pursuant to (2) of this paragraph;

(4) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class, after making the deductions pursuant to (2) (i) of this paragraph, in series beginning with the lowest-priced utilization, the pounds of butterfat remaining in other source milk after making the deduction pursuant to (3) of this paragraph;

(5) Subtract from the remaining pounds of butterfat in each class, the pounds of butterfat received from other handlers in such classes pursuant to (d) of this section; and

(6) Add to the remaining pounds of butterfat in Class III milk (other than butterfat in butter), the pounds subtracted pursuant to (1) of this paragraph; or if the remaining pounds of butterfat in all classes exceed the pounds of butterfat in milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of butterfat in each class in series beginning with the lowest-priced utilization.

(h) Allocation of skim milk classified. Allocate the pounds of skim milk in each class to milk received from producers in a manner similar to that prescribed for butterfat in (g) of this section.

SEC. 6. Minimum prices—(a) Basic formula price to be used in determining prices of Class I milk and Class II milk. The basic formula price per hundredweight of milk to be used in determining the Class I milk and Class II milk prices pursuant to (b) and (c) of this section shall be the highest of the prices per hundredweight of milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content computed by the market administrator pursuant to (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph.

(1) The average of the basic (or field) prices ascertained to have been paid per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department of Agriculture by the companies indicated below:

(ii) Add an amount equal to 2.4 times the average weekly prevailing price per pound of "Twins" during the delivery period on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin: Provided, That if the price of "Twins" is not quoted on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange the weekly prevailing price per pound of "Cheddars" shall be used; and

(iii) Divide by 7, add 30 percent thereof, and then multiply by 3.5.

(3) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus amounts pursuant to (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph:

(i) From the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago, as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period, subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent thereof, and then multiply by 3.5; and

(ii) From the average of the carlot prices per pound of nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption, spray and roller process, f. o. b. manufacturing plants, as published for the Chicago area for the delivery period by the Department of Agriculture, including in such average the quotations published for any fractional part of the previous delivery period which were not published and available for the price determination of such nonfat dry milk solids for the previous delivery period, deduct 5.5 cents, multiply by 8.5 and then multiply by 0.965.

(b) Class I milk prices. The respective minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. the marketing area, for skim milk and butterfat in milk received from producers or from a pool plant of a cooperative association, which is classified as Class I milk, shall be as follows, as computed by the market administrator:

(1) Add to the basic formula price the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $0.85; October, November, and December, $1.15; and all others, $1.00.

(2) The price of butterfat shall be the sum obtained in (1) of this paragraph, multiplied by 20.

(3) The price of skim milk shall be computed by (i) multiplying the price for butterfat pursuant to (2) of this paragraph by 0.035; (ii) subtracting such amount from the sum obtained in (1) of this paragraph; (iii) dividing such net amount by 0.965; and (iv) rounding off to the nearest full cent.

(c) Class II milk prices. The respective minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. the marketing area, for skim milk and butterfat in milk received from producers or from a pool plant of a cooperative association, which is classified as Class II milk, shall be as follows, as computed by the market administrator:

(1) Add to the basic formula price the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $0.54; October, November, and December, $0.75; and all others, $0.60.

(2) The price of butterfat shall be the sum obtained in (1) of this paragraph, multiplied by 20.

(3) The price of skim milk shall be computed by (i) multiplying the price for butterfat pursuant to (2) of this paragraph by 0.035; (ii) subtracting such amount from the sum obtained in (1) of this paragraph; (iii) dividing such net amount by 0.965; and (iv) rounding off to the nearest full cent.

(d) Class III milk prices. The respective minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. his plant, for skim milk and butterfat in milk received from producers or from a pool plant of a cooperative association, which is classified as Class III milk shall be as follows, as computed by the market administrator:

(1) The price per hundredweight of butterfat shall be the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period, multiplied by 120: Provided, That the price per hundredweight of butterfat used to produce butter shall be such price less $3.60;

(2) Except as set forth in (3) of this paragraph, the price per hundredweight of skim milk (calculated to the nearest full cent) shall be the average price per pound of nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption, roller process, f. o. b. manufacturing plants, as published for the Chicago area for the delivery period by the Department of Agriculture, less 5.5 cents and then multiplied by 8.5; and

(3) When the higher of the prices computed pursuant to (a) (1) or (a) (2) of this section is higher than the price of 100 pounds of milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content computed by adding the value of 3.5 pounds of butterfat pursuant to (1) of this paragraph, prior to the application of the proviso therein, to the value of 96.5 pounds of skim milk pursuant to (2) of this paragraph, the price per hundredweight of skim milk used to produce evaporated or condensed milk (or skim milk) in hermetically sealed cans, cottage cheese, and powdered malted milk shall be computed as follows and used in lieu of the price computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph:

(i) Multiply by 20 the higher of the prices computed pursuant to (a) (1) or (a) (2) of this section;

(ii) Multiply the result obtained by .035;

(iii) Subtract such result from the higher of the prices computed pursuant to (a) (1) or (a) (2) of this section; and

(iv) Divide the result by 0.965, and round off to the nearest full cent.

(e) Emergency price provisions. (1) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining minimum class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy, or other similar payment, being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk, or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any such subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the Secretary determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to or comparable with the price specified.

(2) Whenever the Secretary finds and announces that the price of Class I milk computed for any delivery period pursuant to (b) of this section is not in the public interest, the price of Class I milk for such delivery period shall be the same as the corresponding price for Class I milk for the delivery period immediately preceding.

SEC. 7. Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Computation of pool value for each handler operating a pool plant. Subject to the location adjustment provided by (b) of this section, the pool value for each delivery period for each handler operating a pool plant shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying by the applicable class prices for skim milk and butterfat pursuant to section 6, the skim milk and butterfat in milk received from producers according to their classification pursuant to (g) and (h) of section 5, and adding together the resulting amounts: Provided, That if such handler, after subtracting all receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, other than in milk received from producers, has a utilization of skim milk butterfat greater than has been accounted for in milk received from producers, there shall be added a further amount equal to the quantity of such excess of skim milk or butterfat multiplied by the applicable class prices.

(b) Location adjustments to handlers. With respect to the actual weight of milk, cream, or any other item included in Class I milk and Class II milk which is moved directly to the marketing area from a pool plant located outside the marketing area, there shall be deducted, in the computation of the handler's pool value, the following amount per hundredweight thereof applicable for the location of such plant by shortest highway distance from the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, such distance to be determined by the market administrator:

Not more than 30 miles	0
More than 30 miles but not more than 45 miles	15
More than 45 miles but not more than 60 miles	17
More than 60 miles but not more than 75 miles	19
More than 75 miles but not more than 90 miles	21
Within each 15-mile zone thereafter—an additional 1 cent.

Provided, That such adjustment shall be limited to an amount of milk, cream, or other item so moved which could be derived from the milk received from producers at such plant.

(c) Computation of obligation to the producer-settlement fund for certain handlers operating nonpool plants. (1) For each delivery period the obligation to the producer settlement fund for each handler (except a producer-handler) who operates a nonpool plant out of which a route is operated which extends into the marketing area, shall be computed by the market administrator by multiplying by the respective Class I milk prices for skim milk and butterfat the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat disposed of as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drink within such delivery period on each such route, and subtracting therefrom an amount computed by multiplying such volumes of skim milk and butterfat by the higher of the prices for skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class III milk.

(2) For each delivery period the obligation to the producer-settlement fund for each handler who operates a nonpool plant, with respect to skim milk and butterfat disposed of within such delivery period as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, or flavored milk drink to a plant designated as a pool plant pursuant to section 3 (a) (1) which received no milk from producers or from other pool plants, shall be computed by the market administrator by multiplying such volumes of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, by the prices for skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk and subtracting therefrom an amount computed by multiplying such volumes of skim milk and butterfat by the higher of the prices for skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class III milk.

(d) Computation of uniform price. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the "uniform price" per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content, f. o. b. the marketing area, received from producers by:

(1) Combining into one total the pool values computed under (a) of this section for all handlers who reported pursuant to section 4 (a) for such delivery period, except those in default in payments required pursuant to section 8 (e) for the preceding delivery period;

(2) Adding an amount representing the monies received in payment of obligations computed under (c) of this section;

(3) Adding the aggregate of the values of all allowable location adjustments computed at the maximum rates for the appropriate zones as set forth in section 8 (b);

(4) Adding an amount representing not less than one-half of the unobligated balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(5) Subtracting, if the weighted average butterfat test of all milk received from producers represented by the values included in (1) of this paragraph is greater than 3.5 percent, or adding, if the weighted average butterfat test of such milk is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the total hundredweight of butterfat represented by the variance of such weighted average butterfat test from 3.5 percent, by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to section 8 (c) multiplied by 1,000;

(6) Dividing by the hundredweight of milk received from producers represented by the values included in (1) of this paragraph; and

(7) Subtracting not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents.

(e) Notification. The market administrator shall notify:

(1) On or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler who operates a pool plant of:

(i) The amounts and pool values of his skim milk and butterfat in each class and the totals of such amounts and values;

(ii) The uniform price;

(iii) The amount due such handler from the producer-settlement fund or the amount to be paid by such handler to the producer-settlement fund, as the case may be; and

(iv) The totals of the minimum amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to sections 8, 9, 10, and 11.

(2) On or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period each handler described in section 1 (g) (2) of:

(i) The pounds of his skim milk and butterfat in milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drink subject to the provisions of (c) of this section; and

(ii) The amount due the producer-settlement fund from each handler.

SEC. 8. Payment for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. (1) Except as provided by (2) of this paragraph, on or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler (except a cooperative association) shall pay each producer for milk received from him within such delivery period, not less than an amount of money computed by multiplying the total pounds of such milk by the uniform price, less the location adjustment pursuant to (b) of this section and adjusted by the butterfat differential pursuant to (c) of this section: Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such delivery period pursuant to (f) of this section, he may reduce such payments uniformly per hundredweight for all producers by an amount not in excess of the per hundredweight reduction in payment from the market administrator; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

(2) On or before the 19th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay a cooperative association not a handler, with respect to milk of producers for which it has received written authorization to collect payment, a total amount not less than the sum of the individual amounts otherwise payable to such producers pursuant to (1) of this paragraph.

(3) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay a cooperative association which is a handler, with respect to skim milk and butterfat received by him from a pool plant operated by such cooperative association, not less than the minimum class prices, subject to the applicable location adjustment provided by section 7 (b), according to the classification of such skim milk and butterfat pursuant to section 5.

(b) Location adjustments to producers. In making payments pursuant to (a) (1) and (a) (2) of this section a handler may deduct, with respect to all milk received from producers at a plant located outside the marketing area, not more than the following respective amount per hundredweight of milk applicable for the location of such plant by shortest highway distance from the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, such distance to be determined by the market administrator:

Mileage zone	Cents per hundredweight
Not more than 30 miles	0
More than 30 miles but not more than 45 miles	15
More than 45 miles but not more than 60 miles	17
More than 60 miles but not more than 75 miles	19
More than 75 miles but not more than 90 miles	21
Within each 15-mile zone thereafter—an additional 1 cent

(c) Butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to (a) (1) or (a) (2) of this section there shall be added to, or subtracted from, the uniform price per hundredweight, for each one-tenth of 1 percent of such butterfat content in milk above or below 3.5 percent, as the case may be, an amount computed by the market administrator by dividing the price per hundredweight of butterfat in Class II milk, computed pursuant to section 6 (d) (1) prior to the application of the proviso therein, by 1,000, and rounding off to the nearest tenth of a cent.

(d) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made pursuant to (e) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments pursuant to (f) of this section.

(e) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 16th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler:

(1) Whose pool value is required to be computed pursuant to section 7 (a), shall pay to the market administrator the amount by which such pool value for such delivery period is greater than the total minimum amount required to be paid by him pursuant to (a) (1) and (a) (2) of this section; and

(2) Whose obligation is required to be computed pursuant to section 7 (c), shall pay to the market administrator such obligation for such delivery period.

(f) Payment out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler the amount by which such handler's pool value pursuant to section 7 (a) is less than the total minimum amount required to be paid by him pursuant to (a) (1) or (a) (2) of this section, less any unpaid obligations of such handler to the market administrator pursuant to (e) of this section, sections 9, 10, or 11: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments to all such handlers pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds become available.

SEC. 9. Expense of administration. As his prorata share of the expense incurred pursuant to section 2 (c) (4), each handler shall pay the market administrator on or before the 16th day after the end of each delivery period, three cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe, to be announced by the market administrator on or before the 14th day after the end of such delivery period, with respect to all receipts within the delivery period, of milk from producers at pool plants (including such handler's own production), of other source milk at pool plants, and of other source milk on which payment is required pursuant to section 7 (c).

SEC. 10. Marketing services—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers pursuant to (a) (1) and (a) (2) of section 8, with respect to all milk received from each producer (except milk of such handler's own production) at a plant, not operated by a cooperative association of which such producer is a member, shall deduct 4 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe, to be announced by the market administrator on or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period; and, on or before the 16th day after the end of such delivery period, shall pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such monies shall be expended by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of the milk of such producers and to provide such producers with market information; such services to be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator, or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Cooperative associations. In the case of producers whose milk is received at a plant, not operated by a cooperative association of which such producers are members, and for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services described in (a) of this section, as determined by the market administrator, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in (a) of this section, such deductions from payments required pursuant to (a) (1) and (a) (2) of section 8 as may be authorized by such producers, and pay such deductions on or before the 16th day after the end of each delivery period to the cooperative association rendering such services of which such producers are members.

SEC. 11. Adjustment of accounts—(a) Payments. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses adjustments to be made, for any reason, which result in monies due (1) the market administrator from such handler, (2) such handler from the market administrator, or (3) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due; and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payment set forth in the provision under which such error occurred, following the 5th day after such notice.

(b) Overdue accounts. Any unpaid obligation of a handler or of the market administrator pursuant to sections 8, 9, 10, or (a) of this section shall be increased one-half of one percent per month, on the first day of the calendar month next following the due date of such obligation and on the first day of each calendar month thereafter until such obligation is paid.

SEC. 12. Application of provisions—(a) Exempt milk. Milk received at a plant of a handler the handling of which the Secretary determines to be subject to the pricing and payment provisions of any other Federal milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any fluid milk marketing area shall not be subject to the pricing and payment provisions hereof.

(b) Milk caused to be delivered by cooperative associations. Milk referred to herein as received from producers by a handler shall include milk of producers caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association which is not a handler and which is authorized to collect payment for such milk.

SEC. 13. Effective time. The provisions hereof, or of any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated.

SEC. 14. Suspension or termination—(a) When suspended or terminated. The Secretary shall, whenever he finds that this order, or any provision thereof, obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, terminate or suspend the operation of this order or any such provision thereof.

(b) Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this order, there are any obligations thereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

(c) Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions hereof, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

SEC. 15. Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

SEC. 16. Separability of provisions. If any provision hereof, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision, and of the remaining provisions hereof, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

PENNSYLVANIA EDISON CO.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 5th day of June A. D. 1946.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to section 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by Pennsylvania Edison Company, a subsidiary of a registered holding company; and

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 12, 1946, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter such declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective, as provided in Rule U-23 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the offices of said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Pennsylvania Edison Company, an indirect subsidiary of General Public Utilities Corporation, proposes to pay on July 1, 1946, the regular quarterly dividend for the quarter ending June 30, 1946, on its $5 and $2.80 Series Cumulative Preferred Stock, in the respective amounts of $1.25 and 70 cents per share, aggregating $213,152.80, such dividends to be payable to holders of shares of such stock of record at the close of business on June 20, 1946. The company states that it has outstanding 123,466 shares of $5 Series Cumulative Preferred Stock and 84,029 shares of $2.80 Series Cumulative Preferred Stock, all of which are held by the public.

The company states that its books show a substantial earned surplus, but that preliminary original cost statements filed with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and the Federal Power Commission indicate that the book value of the fixed capital of the company is about $13,460,000 in excess of the original cost of its plant and properties. This excess has not been segregated between Account 100.5 (electric plant acquisition adjustments) and Account 107 (electric plant adjustments) nor have arrangements yet been made for the disposition of such excess over original cost. The company hence states that it is not clear at this time as to whether or not the company has an earned surplus available for dividends on its preferred stock.

The company has designated section 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-46 (a) promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed declaration and payment of dividends. It has requested acceleration of the Commission's action upon such declaration.

By the Commission.

COMMONWEALTH AND SOUTHERN CORP. (DEL.)

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 6th day of June, A. D. 1946.

In the matter of The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation (Delaware), File No. 54-75; The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation (Delaware), File No. 70-726.

The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation ("Commonwealth"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly section 12 (c) thereof and Rule U-46 thereunder, regarding the proposed payment of a dividend of $3.00 per share (payable on the 28th day after approval by this Commission to stockholders of record at the close of business on the 14th day after such approval) on its 1,482,000 shares of preferred stock outstanding, the aggregate amount of such dividend payment being $4,446,000; and

Commonwealth having heretofore filed an Amended Plan of Recapitalization ("Amended Plan") and modifications thereto under section 11 (e) of the act providing, among other things, for the restatement on Commonwealth's books of its investments in its subsidiaries upon consummation of the Amended Plan;

Commonwealth having thereafter filed a Plan for Compliance with sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the act providing, among other things, for the liquidation of Commonwealth;

Commonwealth having stated in the declaration filed with the Commission on February 21, 1946 proposing the payment of a dividend on the outstanding shares of preferred stock, which declaration was permitted to become effective on March 14, 1946 (Holding Company Act Release No. 6476), that " * * * the restatement of the carrying value of Commonwealth's investments, which restatement it is proposed in the Amended Plan will be made upon consummation thereof, may result in a decrease in such carrying value in an amount not less than the sum of (a) the amount shown as 'Earned Surplus' in the balance sheet as at January 31, 1946 and (b) the amount of net income to be received subsequent to January 31, 1946 and prior to the date of such restatement, provided such restatement is completed within some reasonable period, say by September 30, 1946 * * *";

Commonwealth having stated in the instant declaration that "The Board * * * recognizes that in view of the pending proceedings, the 'Earned Surplus' account may be so qualified that, under the rules and practices of the Commission, payment of said dividend is subject to the requirement of Commission authorization under the provisions of section 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-46 in spite of the fact that, as authorized by section 34 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the source of payment of such dividend under such law is Commonwealth's net profits for the current and preceding fiscal years."

The instant declaration having been filed on May 14, 1946 and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified in the said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission deeming that it would not be necessary or appropriate to deny effectiveness to the declaration under the standards of section 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-46 if it should be found that the proposed payment were to be made out of capital and that, therefore, it is unnecessary for the Commission to determine whether said proposed payment is being made out of capital; and

The Commission therefore deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit said declaration to become effective insofar as section 12 (c) and Rule U-46 are applicable to the proposed payment; and

Commonwealth having requested that the effective date of the declaration be accelerated to facilitate prompt payment of the proposed dividend to the preferred stockholders and the Commission deeming it appropriate that such request for acceleration be granted:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the Act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that the aforesaid declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, Provided, however, That this order shall not be construed as a determination that such dividend payment is or is not taxable to the recipient pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, and, Provided further, That Commonwealth accompany the dividend checks with a statement to the effect (1) that Commonwealth filed the declaration regarding the proposed dividend payment pursuant to section 12 (c) and Rule U-46 by reason of its uncertainty as to whether the "Earned Surplus" account may be so qualified that, under the rules and practice of the Commission, payment of the proposed dividend is subject to the requirement of Commission authorization under the Act and the Rules thereunder and that the Commission permitted the declaration to become effective without determining whether the proposed payment is being made out of capital and (2) that the Commission's action in permitting the declaration to become effective should not be construed as a determination that such dividend payment is or is not taxable to the recipient pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

By the Commission.

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 7th day of June 1946.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both), as amended, has been filed with this Commission by General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

General Public Utilities Corporation proposes to issue and sell to four commercial banking institutions unsecured serial notes (with maturities not exceeding 10 years), in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $6,250,000. The interest rate on the notes maturing not more than 5 years after issuance is 1½% and on the notes maturing thereafter is 2%. The notes will rank on a parity with $6,000,000 principal amount of notes now outstanding which are held by the same four commercial banking institutions. The proceeds of such notes, together with treasury funds, will be used by GPU to redeem its outstanding 4¼% convertible debentures due 1956.

The debentures are redeemable at any time upon 60 days' notice at 105% of the principal amount thereof, if called for redemption at any time on or before January 1, 1947, and are convertible, at the option of the holder if exercised prior to the date fixed for redemption, into 2.95 shares of GPU common stock for each $50 principal amount of debentures, with a cash adjustment for any remaining fraction of a share of stock. Declarant believes that at least $6,000,000 principal amount of the debentures, of which there are approximately $8,200,000 principal amount outstanding, will be converted into common stock. It is estimated that the maximum amount of cash required to effect the redemption (assuming no conversions) would be $8,610,000 (exclusive of accrued interest) but that the actual amount to be required will be substantially less. Since it is impossible to determine the exact amount of cash to be required to redeem the debentures which are not converted, declarant requests approval to issue notes in a principal amount not to exceed $6,250,000 and that the actual amount to be issued will be determined on the redemption date for the debentures by deducting from the amount required to be deposited with the indenture trustee for the redemption of the debentures an amount of $2,000,000 (available from declarant's own funds), plus or minus an amount to make the total borrowed the nearest multiple of $250,000.

Declarant considers section 7 of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions and that no commission other than this Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such matters:

It is hereby ordered, That a hearing on such matter, under the applicable provisions of said Act, and the rules of the Commission thereunder, be held on the 2d day of July 1946, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk, in room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in said proceeding should file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before June 28, 1946, his application therefor as provided in Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said filing, particular attention will be directed at such hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the issue and sale by GPU of its unsecured serial notes comply with the applicable requirements of section 7 of the act.

2. Whether the redemption of the convertible debentures by GPU is detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors, and, if so, whether and what terms or conditions should be required or imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

3. The propriety of the proposed accounting treatment of the several transactions on the books of GPU.

4. Generally, whether the proposed transactions comply with all applicable provisions and requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and, if not, whether and what modifications or terms and conditions should be required or imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

By the Commission.

(a) Maximum prices for Grand Rapids Brass Company, Grand Rapids, Michigan. (1) The above manufacturer may determine his maximum prices for his line of commercial refrigerator hardware by increasing by 25.3 percent his prices on these items in effect on October 1, 1941 to each class of purchaser.

Prices for other sets and sizes are in their customary proportions to these prices.

(b) Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. A purchaser for resale shall determine his maximum price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established maximum price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to the class of articles to which, according to trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling prices, for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, for the establishment of a maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Maximum prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's customary terms, discounts, allowances and other price differentials on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or established under any applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale showing a ceiling price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the adjusted ceiling prices for resales of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to the maximum prices for sales of any of the articles covered by this order.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective on the 8th day of June 1946.

Issued this 7th day of June 1946.

[SO 148, Order 14]

WITHERSPOON BROS. AND CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 148, It is ordered:

(a) This order establishes maximum prices for sales and deliveries of certain casket shells manufactured by Witherspoon Brothers and Company of Sumter, S. C.

(1) For all sales and deliveries of the following caskets by the manufacturer to the class of purchaser specified below, the adjusted maximum prices are as follows:

Maximum Price to Casket Manufacturers (Each)
Casket shell, 308 — $7.00
Casket shell, 309 — 8.25
Casket shell, 109 — 8.81

(2) For sales and deliveries by the manufacturer to all other classes of purchasers the maximum prices are the adjusted maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a) (1) of this order, adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's customary differentials for sales to those other classes of purchasers.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of an article which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

(1) A reseller who had a properly established maximum price in effect before this order was issued for an article covered by this order may add to that maximum price an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment charge authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to his supplier.

(2) If the reseller did not have a properly established maximum price for the article in effect before this order was issued he shall first determine a maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges), and to that price he may add an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to, his supplier. To find his maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges) for this purpose the reseller shall add to his invoice cost, less an adjustment charge stated on that invoice, the same percentage mark-up which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(3) If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(4) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to the determination of ceiling prices for resales of the articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Change in resellers' margins. Reseller's maximum prices adjusted in accordance with this order are subject to further adjustments which may result from any change in resellers' margins which may be effected by the Office of Price Administration to obtain absorption by resellers of any industry-wide increase in manufacturers' maximum prices.

(e) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

The amount of the adjustments in maximum prices granted by this order must be stated separately on invoices to all classes of purchasers, except for sales at retail.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This order shall become effective on the 8th day of June 1946.

Issued this 7th day of June 1946.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 148, It is ordered:

(a) This order establishes maximum prices for sales and deliveries of certain caskets manufactured by Malden Casket Company of Malden, Mass.

(1) For all sales and deliveries of the following caskets by the manufacturer to the class of purchaser indicated below, the adjusted maximum prices are as follows:

Article and Model No.:	Maximum price to funeral director (each)
Slip cap casket, 195	$25.18
Hinged cap casket, 195 h. p.	27.09
Half couch casket, 195½	24.50

(2) For sales and deliveries by the manufacturer to all other classes of purchasers, the maximum prices are the adjusted maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a) (1), adjusted to reflect the manufacturers' customary differentials for sales to those other classes of purchasers.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of an article which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

(1) A reseller who had a properly established maximum price in effect before this order was issued for an article covered by this order may add to that maximum price an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment charge authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to, this supplier.

(2) If the reseller did not have a properly established maximum price for the article in effect before this order was issued he shall first determine a maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges), and to that price he may add an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to, his supplier. To find his maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges) for this purpose the reseller shall add to his invoice cost, less an adjustment charge stated on that invoice, the same percentage mark-up which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(3) If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(4) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to the determination of ceiling prices for resales of the article covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Change in resellers' margins. Resellers' maximum prices adjusted in accordance with this order are subject to further adjustments which may result from any change in resellers' margins which may be effected by the Office of Price Administration to obtain absorption by resellers of any industry-wide increase in manufacturers' maximum prices.

(e) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

The amount of the adjustment in maximum prices granted by this order must be stated separately on invoices to all classes of purchasers, except for sales at retail.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This order shall become effective on the 8th day of June 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

[SO 133, Order 45]

B. WALTER AND CO., INC.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. B. Walter and Company, Inc., Wabash, Indiana, may increase its maximum prices properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (exclusive of any adjustment charges) for table slides which it manufactures by 23.5 percent of each such maximum price.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of articles which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

(1) A retailer who must determine his ceiling price under Maximum Price Regulation No. 580 and a wholesaler who must determine his ceiling prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, shall compute their ceiling prices in the manner provided by those regulations. However, if the supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, the reseller shall compute his ceiling prices under those regulations as they have been modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(2) A reseller who determines his maximum resale price under the General Maximum Price Regulation, and whose supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, shall compute his ceiling price under that regulation as modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

If his supplier's invoice does not state an "unadjusted maximum price", the reseller shall calculate his ceiling prices by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he had on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of article to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form No. 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(3) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to the determination of ceiling prices for resales of articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or, thereafter, properly established under Office of Price Administration regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) The manufacturer shall file the report described in Section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 133 with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and shall comply with the invoicing and reporting provisions of Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This order shall become effective on the 7th day of June 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

KINDEL FURNITURE CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. The Kindel Furniture Company, 100 Garden Street SE., Grand Rapids 2, Mich., may increase its maximum prices properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (exclusive of any adjustment charges) for articles of wood bedroom furniture, which it manufactures by 30 percent of each such maximum price.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of articles which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

(1) A retailer who must determine his ceiling price under Maximum Price Regulation No. 580 and a wholesaler who must determine his ceiling prices under

Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, shall compute their ceiling prices in the manner provided by those regulations. However, if the supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, the reseller shall compute his ceiling prices under those regulations as they have been modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(2) A reseller who determines his maximum resale price under the General Maximum Price Regulation, and whose supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, shall compute his ceiling price under that regulation as modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

If his supplier's invoice does not state an "unadjusted maximum price", the reseller shall calculate his ceiling prices by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he had on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of article to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form No. 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(3) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to the determination of ceiling prices for resales of articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or, thereafter, properly established under Office of Price Administration regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) The manufacturer shall file the report described in Section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 133 with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and shall comply with the invoicing and reporting provisions of Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This order shall become effective on the 7th day of June 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

AUTHORIZATION OF SALES AT ADJUSTABLE MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to § 1499.19a of the General Maximum Price Regulation, It is ordered:

Any person may deliver or agree to deliver to industrial users adhesives and isolated proteins made in whole or in part from soya meal or soya flour at a price to be adjusted upward in accordance with action that may hereafter be taken by the Office of Price Administration, changing the existing maximum prices for sales to industrial users of such adhesives and isolated proteins. For reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to section 19 of Maximum Price Regulation 61, It is ordered:

(a) This order authorizes an adjustment of the maximum price for all domestic leather.

(b) On or after June 7, 1946, any person who sells or delivers leather specified in paragraph (a), above, may adjust his maximum price as follows:

Step 1. Determine his total invoice price which shall not exceed the sum of the maximum prices determined or established for such items of leather under sections 4, 6, 7 (except paragraph 7 (a)), 9 or 11 of Maximum Price Regulation 61. (Note: this does not include the adjustment granted by Order 13, under Maximum Price Regulation 61.)

Step 2. Ascertain the applicable adjustment increase factor from Schedule "A" in this paragraph (b) and multiply the total price determined under Step 1, above, by such adjustment increase factor.

Step 3. Add the amount determined under Step 1, and Step 2 to obtain his adjusted maximum price.

Total	2,096.00

NOTE: The same method should be employed in determining the adjustment of the maximum price for sole leather scrap priced under Section 9 (b) (2) (ii) of Maximum Price Regulation 61.

Example 3. Sale of leather where maximum prices are established under section 6 (d). Assume some of the leather in example 1 was sold at maximum prices to a jobber who resells a portion thereof:

Mark-up 7½%	22.50

From seller in Example 3: Kidskin Leather X, 1,000 sq. ft.

Assume further that the shoe manufacturer sells exactly as purchased, half of the amount of each of the leathers bought. He may then compute the actual cost of the leather to him as follows:

Calfskin leather H, 500 sq. ft. @ 40¢ ft	$200.00
OPA adjustment charge of 6% under Order No. 14, MPR 61	12.00
Cowhide leather Q, 1,000 sq. ft. @ 25¢ ft	250.00
OPA adjustment charge of 3% under Order No. 14, MPR 61	7.50
Kidskin leather X, 5,000 sq. ft. @ 20¢ ft	100.00
Mark-up 7½%	7.50

Jobbers' maximum price on a resale 110%	880.00
OPA Adjustment charge of 3% under Order 14, MPR 61 (i.e., 3% of $880)	26.40
Total	906.40

Example 7. A finder's sale in Zone 1 of leather sold exactly as sold by the producer, priced under section 9(b)(2)(iii) or 9(c) of MPR 61.

Grain chips	[3] $5.00
OPA adjustment charge of 3% under Order No. 14, MPR 61 (i.e., 3% of $5)	.15
Total	5.15

[1] Producer's maximum price or maximum price established under sec. 9(c) of MPR 61.
[2] Producer's maximum price.
[3] Maximum price for sellers other than producers.

(c) No seller may sell or deliver any leather covered by this order at a maximum price adjusted pursuant to paragraph (b), above, unless, in connection with each such sale or delivery, the seller furnishes to the purchaser an invoice or similar document showing, in addition to all the information required by section 12 of Maximum Price Regulation 61, the following:

(i) The total invoice price exclusive of the adjustment authorized by this order.

CONSUMERS' GOODS OTHER THAN APPAREL

MANUFACTURERS' MAXIMUM PRICES

An opinion accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

A new paragraph (a) (6) is added to Order No. A–1 to read as follows:

(6) (i) The manufacturers' maximum prices established pursuant to Maximum Price Regulation 188, as amended, for red lead in oil and white lead in oil pastes may be modified by use of the following formula:

(a) Determine the weight of lead used in 1 lb. of the paste.

(c) Add result to the maximum price for the particular lead paste product established under Maximum Price Regulation 188.

(ii) Any reseller purchasing any lead paste product for resale in the same form from any manufacturer who has modified his maximum prices in accordance with (i) above, may increase his maximum prices by a dollars-and-cents amount not exceeding his actual dollars-and-cents increase in cost resulting from the increase permitted the manufacturer in (i) above.

[MPR 188, Rev. Order 4992]

UPHOLSTERED FURNITURE COVERED WITH CERTAIN FABRICS

ESTABLISHMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 4992 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is redesignated Revised Order No. 4992, and is amended and revised to read as follows:

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of this order. The purpose of this order is to establish a method by which manufacturers of household furniture may determine their maximum prices for articles to which they apply cover fabrics whose maximum prices have been increased under Supplementary Order No. 134.

SEC. 2. What this order covers. This order covers articles of household furniture (as defined in Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188) to which the manufacturer applies cover fabrics as to which his purchase invoice contains a "prior ceiling price" as well as a selling price. For the purposes of this order, "prior ceiling price" means the "prior ceiling price" or the maximum price determined under Maximum Price Regulation No. 39, exclusive of all permissive increases, which that regulation requires must be shown on every invoice covering a sale of upholstery fabric to a furniture manufacturer.

The word "you", as used in this order, means a manufacturer who makes a sale or delivery of articles covered by this order.

SEC. 3. What this order does. This order establishes two methds for determining maximum prices for articles covered by this order. If you do not have a customary or established cover grading system which is based upon the cost of your cover fabrics, you must use Method A. If you do have such a cover grading system, you may elect to determine all of your maximum prices under Method B instead of under Method A. However, you may not determine some of your maximum prices under Method A and others under Method B. All of your maximum prices must be determined under the same method.

Section 7 requires that you report to the Office of Price Administration the method you have elected to use. If, under section 5 you are allowed to use Method B and if, at a date subsequent to filing your report, you elect to determine all of your maximum prices under the alternative method, you may do so by refiling under section 7, as provided therein.

SEC. 4. Modification of "prior ceiling price" and actual invoice cost under certain circumstances. Method A and Method B set forth in section 5 below require the use of the "prior ceiling price as it appears on your supplier's invoice" and your "actual invoice cost" for purposes of determining your maximum prices for articles covered by this order. This section sets forth certain circumstances under which those amounts, as they actually appear on your purchase invoice, must be modified before you use them in computing your maximum prices under section 5 below.

(a) Except under the circumstances described in paragraph (b) below and in all cases with respect to imported or highly decorative fabrics, which in March 1942, you graded on the basis of your cost from a jobber, the "prior ceiling price" and actual invoice cost which you shall use are those amounts as they appear on your purchase invoice.

(b) This paragraph (b) applies to you if, in March 1942, you graded 75 percent or more of your total yardage of cover fabrics on the basis of mill or mill-converter prices to you, and if you now buy cover fabrics from jobbers or jobber-converters. This paragraph does not, however, apply to imported or highly decorative fabrics which, in March, 1942, you graded on the basis of your cost from a jobber.

Under these circumstances, with respect to cover fabrics (other than imported or highly decorative fabrics, as specified above) which you purchase from a jobber or jobber-converter, the phrases "prior ceiling price as it appears on your purchase invoice" and "actual invoice cost" refer not to those amounts as they appear on your purchase invoice but to those amounts divided by 1.25.

SEC. 5. How you find your maximum price for an article covered by this order. This section tells you how to compute your maximum price for an article covered by this order. For purposes of this order, "properly established maximum price" means the maximum price properly determined under Maximum Regulation No. 188 (exclusive of all permitted increases) after all trade, quantity, and other discounts (except cash discounts) have been deducted.

(a) Method A. If you do not have an established cover grading system which is based upon the cost of your cover fabrics or if you do have such a method but elect to determine all of your maximum prices under this method instead of under Method B below, your maximum price to a particular class of purchaser for an article covered by this order is the total of the following:

NOTE: If, in March 1942, you graded 75 percent or more of your cover fabrics on the basis of mill or mill-converter cost to you and if you now buy cover fabrics from jobbers or jobber-converters, the phrases "prior ceiling price as it appears on your purchase invoice" and "actual invoice cost" refer to these amounts as modified by section 4 (b).

(1) Your properly established maximum price (exclusive of all permitted increases) for the article to that class of purchaser determined by using as your fabric cost the "prior ceiling price" as it appears on your purchase invoice and

(2) 110 percent of the difference per yard between that "prior ceiling price" and your actual invoice cost, multiplied by the number of yards used in covering the article.

EXAMPLE OF HOW A MANUFACTURER FINDS HIS MAXIMUM PRICE FOR AN ARTICLE COVERED BY THIS ORDER UNDER METHOD A

A manufacturer receives from his supplier an invoice for cover fabric and that invoice contains a "prior ceiling price" of $1.00 per yard and a selling price of $1.35 per yard. Since in March 1942, he graded all of his cover fabrics on the basis of mill cost to him and this invoice is from a jobber, these amounts as they appear on his invoice are subject to the modification set forth in section 4 (b) of this order. He, therefore, divides both amounts by 1.25, which gives him a modified "prior ceiling price" of 80¢ per yard and a modified actual invoice cost of $1.08 per yard. His properly established maximum price (exclusive of all permitted increases) to retailers for a sofa on which he uses twelve yards of fabric costing 80¢ per yard is $50.00. To that $50.00 he adds 110 percent of $3.36 (the difference between the modified "prior ceiling price" of 80¢ and his modified invoice cost of $1.08, or 28¢, times twelve yards), or $3.70. His maximum price as determined under Method A is, therefore, $53.70.

(b) Method B: If you have a customary or established cover grading system which is based upon the cost of your cover fabric and you elect to determine all of your maximum prices under Method B instead of under Method A above, your maximum price to a particular class of purchaser for an article covered by this order shall be the total of:

NOTE: If in March 1942, you graded 75 percent or more of your cover fabrics on the basis of mill or mill-converter cost to you and if you now buy cover fabrics from jobbers or jobber-converters, the phrases "prior ceiling price as it appears on your purchase invoice" and "actual invoice cost" refer to these amounts as modified by section 4 (b).

(1) Your properly established maximum price (exclusive of all permitted increases) for the article to that class of purchaser determined by using as your fabric cost the "prior ceiling price" as it appears on your purchase invoice, and

(2) The number of yards of fabric used in covering the article multiplied by the applicable one of the following amounts:

(1) If your highest cost in the grade in which the fabric belongs, based on its "prior ceiling price", is—	(2) Multiply the yardage used in covering the article by:
Up to and including $1.35	$0.48
$1.36 to and including $2.50	.57
$2.51 to and including $3.75	.62
$3.76 to and including $5.50	.55

(The amounts stated in Column (2) above are for materials 50" or 54" in width. If your cost grades are established on the basis of material 36" in width, you will multiply the number of yards used in covering the article by two-thirds of the applicable amount listed above in Column (2).

EXAMPLE OF HOW A MANUFACTURER FINDS HIS MAXIMUM PRICE FOR AN ARTICLE COVERED BY THIS ORDER UNDER METHOD B

A manufacturer has the following properly established maximum prices to retailers for a particular club chair on which he uses four yards of cover fabric:

Grade and cost per yard:	Properly established maximum prices for club chair
A—Up to $1.00	$28.00
B—$1.00 and up to $1.25	29.50
C—$1.25 and up to $1.50	31.00
D—$1.50 and up to $1.75	32.50
E—$1.75 and up to $2.00	34.00

He receives an invoice from a mill on which appears a "prior ceiling price" of $1.30 and a selling price of $1.76. Based on the "prior ceiling price" of $1.30, this fabric belongs in his Grade C. His properly established maximum price, exclusive of all permitted increases, for this chair in Grade C is $31.00. The highest cost in Grade C is $1.49; therefore, he adds to his properly established maximum price ($31.00), 57¢ times four yards, or $2.28. His maximum price, as determined under Method B is, therefore, $33.28.

SEC. 6. Relation between this order and other orders and regulations. (a) The provisions of this order supersede the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of that regulation.

(b) Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, Order No. 8 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, and orders issued to individual manufacturers under other adjustment provisions. You may increase the maximum price for an article established in accordance with this order by the applicable percentage amount permitted by Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, or by Order No. 8 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, or by an individual order which has been issued to you under any other adjustment provision.

SEC. 7. Reports. (a) Before delivering or offering for delivery any article at a maximum price determined under Order No. 4992 or Revised Order No. 4992, you must file a signed report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. That report shall contain the following information:

(1) The date of the report.

(2) Your name and address.

(3) The method (i. e., Method A or Method B) which you have elected to use in determining all of your maximum prices for articles covered by this order.

(b) If, under section 5, you are allowed to use Method B and if, at a date subsequent to your filing of the report required by paragraph (a) above, you elect to determine all of your maximum prices under the method alternative to the one stated in your original report, you must submit another report containing all of the information required by paragraph (a) above. This must be done before you deliver or offer for delivery articles at maximum prices established under that method.

(c) You must keep available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration a copy of the report or reports you have filed under this section, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

Effective date. This order shall become effective June 7, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 7th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

(b) Slaughterers affected; quantity; type; grade. The provisions of this order shall apply to the following persons:

All federally inspected slaughterers;

All certified slaughterers;

Every owner or operator of a certified slaughterering plant.

(1) Physically set aside, reserve and hold for delivery as directed in paragraph (b) (2) hereof, 40 percent of the conversion weight of each week's production of veal graded "U. S. Utility" obtained from calves whose carcasses weigh, with the hide off, from 50 to 275 pounds, both inclusive;

(2) Deliver to governmental agencies, authorized purchasers and ship suppliers, before the close of each calendar week beginning with the week of June 23, 1946, veal of each of the grades specified in paragraph (b) (1) in a quantity not less than the quantity of veal of such grade required to have been physically set aside, reserved and held by such slaughterer as of the end of the third previous week.

(3) Deliver to governmental agencies, authorized purchasers and ship suppliers, on or before June 22, 1946, veal of such types and grades and in such quantities, calculated as of June 1, 1946, as were required to have been set aside, reserved and held for delivery to such governmental agencies, authorized purchasers and ship suppliers.

(c) Credits allowed on deliveries. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) hereof, any set aside veal delivered to a governmental agency, authorized purchaser, or ship supplier may be credited against requirements of paragraph (b) hereof for veal of the type and grade so delivered.

(d) Certificates. No set aside veal shall be delivered to any authorized purchaser, and no credit shall be allowed for any such delivery unless, prior to delivery, the slaughterer obtains a certificate signed by the authorized purchaser, containing the following: the name and address of both parties, the contract number of the contract between the authorized purchaser and the governmental agency, and a statement by the authorized purchaser that the set aside veal to be delivered, or an equivalent amount of set aside veal, of the same type and grade, will be or has been used in the fulfillment of such contract. The slaughterer shall enter on such certificate the date of delivery and the conversion weight of such veal, together with a description permitting conversion in accordance with paragraph (f) hereof. The slaughterer and the authorized purchaser shall each retain a signed copy of such certificate for at least two years and shall submit the same to the Administrator upon request. All statements contained in or accompanying such certificates shall be deemed representations to an agency of the United States. No person shall be entitled to rely upon any such certificate if he knows or has reasonable cause to believe it to be false.

(e) Federal inspection required. All veal required to be set aside, reversed, and held under this order shall be inspected in accordance with the provisions of the act of March 4, 1907 (34 Stat. 1260), as amended; 21 U. (f) Conversion weight. The conversion weight of all deliveries of veal and the conversion weight of carcasses and of cuts and trimmings derived therefrom, shall be determined by multiplying the weight thereof by the appropriate conversion factor set forth below:

Type and description of product:	Conversion factor (multiplier)
Dressed carcasses hide off, and cuts not boned, fresh (chilled) or frozen	1.00
Dressed carcasses hide on, fresh (chilled) or frozen	.90

(i) Direction for delivery. In the event of a failure on the part of any person subject to this order to deliver the required quantities of set aside veal within the time limit applicable hereunder, or upon a failure on the part of such person to prepare, process, wrap or package such set aside veal in accordance with requirements of the governmental agency purchasing the same, then and in that event the Administrator may direct that such veal be delivered forthwith to such governmental agency regardless of the stage of preparation, processing, wrapping or packaging. In the event of such direction for delivery, the Administrator or the governmental agency entitled to delivery may make provision for completing the processing, wrapping or packaging of such veal to meet the specifications of such governmental agency and may charge the expense thereof to the person required to make such delivery. Any direction for delivery in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph shall not affect the right of the Government to take any other action or proceeding under paragraph (c) of this order.

(j) Allocation. The Administrator may, by general order or written notice to individual slaughterers, order the allocation of veal set aside under this order to or among specific governmental agencies, authorized purchasers, or ship suppliers. In the absence of such allocation, slaughterers may, subject to paragraph (d) hereof, sell veal so set aside to any such person or agencies.

(k) Existing contracts. The provisions of this order shall not be construed as reducing the amount of meat which any slaughterer is required to offer or to deliver under any existing contract with a governmental agency, as defined herein, or with the United States Maritime Commission.

(l) Reports. Every slaughterer subject to this order shall report to the Administrator concerning his production of and transactions in veal. Such reports shall be made upon such forms as the Administrator may require, and shall be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. All such reports shall be signed by the slaughterer, by a partner if the slaughterer is a partnership, or by a responsible officer if the slaughterer is a corporation.

(m) Audits and inspections. The Administrator shall be entitled to make such audits or inspections of the books, records and other writings, premises, supplies of livestock or stocks of meat of any person, and to make such investigations as may be necessary or appropriate, in his discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

Petitions shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Order Administrator may take any action with reference to such petition which is consistent with the authority delegated to him by the Administrator. If the petitioner is dissatisfied with the action taken by the Order Administrator, he may, by request addressed to the Order Administrator, obtain a review of such action by the Administrator. After said review, the Administrator may take such action as he deems appropriate, which action shall be final.

(o) Violations. (1) Any person who violates any provision of this order which requires veal or veal products to be set aside, reserved and held for delivery to governmental agencies, authorized purchasers or ship suppliers, or any provision of this order which requires set aside veal to be delivered to such governmental agencies, authorized purchasers or ship suppliers shall, upon certification to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, be subject to withholding by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of any meat subsidy claimed by such person.

(2) Any person who violates any provision of this order may, in accordance with the applicable procedure, be prohibited from receiving, making any deliveries of, or using livestock, meat, meat products, or animal fats.

(3) Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order is guilty of a crime and may be prosecuted under any and all applicable laws. Civil action may also be instituted to enforce any liability or duty created by, or to enjoin any violation of, any provision of this order.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—Civilian Production Administration

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

LUMBER, HARDWOOD FLOORING AND MILLWORK

The fulfilment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lumber and millwork for defense, for private account and for export; and the following direction is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

(a) What this direction does. Priorities Regulation 33 and Direction 8 to Priorities Regulation 33 provide for the assignment to builders, prefabricators and others, of priorities assistance to secure materials listed on Schedule A of Priorities Regulation 33 and List I of Direction 8 to Priorities Regulation 33, which are required for use in the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program. Among these items are lumber, hardwood flooring and millwork. This direction provides that sawmills shall produce a percentage of their total production of lumber in housing construction lumber and hardwood flooring lumber and hold as a reserve for certified orders from distributors, office wholesalers, millwork manufacturers, hardwood flooring manufacturers and prefabricators, as well as rated orders from housing contractors and other consumers. It applies to all sawmills and to lumber distributors, office wholesalers, millwork manufacturers, hardwood flooring manufacturers, prefabricators and housing contractors, and other consumers who have been assigned priorities assistance. It explains how such persons may obtain lumber or lumber products for the purpose for which the priorities assistance was granted and how delivery on such orders must be made. It also provides that the Civilian Production Administration may issue directives to allocate production, direct shipments, and direct or prohibit production of particular items.

This direction does not apply to lumber other than housing construction lumber and hardwood flooring lumber, and all such lumber must be sold and delivered in accordance with Priorities Regulation 1.

DEFINITIONS

(b) Definitions for the purpose of this direction. (1) "Lumber" means any sawed lumber of any species, size or grade, including rough, surfaced on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, except (i) shingles, slabs and round edge lumber; (ii) mine and railway cross ties nine feet or less in length; (iii) any segment of a log which has been produced so that it can be converted into veneer and which is sold and used for that purpose.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who buys and stocks lumber for resale as lumber either at wholesale or retail. A distributor who has two or more distinct and separate yards must for the purpose of this direction, consider each yard a "distributor".

(3) "Housing construction lumber" means softwood lumber in the form of flooring, ceiling, siding, partition, casing, base, moulding stock, strips and boards, two-inch dimension, finish, shop and lath.

(4) "Millwork" means windows, sash, doors; window sash and door frames; window and door screens; cut stock for foregoing items; trim, mouldings, built-in kitchen cabinets and other built-in millwork items suitable for authorized housing construction under Priorities Regulation 33.

(5) "Hardwood flooring lumber" means Grades 2 and 3a, rough, in all thicknesses of Oak, Pecan and Beech, in 4/4 and 8/4 thicknesses of Hard Maple and 4/4 and thinner thicknesses in Birch.

(6) "Sawmill" means: (i) any mill or plant, stationary or portable; (ii) any plant or concentration yard which processes (by drying, resawing, edging, grading, sorting, planing, or otherwise) 25 percent or more of the total volume of logs and lumber which it receives, into an item which is defined as lumber. However, the term "sawmill" does not include any establishment known in the trade as a distribution yard engaged in either retail or wholesale business even though it may process, for the servicing of special orders from consumers, more than 25 percent of the lumber it receives.

(7) "Housing contractor" means a builder (applicant) who has been directly assigned an HH rating under Priorities Regulation 33. It also includes a general contractor who has been directly authorized by such a builder to use the HH rating for the whole job. It does not include a subcontractor authorized to use the HH rating for a part of the job.

(8) "Millwork manufacturer" means a person who consumes a softwood lumber in the manufacture of millwork.

(9) "Hardwood flooring manufacturer" means a person who consumes hardwood flooring lumber in the manufacture of standard hardwood flooring.

(10) "Office wholesaler" means a person who buys lumber for resale but does not stock lumber.

(11) "Certified order" is any order for the delivery of lumber bearing the certificate described in paragraph (1).

(12) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

SAWMILLS

(c) Sawmill reserve production. The following provisions will govern the amount of housing construction lumber sawmills shall produce and reserve for certified and rated orders.

(1) Each sawmill as described in paragraph (b) (6) above, shall reserve in his over-all production of lumber in footage for the month of June, 1946, and for each calendar month thereafter, time and supplies sufficient to produce and deliver on certified or rated orders within such month at least 50 percent of his expected monthly production of softwood lumber in the form of housing construction lumber, and 100 percent of the Grades 2 and 3a rough, in all thicknesses of Oak and Pecan; 100 percent of Grades 2 and 3a rough, in 4/4 and 8/4 thicknesses of Hard Maple; 25 percent of Grades 2 and 3a rough, in all thicknesses of Beech; and 25 percent of Grades 2 and 3a rough, in 4/4 and thinner thicknesses of Birch.

The Civilian Production Administration may from time to time, change such percentage by publication in the Federal Register prior to the first day of any month.

(2) Where it is the customary practice of a sawmill to season lumber as described in paragraphs (b) (3) and (b) (5) by air drying, the lumber properly piled for seasoning and carried in inventory for this purpose will not be considered as produced until seasoned for the customary period.

(3) This direction does not prevent the free movement of softwood or hardwood lumber between sawmills. However, a sawmill that delivers all or any part of his lumber to another sawmill must still manufacture the percentage required under paragraph (c) (1) above, of his softwood or hardwood production into housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber. A sawmill receiving housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber from another sawmill must hold such lumber for sale on certified or rated orders in addition to his own reserve production. A sawmill delivering housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber to another sawmill may credit against his reserve production under paragraph (c) (1) above the amount of housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber so delivered.

(4) Every sawmill must hold his reserve production until the last day of each month for delivery on certified or rated orders and must accept and ship such orders for delivery in that month in preference to all other orders to the extent that such orders do not require more than the sawmill's monthly reserve production. The order of precedence for filling certified and rated orders is given in paragraph (m) (1) below. A sawmill, however, must not accept for delivery in any month orders rated MM for more housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber than 5 percent of his reserve production for that month except on special authorization from the Civilian Production Administration. When a sawmill has accepted certified or rated orders for housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber to the extent of his reserve, he must not accept additional certified or rated orders (except AAA), for housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber produced in that month. Any portion of the sawmill's production of housing construction or hardwood flooring lumber not required to fill certified or rated orders received during the month, may be sold only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(5) Certified orders. The following types of certified orders placed with the sawmill will be accorded the treatment provided for in paragraph (c) (4) above, and shipments on such orders may be credited against the percentage the sawmill is required to produce and reserve each month: Certified orders from (i) distributors; (ii) millwork manufacturers; (iii) hardwood flooring manufacturers; (iv) office wholesalers; (v) prefabricators.

DISTRIBUTORS

(d) Distributors. The following provisions tell how lumber distributors may place certified orders for housing construction lumber and how lumber so obtained may be sold:

(1) Any distributor may place certified orders for delivery each month for housing construction lumber with a sawmill, a distributor who sells at wholesale or an office wholesaler for one of the following amounts whichever is greater; (i) starting with the month of June an amount of housing construction lumber not exceeding 7 percent of the amount in footage of his inventory of all softwood lumber as of January 1, 1942, or (ii) two carloads of housing construction lumber in any calendar quarter at the rate of not more than one carload in any month of the quarter.

(2) Every distributor must reserve 75% of the housing construction lumber received in any month on certified orders for delivery on certified and rated orders. A distributor must accept all certified and rated orders up to the reserve quantities which are received before the end of the month regardless of whether such orders call for delivery within that month. A distributor, however, may not accept for delivery in any month orders rated MM for more housing construction lumber than 10% of the quantity reserved in that month. In addition, he must not accept certified or rated orders (except AAA) for a quantity in excess of the reserve. Any housing construction lumber received which a distributor is not required to reserve and any lumber in the reserve for which certified and rated orders are not received during the month, may be delivered by a distributor only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(3) A distributor may not use MM, CC or HH rated orders to get housing construction lumber from a supplier to fill a rated order for housing construction lumber, and he may not use an MM, CC or HH rating to replace in inventory housing construction lumber delivered from inventory on an MM, CC or HH rated order.

OFFICE WHOLESALER

(e) Office wholesaler. (1) An office wholesaler receiving certified orders from a distributor, millwork manufacturer, hardwood flooring manufacturer, or prefabricator, may place certified orders with the sawmill for an amount of housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber not in excess of the amount called for by the certified orders which he has received.

(2) An office wholesaler receiving AAA, MM, CC or HH rated orders for not less than carload lots of housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber may extend the rating on such orders to the sawmill for direct mill shipments.

MILLWORK MANUFACTURERS

(f) Millwork manufacturers. The following provisions tell how millwork manufacturers may place with a sawmill, an office wholesaler or a distributor certified orders for housing construction lumber and how such lumber shall be used, and the millwork sold:

(1) Any millwork manufacturer may place certified orders for delivery in each month starting with the month of June, 1946, for housing construction lumber with a sawmill, an office wholesaler or a distributor for an amount in footage not exceeding 8 percent of the amount in footage of softwood lumber consumed by him in the manufacture of millwork in the year 1940.

(2) A millwork manufacturer must use each month a quantity of lumber equal to all housing construction lumber received on certified orders for the manufacture of millwork. Every millwork manufacturer must reserve 75 percent of the millwork so manufactured for delivery on certified or rated orders. He must accept certified or rated orders up to the reserve which are received before the end of the month, regardless of whether such orders call for delivery within the month. A millwork manufacturer, however, may not accept for delivery in any month orders rated MM for more millwork than 10% of the quantity reserved in that month. In addition, he must not accept certified and rated orders for a quantity in excess of the reserve. Any millwork which the millwork manufacturer is not required to reserve and any millwork in the reserve for which certified and rated orders are not received during the month in which it is manufactured, may be delivered by the millwork manufacturer only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(3) A millwork manufacturer placing certified orders under paragraph (f) (1) above for delivery of housing construction lumber, who receives a rated order (except AAA) for millwork, may not extend the rating to a supplier to get housing construction lumber.

(4) A person not authorized as a millwork manufacturer to place certified orders under paragraph (f) (1) above, who has received an AAA, MM, CC or HH rated order for millwork, may extend the AAA, MM, CC or HH rating to his supplier, except to a sawmill, to get housing construction lumber to be incorporated in the millwork which he will deliver on that order, subject to the applicable inventory regulations.

HARDWOOD FLOORING MANUFACTURERS

(g) Hardwood flooring manufacturers. The following provisions tell how hardwood flooring manufacturers may place with a sawmill or office wholesaler certified orders for hardwood flooring lumber and how such lumber shall be used and the hardwood flooring sold:

(1) Hardwood flooring manufacturers may place certified orders for delivery each month starting with the month of June, 1946, with a sawmill or with an office wholesaler for hardwood flooring lumber for an amount in footage not to exceed 8 percent of the amount of footage of hardwood flooring lumber consumed in the manufacture of hardwood flooring in the year 1940.

(2) A hardwood flooring manufacturer shall use each month a quantity of hardwood lumber equal to all hardwood flooring lumber received on certified orders for the manufacture of hardwood flooring. Every hardwood flooring manufacturer must reserve 75 percent of the hardwood flooring so manufactured during that month for delivery on certified or rated orders. He must accept certified or rated orders up to the reserve which are received before the end of the month, regardless of whether such orders call for delivery within the month. A hardwood flooring manufacturer, however, may not accept for delivery in any month orders rated MM for more hardwood flooring than 10% of the amount reserved in that month. In addition, he must not accept certified and rated orders for a quantity in excess of the reserve. Any hardwood flooring which the hardwood flooring manufacturer is not required to reserve and any hardwood flooring in the reserve for which certified and rated orders are not received during the month it is manufactured, may be delivered by hardwood flooring manufacturer only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(3) Hardwood flooring manufacturers receiving rated orders (except AAA) for hardwood flooring may not extend the ratings to a supplier to get hardwood flooring lumber.

HOUSING CONTRACTORS

(h) Housing contractors. The following provisions tell how a housing contractor may place with a sawmill distributor or office wholesaler HH rated orders for housing construction lumber:

(1) A housing contractor who has an HH rating may apply the HH rating on orders for housing construction lumber to a distributor, or he may place HH rated orders for delivery each month starting with the month of June, 1946, with a sawmill or with an office wholesaler for housing construction lumber for an amount in footage not in excess of the total lumber required to meet his construction schedule for housing for which he has received priorities assistance under PR-33. Rated orders may be placed with a sawmill or with an office wholesaler for housing construction lumber only to the extent that other rated orders have not been placed with distributors for authorized amounts. The housing contractor must not specify delivery dates on rated orders more than 30 days before the time that the housing construction lumber is needed for incorporation into housing. Furthermore, the housing contractor must not place rated orders for housing construction lumber in which is specified a delivery date later than during the third calendar month after the time when the purchase order was placed.

(2) The housing contractor must use the housing construction lumber obtained on rated orders in the construction of housing for which the priorities assistance was authorized.

PREFABRICATORS

(i) Prefabricators. The following provisions tell how a prefabricator may place certified orders for housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring:

(1) A prefabricator may place certified orders for housing construction lumber with a sawmill, distributor or office wholesaler, for millwork with a millwork manufacturer, and for hardwood flooring with a hardwood flooring manufacturer, for an amount not in excess of the total amount of housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring required to meet a quarterly production schedule for prefabricated houses, panels or sections for which he has received priorities assistance on Form CPA-4415. A prefabricator must not specify delivery dates (at plant or warehouse) on certified orders more than 30 days before the time the housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring is needed for incorporation into the prefabricated houses, panels or sections. Furthermore, a prefabricator must not place certified orders for housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring in which is specified a delivery date later than during the third calendar month after the time when his purchase order is placed.

(2) A prefabricator must use the housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring obtained on certified orders for the purposes for which priorities assistance has been granted under Direction 8 to Priorities Regulation 33.

(3) A prefabricator may not apply or extend an HH rating for housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring.

INTEGRATED SAWMILLS

(j) Sawmills that are also prefabricators, millwork or hardwood flooring manufacturers. If a person engaged in operating a sawmill is also engaged in manufacturing prefabricated houses, panels or sections, millwork or hardwood flooring, he may transfer housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber from his sawmill to his manufacturing operation provided he is permitted to place monthly certified orders for housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring lumber. The transfer from the sawmill must be treated as delivery on a certified order and he must keep records of the transfer in his sawmill files and endorse the appropriate certificate on his records.

A person making a transfer permitted in the above paragraph must use or dispose of the housing construction lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring lumber transferred to his manufacturing operation in conformity with the applicable paragraphs above.

NEWCOMERS

(k) Persons not established as distributors, millwork manufacturers or hardwood flooring manufacturers. (1) Any person who was not on January 1, 1942, a lumber distributor and wants permission to place monthly certified orders for an amount of housing construction lumber in excess of two carloads of housing construction lumber in any calendar quarter at the rate of not more than one carload in any month of the quarter, may apply by letter to the Civilian Production Administration.

(2) Any person who was not, in the year 1940 a millwork or hardwood flooring manufacturer, and wants permission to place monthly certified orders may apply by letter to the Civilian Production Administration.

(3) Any person applying by letter under subparagraph (1) or (2) above should state how much housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber he needs each month, proximity of his place of business to similar businesses, and any other information to help the Civilian Production Administration decide what amount of housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber is needed by him to engage in business. Such application will be processed in an equitable manner.

CERTIFICATION ON ORDERS

(l) Certification on orders. To certify an order for housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber or millwork or hardwood flooring under this direction, the following certificate must be endorsed on or attached to the purchase order, sales ticket or other delivery orders. Certificates must be signed manually or as explained in Priorities Regulation 7. However, the standard form described in that regulation may not be used in place of certificate described in this direction. The certification required by this direction may not be waived under paragraph (f) or Priorities Regulation 7. The Serial Number must be inserted by persons holding authorizations on Form CPA-4386 or Form CPA-4415 in the place provided in the certificate. Orders placed verbally must be confirmed immediately and the confirmation must bear the appropriate certificate. The certificate must be substantially as follows:

The undersigned certifies to the supplier and to the Civilian Production Administration that he is a (distributor, millwork manufacturer, hardwood flooring manufacturer, prefabricator, office wholesaler) and that the quantities of housing construction lumber or hardwood flooring lumber or millwork or hardwood flooring covered by this order (together with all other certified orders for the particular material for delivery in the month specified in this order) do not exceed the amount permitted under Direction 1 to Priorities Regulation 33 with the provisions of which he is familiar.

MISCELLANEOUS

(m) The following provisions generally affecting sawmills, distributors, millwork manufacturers, hardwood flooring manufacturers, prefabricators, housing contractors, and office wholesalers, should be carefully read:

(1) Status of certified orders. Certified orders for the purpose of this direction shall be subject to the rules for acceptance and rejection of rated orders as provided in Priorities Regulation 1 except as modified in this direction. The order of precedence is (subject to any provision limiting the quantity of orders that need be accepted) as follows:

(i) At sawmill; (i) AAA; (ii) MM; (iii) certified; (iv) CC and HH;

(ii) At a supplier other than a sawmill; (i) AAA; (ii) MM; (iii) CC, HH, and certified orders which are of equal value.

(2) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise required by this direction, Priorities Regulations 1 and 3 continue to govern the use of ratings and the acceptance, scheduling and filling of orders. All other applicable regulations and orders of the Civilian Production Administration must be observed where not inconsistent with this direction.

(3) Extension of preference ratings. For the purpose of this direction the extendibility of ratings (except AAA) is governed by paragraphs (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h) which rules supersede paragraphs (d) and (d-1) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this direction or who, in connection with this direction, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Reports. Every person shall file with the Civilian Production Administration, or any other federal agency, through which the Civilian Production Administration may distribute housing construction lumber, such reports and questionnaires as the Civilian Production Administration or such other agency may from time to time require subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(6) Directives. The term "directive" as used in this direction means written instructions to a specific person regarding the manufacture, delivery, or use of lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring. The Civilian Production Administration may issue directives requiring sawmills, millwork manufacturers or hardwood flooring manufacturers or distributors to set aside specific quantities or percentages of production or shipments for persons placing certified or rated orders. It may also allocate production or shipments to specified persons for specified uses, and may direct how and in what quantities deliveries to specified persons or uses may be made. It may also direct distribution to particular areas and may direct or prohibit the production by any person of particular items of lumber, millwork or hardwood flooring. Directives supersede any preference ratings (except AAA) or certifications assigned to particular purchase orders or contracts. They may be issued for the satisfaction of Veterans' Emergency Housing Program and essential civilian requirements, and in order to carry out more fully the purposes of this direction.

(7) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this direction should be made by mailing a letter in triplicate to the Civilian Production Administration, Forest Products Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: Direction 1 to Priorities Regulation 33, stating the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

[Priorities Reg. 33, Direction 1A, as Amended June 11, 1946]

SOFTWOOD PLYWOOD

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of softwood plywood for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

(a) What this direction does. Priorities Regulation 33 and Direction 8 to Priorities Regulation 33 provide for the assignment to builders and prefabricators of priorities assistance to secure materials listed on Schedule A of PR 33 and List I of Direction 8 to PR 33 which are required for use in the Veterans' Housing Program. Among these items is softwood plywood. This direction provides that the manufacturers of softwood plywood shall produce a percentage of their total production in construction and door panel grades and reserve a percentage of those grades for certified orders from prefabricators, distributors, cabinet manufacturers, door manufacturers and housing contractors. It provides that the softwood plywood reserved and the product into which it is incorporated, may only be sold on certified orders or HH rated orders.

This direction does not apply to plywood not in construction and door panel grades and thicknesses and such plywood must be sold and delivered in accordance with the rules in Priorities Regulation 1.

(b) Definitions for the purpose of this direction. (1) "Softwood plywood" means laminated veneers of any species of softwood united with a bonding agent to produce board.

(2) "Construction plywood" means plywood of one or more softwood panels, 12 feet and shorter and without external sealer treatment of the following grades: Interior (moisture resistant) type as follows: ¼" sanded or 5/16" unsanded wallboard; ⅜" sanded or 3/16" unsanded wallboard; ¼" sanded or 5/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel; ⅜" sanded or 3/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel; 5/16" sheathing; ⅜" sheathing; ½" sheathing and ⅝" sheathing; and Exterior type ¼" sanded or 5/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel and ⅜" sanded or 3/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel.

(3) "Door plywood" means softwood plywood, Interior (moisture resistant) and Exterior type without external sealer treatment of ¼" sound two sides door plypanel.

(4) "Plywood manufacturer" means a person engaged in the manufacture of softwood plywood.

(5) "Prefabricator" means a person engaged in the manufacture of prefabricated houses, panels or sections who has been granted priorities assistance on Form CPA-4415 to build prefabricated houses, panels or sections.

(6) "Housing contractor" means a builder (applicant) who has been directly assigned an HH rating by CPA, FHA or NHA. It also includes a general contractor who has been directly authorized by such a builder to use the HH rating for the whole job. It does not include a subcontractor authorized to use the HH rating for a part of the job.

(7) "Distributor" means a person who buys and stocks softwood plywood for resale as plywood at wholesale or retail.

(8) "Cabinet manufacturer" means a person who produces kitchen cabinets for built-in installation in housing.

(9) "Door manufacturer" means a person who consumes softwood plywood in the manufacture of standard house doors.

(10) "Square footage" means measurement on a ⅜" rough basis.

(11) "Certified order" means any order for the delivery of softwood plywood bearing the certificate prescribed in paragraph (j).

Plywood Manufacturers

(c) Plywood manufacturers reserve production. The following conditions will govern the amount of construction plywood and door plywood, plywood manufacturers shall produce and reserve for certified orders:

(1) Each softwood plywood manufacturer shall reserve in his total over-all production of softwood plywood in square footage for the month of April, 1946, and for each calendar month thereafter, time and supplies sufficient to produce and deliver within such month; (i) at least 45% of his expected monthly production of softwood plywood in the form of construction plywood of which not more than 20% of the construction plywood may be in exterior type; (ii) at least 5% of his expected monthly production of softwood plywood in the form of door plywood, for delivery on certified orders.

The CPA may from time to time change such percentages by amendments published in the FEDERAL REGISTER prior to the first day of any month.

(2) Every plywood manufacturer must hold 60% of his production of construction plywood in square footage in any month for delivery on certified orders. A plywood manufacturer must accept and ship such certified orders in preference to all other orders (except AAA) to the extent that such orders do not require more than 60% of his production of construction plywood for that month. When a plywood manufacturer has accepted certified orders for construction plywood for this amount, he must not accept additional certified orders for construction plywood produced in that month. Any portion of the plywood manufacturer's reserve which is not required to fill certified orders received in the month it was produced, may be sold only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(3) A plywood manufacturer must reserve 40% of his total production of construction plywood in square footage beginning with the month of April, 1946, and for each calendar month thereafter for delivery only on uncertified and unrated orders from distributors.

(4) A plywood manufacturer must hold his reserve production of door plywood in any month for delivery on certified orders from door manufacturers or distributors. He must accept and ship such certified orders in preference to all other orders (except AAA) to the extent that such certified orders do not require more than the monthly reserve production of door plywood. When a plywood manufacturer has accepted certified orders for door plywood for the amount of his reserve production, he must not accept additional certified orders for door plywood produced in that month. Any portion of the plywood manufacturer's reserve of door plywood which is not required to fill certified orders received in the month in which it was produced, may be sold only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

Prefabricators

(d) The following provisions tell how prefabricators may place with a plywood manufacturer or distributor certified orders for construction plywood:

(1) A prefabricator may place certified orders with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor for construction plywood in the amount for which he has received priorities assistance on Form CPA-4415. A prefabricator must not specify delivery dates (at his plant or warehouse) on certified orders more than 30 days before the time the construction plywood is needed for incorporation into the prefabricated houses, panels, or sections. Furthermore, a prefabricator must not place certified orders for construction plywood in which is specified a delivery date later than during the third calendar month after the time when the purchase order is placed.

(2) A prefabricator must use construction plywood obtained on certified orders in the production of prefabricated houses, panels or sections to be sold on orders rated HH.

(3) A prefabricator may not apply or extend an HH rating for construction plywood.

Housing Contractors

(e) Housing contractors. The following provisions tell how a housing contractor may place certified orders or HH rated orders with a plywood manufacturer or distributor for contruction plywood.

(1) A housing contractor may apply the HH rating on orders for construction plywood to a distributor, but not to a plywood manufacturer, or a housing contractor purchasing in not less than carload lots, may place certified orders for mill shipment delivery each month starting with the month of April 1946, with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor, in an amount in square footage not in excess of the total construction plywood required to meet his construction schedule for housing for which he has received priorities assistance on Form CPA-4386. A housing contractor may not place HH rated or certified orders for construction plywood except for use in kitchen cabinets and bathroom and kitchen flooring. He may not apply the HH rating or use a certificate for an amount in excess of 300 square feet per house or apartment. If kitchen cabinets are purchased as millwork the total permissible amount of construction plywood must be reduced by the amount of plywood in the cabinets.

(2) A housing contractor must not specify delivery dates (at site or warehouse) on certified orders or HH rated orders, more than 30 days from the time that the construction plywood is needed for incorporation into the housing. Furthermore, the housing contractor must not place certified orders for construction plywood in which is specified a delivery date later than the third calendar month after the time when the purchase order is placed. A housing contractor may place certified orders for construction plywood only to the extent that HH rated orders have not been placed with a distributor.

(3) A housing contractor must use the construction plywood obtained on certified orders or HH rated orders on housing construction for which the HH rating was authorized.

Cabinet Manufacturers

(f) Cabinet manufacturers. The following provisions tell how a cabinet manufacturer may obtain authority to place certified orders with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor for construction plywood for use in drawer bottoms of built-in kitchen cabinets and how the cabinets must be sold:

(1) A cabinet manufacturer wishing to place certified orders with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor for construction plywood to be used in the manufacture of drawer bottoms for kitchen cabinets, shall apply to the CPA for authority to place such orders. A cabinet manufacturer must apply to CPA before May 10, 1946, unless already authorized, for the months of May and June, 1946, and for calendar quarters thereafter must apply at least 20 days before the first day of the quarter, by letter stating: (i) average monthly consumption of construction plywood in drawers for built-in kitchen cabinets in year 1940 (required in first application only); (ii) average anticipated monthly production of kitchen cabinets in units to be produced in the period for which authorization is requested, and (iii) total requirements in ¾" basis of construction plywood for drawers for built-in kitchen cabinets in item (ii) above. Such application will be processed equitably. A cabinet manufacturer must not specify delivery dates (at plant or warehouse) on certified orders more than 30 days before the time the construction plywood is needed for incorporation into the kitchen cabinet drawers. Furthermore, the cabinet manufacturer must not place certified orders for construction plywood in which is specified a delivery date later than during the third calendar month after the time the purchase order was placed.

(2) Authorizations to cabinet manufacturers will bear a serial number which must be inserted by the cabinet manufacturer in the place provided in the certificate required by paragraph (j) below.

(3) A cabinet manufacturer must use the construction plywood received on certified orders in the production of built-in kitchen cabinets suitable for housing. The cabinets manufactured from the construction plywood must be held for sale as millwork and sold in conformity with paragraph (f) (2) of Direction 1 to PR 33 providing for the sale of millwork.

Door Manufacturers

(g) Door manufacturers. The following provisions tell how door manufacturers may place with plywood manufacturers or distributors certified orders for door plywood for the manufacture of standard house doors and how the doors must be sold.

(1) A door manufacturer may place certified orders for door plywood for delivery in each month beginning with the month of April, 1946, with the plywood manufacturer or a distributor for an amount in square footage not in excess of 10% of the amount in square footage of door plywood consumed by him in the manufacture of standard house doors in the year 1940.

(2) A door manufacturer must use each month, all the door plywood received on certified orders in the manufacture of standard house doors. The doors so manufactured must be held for sale as millwork and sold in conformity with paragraph (f) (2) of Direction 1 to PR 33 providing for the sale of millwork.

Distributors

(h) Distributors. The following provisions tell how distributors may place orders for construction plywood, and how the construction plywood may be sold:

(1) A distributor may place uncertified and unrated orders for delivery each month for construction plywood with a plywood manufacturer. Every distributor must reserve 75% of the construction plywood received in any month for delivery on certified and rated orders. A distributor must accept all certified and rated orders which are received before the end of the month up to the reserve quantities regardless of whether such orders call for delivery within that month. A distributor, however, may not accept for delivery in any month orders rated MM for more construction plywood than 5% of the quantity reserved in that month. In addition, he must not accept certified or rated orders (except AAA) for construction plywood for a quantity in excess of the reserve. Any construction plywood which a distributor is not required to reserve, and any construction plywood in the reserve for which certified and rated orders are not received during the month, may be delivered by a distributor only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(2) A distributor who has received a certified order for construction or door plywood may place the certified order with a plywood manufacturer to get the construction or door plywood which will be delivered direct to consumer subject to the applicable inventory regulations. A distributor may not place a certified order with a producer for replacement of inventory.

(i) Newcomers. (1) A person who in the year 1940 was not established as a cabinet manufacturer or a door manufacturer, and who wants to place monthly certified orders for construction plywood for use in kitchen cabinets or for door plywood for use in standard house doors, may apply to CPA for authorization to place certified orders for a calendar quarter. Authorization will be issued on a quarterly basis and application by letter must be filed at least 10 days before the first day of the calendar quarter for which authorization is asked. The letter should state: (i) location of plant; (ii) amount of equipment and its production capacity to manufacture kitchen cabinets or house doors; (iii) line of kitchen cabinets to be produced; (iv) anticipated monthly production of house doors or kitchen cabinets in which plywood is required; (v) total requirements on a ⅜" basis of plywood for house doors or kitchen cabinets for the next current quarter. Such application will be processed in an equitable manner.

(2) A person receiving authorization to place a certified order under paragraph (i) (1) above, must hold kitchen cabinets or doors manufactured for sale in conformity with the provisions of paragraph (f) (3) and (g) (2) above, respectively.

Certification

(j) Certification. To certify an order for construction plywood or door plywood under this direction, the following certificate must be endorsed on or attached to the purchase order, or sales ticket. Certification must be signed manually or as explained in PR 7. However, the standard form described in that regulation may not be used in place of the certificate described in this direction. The certificate described in this direction may not be waived by paragraph (f) under PR 7. The serial number must be inserted by cabinet manufacturers, and persons holding authorizations on Form CPA-4386 or Form CPA-4415 in the place provided in the certificate.

Prefabricators, housing contractors, cabinet manufacturers, door manufacturers and distributors who place certified orders calling for delivery of construction plywood or door plywood, must use a certificate reading substantially as follows:

> The undersigned certifies to the supplier and to the CPA that he is a _____ (prefabricator, housing contractor, cabinet manufacturer, door manufacturer, or distributor) and that the quantities of construction plywood or door plywood covered by this order (together with all other certified orders for construction plywood or door plywood for delivery in the months specified in this order) do not exceed the amount he has been allowed under Direction 1A of PR 33 with the provisions of which he is familiar.
> Serial number _____

Miscellaneous

(k) Miscellaneous. The following provisions generally affecting plywood manufacturers, prefabricators, housing contractors, cabinet manufacturers, door manufacturers and distributors should be carefully read:

(1) Status of certified orders. Certified orders for the purpose of this direction are subject to the rules for acceptance and rejection of rated orders as provided in Priorities Regulation 1 as if they were rated orders. The order of precedence where orders are received by distributors, cabinet manufacturers and door manufacturers is (subject to any provision of this direction limiting the quantity of orders that need be accepted) as follows: (i) AAA; (ii) MM; (iii) CC, HH and certified orders which are of equal value.

(2) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise required by this direction Priorities Regulations 1 and 3 govern the use of ratings and the acceptance, scheduling and filling of orders. All other applicable regulations and orders of the Civilian Production Administration must be observed.

(3) Extension of rated orders. Ratings (except AAA) may not be applied or extended to a plywood manufacturer for construction or door plywood. However, any person who has received a rated order for the delivery of construction or door plywood may extend the rating to his suppliers (except to a plywood manufacturer) to get plywood which he will deliver on that order subject to applicable inventory regulations. If a person has made delivery of construction or door plywood on a rated order, he may extend the rating to his suppliers (except to a plywood manufacturer) to replace the amount in his inventory subject to the applicable inventory regulations. A millwork manufacturer who has received a rated order (except AAA) for millwork or who has delivered millwork on a rating (except AAA), may not extend the rating (except AAA), for construction or door plywood for incorporation into millwork. These rules supersede paragraphs (d) and (d-1) of Priorities Regulation 3 on the extension of ratings.

(4) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this direction, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Reports. Every person shall file with the Civilian Production Administration, or any other federal agency, through which the Civilian Production Administration may distribute plywood, such reports and questionnaires as the Civilian Production Administration or such other agency may from time to time require subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(6) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this direction shall be made by mailing a letter in triplicate to the Civilian Production Administration, Forest Products Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: Direction 1A to PR 33 stating the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(7) Communications. All communications unless otherwise directed must be addressed as follows: Civilian Production Administration, Forest Products Division, Washington 25, D. C.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the "dry groceries" listed in Table A and the "perishables" listed in Table B for all retail stores, other than "independent" retail stores, doing an annual business of less than $250,000, and for all retail stores, whether "independent" or not, doing an annual business of more than $250,000. These new ceiling prices are to be used instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter called OPA) except as otherwise provided in any order fixing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices which has been or which may be issued by the OPA pursuant to General Order No. 51.[3] All other retail stores (Group 1 and Group 2 stores selling these food products are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.

SEC. 2. How you find out whether your store is covered by this regulation and what group it is in.—(a) What stores are covered. Your store is covered by this regulation if it is a Group 3 or 4 store as defined below and if you are a retailer who buys and resells food products, generally without materially changing their form, for the most part to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. For the purposes of this regulation, "Great Lakes marine suppliers" shall be considered as retailers. The provisions of this regulation apply to "retail route sellers" only with respect to fresh fruits and vegetables. This regulation does not apply, however, to automatic vending machines, farmers selling produce grown on their own farms, or to sales of "specially prepared dietetic foods" by "health food stores" or "health food departments."

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4-27-44; Am. 50, 10 F.R. 9272, effective 8-2-45; and Am. 58, 10 F.R. 13073, effective 10-25-45]

(b) What are Group 3 and 4 stores. For the purpose of this regulation, Group 3 and 4 stores are defined as follows:

(1) Group 3. Your store is in Group 3 if its "annual gross sales" are less than $250,000, and if it is not an "independent" store. Your store is an "independent" store if it is not one of 4 or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more.

(2) Group 4. Your store is in Group 4 if its "annual gross sales" are $250,000 or more.

(If you are not sure what group your store is in, use the directions in Section 30 for figuring its "annual gross sales." See section 36 for definitions of Group 1 and 2 stores.)

(c) How to post a sign of the group your store is in. At all times, you must have the group your store is in under this regulation posted on a sign reading "OPA-3" or "OPA-4", whichever it is, or

[2] Statements of consideration are also issued simultaneously with amendments. Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

on a sign which the OPA may furnish to you, except that if under any order issued under General Order No. 51 you are allowed to post the sign of another group, you may do so. The sign must be posted so that it can be clearly seen by your customers. (The word "group" as used in this regulation means the same thing as the word "class" meant in Revised Maximum Price Regulations No. 238[4] and No. 268.[4]

(d) When you may choose to treat your store as a group 4 store. If your store is a Group 3 store, you may choose to treat it as a Group 4 store and post a sign in your store as a member of that group if you:

(1) Figure your ceiling prices for all the items listed in Tables A and B of this regulation as a Group 4 store;

(2) Use the Group 4 ceiling prices fixed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 390[5] for all the household soaps and cleansers it covers.

(3) Use all the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices fixed under the OPA community price orders issued for Group (or Class) 4 stores in your community; and

(4) Notify your nearest OPA district office of these facts.

Dry Groceries

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries".—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-type and container-size) of "dry groceries" listed in Table A shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" you had to pay for the most recent delivery of the item to you before August 5, 1943, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on August 5, 1943, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "dry groceries" listed in Table A which you have in stock at that time. (See section 24 for an exception to this rule if you purchase an item from wholesalers.) Between July 26, 1943, and August 5, 1943, you may put into effect the new ceiling price on any item as soon as you figure it; you must put the new ceiling prices into effect on all items not later than August 5, 1943. If you do not put the new price for an item into effect before August 5, 1943, you must continue to use your existing ceiling for that item until August 5. If you receive delivery of any item between July 26 and August 5 for which you have no ceiling price, you must, before selling it, figure your ceiling price according to the rules of this regulation.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule for "dry groceries".—(a) "Net cost." To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item based on its most recent delivery to you before August 5, 1943. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment and swell and label allowances, plus all transportation charges you paid except local trucking and local unloading. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-size and container-type of "dry groceries".

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on a single unit basis (that is, per can, per pound, per package, per jar, etc.), to the nearest half-cent. Your invoice cost may be the cost of a carton, case or barrel for instance, and not the cost of the package, can or other unit you sell. You must get the net cost of the single unit you sell by dividing the cost for the carton, case or barrel by the number of units in the carton, case or barrel.

(3) For items you "manufacture or otherwise process" use the special rules in section 25.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up for the item given your group of store. Table A lists all the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item. You must not change this ceiling price unless OPA authorizes you to do so. (Section 6 tells you when you can change it.)

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 5956, effective 5-25-44]

(d) Invoices. You must write your "net cost" per unit either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attached to that invoice or other record. You must keep separate, or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the net cost per unit which you used in figuring your ceiling prices. These invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling prices for "new items" of "dry groceries". A "new item" of "dry groceries" is any item of "dry groceries" which you did not have in stock at the opening of business on August 5, 1943. You must figure and post your ceiling price for a new item before selling it, following the rules in section 4, but basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you on or after August 5, 1943. In pricing new items it is a violation to use the net cost of a first purchase made in a non-customary manner (that is, from a non-customary supplier or in a non-customary quantity) when you know that you will be making future purchases in a customary manner.

If your first purchase is of this type you must find out and use in figuring your ceiling price, what the net cost would be of a purchase from a type of supplier usually used for a similar item and of a quantity in which a similar item is usually purchased.

SEC. 6. When you may change a ceiling price.—(a) Official notification. If OPA changes a supplier's ceiling price for an item covered by this regulation, it may direct retailers to refigure their ceiling prices for the item. You may not refigure your ceiling price under this paragraph until you receive written notice requiring you to do so. Ordinarily a written notice telling you to refigure your ceiling price will come to you directly from your supplier or the manufacturer. You will find it inside or attached to the carton, case or barrel containing the item, or it will be sent to you with the invoice. After actually receiving the item for the first time with such a notice, you must, before selling the item, refigure your new ceiling price by following the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on that first delivery. You must write this new ceiling price on the invoice covering that delivery. Be sure to keep this notice attached to your invoice or other record showing the price you paid for the item. Even though you received later shipments with the same notice you must not change your ceiling price again.

(b) Special deals. If your ceiling price for an item was based on a delivery to you at a "special deal" price, you may refigure your ceiling price when you receive your first delivery of that item after the termination of the "special deal". In refiguring your ceiling price, you must follow the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item after the termination of the "special deal".

A "special deal" price means a reduced price, in effect for an announced period of not more than 90 days, to all purchasers of the same class, which price was made for the purpose of introducing a new commodity not theretofore on the market, or resulting from offers of free goods or combination sales. No price resulting from a discount for quantity purchases shall be considered a "special deal" price.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 10, 8 F.R. 17370, effective as to paragraph (a), 1-8-44; as to paragraph (b), 12-29-43]

SEC. 6a. Dry groceries which you import. On and after September 11, 1944, this regulation shall not apply to you for sales of any dry grocery item purchased by you directly from a foreign seller or his agent (except as provided in section 20 (1)), for importation into the continental United States. Your ceiling price for such items shall be determined by you in accordance with Order No. 38 under the Maximum Import Price Regulation[7] or the General Maximum Price Regulation[8] or any other applicable maximum price regulation covering the sale of the item by importers. If you have an existing ceiling price for any such item, you must, by the opening of business on September 11, 1944, refigure that ceiling price in accordance with the applicable maximum price regulation or order covering the sale of the item by importers.

Perishables

SEC. 7. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "perishables".—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, variety, and grade) of "perishables" listed in Table B shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" of the largest delivery of the item to you during the week before, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table B.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on August 5, 1943, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "perishables" listed in Table B which you have in stock at that time. These ceiling prices must be checked each week after August 5, 1943, and changed on Thursday of each week for any item if your "net cost" of that item has changed in the preceding seven days. Never change your ceiling price on any day but Thursday.[9]

For items which you receive for the first time, or which you have not had in stock for 7 days, you must figure and use a ceiling price at once using the net cost of that first delivery. On each Thursday after that, you must treat the item as you would any other item of perishables covered by this regulation.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point may refigure ceiling prices for items so priced based on the net cost of deliveries received during the seven days preceding Tuesday of each week. These prices must not be put into effect until the following Thursday.

SEC. 8. Directions for applying the rule for "perishables".—(a) Net cost. To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the largest delivery to you of the item during the seven day period before the Thursday for which you are figuring your price. If you have received more than one delivery of the same largest quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid, which may include costs for icing, refrigeration, and ventilation, but which may not include costs for local trucking and local unloading.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 15251, effective 11-9-43]

(1) Your net cost must be based on purchases from a customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on the basis of the "selling unit" (for example, 1 pound, 1 dozen, etc.) listed in Table B for the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. If you are pricing fresh fruits or vegetables that you bought in a standard container listed in section 20, paragraph (t), you must figure your net cost as though the weight prescribed in that section were the actual net weight of the container. Always figure net cost to the nearest half-cent.

[Subparagraph (2) amended and (3) deleted by Am. 73, effective 6-15-46]

(3) [Deleted.]

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table B to find the mark-up for the item given for your group of store. Table B lists all the "perishables" covered by this regulation by commodity groups. Note that some mark-ups are percentage mark-ups, while others are dollars-and-cents additions per "selling unit" which you make to your net cost.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4-27-44]

(c) Ceiling price. (1) Percentage mark-ups. (i) Perishable items other than fresh fruits and vegetables. If the item has been given a percentage mark-up in Table B, turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(ii) Fresh fruits and vegetables. If the item has been given a percentage mark-up in Table B, turn to Table D. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(2) Dollars-and-cents mark-ups. If the item has been given a dollars-and-cents mark-up in Table B, instead of a percentage mark-up, do not use Table C or Table D to get your ceiling price. You will get your ceiling price for the item by adding the named dollar-and-cents mark-up in Table B to your "net cost." If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent, you may, in making sales of the selling unit, charge the next higher cent.

(3) Sales in other quantities. You may sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B. If you sell an item in a quantity other than the selling unit given in Table B, you must reduce or increase your ceiling price proportionately. If figuring a price for a quantity different from the selling unit results in a fraction of a cent, you may charge the next higher cent. (For example, if your ceiling price for an item of white potatoes is 4½ cents for 1 pound, the "selling unit," and you make a sale of 7 pounds of these potatoes, multiply 4½ cents by 7, and the ceiling price for the 7 pounds is 32 cents).

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4-27-44 and Am. 73, effective 6-15-46]

SEC. 9. Price which you must post. At all times, you must have your current selling price for each item of food covered by this regulation clearly shown on the item or at or near the place in your store where the item is offered for sale. Of course, this posted price must never exceed your ceiling price.

[Sec. 9 amended by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 5956, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 10. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it by any stratagem, scheme, or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You may not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost as used in section 4 or 8 would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price. You may never use the net cost of a purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price.

SEC. 11. Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your custom, you must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date, your name and address, and quantity and name of each food item sold, and the price you charged for it.

SEC. 12. Records. After July 26, 1943, you must keep for one year after you receive them all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation.

You are required to show all your invoices on request of any OPA representative and to furnish on request of any OPA representative a written record of your ceiling price in effect at any particular time or times for any or all of the items covered by this regulation. You must also keep available for inspection by an OPA representative the records you used in deciding what group your store is in.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point must also keep available at all times in each store a list showing the current selling price, as set at the central point, of each item so priced. These price lists must be kept in each store for one year, or, in the alternative, must be kept in each store for 30 days and thereafter for a period of eleven months in the warehouse from which the food items are delivered to the store. On request, such price lists must be shown to any OPA representative.

SEC. 13. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[10] licensing all persons who make sales under price con-

On each Thursday thereafter, you must refigure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules in section 8.

A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[Sec. 13 amended by Supplementary Order No. 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10–1–43]

SEC. 14. Prohibitions. On and after August 5, 1943, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

SEC. 15. Notice of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPA may, by order issued pursuant to General Order No. 51, fix in your region or community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for some or all of the "dry groceries" or "perishables" under this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices, and those orders may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation. If the OPA has, before the effective date of this regulation, established a ceiling price for you for an item pursuant to such an order, you shall use that as your ceiling price and shall not figure a ceiling price under this regulation for the item.

SEC. 16. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Administrator may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4 and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the mark-up for your group of retailers, you must, by the opening of business on the effective date of such amendment refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment. However, in doing so, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring the ceiling prices you had on the effective date of the amendment.

If you have customarily made most of your purchases of any item affected from a wholesaler who is pricing under Maximum Price Regulation 421,[11] and if you still customarily purchase such item from such a wholesaler, you must refigure your ceiling price in accordance with section 4, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery to you of such item after the effective date of the amendment.

[Paragraphs (a) and (b) added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 15251, effective 11–9–43]

(c) You must refigure your "annual gross sales" on the basis of the year 1945 instead of the year 1944. If you find that your store is in a group different from the one it was in before, you must refigure all of your ceiling prices. Prices figured on the new basis will be your ceiling prices starting Thursday, January 31, 1946. For "dry grocery" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 if you become a Group 1 or Group 2 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any "perishable" item on that Thursday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. Further, if any store becomes a Group 1 or Group 2 store, it is on and after January 31, 1946, subject to all other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 5956, effective 5–25–44; amended by Am. 41, 10 F.R. 2297, effective 3–5–45; and Am. 63, 10 F.R. 15466, effective 1–2–46]

(d) If prior to August 14, 1944, your ceiling price for any item of "cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs" was based upon a delivery received from a "cookie and cracker wholesaler" as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, and you still purchase such item from such a wholesaler, you must refigure your ceiling price for any such item in accordance with the rules in sections 3 and 4, basing your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item from such a wholesaler on and after August 14, 1944.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 23, 9 F.R. 9719, effective 8–14–44]

(e) 1944 pack of "canned" and frozen fruits and vegetables. Each item of the 1944 pack of "canned" fruits and vegetables and frozen fruits and vegetables shall be considered a different item from the 1943 and earlier packs, and you shall figure a separate ceiling price for each item. You must figure your ceiling price for each such item in accordance with the provisions in sections 3, 4 and 5, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery to you of the item.

However, if that first delivery is received by you from a person other than a wholesaler pricing the item under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, before the date on which maximum prices are established by the OPA for sales of the item by processors, and another delivery is received by you after that date, you shall refigure your ceiling price for such item, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you after that date.

That first delivery may be from a wholesaler (pricing under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421), whose ceiling price for the item is figured on the basis of a delivery received by him before the date on which maximum prices are established by the OPA for sales of the item by processors. In that event, and if you receive a later delivery of the item, you must refigure your ceiling price for such item; you must base your "net cost" upon the first delivery to you from your supplier after he has figured his ceiling price for the item on the basis of a delivery received by him after the date on which maximum prices are established by the OPA for sales by processors of the 1944 pack of the item.

The receipt of any of the above items of the 1944 pack, at a price to be adjusted after delivery in accordance with action to be taken by the OPA shall not be deemed a delivery, for the purpose of this section, until the receipt of an invoice or other written notice from your supplier showing the price after adjustment. Until the receipt of such an invoice or notice, you may not sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price for the same item of the 1943 pack.

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 28, 9 F.R. 11901, effective 9–27–44]

(f) Unless otherwise specifically provided, if your "net cost" of any item covered by this regulation is based upon a delivery from a person owned or controlled by (or owning or controlling) you, who is not subject to this regulation, and the item is not "manufactured or otherwise processed" by such person or by you, your "net cost" may not exceed the "net cost" which would result if such person had been subject to this regulation, plus transportation (not including local trucking or local unloading) to your usual receiving point. However, if such person performs, with respect to any item, any function described in section 20 of this regulation, you shall, for the purpose of figuring your "net cost" and ceiling price for that item under that section, consider that function as having been performed by you.

[Paragraph (f) added by Am. 31, 9 F.R. 12589, effective 10–16–44]

(g) On and after August 2, 1945, "health food stores" are made subject to this regulation for certain items in accordance with section 2 (a). If you are a "health food store," you must by the opening of business on August 2, 1945, have figured your ceiling price in accordance with sections 3 and 4 for each such item which you have in stock at that time. For each such item which you do not have in stock at that time, you must figure your ceiling price in accordance with section 5. However, in doing so, you must substitute the date August 2, 1945 for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

[Paragraph (g) added by Am. 50, 10 F. R. 9272, effective 8–2–45]

(h) 1945 pack of "canned" fruits and vegetables, frozen fruits and vegetables and dried fruits. Each item of the 1945 pack of "canned" fruits and vegetables, frozen fruits and vegetables and dried fruits, shall be considered a different item from the 1944 and earlier packs and you shall figure a separate ceiling price for each item. You must figure your ceiling price for each such item in accordance with the provisions in sections 3, 4 and 5, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery to you of the item.

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 57, 10 F.R. 12992, effective 10–23–45 and Am. 65, 11 F.R. 842, effective 1–28–46]

However, if that first delivery is received by you from a person other than a wholesaler pricing the item under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, before the date on which maximum prices are established by the Office of Price Administration for sales of the item by processors, and another delivery is received by you after that date, you shall refigure your ceiling price for such item, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you after that date.

That first delivery may be from a wholesaler (pricing under maximum Price Regulation No. 421), whose ceiling price for the item is figured on the basis of a delivery received by him before the date on which maximum prices are established by the Office of Price Administration for sales of the item by processors. In that event, and if you receive a later delivery of the item, you must refigure your ceiling price for such item; you must base your "net cost" upon the first delivery to you from your supplier after he has figured his ceiling price for the item on the basis of a delivery received by him after the date on which maximum prices are established by the Office of Price Administration for sales by processors of the 1945 pack of the item.

(i) On and after October 25, 1945, "Great Lakes marine suppliers" are made subject to this regulation in accordance with section 2 (a). If you are a "Great Lakes marine supplier" who is covered by this regulation, you must, by the opening of business on Thursday, October 25, 1945, have figured your ceiling price in accordance with sections 3 and 4 for each item of "dry groceries" which you have in stock at that time. For each such item which you do not have in stock at that time, you must figure your ceiling price in accordance with section 5. You must figure your ceiling price in accordance with sections 7 and 8 for each item of "perishables." However, in doing so, you must substitute the date October 25, 1945 for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4, 5, 7 and 8.

[Paragraph (i) added by Am. 58, 10 F.R. 13073, effective 10–25–45]

(j) From time to time, an item you sell may go back under price control after a period of suspension or exemption. When that happens, you must not sell the item until you have figured your ceiling price. Your ceiling price, in such a case, must be figured in the following way (whichever is applicable):

(1) If the item is a "dry grocery" item for which you have previously figured a ceiling price under this regulation, your ceiling price shall be the same as it was when the item was removed from price control.

(2) If the item is a "dry grocery" item for which you have not previously been required to figure a ceiling price under this regulation, and which you have in stock on the day price control is resumed, you must figure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules in sections 3 and 4, basing your "net cost," however, on the last delivery of the item received by you before price control is resumed. However, your "net cost" in such case may not exceed what it would have been if that delivery had been subject to price control and the purchase had been made at your supplier's ceiling price.

(3) If the item is a "perishable" item, you must figure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules of section 8, basing your "net cost," however, on the largest delivery received by you during the 7-day period before price control is resumed. On each Thursday thereafter you must refigure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules in section 8. However, your "net cost" in such case may not exceed what it would have been if that delivery had been subject to price control and the purchase had been made at your supplier's ceiling price.

First, to the importer's maximum price per hundredweight for sales of green bananas delivered at port of entry (as fixed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 285)[13] add the "cost of transportation" (as defined in section 2 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 285, but not including costs for local trucking or local unloading) to your usual receiving point. Increase the resulting figure either by $1.25 or by 29 percent, whichever is greater. Divide this total by 100 and you will get your net cost per "selling unit" (1 pound). This is the net cost you will use in figuring your ceiling prices and to which you add the mark-up in Table B for your group of stores.

If you import green bananas, all of the provisions in section 3 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 285 with respect to the amount an importer may pay for green bananas, including payment for purchasing services, shall be applicable to you as if you were an importer under that regulation.

In figuring your ceiling price for butter of any particular score (or grade), in a print or package you shall use as your "net cost" the lowest ceiling price established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 which would apply to sales of that particular score (or grade) of butter in such print or package directly by a creamery to a primary distributor delivered to the city, town, village or hamlet in which your usual receiving point is located, plus ½¢ per pound. When you perform the printing and packaging functions in a butter print division apart from your warehouse or store and then deliver the printed or packaged butter to your warehouse, the warehouse shall be considered your usual receiving point, and when it is delivered directly from the butter print division to your store, the store shall be considered your usual receiving point.

To that "net cost" you shall apply the mark-up applicable to that kind of poultry bought drawn and sold drawn. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price per pound of drawn weight.

[Paragraph (i) added by Am. 10, 8 F.R. 17370, effective 1–8–44 and amended by Am. 72, 11 F.R. 5929, effective 6–5–46]

To that "net cost", you shall apply the mark-up applicable to that kind of poultry or turkey bought cut-up and sold cut-up. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price per pound for such parts.

This section shall not apply to sales by you under the following conditions:

(1) If, prior to April 29, 1944, you figured a ceiling price for canned Cuban pineapple or canned Cuban pineapple juice for sales to industrial, institutional or commercial users under § 1341.155 (a) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 197,[20] or under this regulation for other packed pineapple or pineapple juice (other than pineapple or pineapple juice packed in the Territory of Hawaii or in Puerto Rico); and

[Paragraph (l) added by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 5656, effective 5–25–44; amended by Am. 24, 9 F.R. 10258, effective 8–26–44]

(m) Frozen fruits, berries and vegetables. After you have figured a ceiling price under this regulation for an item of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables which is covered by a supplement to Food Products Regulation 1, you must refigure your ceiling price for that item on the 15th day of each month. In refiguring your ceiling price, add to the "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based, the amount of ⅛ cent per pound.

[Paragraph (m) added by Am. 24, 9 F.R. 10258, effective 8–26–44; amended by Am. 37, 9 F.R. 15047, effective 1–2–45; Am. 47, 10 F. R. 7251, effective 6–20–45 and Am. 72, 11 F.R. 5929, effective 6–5–46]

(2) If, prior to offering for sale, you change the form of an item of smoked fish bought drawn (gutted) to dressed (headed, with fins off), and sell it whole, in chunks or in slices, you shall multiply your "net cost" per pound for the item by 1.10. To get your ceiling price per pound, apply the mark-up for your group of retailer to the resulting figure.

[Paragraph (o) added by Am. 24, 9 F.R. 10258, effective 8–26–44]

Add to that figure all transportation charges you paid to your usual receiving point, which may include costs for icing, refrigeration, and ventilation, but not costs for local trucking or local unloading. (If you perform, in connection with any item, any of the functions described in paragraphs (f), (g), (h), (q) or (r) of this section, start with the figure computed for that item under the applicable paragraph.) Increase that figure by 1½ percent. Reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" per "selling unit" and apply the mark-ups for your group of retailer as set forth in section 8.

To get your ceiling price, reduce that figure to the "net cost" of the "selling unit," and apply the mark-up for your group of retailer as set forth in section 8.

[Paragraphs (q) and (r) added by Am. 40, 10 F.R. 2024, effective 2-22-45]

(s) Region II retailers who purchase air-borne fresh fruits and vegetables in bulk and sell in consumer packages. This provision shall be in effect until June 1, 1946 and shall only apply to retailers in Region II. If you purchase fresh fruits and vegetables which are transported in bulk or standard containers from the growing area principally by air and pack such fresh fruits and vegetables in consumer packages on your own premises for sale in your store, you shall figure a separate ceiling price weekly for each such item, adding to your "net cost" (as defined in this regulation) all transportation charges you paid (except local trucking and local unloading) to your usual receiving point. The amount of air transportation that shall be added must be the actual cost of transportation or the amount that transportation would have cost figured at 42¢ per ton mile, whichever is lower. Each item of fresh fruits and vegetables must be wrapped in a consumer package and identified as air-borne. Your name and address and the name and net weight of the item must appear on each package.

Before making any sales under the provisions of this paragraph you must notify in writing, the Regional Price Executive of the Office of Price Administration, Empire State Building, New York, New York, that you intend to pack and sell air-borne fruits and vegetables in accordance with section 20 (s) of Maximum Price Regulation 422. In addition you must each Monday, file with the Regional Price Executive, a report for the preceding week setting forth the following:

(1) The names and addresses of the suppliers who sold you air-borne produce.

(2) A description of the fresh fruits and vegetables sold, the minimum net weight of retail packages and the number of packages sold.

(3) The actual cost of the air transportation for the fresh fruits and vegetables sold and the place and time of delivery of the air-borne fresh fruits and vegetables you received in bulk or standard containers.

[Paragraph (s) added by Am. 71, 11 F.R. 2594, effective 3-11-46]

(t) Fresh fruits and vegetables you receive in standard containers. In figuring your "net cost" per pound of an item of fresh fruits or vegetables you received in a standard container listed below, you must use as the net weight of the container the amount provided for by this paragraph. In general, the number of pounds shown in this paragraph for each container must be used as its net weight. However, Regional Administrators of the Office of Price Administration have authority to change the prescribed weights by order for areas in which such containers are received with net weights substantially different from those prescribed. Regional Administrators may delegate that authority to District Directors.

SEC. 21. Additional charges allowed for slaughtering and plucking poultry. You may add to your ceiling prices for poultry established by this regulation whichever of the following amounts apply.

(a) 10¢ for a bird killed in accordance with the Hebraic dietary laws, if such killing was done by your employee, or an agent or contractor engaged and paid by you.

(b) 10¢ for plucking a bird which you buy live and sell live, or buy kosher-killed and sell kosher-killed, if such plucking is done by your employee or an agent or contractor engaged and paid by you.

[Sec. 21a added by Am. 23, 9 F.R. 9719, effective 8-14-44 and revoked by Am. 35, 9 F.R. 14600, effective 12-21-44]

SEC. 22. Additions for delivery from your warehouse to your store. If your store is located at a distance of 125 miles or more from your warehouse which is your usual receiving point, you may, in determining your ceiling price for an item delivered from the warehouse to your store, use whichever of the following provisions applies:

(a) In the case of percentage mark-ups. Where a percentage mark-up is given for the item:

(1) If the store is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from such warehouse, you may add 1 to your mark-up figure. (Example: If your mark-up figure on sugar in Table A is 7 percent, you change it to 8 percent.)

(2) If the store is located at a distance of from 200 through 299 miles from such warehouse, you may add 2 to your mark-up figure.

(3) If the store is located at a distance of from 300 through 399 miles from such warehouse, you may add 3 to your mark-up figure.

(4) If the store is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from such warehouse, you may add 4 to your mark-up figure.

(b) In the case of dollars-and-cents mark-ups. Where a dollars-and-cents mark-up is given for the item:

(1) If the store is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from such warehouse, you may add 1 percent to the cost of the delivery or deliveries on which your net cost per "selling unit" is based. You must then figure the "net cost" on the basis of the "selling unit", in accordance with the rules in section 8. (Example: If you are figuring your ceiling price for green peas and your largest delivery during the preceding week was of 5 bushel baskets at $3.00 per basket, you may add 1 percent, that is, $0.15, to the $15.00 cost, and then reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of one pound, the "selling unit" for green peas.)

(2) If the store is located at a distance of from 200 through 299 miles from such warehouse, you may add 2 percent and figure your ceiling price in accordance with (1) above.

(3) If the store is located at a distance of from 300 through 399 miles from such warehouse, you may add 3 percent and figure your ceiling price in accordance with (1) above.

(4) If the store is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from such warehouse, you may add 4 percent and figure your ceiling price in accordance with (1) above.

[Sec. 22 amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4-27-44]

SEC. 23. How you may figure your ceiling prices for "perishables" on a weighted average basis. Section 7 of this regulation requires you to use in figuring your ceiling price for "perishables" the net cost of the largest delivery to you in the seven day period before the Thursday (or Tuesday for stores which price from a central point) for which you are figuring your price. If you desire to figure your ceiling prices for all items of "perishables" by using for each item, instead of the net cost of the largest delivery during this seven day period, the weighted average net cost of all deliveries of it to you during this seven day period, you may do so. However, you must apply in writing to the nearest district OPA office for permission. After receiving such permission, you may not use the net cost of the largest delivery during the seven day period to figure your ceiling price for any of the "perishables" listed in Table B. However, you shall continue to use all other provisions of section 8 in figuring your ceiling prices for these items.

SEC. 24. How you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries" you purchase from wholesalers. If you have customarily made most of your purchases of any item of "dry groceries" listed in Table A from a wholesaler who is now pricing under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, you may, if you still customarily purchase that item from such a wholesaler, figure your ceiling price for that item on the basis of the "net cost" of your first purchase after August 5, 1943, instead of your most recent purchase before August 5, 1943, as required by section 4. Such ceiling price shall not be changed except as required by section 6. Until you make such a purchase you shall keep your present ceiling price.

SEC. 25. How you figure your ceiling prices for foods you "manufacture or otherwise process". If you "manufacture or otherwise process" and sell at retail any item covered by this regulation, you will figure your "net cost" or ceiling price for such item under whichever of the following provisions applies:

(a) If the item is one for which the OPA has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, but the regulation makes no provision for manufacturers selling at retail the lowest ceiling price under that regulation for sales delivered to your usual receiving point shall be your "net cost".

(b) If the item is one for which the OPA has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers and makes a provision for manufacturers selling at retail, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under that regulation. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up under this regulation.

(c) If the item is one for which the OPA has not issued, or does not later issue, a regulation establishing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under the appropriate regulation covering the sales of such item by manufacturers. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up under his regulation.

(d) If, after you have established a ceiling price for an item which you "manufacture or otherwise process", the manufacturer's regulation which you used in figuring your ceiling price under paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section is amended so that either (1) the manufacturer's regulation is no longer the type described in the applicable paragraph of this section or (2) the type of regulation is not changed but the prices set forth therein are changed; you must, within 5 days after the effective date of such amendment, refigure your ceiling price for the item under the applicable paragraph of this section based on the manufacturer's regulation as amended.

(e) For the purpose of this regulation you shall be considered a manufacturer of any item which you manufacture or otherwise process directly, or which is manufactured for you by a person to whom you supply the raw material.

(b) The larger part of his sales of such commodity are made to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users,

(c) Shall figure his ceiling prices for sales of such commodity to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users in accordance with the provisions of this regulation, and shall, for such purposes, be considered a retailer covered by this regulation. SEC. 25d. Ceiling prices for sales of butter if you own more than 1000 pounds on October 31, 1945. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, if, at the close of business on October 31, 1945, you own more than 1000 pounds of butter, you must, on and after November 1, 1945 continue to sell each item of butter at no more than the ceiling price you had in effect for such item on October 31, 1945 until you file by registered mail with the Secretary of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., an affidavit setting forth the number of pounds you owned at the close of business on October 31, 1945. This affidavit must also set forth the calculation required herein, and must be accompanied by a check or money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States in an amount figured as follows:

(a) Take the number of pounds of butter you own at the opening of business on the date of filing; (b) subtract the number of pounds received by you between the opening of business on November 1, 1945 and the date of filing with a "net cost" based on a delivery at the five-cent increase in your supplier's ceiling price charged pursuant to Amendment No. 39 to Revised Maximum Price Regulation 289;[20] (c) multiply the difference by five cents, and subtract $50.00. Immediately upon the mailing of such affidavit with the amount due (if any), your ceiling price shall be figured in accordance with the other provisions of this regulation.

In the case of stores under one ownership, the number of pounds owned shall be the total of the number of pounds in each such store and wherever else located.

SEC. 25e. Ceiling prices for sales of cheddar cheese if you own more than 1,000 pounds on January 31, 1946. (a) At the close of business on January 31, 1946, you must take inventory to determine the total number of pounds of cheddar cheese that you own then. In the case of stores under one ownership, the number of pounds owned shall be the total of the number of pounds in each store and wherever else located. The term "cheddar cheese" as used in this section means both "cheddar cheese" and "processed cheddar cheese" as defined in Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 289.

(b) If you have an inventory of 1,000 pounds or less, this section does not affect you.

(c) If you have an inventory of more than 1,000 pounds, you must decide whether you will pay the Government 3¾ cents for each pound of cheddar cheese over 1,000 pounds in your inventory or whether you will sell at or below your ceiling price of January 31 until you have sold all but 1,000 pounds of that inventory.

(1) If you choose to make the payment to the Government, you must prepare an affidavit showing the number of pounds of cheddar cheese you owned at the close of business on January 31, 1946. You must file the affidavit with the Secretary of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., by registered mail, on or before February 15, 1946. With the affidavit you must send a check or money order payable to the Commodity Credit Corporation in the amount of 3¾ cents per pound of cheddar cheese you owned in excess of 1,000 pounds on January 31, 1946. Notwithstanding other provisions of this regulation, you must not refigure your ceiling price between January 31, 1946, and the time you file your affidavit with your payment. On the date you file your affidavit with your payment you will figure your new ceiling price on cheddar cheese by using as your "net cost" the "net cost" on which your ceiling price of that date is based plus three and three-fourth cents per pound. On each Thursday after that, you must treat cheddar cheese items as you would any other item of perishables covered under this regulation.

(2) If you do not choose to make payment to the Government, notwithstanding other provisions of this regulation, you must not refigure your ceiling price after January 31, 1946, until you have sold all but 1,000 pounds of your cheddar cheese inventory of that date. After you have sold all but 1,000 pounds of that inventory, you must treat cheddar cheese items as you would any other item of perishables covered under this regulation.

SEC. 25f. Ceiling prices for sales of "sugar" after February 9, 1946. At the close of business on February 9, 1946, you must determine the number of pounds of each item of "sugar" that you own for resale at that time. You must make and keep a record of that inventory at your place of business. Do not include "sugar" which you obtained as an industrial user under Third Revised Ration Order 3 issued by the Office of Price Administration. In the case of stores under one ownership, the number of pounds owned shall be the total of the number of pounds in each such store and wherever else located. After that date you must continue to sell each item of "sugar" at no more than the ceiling price you had in effect on February 9, 1946, until you have sold an amount equal to your February 9, 1946 inventory of the item. When you have sold that amount, you shall refigure your ceiling price for the item in accordance with the rules in section 6. However, if you receive a notification from your supplier to refigure your ceiling price for an item of "sugar", do not refigure your ceiling price until you have sold an amount equal to your February 9, 1946 inventory at no more than the ceiling price you had in effect on February 9, 1946.

If, at the close of business on February 9, 1946, you have an inventory of more than 10,000 pounds of all items of "sugar", you must, on or before February 25, 1946, file with the Wholesale-Retail and Fruit and Vegetable Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., by registered mail, an affidavit showing the number of pounds of each item of "sugar" you own for resale at that time. You must keep a copy of that affidavit at your place of business.

ARTICLE III—ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS

SEC. 27. How you may, under certain conditions, apply to use Group 1 mark-ups. (a) If your store meets the gross margin requirements specified in this section and does business in the manner outlined below, you may apply under paragraph (b) of this section to use the mark-ups provided in Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 for Group 1 stores:

(1) Most of your sales in your grocery department are made by sales clerks who assist customers in selecting, collecting and wrapping merchandise;

(2) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of taking orders by telephone, carrying monthly charge accounts, and providing delivery service;

(3) The general level of your prices for grocery products was during September 1942 at least as high as the level maintained by Group 1 stores, and was generally higher than that maintained by Group 3 and 4 stores, for such products in your community; and

(4) The total gross margin in your fiscal year 1941 was more than 25% on all sales in your food departments and also, if you are not an "independent" store, more than 25% on the combined sales of the food departments in all the stores in your organization. Do not count a restaurant as a food department. If not in business in 1941, use your most recent fiscal year (or fiscal period, if not in business a full fiscal year).

(b) Your application must be filed in duplicate with your nearest District OPA office on a form which you may get from that office. You may combine on one form the applications of more than one of your stores. If your application is finally approved, OPA will tell you when to begin using the Group 1 mark-ups, and from such time on you shall post a sign in your store designating it as a "Group 1" store, and it shall be considered a Group 1 store for all orders issued under Revised General Order No. 51 and for the purpose of all "special pricing provisions" contained in Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.

(c) If you filed an application under this section or under section 26 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238, or section 25 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 268 and such application has been denied, you are not eligible for adjustment under this section. If your application has been allowed, you may use the mark-ups for a Group 1 store in Tables A and B of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 and may consider your store a Group 1 store for the purpose of all "special pricing provisions" contained in that regulation and you must post a Group 1 sign, but you are subject to all other provisions of this regulation.

[Paragraphs (b) and (c) amended by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 5656, effective 5-25-44; and Am. 41, 10 F.R. 2297, effective 3-5-45]

SEC. 28. How certain stores, where necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a locality, may apply for mark-up adjustments. If your store is necessary to provide an adequate supply of food products in a locality; and by reason of remote location, long-term credit, short selling season, or other such unusual operating conditions, you find it impossible to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation you may apply for an adjustment of such mark-ups by filing with your nearest district OPA office two copies of a signed statement giving for your store: (1) its name and address; (2) its group under this regulation; (3) its type (for example, cash-and-carry; service, delicatessen); (4) the approximate number of its food customers; (5) the total number of stores selling food in its community; (6) its distance from the nearest store selling food and the name and address of that store; and (7) the reasons why you are unable to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation.

If you have more than one store you may file one application for all your stores which meet the conditions stated above. Your application must state separately for each store the specific information this section calls for.

SEC. 29. Applications for adjustment. Any Regional Office of the OPA, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this regulation, and may deny any application filed under section 27 or revoke any order granting adjustment under that section if denial of such application would not cause the applicant a substantial financial hardship. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[1]

SEC. 29a. Regional adjustment of poultry mark-ups. Each Regional Administrator of the OPA is hereby authorized to reduce the mark-ups listed in Table B in section 39 (a) for retailers in any area or locality within his jurisdiction for sales of any poultry items in connection with adjustments made pursuant to section 2.3 of Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, whenever such action is necessary to prevent an increase in the ceiling prices at which such poultry items may be sold by retailers.

[Sec. 29a added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10569, effective 7-27-43 and amended by Am. 72, 11 F.R. 5929, effective 6-5-46]

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 30. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales," take your total sales for the calendar year 1945. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or part of the calendar year 1945 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were in business during only part of the year 1945, you must divide your total sales for 1945 by the number of weeks you were in business. This will give you your weekly average sales. Multiply this figure by 52 and the result is your "annual gross sales."

[Sec. 30 amended by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 5656, effective 5-25-44; Am. 41, 10 F.R. 2297, effective 3-5-45; and Am. 63, 10 F. R. 15466, effective 1-2-46]

SEC. 31. How you determine your group in certain special cases—(a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, you must determine your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell food in a retail food store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store. If you are unable to get the "annual gross sales" from the other food retailers in that store, you shall apply, in writing, to your nearest OPA District Office, for a determination of your group, stating your own "annual gross sales" figure for the applicable year. Each District Director is authorized to act on requests covering stores located within his district, and action taken shall be by order.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 55, 10 F.R. 12265, effective 10-4-45]

(2) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be considered as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you must determine your group by using only your own sales.

(c) New stores. If you open a retail store after January 1, 1946 you may consider yourself a Group 1 or Group 3 retailer, depending upon whether or not at that date your store is an "independent" store. You must figure your ceiling prices accordingly. (If you are a Group 1 store, you must figure your ceiling prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 423). However, after you have been in business for three months you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales for the three-month period and multiply by four. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 5656, effective 5-25-44; Am. 41, 10 F.R. 2297, effective 3-5-45; and Am. 63, 10 F.R. 15466, effective 1-2-46]

If you find that your store should now be in another group, you may continue to use the Group 1 or 3 mark-ups until the second Thursday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all your ceiling prices using the mark-ups for your new group. For "dry grocery" items use the same "net cost" which you used in figuring your ceiling prices in effect at the end of the 3-month period. For "perishable" items, you shall use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8. If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any item on that Thursday, you shall use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price at that time is based.

(d) Discontinuance of stores. (1) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores so that you now have less than 4 stores under one ownership, you may find your group for each of the remaining stores by determining the "annual gross sales" under section 30 (a), treating each store as an "independent" store.

(2) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores, but 4 or more stores continue under one ownership, you may refigure the combined "annual gross sales" under section 30 (a) for those remaining in operation. If the combined "annual gross sales" are not $500,000 or more, you may then determine your group for each store, treating each as an "independent" store.

(3) If you find that any store is now in another group, you may refigure all of your ceiling prices for that store before the opening of business on any Thursday. For "dry grocery" items, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable" items, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation if a Group 4 store (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 if a Group 1 or Group 2 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any "perishable" item on that Thursday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. Further, if any store is now in Group 1 or Group 2, it is subject to all other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 423.

SEC. 32. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at retail of food covered by this regulation if you state the tax separately, and if the statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 33. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after August 5, 1943, you acquire in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail stores to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailer to which you belong under this regulation.

SEC. 34. Export sales. The ceiling prices at which a person may export any product covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [22] issued by the OPA.

SEC. 35. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 422, except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after August 5, 1943, supersede the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238, Maximum Price Regulation No. 250,[23] Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 256,[24] Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 268, the General Maximum Price Regulation, and any other applicable price regulation or order issued by the OPA except any order issued pursuant to General Order 51 with respect to sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 36. Definitions—(a) "Retail route seller." A "retail route seller" is a retailer who distributes food products to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, either on a future delivery basis or otherwise, from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances operated by driver-salesmen over regular routes. A retailer, most of whose business is the personal solicitation of orders by salesmen calling at the homes or places of business of ultimate consumers, who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, shall also be considered a retail route seller. A retailer is a "retail route seller" only of the food products he sells in this way.

(b) Health food stores. A "health food store" or "health food department" is one whose sales to consumers consist principally of "specially prepared dietetic foods." For the purposes of this regulation a "health food department" is a separate and distinct department operated by separate and specially trained personnel and for which separate records and accounts are maintained.

"Specially prepared dietetic foods" are foods manufactured and sold for restricted diets and for special dietetic purposes, including but not limited to, specially prepared foods for diabetic or arthritic conditions, or high blood pressure; specially prepared weight building or tonic foods; and vitamin or mineral supplements.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 50, 10 F.R. 9272, effective 8-2-45]

(c) Delivery. Delivery of an item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(d) Usual receiving point. Your usual receiving point will be either your retail store or your warehouse from which you supply your retail stores, depending upon where you normally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation.

(e) Item. You must determine a separate ceiling price for each item; that is, for each kind, brand, size, variety, grade, container-type, and container-size, except for fresh fruits and vegetables. Separate fresh fruit and vegetable items shall be those defined as separate in the definitions accompanying Table B.

(f) Manufacture or otherwise process. "Manufacture or otherwise process" shall mean blending, freezing, canning, preserving, bottling, milling, crushing, straining, roasting, centrifuging, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, and other similar operations, and packaging of spices, tea and gelatin in the manner described in section 18.

Packaging as used in section 18, ripening of bananas, printing of butter, candling and grading of eggs and killing and dressing of poultry shall not be considered manufacturing or processing under this regulation.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 43, 10 F.R. 5370, effective 5-17-45]

(g) Group 1 retailer. A retailer is in Group 1 if he is an "independent" retailer with an "annual gross sales" of less than $50,000.

(h) Group 2 retailer. A retailer is in Group 2 if he is an "independent" retailer with an "annual gross sales" of $50,000 or more, but less than $250,000.

(i) Great Lakes marine supplier. "Great Lakes marine supplier" means a person operating a selling establishment which buys and resells food products for the most part to "operators of a lake vessel or vessels," for consumption aboard such vessel or vessels, with delivery from shore locations by use of truck or launch facilities. "Operator of a lake vessel or vessels" means any person who owns or operates a lake vessel or vessels, other than passenger boats, engaged in shipping upon the Great Lakes, and who in operating such vessels purchases or receives food products covered by this regulation from a Great Lakes marine supplier for consumption aboard such vessels. Excluded from this definition are hotel supply houses as defined in Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, hotel and restaurant supply houses as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 271, and purveyors as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 426.

[Paragraph (i) added by Am. 58, 10 F.R. 13073, effective 10-25-45]

SEC. 37. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4214, effective 4-27-44 and Am. 73, effective 6-15-46]

Table A lists by commodity groups the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation and the mark-ups to be used by Group 3 and Group 4 retailers in figuring their ceiling prices. Table B gives the same information for "perishables". However, in addition, Table B also lists the selling units, on the basis of which retailers must figure their net costs and ceiling prices for "perishables." For a detailed list of the items in each commodity group, see "Commodity definitions of dry groceries" printed immediately after Table A, and "Commodity definitions of perishables" printed immediately after Table B. After you have determined your "net cost" for an item in accordance with the method set up in this regulation, find your proper mark-up in the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Commodity groups are listed at the left of Table A and Table B. Directly opposite each commodity group you will find either a percentage mark-up or a dollars-and-cents mark-up for your group of retailers.

If a percentage mark-up is shown, and the item being priced is not a fresh fruit or vegetable, you get your ceiling price for the item by turning to table C, which shows the ceiling price for all items (except fresh fruits and vegetables) with per unit net costs ranging from ½¢ to 50¢. Percentage mark-ups over net cost are listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, and "net cost" across the top of the table. "Net cost per unit" means, in the case of dry groceries, the "net cost" of a single unit (one can, one jar, etc). For perishables, it means the "net cost" of the selling unit listed in the last column of Table B.

To determine your ceiling price from Table D, find your net cost at the top of the table. Go down that column until you come to the figure (in that column) on the same line as your mark-up. The figure at that point is your ceiling price for the item. If the ceiling price is stated in terms of a half-cent, you may charge the next higher cent in making a sale of the "selling unit."

If your net cost per unit is more than 50¢, you cannot use Table C or Table D to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you must (1) multiply your net cost by your percentage mark-up, (2) add the result to your net cost, and (3) round the sum to the nearest whole cent. For perishables, your net cost must be in terms of the selling unit specified in Table B.

If the mark-up specified for an item is a dollars-and-cents mark-up, you cannot use Table C or Table D to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you simply add the stated amount of mark-up to your "net cost." If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent you may, in making sales of the "selling unit," charge the next higher cent.

Example (1). A Group 3 retailer wishes to figure a new ceiling price for "xx" Brand, No. 2 can tomatoes, 1942 pack, which he must put into effect by August 5, 1943, in accordance with section 3. His most recent purchase of a customary quantity of this item from a customary type of supplier delivered to his usual receiving point was a carload purchased from a packer and delivered at a cost of $2.00 a case (24 cans) on July 20, 1943. He must first figure, to the nearest half-cent, his "net cost" on a single unit basis (sec. 4 (a) (2)), that is, for a single can. He therefore divides the cost for the case, $2.00, by the number of single units in the case, 24, and gets a result of $0.0833, before rounding. Rounding to the nearest half-cent, this becomes $0.085. (If the figure had been $0.0821 before rounding, he would have rounded to $0.080.) He then turns to Table A to find the mark-up to be applied to his net cost. Going down the column at the left of Table A he will find a listing of the commodity group which includes the item he is pricing. For canned tomatoes this group is "Corn, green and wax beans, peas, tomatoes, and tomato juice, canned." Going across the page on that line, he will find his mark-up for the item in the column for Group 3 retailers. In this case, his mark-up is 21 percent. Having his mark-up and net cost, Table C will give him his ceiling price without further computations. Checking across the top of Table C, he will find a column headed by his net cost, $0.085. Going down this $0.085 column until he comes to the figure on the same line as his percentage mark-up of 21 percent listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C he will find his ceiling price for the item to be 10 cents per can.

Example (2). A Group 3 retailer wishes to figure a ceiling price for California yellow globe dry onions, U. S. #1, which he must use during the period October 25 (Thursday) to October 31, (Wednesday), inclusive. He must first find the net cost of his selling unit based on his largest purchase during the seven days preceding Thursday, October 25. During the preceding week he made a purchase of 250 bags of 50 pounds each of California yellow globe dry onions, U. S. #1, at a delivered cost of $2.98 per bag, a purchase of 150 bags of the same grade and from the same growing area at a delivered cost of $3.02 a bag, and another purchase of the same item of 200 bags at a delivered cost of $2.97 a bag. His largest purchase, therefore, was the purchase of the 250 bags. He must figure his net cost on the basis of the selling unit listed in Table B, which for onions is 1 pound. He divides his cost per 50-pound bag in his largest purchase, $2.98, by 50 (the figure specified in section 20 of the regulation for onions), to get a result of $0.0596. Since net cost is to be figured to the nearest half-cent, he would then round this figure to 6¢, which is his net cost per selling unit. He then turns to Table B to find his mark-up to be applied to net cost, which for onions is 40 percent. Having his mark-up and his net cost, Table D will give him his ceiling price without further computations. Checking across the top of Table D, he will find a column headed by his net cost, 6¢. Going down this 6¢ column until he comes to the figure on the same line as his percentage mark-up of 40 percent listed in the column at the extreme left of Table D, he will find his ceiling price for the item to be 8½¢. In selling one pound, he may charge 9 cents. However, if he sells 2 pounds, he may charge no more than 17 cents (2 x 8½¢).

Example (3). A Group 3 retailer wishes to figure his ceiling price for California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th. His largest purchase during the preceding week was a purchase of ten bushel baskets at $4.05 per basket. His selling unit for green peas, given in Table B, is 1 pound. He therefore divides his cost per basket ($4.05) in his largest purchase during the preceding week, by 28 (the weight of a bushel basket of green peas as specified in section 20 of the regulation). This results in $0.144, which is rounded to 14½¢. He then looks in Table B for the mark-up for green peas, which is $0.050. This mark-up, 5 cents added to the net cost per selling unit of 1 pound, 14½ cents, gives him 19½ cents. Therefore his ceiling price per pound of California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th is 19½ cents. In selling 1 pound, he may charge 20 cents. However, if he sells 2 pounds, he may charge no more than 39 cents (2 x 19½¢).

PART 1390—MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

MACHINES, PARTS AND INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 136 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 19 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Lead acid storage batteries, cells and plates; procedure where OPA establishes industry-wide increases in the price of lead. (1) Manufacturers of lead acid storage batteries, cells or plates therefor, may, after June 3, 1946, the effective date of an amendment to Revised Price Schedule 69 raising the maximum price of lead, for each one cent per pound increase in the price of lead granted by that amendment, increase their maximum net prices which would be in effect for such products in the absence of this paragraph (a) by an amount equal to 1.25 cents multiplied by the number of pounds of lead in such battery, cell or plate. Should the increase in the price of lead be more or less than one cent per pound, the increase in the maximum net price for the above-mentioned products is to be adjusted proportionately. Manufacturers who were not engaged in the manufacture of these products on May 31, 1946, and who seek to establish maximum prices for those products, shall utilize the applicable portions of sections 9 and 10 of this regulation.

(2) Resellers, other than retailers, of the products described in the preceding subparagraph may increase their maximum net prices which would be in effect for such products in the absence of this paragraph (a) by the dollars-and-cents amounts by which their net invoiced costs have been increased as a result of this paragraph (a). If such resellers were not engaged in the business of reselling those products on May 31, 1946, and seek to establish maximum prices for those products, they shall utilize the applicable portions of Section 11 of this regulation.

(3) Increases in maximum net prices, obtained as a result of the provisions of this paragraph (a), shall be separately stated on the invoice furnished in transactions affected thereby.

This amendment shall become effective June 11, 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 423,[1] Incl. Amdts. 1–69]

CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FOODS SOLD AT RETAIL IN INDEPENDENT STORES DOING AN ANNUAL BUSINESS OF LESS THAN $250,000 (GROUP 1 AND GROUP 2 STORES)

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 423 includes Amendment 69, effective June 15, 1946. Additions, amendments and deletions by Amendment 69 are indicated by underscoring or notes.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 423 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the ceiling prices established by this maximum price regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and comply with the requirements of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250, and Executive Order No. 9328, and will effectuate the purposes of said act and Executive orders.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the "dry groceries" listed in Table A and the "perishables" listed in Table B for all "independent" retail stores doing an annual business of under $250,000. These new ceiling prices are to be used instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter called OPA), except as otherwise provided in any order fixing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices which has been or which may be issued by the OPA pursuant to General Order No. 51.[3] All other retail stores (Group 3 and Group 4 stores) selling these food products are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 422.

SEC. 2. How you find out whether your store is covered by this regulation and what group it is in—(a) What stores are covered. Your store is covered by this regulation if it is a Group 1 or 2 store as defined below and if you are a retailer who buys and resells food products, generally without materially changing their form, for the most part to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. For the purposes of this regulation, "Great Lakes marine suppliers" shall be considered as retailers. The provisions of this regulation apply to "retail route sellers" only with respect to fresh fruits and vegetables. This regulation does not apply, however, to automatic vending machines, farmers selling produce grown on their own farms, or to sales of "specially prepared dietetic foods" by "health food stores" or "health food departments."

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 16, 9 F.R. 4217, effective 4–27–44; Am. 48, 10 F.R. 9272, effective 8–2–45; and Am. 56, 10 F.R. 13074, effective 10–25–45]

(b) What are Group 1 and 2 stores. For the purpose of this regulation, Group 1 and 2 stores are defined as follows:

(1) Group 1. Your store is in Group 1 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of less than $50,000. Your store is an "independent" store if it is not one of 4 or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more.

(2) Group 2. Your store is in Group 2 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of $50,000 or more, but less than $250,000.

(If you are not sure what group your store is in, use the directions in section 20 for figuring the "annual gross sales" of your store. See section 25 for definitions of Group 3 and Group 4 retailers.)

(c) How to post a sign of the group your store is in. At all times, you must have the group your store is in under this regulation posted on a sign reading "OPA–1" or "OPA–2" whichever it is or on a sign which the OPA may furnish to you. The sign must be posted so that it can be clearly seen by your customers. (The word "Group" as used in this regulation means the same thing as the word "Class" meant in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238,[4] and in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 268.[5]

(d) When you may choose to treat your store as a Group 3 or 4 store. You may choose to treat your store as either a Group 3 or Group 4 store under Maximum Price Regulation 422 and post a sign in your store as a member of such other group if you:

(1) Figure your ceiling prices for all the items listed in Tables A and B of this regulation as a member of the group you choose;

(2) Use the ceiling prices fixed for that group in Maximum Price Regulation No. 390[6] for all the household soaps and household cleansers it covers;

(3) Use the ceiling prices for "Group 3 and 4" stores fixed in Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 336[7] and 355[8] for all the meat items they cover;

(4) Use all the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices fixed under the OPA community price orders issued for stores in the group you choose; and

(5) Notify your nearest OPA District Office of these facts.

Dry Groceries

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-type and container-size) of "dry groceries" listed in Table A shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" you have to pay for the first delivery to you of the item on or after August 5, 1943, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries." You must figure and put into effect a new ceiling price for each item of "dry groceries" listed in Table A not later than 5 days after receiving the first delivery of the item on or after August 5, 1943. Until then keep your present ceiling prices. Figure your new ceiling price by following the directions in section 4.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule for "dry groceries"—(a) Old prices. Keep your old ceiling price until you put into effect your new ceiling price based on the first delivery of the item to you on or after August 5, 1943. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-size and container-type of "dry groceries".

(b) Net cost. To figure your new ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item based on its first delivery to you on or after August 5, 1943. Your net cost will be the amount you pay your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment plus all transportation charges you pay except local trucking and local unloading.

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. If the first delivery of an item to you on or after August 5, 1943, is not one of this type, you shall not use the net cost of that purchase as the basis for figuring your ceiling price. Instead, in that case, you must find out what your net cost would have been if that purchase had been of a customary quantity from your customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery, and use that figure as your net cost in figuring your ceiling price for the item. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on a single unit basis (that is, per can, per pound, per package, per jar, etc.) to the nearest half-cent. Your invoice cost may be the cost of a carton, case or barrel for instance, and not the cost of the package, can, or other unit you sell. Find the net cost of the single unit you sell by dividing the cost for the carton, case or barrel by the number of units in the carton, case or barrel.

(c) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up for the item given your group of stores. Table A lists all the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(d) Ceiling prices. Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item. You must not change this ceiling price unless OPA authorizes you to do so. (Section 6 tells you when you can change it.)

(e) Invoices. You must write your "net cost" per unit either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attached to that invoice or other record. You must keep separate, or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the net cost per unit which you used in figuring your ceiling prices. These invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling prices for items of "dry groceries" not kept in stock. If you have already figured a ceiling price under this regulation for an item of "dry groceries" which you have not had in stock for 60 days, you may, if you wish, figure a new ceiling price when next you purchase it. Do this by following directions in section 4, using, however, the "net cost" you had to pay for your new purchase.

SEC. 6. When you may change a ceiling price—(a) Official notification. If OPA changes a supplier's ceiling price for an item covered by this regulation, it may direct retailers to refigure their ceiling prices for the item. You may not refigure your ceiling price under this paragraph until you receive written notice requiring you to do so. Ordinarily a written notice telling you to refigure your ceiling price will come to you directly from your supplier or the manufacturer. You will find it inside or attached to the carton, case or barrel containing the item, or it will be sent to you with the invoice. After actually receiving the item for the first time with such a notice, you must, before selling the item, refigure your new ceiling price by following the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on that first delivery. You must write this new ceiling price on the invoice covering that delivery. Be sure to keep this notice attached to your invoice or other record showing the price you paid for the item. Even though you received later shipments with the same notice you must not change your ceiling price again.

(b) Special deals. If your ceiling price for an item was based on a delivery to you at a "special deal" price, you may refigure your ceiling price when you receive your first delivery of that item after the termination of the "special deal". In refiguring your ceiling price you must follow the directions in section 4, figuring your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item after the termination of the "special deal".

A "special deal" price means a reduced price, in effect for an announced period of not more than 90 days, to all purchasers of the same class, which price was made for the purpose of introducing a new commodity not theretofore on the market, or resulting from offers of free goods or combination sales. No price resulting from a discount for quantity purchases shall be considered a "special deal" price.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 17371, effective 1–8–44, except that paragraph (b) shall be effective 12–29–43]

SEC. 6a. Dry groceries which you import. On and after September 11, 1944, this regulation shall not apply to you for sales of any dry grocery item purchased by you directly from a foreign seller or his agent (except as provided in section 18 (c) for certain items of packed pineapple and packed pineapple juice) for importation into the continental United States. Your ceiling price for such items shall be determined by you in accordance with Order No. 38 under the Maximum Import Price Regulation,[9] or the General Maximum Price Regulation[10] or any other applicable maximum price regulation covering the sale of the item by importers. If you have an existing ceiling price for any such item, you must, by the opening of business on September 11, 1944, refigure that ceiling price in accordance with the applicable maximum price regulation or order covering the sale of the item by importers.

SEC. 7. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "perishables"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, variety, and grade) of "perishables" listed in Table B shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" of the largest delivery of the item to you during the week before, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table B.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on August 5, 1943, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "perishables" listed in Table B which you have in stock at that time. These ceiling prices must be checked each week after August 5, 1943, and changed on Thursday of each week for any item if your "net cost" of that item has changed in the preceding seven days. Never change your ceiling price on any day but Thursday.[11]

For items which you receive for the first time, or which you have not had in stock for 7 days, you must figure and use a ceiling price at once using the net cost of that first delivery. On each Thursday after that, you must treat the item as you would any other item of perishables covered by this regulation.

SEC. 8. Directions for applying the rule for "perishables"—(a) "Net cost". To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the largest delivery to you of the item during the seven day period before the Thursday for which you are figuring your price. If you have received more than one delivery of the same largest quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid, which may include costs for icing, refrigeration, and ventilation, but which may not include costs for local trucking and local unloading. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(1) Your net cost must be based on purchases delivered to your usual receiving point.

(2) Figure the net cost on the basis of the "selling unit" (for example, 1 pound, 1 dozen, etc.,) listed in Table B for the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. If you are pricing fresh fruits or vegetables that you bought in a standard container listed in section 18f, you must figure your net cost as though the weight prescribed in that section were the actual net weight of the container. Always figure net cost to the nearest half-cent.

[Subparagraph (2) amended and (3) deleted by Am. 69, effective 6-15-46]

(3) [Deleted.]

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table B to find the mark-up for the item given for your group of store. Table B lists all the "perishables" covered by this regulation by commodity groups. Note that some mark-ups are percentage mark-ups, while others are dollars-and-cents additions per "selling unit" which you make to your net cost.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 16, 9 F.R. 4217, effective 4-27-44]

(c) Ceiling price—(1) Percentage mark-ups—(i) Perishable items other than fresh fruits and vegetables. If the item has been given a percentage mark-up in Table B, turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(ii) Fresh fruits and vegetables. If the item has been given a percentage mark-up in Table B, turn to Table D. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(2) Dollars and cents mark-ups. If the item has been given a dollars-and-cents mark-up in Table B, instead of a percentage mark-up, do not use Table C or Table D to get your ceiling price. You will get your ceiling price for the item by adding the named dollars-and-cents mark-up in Table B to your "net cost." If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent, you may, in making sales of the selling unit, charge the next higher cent.

(3) Sales in other quantities. You may sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B. If you sell an item in a quantity other than the selling unit given in Table B, you must reduce or increase your ceiling price proportionately. If figuring a price for a quantity different from the selling unit results in a fraction of a cent, you may charge the next higher cent. (For example, if your ceiling price for an item of white potatoes is 4½ cents for 1 pound, the "selling unit", and you make a sale of 7 pounds of these potatoes, multiply 4½ cents by 7, and the ceiling price for the 7 pounds is 32 cents.)

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 16, 9 F.R. 4217, effective 4-27-44 and Am. 69, effective 6-15-46]

SEC. 9. Price which you must post. At all times you must have your current selling price for each item of food covered by this regulation clearly shown on the item or at or near the place in your store where the item is offered for sale. Of course, this posted price must never exceed your ceiling price.

[Sec. 9 amended by Am. 18, 9 F. R. 5671, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 10. Additions allowed for deliveries made by you to your customers. (a) If you deliver to your customers' homes or places of business any of the items covered by this regulation, you may add to the total value of the delivery, as a separate charge, whichever of the following amounts applies:

Value of delivery:	Addition allowed
$0.00–$1.99	No addition
$2.00–$2.99	10¢
$3.00–$4.49	15¢
$4.50–$5.49	20¢
Over $5.49	25¢

(b) If you make such deliveries and add such charges, you are required to keep for one month a copy of each sales slip or invoice, itemizing clearly your prices for the items delivered and the amount of the delivery charges permitted under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 11. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it by any stratagem, scheme, or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You must not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost as used in section 4 or 8 would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price. You may never use the "net cost" of a purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price.

SEC. 12. Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your custom, you must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date, your name and address, the quantity and name of each food item sold and the price you charged for it.

SEC. 13. Records. After August 5, 1943, you must keep for one year after you receive them all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation.

You are required to show all your invoices on request of any OPA representative and to furnish on request of any OPA representative a written record of your ceiling price in effect at any particular time or times for any or all of the items covered by this regulation. You must also keep available for inspection by an OPA representative the records you used in deciding what group your store is in.

SEC. 14. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[12] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 15. Prohibitions. On and after August 5, 1943, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

[11] However, for each item of butter, you may on or after November 1, 1945 figure a new ceiling price immediately upon receipt of a delivery at a "net cost" different from the "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. On each Thursday thereafter, you must refigure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules in section 8.

[Footnote added by Am. 58, 10 F.R. 13504, effective 11-1-45]

SEC. 16. Notice of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPA may, by order issued pursuant to General Order No. 51, fix in your region or community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for some or all of the dry groceries or perishables under this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices, and these orders may also provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation, you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation. If the OPA has, before the effective date of this regulation, established a ceiling price for you for an item pursuant to such an order, you shall use that as your ceiling price and shall not figure a ceiling price under this regulation for the item.

SEC. 17. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Administrator may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4 and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the mark-up for your group of retailers, you must refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment in accordance with section 4, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery to you of such items after the effective date of the amendment.

[Paragraph (a) and (b) added by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 15252, effective 11-9-43]

(c) You must refigure your "annual gross sales" on the basis of the year 1945 instead of the year 1944. If you find that your store is in a group different from the one it was in before, you must refigure all of your ceiling prices. Prices figured on the new basis will be your ceiling prices starting Thursday, January 31, 1946. For "dry grocery" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 if you become a Group 3 or Group 4 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any "perishable" item on that Thursday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. Further, if any store becomes a Group 3 or Group 4 store, it is on and after January 31, 1946, subject to all other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 422.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 18, 9 F.R. 5671, effective 5-25-44; amended by Am. 40, 10 F.R. 2296, effective 3-5-45, and Am. 61, 10 F.R. 15466, effective 1-2-46]

(d) If prior to August 14, 1944, your ceiling price for any item of "cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs", was based upon a delivery received from a "cookie and cracker wholesaler" as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 421,[13] and you still purchase such item from such a wholesaler, you must refigure your ceiling price for any such item in accordance with the rules in sections 3 and 4, basing your "net cost", however, on the first delivery to you of the item from such a wholesaler on and after August 14, 1944.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 24, 9 F.R. 9720, effective 8-14-44]

(e) 1944 pack of "canned" and frozen fruits and vegetables. Each item of the 1944 pack of "canned" fruits and vegetables and frozen fruits and vegetables shall be considered a different item from the 1943 and earlier packs, and you shall figure a separate ceiling price for each item. You must figure your ceiling price for each such item in accordance with the provisions in sections 3, 4 and 5, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery to you of the item.

However, if that first delivery is received by you from a person other than a wholesaler pricing the item under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, before the date on which maximum prices are established by the OPA for sales of the item by processors, and another delivery is received by you after that date, you shall refigure your ceiling price for such item, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you after that date.

That first delivery may be from a wholesaler (pricing under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421), whose ceiling price for the item is figured on the basis of a delivery received by him before the date on which maximum prices are established by the OPA for sales of the item by processors. In that event, and if you receive a later delivery of the item, you must refigure your ceiling price for such item; you must base your "net cost" upon the first delivery to you from your supplier after he has figured his ceiling price for the item on the basis of a delivery received by him after the date on which maximum prices are established by the OPA for sales by processors of the 1944 pack of the item.

The receipt of any of the above items of the 1944 pack, at a price to be adjusted after delivery in accordance with action to be taken by the OPA shall not be deemed a delivery, for the purpose of this section, until the receipt of an invoice or other written notice from your supplier showing the price after adjustment. Until the receipt of such an invoice or notice, you may not sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price for the same item of the 1943 pack.

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 29, 9 F.R. 11902, effective 9-27-44]

(f) On and after August 2, 1945, "health food stores" are made subject to this regulation for certain items in accordance with section 2 (a). If you are a "health food store," you must figure your ceiling price for each such item in accordance with sections 3 and 4, substituting the date August 2, 1945, for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3 and 4.

[Paragraph (f) added by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 9272, effective 8-2-45]

However, if that first delivery is received by you from a person other than a wholesaler pricing the item under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, before the date on which maximum prices are established by the Office of Price Administration for sales of the item by processors, and another delivery is received by you after that date, you shall refigure your ceiling price for such item, basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you after that date.

That first delivery may be from a wholesaler (pricing under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421), whose ceiling price for the item is figured on the basis of a delivery received by him before the date on which maximum prices are established by the Office of Price Administration for sales of the item by processors. In that event, and if you receive a later delivery of the item, you must refigure your ceiling price for such item; you must base your "net cost" upon the first delivery to you from your supplier after he has figured his ceiling price for the item on the basis of a delivery received by him after the date on which maximum prices are established by the Office of Price Administration for sales by processors of the 1945 pack of the item.

[Paragraph (g) added by Am. 51, 10 F.R. 11303, effective 9-10-45]

(h) On and after October 25, 1945, "Great Lakes marine suppliers" are made subject to this regulation in accordance with section 2 (a). If you are a "Great Lakes marine supplier" who is covered by this regulation, you must figure your ceiling price for each item of "dry groceries" in accordance with sections 3 and 4, and for each item of "perishables" in accordance with sections 7 and 8, substituting the date October 25, 1945, for the date August 5, 1943, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4, 7 and 8.

[Paragraph (h) added by Am. 56, 10 F.R. 13074, effective 10-25-45]

(i) From time to time, an item you sell may go back under price control after a period of suspension or exemption. When that happens, you must not sell the item until you have figured your ceiling price. Your ceiling price, in such a case, must be figured in the following way (whichever is applicable):

(1) If the item is a "dry grocery" item for which you have previously figured a ceiling price under this regulation, your ceiling price shall be the same as it was when the item was removed from price control.

(2) If the item is a "dry grocery" item for which you have not previously been required to figure a ceiling price under this regulation, and which you have in stock on the day price control is resumed, you must figure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules in sections 3 and 4, basing your "net cost," however, on the last delivery of the item received by you before price control is resumed. However, your "net cost" in such case may not exceed what it would have been if that delivery had been subject to price control and the purchase had been made at your supplier's ceiling price.

(3) If the item is a "perishable" item, you must figure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules of section 8, basing your "net cost," however, on the largest delivery received by you during the 7-day period before price control is resumed. On each Thursday thereafter you must refigure your ceiling price in accordance with the rules in section 8. However, your "net cost" in such case may not exceed what it would have been if that delivery had been subject to price control and the purchase had been made at your supplier's ceiling price.

(f) Section 23. How you figure your ceiling prices for perishables on a weighted average basis. (Allows you to apply to use a weekly weighted average as a basis for figuring net cost of perishables instead of the largest single delivery.)

(l) Section 25b. Ceiling prices for sales of poultry to other retailers. (Applies to you if you sell any item of poultry to another retailer covered by Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 422 or 423.)

[Paragraph (l) added by Am. 35, 9 F.R. 14630, effective 12-21-44]

(m) Section 25d. Ceiling prices for sales of butter if you own more than 1000 pounds on October 31, 1945. (Applies to you if at the close of business on October 31, 1945 you own more than 1000 pounds of butter.)

(n) Section 25e. Ceiling prices for sales of cheddar cheese if you own more than 1,000 pounds on January 31, 1946. (Applies to you if at the close of business on January 31, 1946, you own more than 1,000 pounds of natural or processed cheddar cheese.)

[Paragraph (n) added by Am. 64, 11 F.R. 842, effective 2-1-46]

(o) Ceiling prices for sales of "sugar" after February 9, 1946. At the close of business on February 9, 1946, you must determine the number of pounds of each item of "sugar" that you own for resale at that time. You must make and keep a record of that inventory at your place of business. Do not include "sugar" which you obtained as an industrial user under Third Revised Ration Order 3[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration. In the case of stores under one ownership, the number of pounds owned shall be the total of the number of pounds in each such store and wherever else located. After that date you must continue to sell each item of "sugar" at no more than the ceiling price you had in effect on February 9, 1946 until you have sold an amount equal to your February 9, 1946 inventory of the item. When you have sold that amount, you shall refigure your ceiling price for the item in accordance with the rules in Section 6. However, if you receive a notification from your supplier to refigure your ceiling price for an item of "sugar," do not refigure your ceiling price until you have sold an amount equal to your February 9, 1946 inventory at no more than the ceiling price you had in effect on February 9, 1946.

If, at the close of business on February 9, 1946, you have an inventory of more than 10,000 pounds of all items of "sugar," you must, on or before February 25, 1946, file with the Wholesale-Retail and Fruit and Vegetable Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., by registered mail, an affidavit showing the number of pounds of each item of "sugar" you own for resale at that time. You must keep a copy of this affidavit at your place of business.

[Paragraph (o) added by Am. 66, 11 F.R. 1468, 1593, effective 2-10-46]

SEC. 18a. How you figure ceiling prices for items if you are also a wholesaler and receive such items from a warehouse owned or controlled by you. (a) If, prior to March 1942, you owned or controlled a warehouse physically separate and apart from your retail store, and you acted as a wholesaler distributing from such warehouse, food products to independent retail stores not owned or controlled by you, and you still own or control such a warehouse, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for each item customarily obtained by you from such warehouse and sold by you from your retail store to the ultimate consumer other than commercial, industrial or institutional users, use as the basis of your "net costs", the net cost you used in figuring your ceiling prices for your wholesale sales under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, plus the mark-up allowed in that regulation for a Class 1 (retailer-owned cooperative) wholesaler. To get your ceiling prices, reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of a single unit and apply the mark-up for your group of retailer as set forth in section 4.

(b) For any item so obtained for which you have already figured a ceiling price under this regulation, you must refigure your ceiling price on or before October 14, 1943, using as the basis of your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your present ceiling prices for your wholesale sales under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, plus the mark-up allowed in that regulation for a Class 1 (retailer-owned cooperative) wholesaler. To get your ceiling price, reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of a single unit and apply the mark-up for your group of retailer as set forth in section 4.

(c) Within 10 days after you first figure your prices in accordance with the provisions of this section, you must notify your nearest district office in writing that you have so figured your prices.

[Sec. 18a added by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 13294, effective 10-4-43]

SEC. 18b. Gift and holiday packages assembled by you. If you assemble into gift or holiday packages, any food items covered by this regulation, with or without any items not covered by this regulation, you must figure your ceiling price for such package under whichever of the following paragraphs applies:

(a) For packages assembled in cardboard, wooden, or other plain containers, your ceiling price will be the sum of the following, multiplied by 1.05:

(1) Your direct cost of each item included in the package multiplied by 1.40; plus

(2) Your direct cost of the packaging materials, including the container, used for the particular package.

(b) For packages assembled in permanent containers designed and constructed for re-use (including but not limited to trays, cedar boxes, hampers, teakwood chests, and fancy baskets), your ceiling price will be the sum of the following, multiplied by 1.15:

(1) Your direct cost of each item included in the package multiplied by 1.40; plus

(2) Your ceiling price for the container figured under the applicable maximum price regulation. (If you have no ceiling price for the container, you may multiply the direct cost of the container by 1.40); plus

(3) Your direct cost of the packaging materials used for the particular package.

"Direct cost" as used in the above subparagraphs, means your "net cost" for each item subject to this regulation. For items included in the package not otherwise subject to this regulation, it means the lawful amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid.

[Sec. 18b added by Am. 27, 9 F.R. 11537, effective 9-16-44; amended by Am. 32, 9 F.R. 12746, effective 10-23-44; and Am. 54, 10 F.R. 12810, effective 10-18-45]

SEC. 18c. Special pricing provisions for manufacturers selling some commodities at retail. Any person, the larger part of whose business is the manufacturing or processing of foods, but

(a) His entire business in connection with a particular commodity consists of the purchase and resale of such commodity without materially changing its form, and

(b) The larger part of his sales of such commodity are made to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users,

(c) Shall figure his ceiling prices for sales of such commodity to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users in accordance with the provisions of this regulation, and shall, for such purposes, be considered a retailer covered by this regulation. In figuring his ceiling prices he shall substitute the date February 8, 1945, for the date August 5, 1943, wherever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

[Sec. 18c added by Am. 38, 10 F.R. 1523, effective 2-8-45]

SEC. 18d. Special allowance for forwarding gift package to a donee in a foreign country. If you deliver a food package directly upon order of the purchaser to a donee (other than a member of the armed forces of the United States) in a foreign country outside of the North American continent, you may add to your ceiling price an amount not to exceed 50 cents for forwarding such package, plus the actual mailing and insurance charges.

This allowance may be applied only to the shipment and delivery of individual food gift packages and not of wholesale lots.

[Sec. 18d added by Am. 54, 10 F.R. 12810, effective 10-18-45]

SEC. 18e. How you figure your ceiling price for head lettuce (other than Iceberg) bought untrimmed and sold trimmed. If you buy head lettuce (other than Iceberg lettuce) untrimmed and sell it trimmed, you must multiply your "net cost" per "selling unit" by 1.28, rounding any resulting fraction to the nearest half-cent. To get your ceiling price, apply the mark-up for your group of retailer as set forth in section 8.

SEC. 18f. How you figure your net cost for fresh fruits and vegetables you receive in standard containers. In figuring your "net cost" per pound of an item of fresh fruits or vegetables you received in a standard container listed below, you must use as the net weight of the container the amount provided for by this paragraph. In general, the number of pounds shown in this paragraph for each container must be used as its net weight. However, Regional Administrators of the Office of Price Administration have authority to change the prescribed weights by order for areas in which such containers are received with net weights substantially different from those prescribed. Regional Administrators may delegate that authority to District Directors.

ARTICLE III—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 19. How certain stores, where necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a locality, may apply for mark-up adjustments. (a) If your store is necessary to provide an adequate supply of food products in a locality; and by reason of remote location, long-term credit, short selling season, or other such unusual operating conditions, you find it impossible to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation you may apply for an adjustment of such mark-ups by filing with your nearest District OPA office two copies of a signed statement giving for your store: (1) its name and address; (2) its group under this regulation; (3) its type (for example, cash-and-carry, service, delicatessen); (4) the approximate number of its food customers; (5) the total number of stores selling food in its community; (6) its distance from the nearest store selling food and the name and address of that store; and (7) the reasons why you are unable to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation.

If you have more than one store you may file one application for all your stores which meet the conditions stated above. Your application must state separately for each store the specific information this section calls for.

(b) Any Regional Office of the OPA, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this regulation. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[15]

SEC. 19a. Regional adjustment of poultry mark-ups. Each Regional Administrator of the OPA is hereby authorized to reduce the mark-ups listed in Table B in section 28 (a) for retailers in any area or locality within his jurisdiction for sales of any poultry items in connection with adjustments made pursuant to section 2.3 of Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269,[16] whenever such action is necessary to prevent an increase in the ceiling prices at which such poultry items may be sold by retailers.

[Sec. 19a added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10570, effective 8-5-43, and amended by Am. 68, 11 F.R. 5950, effective 6-5-46]

SEC. 20. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales," take your total sales for the calendar year 1945. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or part of the calendar year 1945 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were in business during only part of the year 1945, you must divide your total sales for 1945 by the number of weeks you were in business. This will give you your weekly average sales. Multiply this figure by 52 and the result is your "annual gross sales."

[Sec. 20 amended by Am. 18, 9 F.R. 5671, effective 5-25-44; Am. 40, 10 F.R. 2298, effective 3-5-45; and Am. 61, 10 F.R. 15466, effective 1-2-46]

SEC. 21. How you determine your group in certain special cases—(a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, you must determine your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell food in a retail food store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store. If you are unable to get the "annual gross sales" from the other food retailers in that store, you shall apply, in writing, to your nearest OPA District Office, for a determination of your group, stating your own "annual gross sales" figure for the applicable year. Each District Director is authorized to act on requests covering stores located within his district, and action taken shall be by order.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 53, 10 F.R. 12265, effective 10-4-45]

(2) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be considered as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you must determine your group by using only your own sales.

(c) New stores. If you open a retail store after January 1, 1946, you may consider yourself a Group 1 or Group 3 retailer, depending upon whether or not at that date your store is an "independent" store. You must figure your ceiling prices accordingly. (If you are a Group 3 store, you must figure your ceiling prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 422.) However, after you have been in business for 3 months, you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales for the 3-month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

Furthermore, if by reason of the new store you now are one of 4 or more stores under one ownership, you must at the end of the 3-month period refigure the combined "annual gross sales" for all your stores. If the combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more, all of your stores must then be considered as Group 3 or Group 4 stores. You may continue to use the existing ceiling prices in each store until the second Thursday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all of your ceiling prices in each store, using the mark-ups for its proper group.

If you find that only the new store should now be in another group, you may continue to use the Group 1 mark-ups until the second Thursday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all your ceiling prices using the mark-ups for the new group in which this store falls.

In refiguring your ceiling prices as required above, for "dry grocery" items you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring your existing ceiling prices. For "perishable items", you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Thursday under section 8 of this regulation if a Group 1 store (or under section 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 if a Group 3 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any item on that Thursday, you shall use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price at that time is based.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 10, 8 F.R. 15608, effective 11-20-43; and Am. 18, 9 F.R. 5671, effective 5-25-44]

SEC. 22. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at retail of food covered by this regulation, if you state the tax separately, and if the tax statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 23. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after August 5, 1943, you acquire in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail store to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailers to which you belong under this regulation.

SEC. 24. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 423, except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after August 5, 1943, supersede the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238, Maximum Price Regulation No. 250," Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 256," Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 268, the General Maximum Price Regulation, and any other applicable price regulation or order issued by the OPA except any order issued pursuant to General Order 51, with respect to sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 25. Definitions—(a) Retail route seller. A "retail route seller" is a retailer who distributes food products to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users, either on a future delivery basis or otherwise, from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances operated by driver-salesmen over regular routes. A retailer, most of whose business is the personal solicitation of orders by salesmen calling at the homes or places of business of ultimate consumers, who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, shall also be considered a retail route seller. A retailer is a "retail route seller" only of the food products he sells in this way.

(b) Health food stores. A "health food store" or "health food department" is one whose sales to consumers consist principally of "specially prepared dietetic foods." For the purposes of this regulation a "health food department" is a separate and distinct department operated by separate and specially trained personnel and for which separate records and accounts are maintained.

"Specially prepared dietetic foods" are foods manufactured and sold for restricted diets and for special dietetic purposes, including but not limited to, specially prepared foods for diabetic or arthritic conditions, or high blood pressure; specially prepared weight building or tonic foods; and vitamin or mineral supplements.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 9272, effective 8-2-45]

(c) Delivery. Delivery of an item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(d) Usual receiving point. Your usual receiving point will be either your retail store or your warehouse from which you supply your retail stores, depending upon where you normally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation.

(e) Item. You must determine a separate ceiling price for each item; that is, for each kind, brand, size, variety, grade, container-type, and container-size, except for fresh fruits and vegetables. Separate fresh fruit and vegetable items shall be those defined as separate in the definitions accompanying Table B.

(f) Manufacture or otherwise process. "Manufacture or otherwise process" shall mean blending, freezing, canning, preserving, bottling, milling, crushing, straining, roasting, centrifuging, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, and other similar operations, and packaging of spices, tea and gelatin in the manner described in section 18.

Packaging as used in section 18, ripening of bananas, printing of butter, candling and grading of eggs and killing and dressing of poultry shall not be considered manufacturing or processing under this regulation.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 42, 10 F.R. 5370, effective 5-17-45]

(g) Group 3 retailer. A retailer is in Group 3 if he has an "annual gross sales" of less than $250,000 and he is not an "independent" retailer.

(h) Group 4 retailer. A retailer is in Group 4, whether "independent" or not, if he has an "annual gross sales" of $250,000 or more.

(i) Great Lakes marine supplier. "Great Lakes marine supplier" means a person operating a selling establishment which buys and resells food products for the most part to "operators of a lake vessel or vessels," for consumption aboard such vessel or vessels, with delivery from shore locations by usé of truck or launch facilities. "Operator of a lake vessel or vessels" means any person who owns or operates a lake vessel or vessels, other than passenger boats, engaged in shipping upon the Great Lakes, and who in operating such vessels purchases or receives food products covered by this regulation from a Great Lakes marine supplier for consumption aboard such vessels. Excluded from this definition are hotel-supply houses as defined in Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 269, hotel and restaurant supply houses as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 271,[18] and purveyors as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 426.

[Paragraph (i) added by Am. 56, 10 F.R. 13074, effective 10-25-45]

SEC. 26. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 16, 9 F.R. 4217, effective 4-27-44, and Am. 69, effective 6-15-46]

Table A lists by commodity groups the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation and the mark-ups to be used by Group 1 and Group 2 retailers in figuring their ceiling prices. Table B gives the same information for "perishables." However, in addition, Table B also lists the selling units, on the basis of which retailers must figure their net costs and ceiling prices for "perishables". For a detailed list of the items in each commodity group, see "Commodity definitions of dry groceries" printed immediately after Table A, and "commodity definitions of perishables" printed immediately after Table B. After you have determined your "net cost" for an item in accordance with the method set up in this regulation, find your proper mark-up in the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Commodity groups are listed at the left of Table A and Table B. Directly opposite each commodity group you will find either a percentage mark-up or a dollars-and-cents mark-up for your group of retailers.

If a percentage mark-up is shown, and the item being priced is not a fresh fruit or vegetable, you get your ceiling price for the item by turning to Table C, which shows the ceiling price for all items (except fresh fruits and vegetables) with per unit net costs ranging from ½¢ to 50¢. Percentage mark-ups over net costs are listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, and "net cost" across the top of the table. "Net cost per unit" means, in the case of dry groceries, the "net cost" of a single unit (one can, one jar, etc.). For perishables, it means the "net cost" of the selling unit listed in the last column of Table B.

To determine your ceiling price from Table D, find your net cost at the top of the table. Go down that column until you come to the figure (in that column) on the same line as your mark-up. The figure at that point is your ceiling price for the item. If the ceiling price is stated in terms of a half-cent, you may charge the next higher cent in making a sale of the "selling unit".

If your net cost per unit is more than 50¢, you cannot use Table C or Table D to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you must (1) multiply your net cost by your percentage mark-up, (2) add the result to your net cost, and (3) round the sum to the nearest whole cent. For perishables, your net cost must be in terms of the selling unit specified in Table B.

If the mark-up specified for an item is a dollars-and-cents mark-up, you cannot use Table C or Table D to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you simply add the stated amount of mark-up to your "net cost". If your ceiling price so figured results in a fraction of a cent, you may, in making sales of the "selling unit", charge the next higher cent.

Example 1. A Group 1 retailer wishes to figure a new ceiling price for "xx" Brand, No. 2 can, golden bantam cream style corn, 1942 pack. Section 3 requires a Group 1 or 2 retailer to keep his present ceiling price for a "dry grocery" item until he puts into effect a new ceiling price for the item based on the first delivery of the item to him after August 5, 1943. This new ceiling price must be put into effect not later than 5 days after receiving such delivery. In figuring this new ceiling price, his "net cost" must be based on a purchase of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to his "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. Therefore, if on August 7, 1943, a Group 1 retailer receives at his usual receiving point 5 cases of "xx" Brand, No. 2 can, golden bantam cream style corn, 1942 pack, which he has purchased from a wholesaler (his customary type of supplier), at a delivered cost of $2.37 a case (24 cans) he must under Sections 3 and 4 figure and put into effect a new ceiling price for the item by August 12, 1943. This is the first delivery of a customary quantity of the item he has received since August 5, 1943 (from his customary type of supplier delivered to his usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery). He must first figure, to the nearest half-cent, his "net cost" on a single unit basis, Sec. 4 (b) (2), that is, for a single can. He therefore divides the cost for the case, $2.37, by the number of single units in the case, 24, and gets a result of $0.0987, before rounding. Rounding to the nearest half-cent, this becomes $0.10. (If the figure had been $0.0967 before rounding, he would have rounded to $0.095.)

He then turns to Table A to find the mark-up to be applied to his net cost. Going down the column at the left of Table A he will find a listing of the commodity group which includes the item he is pricing. For canned corn, this group is "Corn, green and wax beans, peas, tomatoes, and tomato juice, canned". Going across the page on that line, he will find his mark-up for the item in the column for Group 1 retailers. In this case, his mark-up is 25%. Having his mark-up and net cost, Table C will give him his ceiling price without further computations. Checking across the top of Table C, he will find a column headed by his net cost, $0.10. Going down this $0.10 column until he comes to the figure on the same line as the 25% mark-up listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, he will find his ceiling price for the item to be 13¢ per can.

Example 2. A Group 2 retailer wishes to figure a ceiling price for California Iceberg lettuce, which he must use during the period October 25 (Thursday) to October 31 (Wednesday), inclusive. He must first find the net cost of his selling unit based on his largest purchase during the seven days preceding Thursday, October 25. During the preceding week he made a purchase of 1 crate of California Iceberg lettuce at a delivered cost of $5.60 a crate, a purchase of 3 crates of this item at a delivered cost of $5.70 per crate, and another purchase of the same item of 2 crates at a delivered cost of $5.76. His largest purchase, therefore, was the purchase of 3 crates. He must figure his net cost on the basis of the selling unit listed in Table B, which for lettuce is 1 pound. He is selling the lettuce trimmed, and therefore divides his cost per crate in his largest purchase, $5.70, by 52 (the figure specified in section 18f of the regulation for L. A. crates of California Iceberg lettuce), to get a result of $0.109. Since net cost is to be figured to the nearest half-cent, he would then round this figure to 11¢, which is his net cost per selling unit. He then turns to Table B to find his mark-up to be applied to net cost, which for lettuce is 40 percent. Having his mark-up and his net cost, Table D will give him his ceiling price per pound without further computations. Checking across the top of Table D, he will find a column headed by his net cost, 11¢. Going down this 11¢ column until he comes to the figure on the same line as his percentage mark-up of 40 percent listed in the column at the extreme left of Table D, he will find his ceiling price per pound for the item to be 15½¢. In selling one pound, he may charge 16¢. However, if he sells 2 pounds, he may charge no more than 31¢ (2 x 15½¢).

Example 3. A Group 1 retailer wishes to figure his ceiling price for California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th. His largest purchase during the preceding week was a purchase of ten bushel baskets at $4.45 per basket. His selling unit for peas, given in Table B, is 1 pound. He therefore divides his cost per basket ($4.45) in his largest purchase during the preceding week, by 28 (the waight of a bushel basket of green peas as specified in section 18f of the regulation). This results in $0.158, which is rounded to 16 cents. He then looks in Table B for the mark-up for green peas, which is $0.05½. This mark-up, 5½ cents, added to the net cost per selling unit of 1 pound, 16 cents, gives him 21½ cents. Therefore, his ceiling price per pound of California green peas for the period May 4th through May 10th is 21½ cents. In selling 1 pound, he may charge 22 cents. However, if he sells 2 pounds, he may charge no more than 43 cents (2 x 21½¢).

SECTION 1. Scope of this regulation—(a) What this regulation contains. This regulation fixes maximum prices for cotton flannel shirts; it requires descriptive labeling and disclosure of certain information, and imposes other stated obligations. This revised regulation supersedes the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation 304 as originally issued.

(b) Kinds of shirts covered. This regulation covers all cotton flannel shirts in boys' sizes 6 and over, and in men's sizes 13 and over. Boys' shirts in size 4 are also covered when sold as part of a range including sizes 6 and over, but not when sold in a range of sizes below 6. Cotton flannel shirts for girls and women in corresponding sizes are covered if made by persons who manufacture principally men's and boys' garments. "Cotton flannel" is used here to mean all napped cotton fabrics, including those commonly known as flannels, plaids, domets, suedes and moleskins, except fabrics whose fiber content is less than 90% cotton (by weight).

[Paragraphs (a) and (b) amended by Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(c) Shirts which are excluded. Shirts of the following descriptions are not covered by this regulation:

(1) Used or second-hand shirts.

(2) Shirts tailored to individual measurements.

(3) Shirts of which a principal part is not made of cotton flannel (for example, a shirt with a corduroy back and flannel front and sleeves is excluded).

[Above pargaraph amended by Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(1) Sales at retail. All sales to individual consumers are "sales at retail." Such sales may, of course, be made by someone who is primarily a wholesaler or manufacturer.

Sales to industrial, commercial, governmental and charitable institutions which do not resell are also considered "sales at retail" . made by a person who sells principally at retail, and only incidentally to institutions of these kinds. If not made by such a person, sales to these institutions are considered sales at wholesale, or sales by manufacturers.

(2) Sales at wholesale. A sale at wholesale is any sale which is neither a sale at retail as explained in (1) nor a sale by a manufacturer, as explained in (3). For example, a wholesaler who buys shirts from a manufacturer and resells them to retailers, is a seller "at wholesale". Sales from jobber to jobber, and from retailer to retailer are also "sales at wholesale", but are called "special sales", as explained in section 3.

(3) Sales by a manufacturer. A sale by a manufacturer is a sale of a garment by a person—

(i) Who fabricated the garment sold; or

(ii) Who sold or consigned to the fabricator of the garment any of the principal materials from which it was made; or

(iii) Who is under the same ownership and control as a person described in subdivision (i) or (ii). However, retail sales by manufacturers are governed by the provisions of this regulation relating to "sale at retail", rather than by the provisions of this regulation relating to manufacturers' sales.

[Subparagraph (iii) amended by Am 1, 10 F.R. 5039, effective 5-9-45]

(e) Sales in different regions. This regulation covers sales in the 48 states and the District of Columbia. In order to allow for differences in freight rates, sales are classified according to the point from which delivery is made, as follows:

(1) "East and Central" include all points which are in or east of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, and North and South Dakota.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 1]

[2] Statements of considerations are also issued simultaneously with amendments. Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(2) "Mountain and Pacific" include all points which are in or west of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana.

SEC. 2. How to find retail ceiling prices. (a) Ceiling prices for sales at retail must be found as provided in this section. Retailers should also pay particular attention to section 7 (marking of goods).

[Above text of section 2 amended by Am. 1, 10 F.R. 5039, effective 5-9-45 and Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(b) Retail ceiling prices for cotton flannel shirts are listed in Tables I, II and III of Appendix C. For shirts purchased from Group A factories or from wholesalers, retail ceilings on cotton suede and cotton moleskin shirts are found in Table I, and those on cotton plaid and cotton domet shirts are found in Table II. For shirts purchased from Group B factories, retail ceilings on all shirts are found in Table III.

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 14339, effective 11-21-45 and Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

Accordingly, the retailer must first find which table applies to the garment he desires to price. The instructions in Appendix C will help him select the appropriate table.

Since the retail ceilings in each table are arranged according to each different supplier's net ceiling price rather than according to particular garment specifications, the retailer must next find his supplier's net ceiling price for the garment. He can find this by following the instructions given below.

When the retailer finds his supplier's net ceiling price for the garment, he should then look in column 1 of the appropriate table for the bracket which includes that price; the figure in column 2 opposite this bracket is his retail ceiling for the garment being priced.

(1) Where retailer does not know the supplier's ceiling price. If the retailer does not know the ceiling price of the manufacturer or wholesaler who supplies him, he may inquire of the supplier, who is required to disclose his ceiling price. Moreover, if the garment to be priced is a standard model, the retailer can find the ceiling prices for manufacturers in Appendix A, and the ceiling prices for wholesalers in Appendix B.

(2) Where retailer's suppliers have different ceiling prices. Some manufacturers have two ceiling prices for the same number—a Class I ceiling and a Class II ceiling. If the retailer pays the Class I ceiling price (or less), he takes this ceiling to figure his retail price; but if he pays the manufacturer a higher price, he takes the Class II ceiling. If, however, he buys the identical style number at different prices, making one purchase at or below the Class I ceiling and another above the Class I ceiling, he must use the Class I ceiling to figure his retail price on all shirts of this style number. Moreover, if he buys the identical style number from a wholesaler and also from a manufacturer he must take the manufacturer's ceiling, not the wholesaler's ceiling, to figure his retail price for this number.

Example 1. Manufacturer Y, a Group A manufacturer, is obliged to sell at or below the Class I ceiling on part of his sales, but is permitted to make the rest of his sales at Class II prices. Y's Class I ceiling on style 499 (his 3.00 yard unshrunk plaid flannel) is $12.92 per dozen, and his Class II ceiling is $13.76½ per dozen. Y sells this number to retailer Z at $13.25 per dozen.

Since $13.25 is higher than Y's Class I ceiling for this flannel shirt, Z takes $13.76½ (the Class II ceiling) as his supplier's ceiling price, and turns to Table II (which contains retail ceilings for cotton flannel shirts bought from Group A manufacturers). In Table II, Z finds his retail ceiling to be $1.63.

Example 2. Manufacturer Y sells his style 499 to retailer X at the Class I ceiling of $12.92 per dozen, and later sells X another lot of the same style at the Class II ceiling of $13.76½.

X must take $12.92 as his supplier's ceiling price for both lots. Since this is a cotton flannel shirt purchased from a Group A manufacturer, the retail ceiling is found in Table II. X finds a retail ceiling of $1.45 for both lots of style number 499.

Example 3. Retailer B buys style number 499 from Y at Y's Class I ceiling of $12.92 and later gets more of Y's style number 499 from a wholesaler at the wholesaler's ceiling of $15.29.

In figuring his retail ceiling for style number 499, B takes $12.92 as his supplier's ceiling, and finds in Table II that his retail ceiling for both lots of this style number is $1.45 per garment.

[Example 1, 2 and 3 amended by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 14339, effective 11-21-45 and Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(3) Where garment was bought at a "special sale". Sales which are neither manufacturer's sales nor "regular sales" at wholesale are called "special sales". These include sales by retailers to retailers, sales by brokers, commission merchants, job-lot dealers or like persons, and sales of other types. The difference between "regular" and "special" sales is more fully explained in section 3.)

If the retailer has bought a garment at a "special sale", he does not figure his ceiling price by taking the price of his own supplier. Instead, he takes the ceiling price of the supplier of the person who made the "special sale" of this lot of goods. If a succession of special sales has been made, he takes the ceiling price of the supplier of the person who made the first of these special sales. Thus, the retail price of a shirt is the same as if the retailer had bought directly from the original supplier, without any special sale intervening.

Example 1. C, a retail chain, buys shirts from manufacturer Y at $12.92, Y's Class I ceiling. C sells them to D, another retail chain, at $13.07 (which is equal to C's cost plus freight actually paid by him).

In figuring his retail ceiling, D assumes his supplier's ceiling price to be $12.92 (the ceiling of C's supplier), not $13.07 (the price D actually paid). Consequently, D's retail ceiling, found in Table II is $1.45.

Example 2. E, an independent retailer, buys shirts from manufacturer M at M's Class II ceiling of $13.76½. E decides to liquidate, and sells them to an auctioneer at $13.25 per dozen. The auctioneer resells them to F, another retailer, for $13.93½ (this being the price paid by E, plus transportation charges incurred by the auctioneer).

In figuring his retail ceiling, F takes $13.76½ as his supplier's ceiling, so that his retail ceiling, found in Table II, is $1.63 (not $1.64).

[Examples 1 and 2 amended by Am. 1, Am. 3 and Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(4) Where retailer and supplier are in different regions. The prices given in Appendix C apply when the supplier and the retailer are both in the East and Central region, or both in the Mountain and Pacific region. (These regions are explained in section 1 (e).) If the retailer is in one region and delivery is made from the other region, the retailer may add 3 cents per garment to the price found in Column 2 of the tables in Appendix C. (This amount may not be added, however, if the retailer's supplier is a Group B manufacturer.) For example, if a retailer in the Mountain and Pacific region buys the 3.00 yard unshrunk cotton flannel plaid shirt from a manufacturer in the East and Central region at $12.92 per dozen (the Group A, Class I ceiling), the retail ceiling per shirt is $1.48, ($1.45, the price shown in Column 2 of Table II in Appendix C, plus 3 cents).

[Subparagraph (4) amended by Am. 1 and Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(5) Where retail sale is made by manufacturer. When a retail sale of a cotton flannel shirt is made by a manufacturer, the retail ceiling price is found from the tables in Appendix C, as in other cases. But since the manufacturer has no "supplier," he takes the Class I ceiling for manufacturers and uses this as his "supplier's ceiling price." For cotton flannels and cotton domets, Table II must be used; for cotton suedes and moleskins, Table I must be used.

In the case of men's shirts made in Group B factories (for which there is no separate Class I ceiling), the manufacturer's Group B ceiling is taken as the supplier's ceiling price, and Table III in Appendix C must be used.

[Subparagraph (5) amended by Am. 1, 10 F.R. 5039, effective 5-9-45 and Am. 3, 10 F.R. 14339, effective 11-21-45]

SEC. 3. How to find wholesale ceiling prices. Under this regulation, there are two kinds of sales at wholesale. They are called "regular sales" and "special sales", and are explained in this paragraph. Different methods of pricing are provided for these two kinds of sales.

(a) Regular sales at wholesale—(1) What is a regular sale. A "regular sale" is a sale at wholesale made by a wholesaler to a person who sells principally at retail, and whose business is not under the same ownership and control as the seller's. A "wholesaler" means a person or business organization to which all the following statements apply:

(i) It sells goods to retailers in general, and not primarily to a single retailer, or to a group of retailers which are under common ownership.

(ii) It buys and sells goods in "wholesale quantities" as understood in the trade, and sells through traveling salesmen or circulated catalogues.

(iii) It carries at all times at its principal place of business a representative stock of wearing apparel, and during the 6 months immediately preceding any transaction made at least 50% of its deliveries from this stock.

(iv) It extends credit, and carries its own accounts. It may, of course, entrust or assign its delinquent accounts to others for collection.

(v) It is not (a) a buying office or other agency representing retailers, (b) a stock-carrying affiliate of retailers, (c) a central office or warehouse for stores which are commonly owned or controlled, (d) a drop shipper, (e) a broker, (f) a commission-merchant, (g) a selling agent, or (h) a job-lot dealer.

(2) Ceiling prices for "regular sales at wholesale." Ceiling prices for regular sales at wholesale of most shirts are given in Appendix B. However, there will be a few cases in which the shirt is priced in some other way. This is true of "carry-over stock," which is defined in section 4 (e), of extra sizes and slims, of seconds and imperfects, and also of any shirt which may be priced by individual order of the Office of Price Administration. In any such case the wholesaler figures his ceiling price by taking the manufacturer's Class I ceiling price and dividing this amount by .80. In the case of men's shirts made in Group B factories, and of any other shirts for which there is no separate Class I ceiling, the wholesaler's ceiling price is the same as the manufacturer's ceiling.

(b) Special sales. Sales at wholesale which are not "regular sales" as explained in paragraph (a) are "special sales." They include (but are not confined to) sales by wholesalers to wholesalers, sales by retailers to retailers, and all sales by brokers, commission merchants, job-lot dealers and like persons.

(1) Ceiling prices for special sales. The ceiling price for a "special sale" is the net price actually paid by the seller (not exceeding the ceiling price) plus any charges for transportation actually paid by him. Moreover, any person who buys at a special sale and resells at another special sale must figure his ceiling price by taking the price paid by the seller in the first special sale.

Example 1. J, a large retailer, buys shirts from a manufacturer at the Class I ceiling of $12.92, and pays 17¢ a dozen for freight. He now wants to resell them to K, another retailer.

J's ceiling price for this sale is $13.09, his cost plus freight.

Example 2. L, a wholesaler, buys shirts from a manufacturer at the Class I ceiling of $12.92. L now liquidates and resells the shirts to auctioneer M for $12.70 a dozen. Now M wants to resell the shirts to another wholesaler.

In figuring his price for this second special sale, M takes as his cost $12.92 (the price paid by L) and adds freight paid by him. If M pays 17¢ a dozen for freight, M's ceiling is $13.09.

[Examples 1 and 2 amended by Am. 1, 10 F.R. 5039, effective 5-9-45; Am. 3, 10 F.R. 14339, effective 11-21-45 and Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(2) Disclosure in special sales. In any special sale, the seller must mark the bill or invoice with the words "special sale", and must disclose any information required by the provisions of section 8 (a).

SEC. 4. How to find manufacturer's ceiling prices. This section tells how to find ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers.

(a) In general. Manufacturers' ceiling prices for most cotton flannel shirts are set forth in Appendix A, but before turning to the Appendix, a manufacturer should read paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of this section. If a manufacturer cannot find his ceiling price after reading these paragraphs and the appendix, he should turn to section 5 ("How to find ceiling prices in cases not otherwise provided for").

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(b) Manufacturers required to sell a proportion of goods at Class I prices. For most kinds of shirts, two manufacturers' ceiling prices are stated—a Class I ceiling and a Class II ceiling. Some manufacturers will use the Class I ceiling, some will use the Class II ceiling, and some will use both, according to the rules stated in this paragraph.

For men's shirts made in Group B factories, there are no separate class ceilings. This paragraph has no application to sales of these shirts.

(1) How a manufacturer finds his "wholesale percentage". In order to find what proportion of his sales must be made at Class I prices, a manufacturer must find the percent of his 1941 deliveries which were made at wholesale prices. This is called the manufacturer's "wholesale percentage".

A "wholesale price" means any price at or below which a manufacturer normally supplied wholesalers, or any other volume purchaser commonly known or regarded as "wholesale trade", during 1941. In determining whether certain sales were made at "wholesale prices", allowance must be made for differences in garments sold.

Example. A manufacturer sold a number to jobbers for $10.00 a dozen. He also sold to a chain store for $10.25 a dozen, a number which was similar except for an extra feature that was worth about 25¢ a dozen.

Both the $10.00 and the $10.25 sales would be considered sales at wholesale prices.

(i) Find the number of dozens of cotton flannel shirts delivered to all purchasers in 1941.

(ii) Find the number of these which were delivered at wholesale prices.

(iii) Divide the number delivered at wholesale prices by the total of all deliveries [divide (ii) by (i)]. The resulting figure, expressed as a percent, is the manufacturer's "wholesale percentage".

Example 1. E, a shirt manufacturer, delivered 10,000 dozen cotton flannel shirts in 1941. All these were delivered at prices generally charged to independent retailers, and none at wholesale prices.

E's "wholesale precentage" is zero.

Example 2. F, a shirt manufacturer, delivered 100,000 dozen cotton flannel shirts in 1941. All these deliveries were made at wholesale prices, and none at higher prices.

F's "wholesale percentage" is 100%.

Example 3. G, a shirt manufacturer, delivered 50,000 dozen cotton flannel shirts in 1941. 20,000 of these were delivered at wholesale prices, and 30,000 at higher prices.

G's "wholesale percentage" is 40% (20,000 divided by 50,000).

(2) How to comply with the requirement. Each manufacturer who delivered cotton flannel shirts at wholesale prices in 1941 is required to make a certain quota of his deliveries of cotton flannel shirts at Class I prices in 1943, and each subsequent year. This quota is a proportion to his total annual deliveries which is equal to the manufacturers "wholesale percentage," as found under (1). In calculating this proportion, follow the following instructions:

(i) What deliveries are counted in finding the quota. In figuring the quota of deliveries which should be made at Class I prices in 1943, the manufacturer takes all deliveries made from January 25, 1943, to December 31, 1943, inclusive, including deliveries already made. In any subsequent year, all deliveries for the entire calendar year will be included.

(ii) What deliveries are subject to the quota. However, only those deliveries are subject to the quota which are made under contracts entered into on or after September 4, 1943. Consequently, a manufacturer whose entire 1943 production was sold before that date is not required to make any of his 1943 deliveries at Class I prices. But a manufacturer who delivers goods which were not sold before that date must deliver at Class I prices to the extent necessary to fill his quota. If he fails to do so, he is exceeding his ceiling prices to the extent of the deficiency.

Example 1. In 1941 the A-B-C Company sold 40% of its cotton flannel shirts at wholesale prices and 60% at higher prices. Its "wholesale percentage" is 40%. Its 1943 deliveries, past and anticipated, are as follows:

Total anticipated deliveries 1-25-43 to 12-31-43	100,000 doz.
Already sold before 9-4-43:
At Class I prices	22,000 doz.
At Class II prices	48,000 doz.
Total already sold	70,000 doz.
Remainder	30,000 doz.

The A-B-C Company will determine its obligation as follows:

Anticipated amount remaining unsold	30,000 doz.
Quota to be delivered at Class I prices (40% of 100,000)	40,000 doz.
Already sold at Class I prices	22,000 doz.
Remainder to be delivered at Class I prices	18,000 doz.
Remainder which may be sold at Class II prices	12,000 doz.

In order to comply with the quota, it would be advisable for the A-B-C Company to ship only at Class I prices until the ratio of deliveries at Class I prices to deliveries at Class II prices is 40 : 60 (that is, until it has shipped a total of 32,000 dozen at Class I prices as compared with the 48,000 dozen shipped at Class II prices), and thereafter to make shipments in the ratio of 40 dozen at Class I to each 60 dozen shipped at Class II prices.

(iii) Sales to particular purchasers not required. A manufacturer is not required to sell to any particular purchaser, or any particular class of purchasers. Moreover, a manufacturer who delivers the required proportion of his shirts at Class I prices may deliver as many more at Class I prices as he wishes.

(iv) Calculating and filing the "wholesale percentage". Every manufacturer of cotton flannel shirts must keep available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration the records and the tabulation or work sheets which he used in figuring his "wholesale percentage." He is also required to file a statement of his wholesale percentage, as provided in section 9 (c) (2). This requirement does not apply, of course, to manufacturers who make only shirts for which no separate class prices are stated.

(3) New manufacturers. Any manufacturer who sells cotton flannel shirts, but did not do so in 1941, may apply to the Office of Price Administration (Textiles, Leather and Apparel Price Division), Washington 25, D. C., for the authorization of a "wholesale percentage". Until this authorization is granted, the manufacturer must make all deliveries at or below Class I ceiling prices.

(c) Groups of factories for men's shirts. Different ceiling prices are fixed for men's shirts made in factories having different wage rates, as explained in this paragraph.

(1) Base period wage. In order to find in which group a factory belongs a manufacturer must find his "base period average hourly sewing wage" for this factory as follows:

(i) Take the total wages paid to sewing operators during the last payroll period in March 1942. Include "make-up" required by law or by wage agreement, but exclude payments for overtime and payments to learners. Divide this total by the number of hours worked by sewing operators (except learners) during this period.

(ii) If any wage increase was required by an agreement which (a) was entered into on or before April 27, 1942, and (b) provided for an unconditional increase in wages of a fixed amount or percent, then adjust the average found above to reflect these wage increases. This means increasing the amount paid in the March period for time or piece work, and decreasing the amount of make-up (if any) to the extent that the higher time and piece rates reduce the necessity for make-up payments under the new contract.

(2) Group A factory. A "Group A factory" means any manufacturing establishment with a base period average hourly wage sewing rate of less than 50 cents per hour, and any other manufacturing establishment which has not qualified as a Group B factory by filing the statement described in section 9 (c) (3).

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 1, 10 F.R. 5039, effective 5-9-45]

(3) Group B factory. A "Group B factory" is a manufacturing establishment which had a base period average hourly sewing wage of 50 cents or more per hour, and which has filed a statement to this effect as required by Section 9 (c) (3). Until this statement is filed, a manufacturing establishment is not considered a "Group B factory".

(d) Classification of factories for boys' shirts. Boys' cotton flannel in-and-outer shirts are covered by this regulation only if made in a "work shirt factory" as defined below. Such shirts made in a "dress or sport shirt factory" are covered by Maximum Price Regulation 605.[2a]

Single needle stitching on collars, cuffs and breast pockets.
Hand pressing of entire shirt.

(2) Work shirt factories. Any factory which cannot qualify as a "dress and sport shirt factory" is considered a "work shirt factory."

[Paragraph (d) amended by Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

(e) Carry-over stock. Certain kinds of cotton flannel shirts are considered "carry-over stock" if put into process before January 25, 1943 (the effective date of Maximum Price Regulation 304), and clearly marked "made before 1-25-43". (A shirt is "put into process" when the principal material is cut.) This provision applies only to shirts of the following kinds:

Men's in-and-outer shirts which are made with single needle stitching on collars, cuffs and breast pockets, and are hand-pressed throughout.

Shirts which contain slide fasteners double elbows or double backs (ordinary yokes are not included in "double backs").

A manufacturer's ceiling price for "carry-over stock" which he delivers before October 1, 1943, is his maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation, as modified by section 3.5 of Revised Supplementary Regulation 14 [now sec. 1.1 of SR 14E] (formerly § 1499.73 (a) (37) of Amendment 49 to Supplementary Regulation 14). On and after October 1, 1943, the manufacturers' ceiling price shall be reduced by 10%.

Seconds and imperfects	90%

SEC. 5. How to find prices in cases not otherwise provided for—(a) Shirts made of fabrics of odd weight or finish. In any case where a shirt is made of a fabric of a weight or finish which is not specified in the Appendices, its ceiling price shall be the price stated for a shirt of the same type made of a fabric which is of the same type (flannel, domet, moleskin or suede), but which has a lower maximum price. The manufacturer may also, if he prefers, apply for the fixing of a price on the particular fabric he is using.

Example 1. A manufacturer makes a man's shirt of 2.85 yard gray suede, for which no price is stated. However, a price is stated for a 3.00 yard gray suede shirt. The ceiling price for 3.00 yard gray suede cloth is lower than the ceiling price for 2.85 gray suede cloth.

The ceiling price for the 2.85 yard shirt shall be the price stated for a 3.00 yard shirt.

Example 2. A work shirt manufacturer makes a 4.75 yard sanforized plaid boys' shirt. No price is stated for this fabric, but a price is stated for a 4.75 yard unshrunk plaid shirt. Sanforized cloth costs more than unshrunk cloth.

The ceiling price for the sanforized shirt shall be the ceiling stated for the unshrunk shirt.

(b) When to apply for a price. A seller may apply for the fixing of a ceiling price in any of the following cases:

(1) When the shirt is made of a fabric that is substantially different in type, weight or finish from any fabric specifically priced in the regulation.

(2) When the shirt does not conform to the definition of a "standard model" in section 15 (d) of this regulation.

(3) When the shirt is a men's in-and-outer, made with single-needle stitching on collars, cuffs and breast pockets, and hand pressing, by a manufacturer who has customarily made shirts of this type.

(4) When for any other reason the seller is unable to find a ceiling price which applies to a garment which he sells, or to the circumstances under which he sells a garment.

(c) How to apply for a price. An application for the fixing of a ceiling price must be filed with the Office of Price Administration (Textiles, Leather and Apparel Price Division), Washington 25, D. C., in three copies. It must show the type of shirt to be made, the specifications of the fabric used, the size range in which it is offered, the costs of manufacture or purchase, and the prices at which the applicant and representative competitors last sold similar shirts. It must be supplemented by any further information which may be requested by the Office of Price Administration.

Pending action on an application for the fixing of a ceiling price, a person must not sell or deliver the garment except in accordance with the provisions of section 11 ("Adjustable pricing agreements").

SEC. 6. When taxes may be added. When a tax on a particular sale or delivery is imposed by a statute or ordinance which permits stating the tax separately from the price, the tax may be separately charged or collected in addition to the ceiling price. This applies only to sales taxes, gross receipts or gross proceeds taxes, and compensating use taxes, and does not apply to any tax imposed on a prior sale or delivery.

SEC. 7. Marking of goods—(a) Marking required at retail. Every person is forbidden to sell or offer to sell at retail, or to display in a retail store, any cotton flannel shirt which is not marked as required by this section. The marking must contain the following elements, which are further explained in paragraph (c):

(1) Identification by name, trademark or registration number of the manufacturer or distributor.
(2) Lot number of the garment.
(3) Shrinkage.
(4) Weight of fabric.
(5) Defects (if any).
(6) Retail ceiling price.

If any part of the required marking has not been performed by the manufacturer it must be supplied by the retailer.

(b) Marking required of manufacturers. Every manufacturer is forbidden to deliver any cotton flannel shirt which does not contain all the markings listed in the preceding paragraph, except the retail ceiling price. The manufacturer must supply the retail ceiling price by one of the two following methods:

(1) Attaching to the garment. The manufacturer may attach the retail ceiling price to the garment itself.

(2) Supplying a list. If the manufacturer does not attach the retail ceiling price to the garment, he must supply each retail purchaser with a list of retail ceiling prices for shirts supplied by him. If the garments are distributed through wholesalers, the manufacturer must supply the wholesaler who must in turn supply each retailer. This list must be forwarded by the manufacturer or wholesaler not later than the first invoicing or billing of any garment, or before October 1, 1943 (whichever is later). The manufacturer and wholesaler must keep this list up to date thereafter by sending supplemental lists to each customer at the time of shipment of any new garments subsequently sold to him, or if the manufacturer's or wholesaler's net ceiling price is changed, by sending corrected lists with the first garments shipped after the price changes have been effective. The list must be in substantially the following form:

[Prices amended by Am. 4, effective 6–17–46]

(c) Elements of marking. The elements required to be marked are explained in this paragraph.

(1) Identification of manufacturer or distributor. Each garment must be marked with one of the following types of identification:

(i) The name of the manufacturer, or of the retail or wholesale distributor of the garment; or

(ii) A trademark registered with the U. S. Patent Office; or

(iii) A registration number which has been assigned to the manufacurer by the OPA.

Registration numbers may be obtained on request from the Textile, Leather and Apparel Price Division of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) Lot number. The lot number must be a different number for each garment having a different manufacturer's ceiling price.

(3) Shrinkage. If the garment is made of a "shrunk" fabric, this must be indicated by the words "pre-shrunk", "sanforized" or other words of like effect, together with the qualifying statements required by the Fair Trade Practice Rules for Shrinkage of Cotton Fabrics[1] issued by the Federal Trade Commission. If the fabric is not shrunk, the garment must be marked "unshrunk" or "allow for shrinkage".

(4) Weight of fabric. This must be given in accordance with the market designation of the fabric before shrinkage treatment, prorated to a 36" width basis. It may be stated either in yards per pound or in ounces per yard, to the nearest quarter ounce. For example, "3 yards per lb." or "5¼ oz. per yd."; "2.28 yds. per lb." or "7 oz. per yd."

(5) Defects, if any. If the garment is a "second" or "imperfect," it must be so marked on the neckband label.

(6) Ceiling price. This must be no higher than the correct ceiling price for the circumstances in which the garment is offered for sale at retail.

(d) Manner of marking. The required markings may be in one or more parts, and may be accompanied by other information, but all portions must be clearly visible to the purchaser. Markings required by this section must be attached by stitching, adhesive, pins or staples, except where some other method is specifically authorized.

(e) Exemptions from marking. The marking requirements of this section are modified by the exemptions stated in this paragraph.

(1) "Carry-over stock" made before January 25, 1943. "Carry-over stock," as defined in section 2 (e), which was put into process before January 25, 1943, does not have to be marked with any of the information required by this section, provided it is marked "made before 1–25–43". This marking may be made by button tag, string tag, or similar device, instead of by stitching, adhesive, pins or staples, and must be clearly visible to the consumer.

(2) Shirts made before February 22, 1943. Manufacturers are not required to mark shirts which were put into process before February 22, 1943, with fabric weight and shrinkage. But retailers must mark all shirts except "carry-over stock" with this information, which they may obtain on request from the manufacturer or wholesaler.

(3) Shirts made before October 1, 1943. Manufacturers and retailers are not required to mark shirts which were put into process before October 1, 1943, with an identification of the manufacturer or distributor, or with a lot number. But if shirts have been so marked, these markings must not be removed before sale to the ultimate consumer.

(4) Shirts sold by mail order establishments. In the case of sales at retail of cotton flannel shirts which are based on orders received by mail pursuant to a mail order catalog, the retail seller need not mark each garment with the retail ceiling price, as required in section 7 (a) (6), if he forwards with the garment a sales memorandum stating the retail purchase price (not exceeding the ceiling price).

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 1, 10 F.R. 5039, effective 5–9–45]

SEC. 8. Disclosure—(a) Description of goods. Any person who has sold for resale any specified utility shirts may be required to supply any subsequent buyer with any information needed by him for the marking and pricing of these shirts. This information must be furnished in writing promptly upon receipt of a written request from the buyer. Unless he has reason to believe it is erroneous, the buyer may rely on the information so furnished with respect to the finish, weight and shrinkage of the fabric, the kind of factory in which the garment was made, the date on which it was put into process, and the supplier's ceiling price. If the buyer does have reason to believe the information is erroneous, he may nevertheless act on it, providing he immediately sends to a district or state office of the Office of Price Administration a statement of the circumstances and a request for a determination of the facts.

(b) Sales slips and receipts. Any seller who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase must continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any seller, regardless of previous custom, must give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the type of garment sold, and the price received for it.

(c) Retail ceiling price list. Any retailer who has received from his supplier a "retail ceiling price list" must display it promptly to any person who requests to see it during regular business hours. If the retailer sells through more than one department or selling establishment, a copy of the list must be made available in each separate unit where cotton flannel shirts are sold.

(d) Invoices. Every manufacturer selling cotton flannel shirts, and every person selling cotton flannel shirts at wholesale, must give the purchaser an invoice showing the lot number of the garment sold, and the price charged.

SEC. 9. Records and reports—(a) Records to be kept by retailers. Every person who sells shirts covered by this regulation at retail must keep the following records, and make them available on request, to the Office of Price Administration:

(1) Invoices and other documents received by the seller showing costs, descriptions and sources of shirts sold by him.

(2) Such records as he has customarily kept showing prices charged by him for shirts sold at retail.

(b) Records to be kept and filed by persons selling at wholesale. Every person who sells shirts covered by this regulation at wholesale must keep the following records, and make them available on request to the Office of Price Administration:

(1) Invoices and other documents received by the seller showing costs, descriptions and sources of shirts sold by him.

(2) Copies of invoices and other documents showing prices and identification by name, trademark, lot number, etc., of shirts sold by him at wholesale.

Moreover, every person who wishes to qualify as a "wholesaler" under section 3 (a) (1), but was not such a wholesaler in 1942, must file a statement before making any sales at wholesalers' prices. This statement must be filed with the Office of Price Administration (Textiles, Leather and Apparel Price Division), Washington 25, D. C. It must give the name and address of the wholesaler, and the date on which he commenced business as a whosesaler.

(c) Records to be prepared, kept and filed by manufacturers. This paragraph tells what records must be prepared and kept, and what statements filed by manufacturers. Statements required by this paragraph must be filed with the Textiles, Leather and Apparel Price Division of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(1) Price list. Every manufacturer of cotton flannel shirts must prepare a list of all numbers of cotton flannel shirts which he delivers or has delivered on or after January 25, 1943. This list must show the lot numbers of all shirts and, following each lot number, the finish, color or pattern, weight and shrinkage of the fabric, the size range in which the shirt is offered, and the manufacturer's ceiling price or prices. If this number is sold at Class I prices, the list must show whether it is sold to retailers or to wholesalers or to both. This record must be prepared on or before October 1, 1943 and must be kept up to date thereafter by adding any new numbers, or any changes in the description of old numbers. This list must be kept and made available on request to the Office of Price Administration, but does not need to be filed.

(2) Records and statement of wholesale percentage. Every manufacturer of cotton flannel shirts (excepting manufacturers who make only men's shirts in group B factories) must keep the records and work sheets from which he found his "wholesale percentage" as provided in section 4 (b) (1). These records must include a list showing what price the manufacturer took as his "wholesale price" for each number delivered during 1941; or, if he did not have a "wholesale price," the lowest figure at which he delivered each lot number during that year. The list must also specify, as accurately as available information permits, the fabric from which each lot number was made, and the type of shirt (that is, men's regular, men's in-and-outer, etc.). The records required by this subparagraph must be prepared on or before October 1, 1943, and thereafter must be kept and made available on request to the Office of Price Administration. Further, the manufacturer must file on or before October 1, 1943, a statement showing the total number of dozens of cotton flannel shirts delivered by him in 1941, the number delivered at wholesale prices, and the number delivered at higher prices.

(3) Statement to be filed by Group B factories. Every person who wishes to qualify as a manufacturer of men's shirts made in a group B factory, as defined in section 4 (c) (3), must file a statement showing:

(i) Total wages paid to sewing operators during last pay-roll period in March 1942, and the "make-up" required by law or by wage agreement, excluding payments for overtime and payments to learners;

(ii) The total number of hours worked by sewing operators employed during the last pay-roll period in March 1942;

(iii) The fixed amount or percent of any unconditional wage rate increase required by an agreement entered into on or before April 27, 1942, and the date of this agreement;

(iv) The calculation of the factory's "base period average hourly sewing wage", according to section 4 (c) (1);

(v) The names, trade-marks or other identifying marks under which he will sell the shirts made by him in group B factories.

SEC. 10. Excessive prices forbidden. On and after September 10, 1943, the following practices are forbidden, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) Charging more than ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to sell or deliver any specified utility shirt at a price higher than the ceiling price set by this regulation. Lower prices may, of course, be charged.

(b) Buying for more than ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to buy or receive any specified utility shirt, in the course of trade or business, at a price higher than the ceiling price set by this regulation.

(c) Combination sales. Every person is forbidden to require any purchaser to buy or agree to buy any other article, service, package or wrapper in connection with a sale or delivery of any specified utility shirt. But any seller at wholesale or manufacturer may refuse to sell less than a minimum quantity of any one style number, if this minimum has been customary in the trade.

(d) Indirect price increases. Every person is forbidden to do any other act which directly or indirectly increases above the ceiling price the consideration paid by the purchaser for any specified utility shirt. Any practice which is a device to secure the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price is as much a violation as an outright raising of the ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, discounts, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings and all similar practices.

(f) Stating prices above the ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to state a gross price above the ceiling price, except where the seller customarily allows a percentage discount on all sales to one or more classes of customers. To customers of these classes, a seller may state a price which gives the net ceiling price after deducting the percentage discount. Wherever such a gross price is stated, the seller must also state expressly the discount allowed, the net ceiling price and the retail ceiling price. The amount actually collected or paid must never exceed the net ceiling price.

Example: M. Company customarily grants terms of 3/10 E. O. M. to all its retail customers. In selling a shirt with a ceiling of $11.08, it may prepare the invoice as follows:

Terms: 3/10 E. O. M.

Lot No.	Quantity	Description	Price	Amount
888	20	Boy's flannel shirt. Net ceiling price $11.08. Retail ceiling price $1.40	$11.42	$228.40

SEC. 11. Adjustable pricing agreements. Adjustable pricing agreements may be entered into notwithstanding the provisions of section 10, to the extent permitted by this paragraph.

(a) When regulation fixes a ceiling price. In cases where this regulation fixes a ceiling price, any person may agree to sell at that ceiling price, subject to an agreement with the buyer to charge a higher price if it becomes the legal ceiling price by the time delivery is made. But unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not deliver or agree to deliver at a price which may be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. This authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the power to grant such authorization has been delegated, and will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or amendment when an application for authorization of an individual ceiling price is pending. The authorzation will be given only where:

(1) A request for the fixing or changing of a ceiling price has been filed; and

(2) The authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production, and

(3) It will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Where the regulation does not fix a price. In cases where a ceiling price is not fixed by the regulation, a person must not make any delivery until a price has been fixed by authorization or amendment, and must not make any contract of sale unless the price is expressly subject to adjustment in accordance with any action which may be taken by the Office of Price Administration. However, shirts which are not priced in the table can generally be priced under some other provision of the regulation, such as those relating to "carry-over stock" (section 4 (e)), to extra sizes, slims, seconds and imperfects (section 4 (f)) or to shirts made of fabrics of odd weight or finish (section 5 (a)).

(c) [Revoked]

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 2, 10 F.R. 11149, effective 9-12-45 and revoked by Am. 3, 10 F.R. 14339, effective 11-21-45]

SEC. 12. Licensing and enforcement—(a) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(b) [Deleted]

(c) Penalties. Any person who violates any provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 13. Relation to other regulations—(a) Regulations superseded. The coverage of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 304 is stated in section 1. Where this regulation applies, it supersedes the provisions of the following regulations (except as otherwise specifically provided in section 4 (e)).

(1) General Maximum Price Regulation.[5]

(2) Section 3.5 of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 (now sec. 1.1 of SR 14E) (formerly § 1499.73 (a) (37) of Amendment 49 to Supplementary Regulation 14).

(3) Maximum Price Regulation 157[6]—Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes.

(4) Maximum Price Regulation 208[7]—Staple Work Clothing.

(5) Maximum Price Regulation 210.[8]—Retail and Wholesale Prices for Fall and Winter Seasonal Commodities.

(b) Contractors' Services. This regulation does not apply to charges for contractors' services, which are governed by Maximum Price Regulation 172[9]—Charges of Contractors in the Apparel Industry. "Contractor" is defined in § 1389.52 of that regulation.

(c) Export sales. This regulation does not apply to export sales, which are governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[10]

(d) Import sales. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to deliveries made from points outside the 48 states and the District of Columbia. Such sales and deliveries are governed by the provisions of The General Maximum Price Regulation, and especially Revised Maximum Import Price Regulation.[11] This regulation does, however, apply to domestic sales, whether or not the articles sold were originally imported.

(e) "Dress and sport shirts." This regulation does not apply to boys' cotton flannel shirts made in "dress and sport shirt factories," as defined in section 4 (d) (1). Sales of such shirts are governed by Maximum Price Regulation 605—Manufacturers' Prices for Shirts, Shorts, Pajamas and Related Items.

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 4, effective 6-17-46]

SEC. 14. How this regulation may be amended. (a) Any person who seeks a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for an amendment of general applicability in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 [12] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Pending an amendment, a person must not sell or deliver shirts at prices other than those fixed in the regulation, except in accordance with the provisions of section 11 ("Adjustable pricing agreements").

SEC. 15. Explanations and definitions of terms—(a) Kinds of fabric—(1) Shrinkage of fabric. A fabric is "shrunk" if the residual shrinkage does not exceed 2%, measured by the test for shrinkage of cotton fabrics described in Commercial Standard CS 39-41, issued by the National Bureau of Standards. Any fabric which is not "shrunk" is "unshrunk" or "mill finish."

(2) Weight of fabric is measured in yards per pound, or in ounces per yard (to the nearest quarter-ounce), according to the market designation of the fabric before shrinkage treatment.

(b) Kinds of shirts. (1) "Regular shirts" are shirts with tails, designed to be worn inside the trousers.

(2) "In-and-outer shirts" are shirts without tails, designed to be worn either inside or outside the trousers.

(3) "Slims" are regular shirts with extra length in front, back and sleeves, according to the practice customarily followed by the manufacturer in 1941 with respect to garments so designated.

(4) "Seconds" and "imperfects" are shirts containing defects which the manufacturer customarily graded as such during 1941.

(5) "Extra sizes" are men's sizes 17½ to 20, inclusive.

(c) Standard cotton flannel shirts. Cotton flannel shirts are considered "standard" when they conform to the minimum specifications set forth in this paragraph, which have been in general use in the industry. Shirts which do not conform to these standards may be priced by application to the Office of Price Administration as provided in section 5 (b).

(1) Minimum stitches per inch. 12 on hems, 14 on seams and joinings, for boys' in-and-outers made in dress and sport shirt factories.

10 on hems, seams and joinings on all other shirts.

(2) Tails on "regular" shirts. Square type, not abnormally sloped or "fish-tailed."

(3) Yardage and dimensions. "Standard" shirts must conform to the following minimum standards in yardage or dimensions. Where minimum yardages are required this refers to the average yardage consumed per dozen shirts throughout the size range during any six months' period.

	Yards per dozen
Men's regular shirts made from unshrunk fabrics	29
Men's regular shirts made from shrunk fabrics	28
Men's in-and-outers made from unshrunk fabrics	28

Boys' regular shirts, all fabrics	20½
Boys' in-and-outer shirts made from unshrunk fabrics	17¾
Boys' in-and-outer shirts made from shrunk fabrics	17½

(4) Size ranges. "Standard" shirts must be offered in the following size ranges, except where one or more sizes in the range is indicated as "optional." In those cases, the optional sizes may be offered or not, at the seller's choice. A seller who stocks the full range is not, of course, required to keep it complete at all times.

Type of shirt:	Range of sizes (all figures inclusive)
Men's regular shirts	14½-17.
Men's extra sizes	17½-20.

APPENDIX B—TABLES OF WHOLESALE CEILING PRICES

INSTRUCTIONS

1. In using the following tables you must bear in mind the rules for wholesale pricing in section 3. Notice especially that these prices apply only to "regular sales", not to "special sales."

2. Prices are stated per dozen garments, f. o. b. seller's place of business. If his place of business is in the East and Central region, he uses column 5; if his place of business is in the Mountain and Pacific region, he uses column 6. These different regions are explained in section 1 (e).

3. Terms for sales at wholesale are net 30 days. If the seller wishes, he may extend more favorable terms, or allow discounts from ceiling prices, or anticipation. A seller who wishes to allow less than 20 days may do so, but the ceiling price must then be discounted at the rate of 6% per annum for each day under 30 within which payment is required. For example, if the terms are "net 10 days," the ceiling price must be discounted ⅓ of 1%.

4. Prices are stated in the tables for manufacturers in the East and Central region. Ceiling prices for manufacturers in the Mountain and Pacific region are 25¢ per dozen higher, except that men's shirts made in Group B factories have the same ceiling price for all manufacturers, wherever located. These different regions are explained in section 1 (e).

APPENDIX C—TABLES OF RETAIL CEILING PRICES

INSTRUCTIONS

(1) Retail ceilings for cotton flannel shirts are listed in Tables I, II and III. For shirts purchased from Group A factories or from wholesalers, retail ceilings on cotton suede and cotton moleskin shirts are found in Table I, and those on cotton plaid and cotton domet shirts are found in Table II. For shirts purchased from Group B factories, retail ceilings on all shirts are found in Table III. In each table, the ceiling is given according to your supplier's net ceiling price. This price must be found according to the rules in section 2 (b). Read this section before using the tables.

(2) When you have found your supplier's net ceiling price, look in Column 1 of the appropriate table for the bracket in which this price belongs. Then look at the figure opposite in Column 2; that is your ceiling price per garment.

For example, suppose you buy a 3.00 yard unshrunk plaid flannel shirt from a manufacturer at $12.92 (the Group A manufacturer's Class I ceiling). The heading to Table II states that your ceiling is determined under that table. Follow down Column 1 in Table II until you find the bracket $12.76–$12.95+. Opposite these figures, in Column 2, you find the retail ceiling of $1.45 ($12.95+ includes any fractional cent over $12.95).

PART 1426—WOOD PRESERVATION AND PRIMARY FOREST PRODUCTS

[MPR 555,[1] Amdt. 4]

WESTERN POLES AND PILING

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 555 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 is amended to read:

SEC. 2. Coverage of the regulation. (a) Products, species, and transactions covered. This regulation covers all sales and purchases of untreated and non-pressure treated poles and piling (except Western Red Cedar) produced in "Western" territory. Sales of pressure treated poles and piling and sales of custom pressure treatment only are covered by Maximum Price Regulation 491. Sales of preservative treatment only, by non-pressure methods, are covered by Maximum Price Regulation 165. Western Red Cedar poles and piling are covered by Maximum Price Regulation 554.

"Western" territory is all that area within or west of the States of North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado; the Oklahoma Panhandle (Cimarron, Texas, and Beaver Counties); and West Texas (all Texas Counties within or west of Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Childress, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Tom Green, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Kinney, and Maverick Counties.) It includes Mexico and Canada, when the poles and piling are imported through ports of entry in the above territory.

(b) Definition of territories. (1) The term "Coast schedule" as used in section 14, Tables 1 through 8, refers to sales of treated poles, stubs or anchor logs shipped from treating plants or concentration yards located in California or in those parts of Oregon, Washington, and Canada west of the crest of the Cascade Mountains (regardless of the location of the original loading-out point), and to sales of untreated poles, stubs or anchor logs shipped from original loading-out points or from concentration yards in that same territory.

(2) The term "Idaho schedule", as used in section 14, Tables 1 through 8, refers to sales of treated poles, stubs or anchor logs shipped from treating plants or concentration yards located in those parts of Oregon, Washington and Canada east of the crest of the Cascade Mountains and in the States of Idaho and Montana, regardless of the location of the original loading-out point. It refers also to sales of untreated poles, stubs or anchor logs shipped from original loading-out points or from concentration yards in that same territory.

(3) The term "Colorado schedule" as used in section 14, Tables 1 through 8, refers to sales of treated poles, stubs or anchor logs shipped from treating plants or concentration yards located in the States of Utah, Wyoming and Colorado, regardless of the location of the original loading-out point. It refers also to sales of untreated poles, stubs or anchor logs shipped from original loading-out points or from concentration yards in that same territory.

2. Section 3 is amended to read:

SEC. 3. Basic maximum prices. The basic maximum prices for certain untreated poles and piling covered by this regulation are set out in Tables 1 to 8 inclusive. The basic additions for certain non-pressure type treatment which may be added to the maximum prices on a sale of non-pressure treated poles and piling are set out in Tables 9 to 12 inclusive. The basic additions for framing which may be added to the maximum prices on a sale of certain untreated or non-pressure treated poles and piling are set out in Table 13.

The maximum prices fixed by this regulation are all f. o. b. the railroad loading-out point or f. o. b. towable waters nearest the mill or point of production in the normal direction of delivery to the point of destination.

3. Section 4 is amended to read:

SEC. 4. Transportation addition. The transportation charges set forth below may be added to the maximum f. o. b. railroad loading-out point or towable water prices when the seller makes delivery to the destination. Transportation from the mill or point of production to the railroad loading-out point or booming and rafting ground must, in every instance, be provided on the seller's account. All additions for transportation must be shown separately on the invoice.

(a) Common or contract carrier. (1) When estimated weights or guaranteed mean diameters are used, the appropriate published rate times the estimated weight or mean diameter is the proper transportation charge, even though the estimated weights or diameters may be higher than actual. Estimated weights higher than those set forth in the tables may not be used. The estimated weight must be taken from the tables for the exact type of product actually ordered. To compute mean diameters add 1" to the top or butt diameter, whichever is the controlling factor, and increase or decrease that figure by 1" for each 10 lineal feet. Add the top and butt diameters thus determined and divide by two to find the mean diameter. The charge for transportation shall be evened out to the nearest quarter cent per lineal foot, or five cents per pole, whichever is applicable.

(2) When estimated weights are not used, the amount added for transportation must not be more than the amount actually paid to the common or contract carrier.

(b) Private truck. (1) When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the maximum permissible addition (on hauls involving any point outside of metropolitan areas) shall be computed as 5 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of not over 10 miles, 7 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of more than 10 but not over 20 miles, 9 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of more than 20 but not over 30 miles, and for each mile over 30 miles, two tenths of a cent per 100 pounds to be added to the 30 mile charge. No addition is allowed for the return trip.

(2) A "metropolitan area" includes all territory within 10 miles of the city limits of any city having a population of 250,000 or more according to the Census of 1940. On shipment by private truck entirely within a metropolitan area, the amount added for transportation may not be more than the published motor common carrier rate for such haul times the estimated weight or other unit of measure used. If there is no published rate, then the actual cost of trucking may be added, that is, the seller's out-of-pocket expense in making delivery. If the order and shipment are for less than a truckload, a minimum charge for 10,000 pounds may be made.

(c) Rail shipments of poles and piling. (1) On eastbound shipments by rail the transportation addition for all shippers may be computed as the estimated weights shown in the appropriate table times the rail freight rate from the basing point specified in the heading of the table.

(2) On southbound shipments of poles and piling sold under the Coast schedule by rail or by combined water and rail in the case of poles and piling produced in Canada to destinations covered in Pacific Freight Tariff Bureau Tariff No. 80-H or appropriate intrastate tariffs the transportation addition may be computed as the estimated weights shown in the appropriate table times the rail freight rate arrived at as follows:

(i) When the published rail rate is greater than the Seattle, Washington rate, the Bellingham, Washington published rate may be used; on shipments of poles or piling produced in Canada the Bellingham rate may be used regardless of the location of rail shipping point.

(ii) When the published rail rate is greater than the Portland, Oregon rate but not greater than the Seattle, Washington published rate, the Seattle, Washington published rate may be used.

(iii) When the shipping point is north of the California-Oregon State line and takes a published rail rate not greater than the Portland rate, the Portland published rate may be used.

(iv) When the shipping point is in the State of California the published rate from Arcata, California may be used.

(3) Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (c), if a treating-in-transit rate is applicable and results in a lower total cost of transportation, the treating-in-transit rate must be used.

(d) For other means of transportation, where there are no published rates the actual cost of such transportation may be charged, that is, the out-of-pocket cost to the seller, whether public or private means of transportation are used.

(e) Averaging inbound transportation charges from multiple loading-out-points. This addition for inbound transportation may be calculated by multiplying the estimated weight of the material by the local freight rate from the loading-out-point of the untreated poles or piling. If the untreated material is received from more than one loading-out-point, an average rate of all inbound freight may be used. The average must be determined by the following formula:

(1) The total inbound freight charges on all receipts during the preceding three months of the type and species of the item to be priced—divided by—

(2) The total weight of all receipts of such items during the three month period, regardless of whether inbound freight actually was involved, but excluding any material sold f. o. b. original loading-out-point.

This average rate may be used in computing the "inbound freight" addition on sales f. o. b. treating plant or concentration yard made during the quarter next following that on which the average is based. The average may also be used in selling on a delivered basis as provided in this section except that where treating-in-transit rates are available, the entire addition for transportation (including inbound) must be figured on the through rate from the loading-out-point indicated on the freight bills surrendered in connection with the outbound shipment. The transit charge itself may be added.

4. In section 6 (b), items (5) and (6) are added to read as follows:

(5) Making the less than carload quantity sales additions when the sale is by a producer who does not operate a yard, or when the sale is not made out of stock which has been handled through a concentration, treating plant, or distribution yard in the regular course of business.

(6) Splitting up a single transaction or order into a series of smaller transactions or orders, where the total quantity involved exceeds in price the maximum prices set forth in section 17, in order to receive the benefit of the less than carload quantity sales addition provided in that section.

5. Section 11 is amended to read:

SEC. 11. Records and Reports.—(a) Records. All sellers of Western poles and piling products must keep records which will show a complete description of the item sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale, and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought $1,000.00 worth of Western poles and piling. These records must be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for the duration of the Price Control Act or for two years, whichever is the shorter.

(b) Reports. Within seven months after June 15, 1946, all sellers of Western poles priced in Tables 4, 5 and 6, with or without treatments priced in Tables 10, 11 and 12 of this regulation, shall submit reports to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., concerning the poles sold, with or without treatments, which shall contain the following information:

(1) The itemized average stumpage, cutting and hauling costs incurred in pole production.

(2) The average retention of each preservative, stated in pounds per cubic foot, by each species treated as well as the average ground line penetration by each preservative of each species treated.

(3) The itemized average costs of treating the poles, including yard handling and preservative costs involved in treating, and the number of hours required for the entire treating cycle.

The required information shall be based on data pertaining to all poles and treatments in the category defined above which are sold by the reporting seller during the six months period after June 15, 1946.

6. In section 14, the heading of Table 1 is amended to read:

SEC. 16. Additions for certain services and workings. When a sale is made either of untreated poles not to be pressure preservatively treated or of poles treated by non-pressure preservative methods, the additions listed in the table below may be made to the maximum prices for the item upon which the specified services or workings are performed.

14. Section 17 is amended to read:

SEC. 17. Addition for less than carload quantity sales. (a) On sales by concentration yards, treating plant yards and distribution yards out of regular yard stock in less than carload quantities as established by railroad tariffs, where the invoice value at the maximum prices for the untreated poles or other round untreated materials does not exceed $175.00 on items 50 ft. and shorter, or $250.00 where 50 percent or more of the items are more than 50 ft. in length, the seller may add to the maximum prices set by this regulation a service charge of not more than 25 percent of the total invoice value of the untreated or non-pressure preservative treated material. 1946 CROP WHEAT LOAN

The Secretary of Agriculture has requested my approval of a loan program with respect to wheat of the 1946 crop to be carried out by Commodity Credit Corporation, under which loans will be made at 90 per centum of the parity price of wheat as of July 1, 1946.

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945 (10 F.R. 10155), Executive Order 9651 of October 30, 1945 (10 F.R. 13487), Executive Order 9697 of February 14, 1946 (11 F.R. 1691), and Executive Order 9699 of February 21, 1946 (11 F.R. 1929); It is hereby ordered:

The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed to carry out, through the Office of Grain Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, the 1946 wheat loan program described in the Secretary's letter of June 3, 1946, and the memorandum enclosed therewith.

PART 4003—SUBSIDIES; SUPPORT PRICES

ABSORPTION OF EXCESS FREIGHT COSTS ON MOVEMENTS OF 1946-CROP LOUISIANA RAW CANE SUGAR TO REFINERIES

The Secretary of Agriculture has submitted certain information and recommendations to me with respect to the movement of 1946-crop Louisiana raw cane sugar to refineries. It appears that orderly distribution of raw sugar and uniform operation of refining facilities requires allocation of the sugar among refineries. Commodity Credit Corporation will be obliged to absorb the increased freight costs involved in moving raw sugar from the producing mill to the refinery to which it is allocated rather than to the nearest refinery freightwise. The program will cost the Corporation approximately $300,000.

After careful consideration, I find that the program is necessary to insure the maximum necessary distribution of sugar from the 1946 crop of Louisiana sugarcane.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945 (10 F.R. 10155), Executive Order 9651 of February 14, 1946 (11 F.R. 1691), and Executive Order 9699 of February 21, 1946 (11 F.R. 1929); It is hereby ordered:

The Department of Agriculture is authorized and directed to carry out, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, the program described in the Secretary of Agriculture's letter and the memorandum enclosed therewith.

[Directive 119]

ADJUSTMENTS IN PREMIUM PRICE PLAN FOR COPPER, LEAD AND ZINC

The Office of Price Administration has taken action to increase the price of copper from 12 cents to 14⅜ cents per pound, and the price of lead from 6½ cents to 8¼ cents per pound, effective in most cases June 3, 1946. It becomes necessary, therefore, to adjust the Premium Price Plan for Copper, Lead and Zinc in the light of these general increases in the prices of copper and lead. Three general adjustments are necessary. First, since the total return per pound presently received by mine operators entitled to "A" premiums (17 cents for copper and 9¼ cents for lead) is generally adequate to maintain production, there is no reason to increase the total return per pound by continuing the present "A" premiums of 5 cents per pound for copper and 2¾ cents per pound for lead. Accordingly, it is necessary to reduce the amount of the "A" premiums for copper and lead by the amount of the general price increases authorized. Second, since the general price increases and "A" premium reductions will affect the total income of mine operators entitled to premium payments, it is necessary to revise the production quotas to correct so far as possible for any resulting income changes. Third, since mine operators, because of the lag between the time when premium payments are made or accrue and the time when the copper and lead is actually sold, may hold inventories of copper and lead either in finished form or in process in mills, smelters or refineries or in the form of copper and lead returnable to them from treatment plants, for which premium payments have been made or have accrued, and which they may now sell on the basis of the higher ceiling prices, it is necessary to recapture for the benefit of the Government the amount of the premium payments which would not have been paid but for such time lag. This amount is equivalent on a per pound basis to the difference between the old and the new per pound prices of copper and lead.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945 (10 F.R. 10155), Executive Order 9697 of February 14, 1946 (11 F.R. 1691), and Executive Order 9699 of February 21, 1946 (11 F.R. 1929), the Office of Price Administration, the Civilian Production Administration, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Quota Committee for the Premium Price Plan for Copper, Lead and Zinc are authorized and directed:

1. To take action to reduce the "A" premium for lead from 2¾ cents to 1 cent per pound, effective June 3, 1946.

2. To take action to reduce the "A" premium for copper from 5 cents to 2⅝ cents per pound, effective as of the date upon which the particular mine operator entitled to premium payments is authorized, under the applicable regulations of the Office of Price Administration, to sell his copper on the basis of the new ceiling price of 14⅜ cents per pound.

3. To take such action, in accordance with present administrative policies and procedures followed by the Government agencies concerned, to revise the quota of any mine operator, beginning June 1, 1946, to correct for any change in the total income of such mine operator that may result from the general increases in the prices of copper and lead authorized by the Office of Price Administration and authorized by the Office of Price Administration and from the "A" premium reductions authorized and directed by this Directive. Nothing in this paragraph, however, shall authorize the Government agencies concerned to pay any per pound premium exceeding present maximum per pound premiums.

4. To take such action as will enable the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to recapture from any mine operator who was eligible to receive premium payments at any time during the period from January 1, 1946 to June 3, 1946, 2⅜ cents per pound of copper, and 1¾ cents per pound of lead, for every pound of recoverable copper and recoverable lead which such mine operator held in his inventory unsold as of the date upon which he became authorized, under the applicable regulations of the Office of Price Administration, to sell his copper or lead on the basis of the new ceiling prices, and for which premium payments have been made or have accrued up to such date. Copper and lead shall be deemed to be in the inventory of a mine operator whether it is held by him in finished form, or in process in his mills, smelters or refineries, or in the form of copper and lead returnable to him from other treatment plants. All moneys so recaptured shall be credited to the funds set aside for the operation of the Premium Price Plan for Copper, Lead and Zinc.

5. To issue such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this directive.

Director.

The Secretary of Agriculture and the Price Administrator, have submitted to me information with respect to establishing maximum raw material costs to be reflected in maximum prices for packed vegetables produced from designated vegetables. After careful consideration, I find that the measures hereinafter authorized and directed to be taken by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Price Administrator will effectuate the purposes of the Stabilization Program.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945 (10 F.R. 10155), Executive Order 9651 of October 30, 1945 (10 F.R. 13487), Executive Order 9697 of February 14, 1946 (11 F.R. 1691), and Executive Order 9699 of February 21, 1946 (11 F.R. 1929); It is hereby ordered:

The Office of Price Administration is authorized and directed to establish maximum prices for packed vegetables produced from any of the vegetables designated in Schedule A, attached hereto, which are computed on the basis of actual weighted average prices paid not in excess of the applicable raw material prices set forth in such Schedule A.

When used in this directive, the term "packed" means processed and enclosed in any container, whether or not hermetically sealed. However, the term does not include any product when processed by freezing, drying or dehydrating, nor does it include any of the packed products known as preserves, relishes or pickles packed from other than fresh vegetables.

Chapter XXIII—War Assets Administration

[Reg. 2,[1] Order 2]

PART 8302—DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS PERSONAL PROPERTY TO PRIORITY CLAIMANTS

EXEMPTION OF OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE PROPERTY LOANED TO STATE OR LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Surplus Property Administration Regulation 2, Order 2, November 16, 1945, entitled, "Exemption of Office of Civilian Defense Property Loaned to State or Local Governments" (10 F.R. 14202), is hereby revised and amended as herein set forth as War Assets Administration Regulation 2, Order 2.

During the war, the Office of Civilian Defense loaned to the several States and to their political sub-divisions certain items of property for purposes of air raid protection. A large amount of this property remains in the custody of the States and the political subdivisions to which it was loaned, and it will entail heavy expense to the Government to require the preparation of inventories and reports and to offer this property to priority claimants in accordance with this part.

The War Assets Administrator finds that an exemption should be granted from the requirements of this part for all of this property, except motor vehicles and ambulances, on the ground that it is impracticable and uneconomical to require the disposal of this property, except motor vehicles and ambulances, according to such requirements.

Pursuant to the provisions of § 8302.3 (b) (4) of this part and the authority of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 (58 Stat. 765; 50 U.S.C. App. Supp. 1611), Public Law 181, 79th Congress, 1st Session (59 Stat. 533), Executive Order 9689 (11 F.R. 1265), and Public Law 375, 79th Congress, 2d Session, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. Except as to motor vehicles and ambulances, which shall continue to be disposed of in accordance with the requirements of this part, the War Assets Administration is hereby authorized to dispose of without regard for the provisions of this part any items of property originally loaned by the Office of Civilian Defense to the States and political sub-divisions thereof.

2. To the extent feasible the War Assets Administration should dispose of property concentrated in cities and large towns in accordance with the order of priorities established under § 8302.5 but without regard for the provisions of § 8302.6.

3. Where property is widely scattered in small towns and rural areas, it should be disposed of to State and local governments without a previous offering to other priority claimants.

4. Whenever property is offered to State and local governments, preference shall be given first to those communities which are now charged with the custody of the property and second to adjacent communities.

This revised order shall become effective June 7, 1946.

E. B. GREGORY,
Administrator.

[Order CMAN–2]

INTERIM SAFETY REQUIREMENTS FOR MINES IN GOVERNMENT POSSESSION

Interim safety requirements for mines in Government possession under Executive Order 9728 pending formulation of Federal Mine Safety Code pursuant to section 2 (a) of agreement between Coal Mines Administrator and United Mine Workers of America.

Under the provisions of section 2 (a) of the agreement between the Coal Mines Administrator and the United Mine Workers of America, dated May 29, 1946, the Director of the Bureau of Mines is required, after consultation with representatives of the United Mine Workers and such other persons as he deems appropriate, to issue as soon as practicable and not later than 30 days from May 29, 1946, a reasonable code of standards and rules pertaining to safety conditions and practices in the mines. The Coal Mines Administrator is required to put this code into effect at the mines in Government possession and control under Executive Order 9728.

The Director of the Bureau of Mines has appointed a committee to advise and assist him in the formulation of the mine safety code to be issued pursuant to section 2 (a) of the above described agreement. This committee comprises the following: Dr. R. R. Sayers, Director of the Bureau of Mines, who is the Chairman of the Committee; Mr. A. D. Lewis and Mr. Harrison Combs, representing the United Mine Workers of America; Mr. G. H. Sambrook and Mr. A. J. Bartlett, representing the coal operators; and Mr. John E. Jones, representing the Coal Mines Administrator.

The Safety Committee of the Director of the Bureau of Mines has recommended to the Coal Mines Administrator that, pending the formulation and placing into effect of the Federal Mine Safety Code to be issued pursuant to section 2 (a) of the aforementioned agreement, certain safety standards and rules which are recommended for observance from time to time at particular mining properties by inspectors of the United States Bureau of Mines should be made to apply to the mines in the possession of the Government under Executive Order 9728. It is the further opinion of the Committee that, in making any such recommendations with respect to individual mining properties in the possession of the United States, inspectors of the United States Bureau of Mines should be guided by the Inspection Standards for Bituminous-Coal and Lignite Mines contained in Information Circular 7333 of the Bureau of Mines, United States Department of the Interior (revised July, 1945).

Now, therefore, pursuant to authority granted to the undersigned by Executive Order 9728 (11 F.R. 5593) and the orders of the Secretary of the Interior, It is hereby ordered and directed, That, pending the formulation and placing into effect of the Federal Mine Safety Code to be issued pursuant to section 2 (a) of the aforementioned agreement, operating managers for the United States at any and all mines in Government possession under Executive Order 9728 shall observe such safety standards and rules which may be recommended for observance at any particular mining property by inspectors of the United States Bureau of Mines, and which are based upon the Inspection Standards for Bituminous-Coal and Lignite Mines contained in Information Circular 7333 of the Bureau of Mines, United States Department of the Interior (revised July, 1945). Provided, however, That if, in the opinion of any operating manager for the United States, any recommendation thus made by an inspector of the United States Bureau of Mines would interfere seriously with the operation of a mine or would result in the closing of a mine, the operating manager shall immediately submit a statement to the Coal Mines Administrator setting forth the reasons why such recommendation should not be placed into effect, and such recommendation shall not become effective except to the extent which the Coal Mines Administrator may thereafter specifically order. Provided further, That in those instances where an inspector of the United States Bureau of Mines finds that an imminent danger exists, he shall take immediate action to remove all workmen from the unsafe area until such danger is removed.

This order shall terminate as soon as the Federal Mine Safety Code to be issued pursuant to section 2 (a) of the agreement between the Coal Mines Administrator and the United Mine Workers of America dated May 29, 1946, is placed into effect by the Coal Mines Administrator. Nothing in this order, or any action taken by an inspector of the United States Bureau of Mines or the Coal Mines Administrator under this order, shall be construed to require the Director of the Bureau of Mines, in formulating the new Federal Mine Safety Code, to adopt or include in such code any action, recommendation or finding made pursuant to this order or any of the safety rules or standards of the United States Bureau of Mines whether referred to in this order or otherwise.

Coal Mines Administrator.

AM STATION WBBW AND FM STATION WABW[1]

PUBLIC NOTICE CONCERNING PROPOSED ASSIGNMENT OF LICENSE

The Commission hereby gives notice that on April 16, 1946, there was filed an application (B4–AL–538) for consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act (47 U.S.C.A. 310) to the proposed assignment of the license of AM Station WBBW and FM Station WABW, Indianapolis, Indiana, from Associated Broadcasters, Incorporated, to Evansville On The Air, Incorporated, 519 Vine Street, Evansville 8, Indiana.

On April 5, 1946, the present licensee, in consideration of $750.00, granted an option to proposed assignee to transfer the equipment and properties of the above indicated AM and FM Stations subject to Commission approval. In return for the assets the licensee is to receive 1,350 shares, at $20.60 per share, of the Class A voting stock of Curtis Radiocasting Corporation. The option contains a provision permitting assignee to obtain all of the stock of licensee subject to payment of its debts, and in accordance with the terms of the option. Further details concerning the application and negotiations between the parties may be found with the application and papers on file at the offices of the Commission.

In the Commission's decision of September 6, 1945, granting the application for transfer of control of the Crosley Corporation (Docket No. 6767), it was announced that public hearings would be held to consider new rules and regulations for the handling of assignment and transfer applications including provision for public notice by the applicant and by the Commission of the filing of such applications and pertinent details in cases where a controlling interest is involved. Thereafter, on October 3, 1945, the Commission also gave public notice (10 F.R. 12926) that pending the issuance of such proposed new rules, hearing thereon, and final adoption, consideration of such applications would be deferred unless applicants desired to follow the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision and supplement their applications so as to come within the framework of the announced procedure, including the provision for public notice. Subsequently, on December 13, 1945, the Commission adopted tentatively a proposed rule of procedure to govern the handling of assignment and transfer applications including the character of notice required of applicants in such cases. Pursuant thereto, the Commission was advised on May 29, 1946, that beginning on May 30, 1946, notice of the proposed assignment would be published in the Indianapolis News in conformity with the provisions of the proposed Rules.

In accordance with the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision and that announced in the Commission's release, no action will be had in the instant application for a period of 60 days from May 30, 1946, within which time other persons desiring to apply for the facilities involved may do so upon the same terms and conditions as set forth in the above-described contract.

J. Harpole and J. C. Rothwell, a partnership, d/b as Radio Station KSAM, to J. G. Long, Bay City, Texas. Further details concerning the arrangements and as to the application may be found with the papers on file in the offices of the Commission.

In the Commission's decision of September 6, 1945, granting the application for transfer of control of the Crosley Corporation (Docket No. 6767), it was announced that public hearings would be held to consider proposed new rules and regulations for the handling of assignment and transfer applications including provision for public notice by the applicant and the Commission of the filing of such applications and pertinent details in cases where a controlling interest is involved. PETERSON ART FURNITURE CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 16 under Supplementary Order No. 133 is revised and amended to read as follows:

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133; it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. Peterson Art Furniture Company, Faribault, Minn., may increase its maximum prices properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (exclusive of any adjustment charges), for articles of household furniture which it manufactures by 13.6 percent of each such maximum price.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of articles which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

(1) A retailer who must determine his ceiling price under Maximum Price Regulation No. 580 and a wholesaler who must determine his ceiling prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, shall compute their ceiling prices in the manner provided by these regulations. However, if the supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, the reseller shall compute his ceiling prices under these regulations as they have been modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(2) A reseller who determines his maximum resale price under the General Maximum Price Regulation, and whose supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, shall compute his ceiling prices under that regulation as modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

If his supplier's invoice does not state an "unadjusted maximum price", the reseller shall calculate his ceiling prices by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage mark-up which he had on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of article to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(3) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to the determination of ceiling prices for resales of articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter, properly established under Office of Price Administration regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) The manufacturer shall file the report described in Section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 133 with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and shall comply with the invoicing and reporting provisions of Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This order shall become effective on the 10th day of June 1946.

Issued this 10th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

[MPR 61, Order 13]

LEATHER PRODUCED FROM RAW GOAT OR RAW KID SKINS IMPORTED INTO THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES AND PURCHASED BY RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION UNDER A PUBLIC PURCHASE PLAN

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to section 19 of Maximum Price Regulation 61, It is ordered:

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of this order, the maximum prices of leather produced from raw goat or raw kid skins imported into the continental United States and purchased by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under a public purchase plan, may be adjusted by adding a surcharge as follows:

(1) For all leather sold and delivered on or after June 7, 1946:

(i) A producer shall compute his adjusted maximum price in the following manner:

Step 1. Take his unit price not exceeding the maximum price established under section 4 or 11 of Maximum Price Regulation 61 and multiply it by the number of units sold to determine his invoice price for each item of such leather.

Step 2. Add all invoice prices of each item of such leather being sold and for which he is authorized to adjust his price pursuant to the terms of this order to determine his total invoice price for all of such items being sold.

Step 3. Add to the total invoice price determined under Step 2 an amount equal to 10% of such price.

To illustrate: Example 1.

Assume a sale by a producer of certain leather produced from raw goat or raw kid skins and other leather as follows:

Cowhide leather G	3,000 sq. ft. @ 30¢ ft	------	[1] $900
Calfskin leather H	2,000 sq. ft. @ 40¢ ft.	------	[1] $800
Kidskin leather X	5,000 sq. ft. @ 20¢ ft.	[2] 1,000	----
Kidskin leather Y	6,000 sq. ft. @ 25¢ ft.	[2] 1,500	----
Goatskin leather Z	1,000 sq. ft. @ 50¢ ft.	[2] 500	----
Total invoice price for adjustment		3,000
OPA surcharge of 10 percent for raw goat and raw kid skin cost increase		300	3,300
Total		------	5,000

[2] Invoice price for adjustment.

(ii) A seller (other than a producer) whose maximum price is established under section 6 (other than paragraph 6 (d)), 7 (other than paragraph 7 (a)), 9 or 11 of Maximum Price Regulation 61 may add an amount equal to 9% of his total invoice price for the leather covered by this order, determined in the same manner as specified in (i), above.

(iii) A seller who pursuant to section 6 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation 61 sells or delivers any leather covered by this order shall compute his adjusted maximum price in the following manner:

Step 1. Determine the net invoice cost of such leather before term discounts and exclusive of the surcharge permitted to his supplier under the provisions of this order. Net invoice cost shall not exceed his supplier's maximum price established under section 4 or 7 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation 61.

Step 2. Add to the amount determined under step 1 a markup of 1 cent per pound or per square foot of such leather or per pair of cut soles or 7½% of his invoice cost as determined in step 1 to get his total invoice price.

Step 3. Add to the amount determined under step 2 an amount equal to 9% of the total invoice price.

To illustrate: Example 2.

Assume that the leather in Example 1 was sold to a jobber who wishes to resell a portion of such leather at 7½% markup under section 6 (d) as follows:

[No adjustment on this item]
Cowhide leather G 1000 sq. ft. @ 30¢/ft		$300.00
Markup of 7½%		22.50
Kidskin leather X 2000 sq. ft. @ 20¢/ft	$400.00
(net invoice cost to jobber of leather on which adjustment is to be made)
Markup of 7½%	30.00
	430.00
OPA surcharge of 9% for raw goat and raw kid skin cost increase	38.70	468.70
Total		791.20

(2) No seller may sell or deliver leather covered by this order at a maximum price adjusted under paragraph (a) (1), above, unless, in connection with each sale or delivery, the seller furnishes to the purchaser an invoice or similar document showing, in addition to all the information required by section 12, of Maximum Price Regulation 61, the following:

(i) The total invoice price exclusive of the surcharge authorized by this order.

(ii) The percentage by which he has increased the total invoice price in accordance with the terms of paragraph (1) of this order. This percentage must be designated on the invoice as: "OPA surcharge of —% for raw goat and raw kid skin cost increase" (the proper percentage shall be inserted in the blank space). Such percentage shall be stated at the foot of the invoice for the item, or, if there is more than one item, then for the entire group of items for which an adjustment is made, in which case the item or entire group of items increased by the same percentage shall be clearly indicated.

(iii) The dollar-and-cents amount of the surcharge added and stated as a separate item.

(3) Term discounts shall be deducted from the total amount of the adjusted invoice price.

(b) This order may be amended or revoked at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) This Order No. 13 shall become effective June 7, 1946.

Issued this 7th day of June 1946.

[RMPR 161, Order 54]

WEST COAST LOGS

ADJUSTABLE PRICING ORDER

The Housing Expediter has announced that a premium payment program will be put into effect during the month of June, 1946, for peeler grade logs of the species covered by RMPR 161 delivered to plywood manufacturers. The provisions of this program will be effective June 1, 1946. The Housing Expediter has advised the Price Administrator that there is a strong likelihood that this program will permit plywood manufacturers participating in this program to pay their peeler grade log suppliers a bonus over the presently existing maximum prices for this commodity. Peeler logs are urgently needed for construction under th emergency housing program. It appears that authorization to suppliers of peeler logs of species covered by RMPR 161 to use adjustable pricing, pending action by the Office of Price Administration amending RMPR 161 to provide a method by which maximum prices will be in line with the Housing Expediter's program, is necessary to promote the production and distribution of peeler grade logs to manufacturers of plywood. The granting of such authorization will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

After due consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to § 1381.159 (b) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 161 (West Coast Logs); It is ordered:

(a) Any person may sell and deliver peeler grade logs subject to RMPR 161 to plywood manufacturers who qualify under the Housing program and such plywood manufacturers may buy and receive such logs from such persons, at prices adjustable upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery.

(b) Persons who make sales of peeler grade logs under this order may collect and plywood manufacturers may pay no higher than the maximum prices currently in effect for such logs pending action by the Office of Price Administration establishing new maximum prices.

(c) This order shall be automatically revoked upon the establishment by the Office of Price Administration of a provision in line with the Housing Expediter's program.

(d) This order may be amended or revoked by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

This order shall become effective as of June 1, 1946.

Issued this 10th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

CERTAIN RUBBER COMMODITIES

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to § 1315.1560c of Maximum Price Regulation 220, It is ordered:

Paragraph (c) (2) (i) (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The maximum prices for sales by the manufacturer shall be the prices specified for sales to the indicated classes of purchasers for the basic cap described in paragraph (b) above, plus the dollar-and-cents difference in the manufacturer's sales prices to each class of purchaser between that cap and the comparable basic cap as of March 1, 1942. For example, if the manufacturer on March 1, 1942, sold his basic aviator cap to chain stores at $2.50 per dozen and his specialty aviator cap to chain stores at $4.00 per dozen, his maximum price for sales to chain stores of the specialty aviator cap would be $1.50, plus $3.78, or $5.28.

Where the difference in current factory costs between the basic cap and the cap being priced is greater than the dollar-and-cents base period difference in the manufacturer's sales prices of the basic cap and the cap being priced, the manufacturer may, as an alternative to the above price determining method, compute his maximum price by adding the dollar-and-cents difference between the current factory costs of the basic cap and the cap being priced, to the maximum prices established for such basic cap to each class of purchaser.

In determining prices under this subdivision (a), the cap being priced must be compared with the same type basic cap, price-wise or cost-wise as the case may be. Thus if the cap being priced is an aviator cap, it must be compared with the basic aviator cap.

Administrator.

Order No. G-65 under § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, adjusted maximum prices for cement when sold at wholesale and at retail in the Salt Lake City, Utah, district. Docket No. 7-18 (c)-50.

Pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, and for the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion this Order No. G-65 is issued.

(a) What this order does. This Order No. G-65 adjusts the maximum prices for cement sold at wholesale and at retail in the Salt Lake City, Utah District which includes all counties in the State of Utah, and the north 5% of Coconino County, Arizona, the north 5% of Mohave County, Arizona, and all of Franklin County, Idaho.

(b) Adjusted maximum prices. On and after the effective date hereof, the maximum prices for cement sold in the Salt Lake City, Utah District shall be as follows:

(1) The maximum price for sales of cement made at wholesale shall be the seller's present duly established maximum price plus a transportation allowance equal to the difference between the cost of transportation from his normal source of supply and the cost of transportation from the source of supply to which he has been compelled to resort.

(2) The maximum prices for sales of cement made at retail shall be the seller's present duly established maximum price plus a transportation allowance equal to the difference between the cost of transportation from his normal source of supply and the cost of transportation from the source of supply to which he has been compelled to resort, but if the transportation allowance so determined is more than 5¢ per sack the seller may add to his present maximum price only the amount in excess of 5¢ per sack.

(c) Established differentials and allowances must be maintained. Both wholesalers and retailers must continue to maintain and allow all customary discounts and differentials and, as used in this order, "wholesale sale" includes sales to industrial users, contractors and builders who do not purchase the cement in question for the purpose of resale.

(f) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. PART 3294—IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTION

[General Preference Order M-21, Direction 12]

EMERGENCY DISTRIBUTION OF STEEL FOR PRODUCTION OF CERTAIN CRITICAL PRODUCTS

The following direction is issued pursuant to M-21:

(a) What this direction does. The cumulative loss in production of steel in the last several months caused by work stoppages in the steel and coal industries has created a severe shortage of steel for all purposes. There will not be a sufficient supply of steel to keep all of industry going at a reasonable rate for a number of months. It is, therefore, necessary that special assistance be given for the manufacture of certain highly critical products. These products are ones which are extremely short for the Veterans' Housing Program and certain items of farm machinery which are urgently required to harvest this year's crops and for famine relief. Failure to obtain immediate full production of these items will seriously delay the housing program and will result in a loss of food production. This direction provides for certified orders for steel needed during the third quarter of 1946 to make these critical items. This direction applies only to steel in the forms and shapes listed in Schedule I of Order M-21. It does not apply to wrought iron, iron castings, or pig iron. Distribution of iron to critical products will be made by other procedures.

(b) Products for which steel can be obtained under this direction. Manufacturers of the products which are listed on Schedule A at the end of this direction may place certified orders in the way described in this direction for the steel that they need for the product. In addition, manufacturers of other products may, in certain very extraordinary cases described in paragraph (m), be specifically authorized to place certified orders.

(c) Who can place certified orders—(1) With a producer without authorization. A manufacturer of a critical product listed on Schedule A may certify a purchase order which he has already placed with a steel producer on the date of this direction and on which, at any time after January 1, 1946, the producer promised delivery before October 1, 1946. No specific authorization by the Civilian Production Administration is required for such certification. However, a manufacturer may not without specific authorization by CPA certify orders for steel for use in a plant not in production because of work stoppages.

(2) A manufacturer who on June 12, does not have any purchase orders placed with a producer (whether certified or otherwise) for steel of any of the types which he uses in production of critical products on Schedule A may place a certified order on a warehouse. No authorization by the Civilian Production Administration is required for this type of order. However, a manufacturer may not without specific authorization by CPA certify orders for steel for use in a plant not in production because of work stoppages.

(3) When authorization needed. Except for the orders listed in paragraphs (c) (1) and (2), no certified purchase order may be placed without specific authorization by CPA. Paragraph (d) below states when applications for authorizations may be made.

(d) Application for authorization to place certified orders—(1) Who may apply. Any manufacturer of a critical product listed on Schedule A who is unable to certify enough purchase orders under the provisions of paragraph (c) above for the amount of steel which he will require to actually put into production in his critical products during any of the month of July, August, or September, may apply to the Civilian Production Administration for authority to certify new purchase orders.

(2) How to apply. Application for such authority should be made in triplicate on Form CPA-4466.

(3) The Civilian Production Administration may issue authority to place certified purchase orders where it determines that the steel will actually be needed for production of the critical product and that the steel is available for such purposes. Additional steel for inventories will be rarely authorized and then less than permitted by PR-32. Such authorization will permit a manufactuer to place a new purchase order on either a producer or a warehouse, but the CPA may limit the authorization to a named supplier.

(e) Limit on amount which may be certified. Except as specifically authorized a manufacturer must not certify a total number of purchase orders which will call for delivery in the third quarter of a greater amount of steel than he proposes to actually put into production in the manufacture of his critical product in that period. In addition, a manufacturer of farm machinery listed on Schedule A must not certify more steel than he will require to complete critical items which he will deliver before October 31, 1946. A manufacturer need not reduce the amount permitted because of steel in his inventory, within the limits of Priorities Regulation 32, but he may not, without specific authorization, use any of the amount certified in order to build up inventories to the permitted amount. Also he may not certify for delivery in any one month more than 40% of the steel he will put into production during the third quarter.

(f) How to place a certified order. A purchase order which has already been placed may be certified by sending a letter to the producer or warehouse, identifying the original purchase order and reciting in substantially the following form the following certification signed as provided in Priorities Regulation 7:

> I certify, subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, that I will use this steel only to make ---------- (specify one or more of the end products listed in Schedule A, or if specifically authorized for another product under paragraph (m), insert name of product and phrase "authorized under paragraph (m)" and that the tonnage covered by this order together with all tonnages placed with other producers and distributors for use in these products on similarly certified orders and uncertified orders is not in excess of the quantity of such steel which I am authorized to order under the provisions of Direction 12 to Order M-21.

The same certification is to be used when placing new purchase orders with warehouses or with producers when authorized by the Civilian Production Administration.

(g) Period for which certified orders may be placed. Orders may be certified for delivery only in July, August or September. A manufacturer must specify the months in which he requires delivery at the time he certifies his purchase order (or at the time he places a new certified purchase order).

(h) Refusal of certified orders. (1) A steel producer need not accept a certification on a previously accepted purchase order, or a new purchase order, which it receives after the first day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is requested. However, if delivery is requested in July, a producer must accept a certification under paragraph (c), if it is received on or before the 17th day of June, and need not accept it after the 17th day of June.

(2) A warehouse need not accept any certified order for a single product classification of steel in excess of 10,000 lbs. if delivery would deplete his stock to a point where his function in the distribution of steel would be seriously impaired. Schedule I of Order M-21 lists the "product classifications" of steel.

(3) In order to protect the requirements of small business, a warehouse must not accept any purchase order, whether certified or not, in excess of 10,000 pounds if delivery would deplete his stock to a point where his function in the distribution of steel would be impaired.

(i) Certified orders must be treated as rated orders. Certified orders must be scheduled for production in preference to all other orders for the same product classification, except for orders covered by specific written directives issued by the Civilian Production Administration, or (in the case of distributors) a rating of AAA issued after January 21, 1946. Any purchase order certified under this direction must be treated as a rated order under Priorities Regulation 1 and accepted, scheduled and delivered accordingly. The rules of Priorities Regulation 1 will apply, except to the extent that this direction is inconsistent with them. Steel obtained on certified orders must be used in accordance with § 944.11 of that regulation.

(j) The effect on steel of certain other directions. (1) Direction 13 to Priorities Regulation 1, which suspended preference ratings (except certain AAA ratings on distributors) on steel, remains in effect for the time being.

(2) Direction 9 to Order M-21, which provides certifications for tin mill products for food and pharmaceutical purposes, remains in effect. That direction explains how producers of tin mill products should schedule orders certified under either that direction or this one.

(k) Other distribution of steel. Steel producers and warehouses must distribute balance of steel production after filling certified orders as follows:

(1) Warehouse stocks. Producers must ship to warehouses during the third quarter of 1946 not less than the same proportion of total tonnage of steel produced by them in that quarter as they shipped to warehouses during the fourth quarter of 1945.

(2) Equitable distribution to consumers. Producers and warehouses must distribute remaining amounts of steel in a fair and equitable manner.

(l) Reports. Steel Producers and warehouses must furnish such reports as may be required by the Civilian Production Administration from time to time, subject to approval by the Budget Bureau pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(m) Additional assistance in extraordinary circumstances—(1) Steel for governmental agency requirements. The Civilian Production Administration may authorize the placing of certified orders to fill severely limited requirements of high urgency for the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, Veterans' Administration, Federal Public Housing Administration, Canada or for export. No applications should be made for this authority by manufacturers unless specifically requested by the appropriate government agency.

(2) Relief for other manufacturers cannot ordinarily be granted. The shortage of steel during the third quarter will be so severe that most manufacturers may not be able to obtain enough steel to maintain minimum economic rates of operation. For this reason, the Civilian Production Administration will not be able to offer assistance to manufacturers to support minimum economic rates of production. Assistance may be given in extraordinary circumstances where a manufacturer will suffer extraordinary hardship which is not generally common to users of steel because of the shortage of steel or for requirements of public health and safety or other similarly urgent requirements. Application should be made by letter to the Steel Branch of CPA. CPA may give assistance by finding a supplier, or by authorization to place certified orders, or by issuance of directives if required.

Recording Secretary.
